Notes for James David Shuck

"History of Benton County, Iowa", Lewis Publishing, Chicago, 1910, Extract from pages 502 & 503:

"JAMES D. SHUCK, a successful farmer living in section 4, Leroy Township, was born in Center county, Pennsylvania, December 10, 1850, a son of John and Sabina (Climber) Shuck, both natives of Pennsylvania. Mr. Shuck died in 1886, aged seventy-two years, and his wife died in 1903, aged eighty-four. They were parents of eleven children, of whom five survive, namely: Sarah, widow of Randall Becket, of South Dakota; Caroline, widow of Andrew Wise, of Cedar county, Iowa; M. L., of Clarence, Iowa; James D., and John S. of Clarence, Iowa. John Shuck was a farmer and came to Cedar county, Iowa, in 1862. Here he and his wife died.

James D. Shuck was reared on a farm, received a common school education and attended high school at Clarence, Iowa. In 1872 he engaged in the jewelry business in Blairstown, Iowa, and six years later sold his interests and rented his father-in-law's place, which he now owns. He and his wife own one hundred and sixty acres of well improved land, and they keep the place in fine condition. They have been very successful in their farming, and are well liked in the community. Politically Mr. Shuck is a Republican, and he takes an active interest in public affairs. He is now school director and has been president of the board; he has also served as justice of the peace and road superintendent. He and his wife are members of the Blairstown Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Shuck married October 26, 1875, Carrie Sterling, born near Rockford, Illinois, September 11, 1855, daughter of James S. and Julietta (Pennock) Sterling. Mr. Sterling was born in Livingston County, New York, May 2, 1822, and died in May, 1909. His wife was also born in the state of New York, October 19, 1827, and died September 7, 1884. They had three children, of whom two survive, Mrs. Shuck and Frank P. of Washington. Mr. Sterling had a roving disposition, and at the age of sixteen years went away on a whaling expedition, being away four years. He went to Michigan when a mere boy and wandered around a few years, and in 1849 went from Illinois to California, where he remained a year and a half; he returned to Illinois and lived there on a farm until 1856, then came to Benton County, Iowa. Locating in section 4, Leroy township, where he bought one hundred and sixty acres of raw prairie land. In 1866 he sold out and started to Colorado with a threshing outfit, but returned to Benton county that fall, and on December, 25th of that year rented his farm in Leroy township one year and during that time he purchased the one hundred and sixty acres that he and his wife now own. He was a hardy pioneer and made the trip first to Iowa with a wagon. He was at Pikes Peak at the time of the gold excitement. He went to Nebraska on a visit, when seventy-five years old, and when ready to return bought a bronco pony and, rode it on the return journey. He was very active all his life, and well known, and he readily made friends and was a good neighbor. He was a Republican in his political affiliations.

Merced Sun-Star Newspaper HEADLINE, December 3, 1928 RANCHER, BABE DIE IN FIRE
"Father Braves Death In Futile Attempt To Rescue Daughter"

Trapped in a burning building after he had once been free, O. C. Gove, 60 together with his three-year old daughter Ethna, were burned to death yesterday morning in their home five miles southwest of Merced in El Capitan colony. Gove rushed from the fire and when he discovered the baby was still in bed he dashed back only to be caught in the firetrap. The baby was burned to death in her father's arms and the two fell about three feet from a door which would have meant life. Mrs. Gove became alarmed when her husband failed to return immediately and she made an attempt to get into the burning house. She failed and received first and second degree burns and injured also by poisonous fumes. She lies near death at the county hospital. All her clothing was burned from her body. Twin Sisters Injured, Olga 12 was slightly burned and her twin sister, Ora received a cut foot when she escaped from the house through a window. Two other girls, Lucy 9, and Jean 5 were uninjured. Deputy Sheriff J. F. Gilbert who was called to investigate the case did not determine the cause of the fire. Mr. and Mrs. Gove and the baby were sleeping in one room when Mrs. Gove was awakened by the smell of smoke. She aroused her husband and the two went into another room and got their four daughters out safely.

Baby Found Missing: They were putting them in another building when it was discovered the baby was still in the house and Gove returned. Deputy Sheriff Gilbert took Mrs. Gove and the four children to the county hospital. Lucy and Jean are being taken of by Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hilton friends on Thirteenth Street and Ora and Olga are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Blakeman in Carol Court.

Alarm Is Given: Attracted by the lights of the fire from Merced Joe Martinez 15 and Mike Cota 15 went to investigate. They found the burning building and rushed back to Merced, notifying the city officers who called Gilbert. Deputy Coroner H. H. Houston recovered the bodies from the building, which was burned to the ground. Gove is said to have carried $300 Insurance on his home and $400 personal Insurance. Besides the widow and the four children, a sister Mrs. Jane Powell of Burbank survives. Mrs. Powell has been notified and is expected here today. The family came here eight years ago from Kansas and settled on the 20-acre farm where little Ethna and Jean were born. Gove was a native of Illinois and a member of a Masonic temple in Kansas.

Notes for Jean Andrews

Jean Andrews, a direct descendant of Lieut. John Andrews in the 9th generation, through his second son, William, was born in 1923 in Providence, Rhode Island. She received her B.A. from Brown University in 1944; married Theodore F. Marble in 1943 and had three children in Schenectady, New York. She moved to Toronto, Canada, with her family in 1965.

A few years before her retirement from the University of Toronto in 1989, she became interested in researching her family tree and became a member of the NEHGS where she came across the collected notebooks of Henry Franklin Andrews in the vaults of the Society and the transcription of them made by Elliott Morrison Andrews. She decided that she would continue this work by attempting to find all of the descendants of Lt. John as well as to verify the facts in these earlier works, correcting errors and adding new individuals. One of her most rewarding experiences was to correct the record of Captain Stephen Andrews, the son of Solomon, in E.M. Andrews’ transcription, which quotes Isaac S. Andrews, the grandfather of H.F. Andrews, as saying that Stephen had left his family, gone to Blue Hill, Maine, and married a Negro woman. In fact, he was living in Waldoborough, Maine with his wife and two servants. It was customary for servants to take the surname of their owners. The census records of 1790 and 1800 confirm this as does “The History of Old Bay and Waldoboro” by Stahl and a deed at the Lincoln County Court House.

Jean has made extensive use of the local Mormon Family History Library and has also made two trips to Salt Lake City. Several times a year, she has made extended trips, mostly to New England and New York State, copying original records from town and city clerks’ offices, probate courts, cemeteries, vital records from the States’ archives and has spent countless hours at the National Archives in Waltham and Pittsfield, Massachusetts, in Atlanta, Georgia and Washington, D.C., recording census records. In addition to the State Libraries of the states mentioned above, she has been to the Wisconsin State Library at Madison and the Michigan State Library in Lansing; and to the Clayton Library for genealogical research in Houston, Texas.

She had an interesting visit in Hurley, South Dakota with the President of the Hurley Historical Society who took her to the grave of Joseph Andrews, who was born in Maine in 1844 and was a pioneer settler in Spring Valley in the early 1880’s. Joseph wrote hundreds of letters, which were published in the Norway (Maine) Advertiser, telling his recollections of friends and neighbors in Maine as he was growing up and of his visits back home in his later years. Jean also had the opportunity to see and photograph the gravestone of Henry Franklin Andrews in the cemetery at Exira, Iowa.

Jean has searched the holdings of dozens of historical societies and libraries and visited many other researchers who have generously shared their findings. Many Emails have been exchanged with fellow Andrews researchers, making it possible to bring many lines up to the present. She was a founding member of the Toronto branch of the PAF Users Group and belongs to the Fryeburg (Maine) Historical Society and the Lovell (Maine) Historical Society. She is now working on a memoir of her father, Harold A. Andrews.

I was thrilled when Betty Andrews Storey contacted me after she found my name on the copy of E.M. Andrews’ book in the Madison Historical Society Library and asked if I would be interested in working with her to “do the Book!” Her expertise is solely responsible for the completion of this effort and I am eternally grateful to her for accomplishing what I would never have been able to do and for making my research useful to others. Thank you, Betty

Notes for Daniel Thomas Teare
Obit in the “Teare Ledger”: "At 15 Daniel T. Teare worked at the D.E. Loomis Mercantile Company in Wisconsin Dells, going to Portage Wisconsin five years later as a salesman for Loomis Gallett and Breese. In the spring of 1894 he came to Augusta to manage a branch store for this organization, which he subsequently purchased and which he conducted until 1937. Several years later he became Secretary of the Augusta Canning Company from which he retired in 1940. He was a resident of Augusta for more than 50 years, dying at the age of 79 years and 2 days following an illness of several years duration. He was a faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal Church for many years and a member of the Augusta Lodge No. 181, F. & A. M. for forty-one years. He was also a member of the Eau Claire Consistory and Augusta Chapter No. 91, O. E. S.

He was a quiet, unpretentious man but of such inherent and upright character as to give us utter confidence that in all dealings he would be fair and right, and in times of need we found in him more than this - we found a friendly understanding and helpfulness given so simply and adequately and so as a matter of course that it was not hard to accept, and left only a glow of gratitude in the heart.....etc."

Funeral services were held at the Methodist Church Monday afternoon at two o'clock, the Reverend Smith officiating. The Masonic burial service was held before interment in the East Side cemetery."

In 1931 she was voted one of America's twelve greatest living women.

Notes for John Calvin Coolidge , Jr.
John Calvin Coolidge was the 30th United States President. He graduated from Amherst College in 1895; after studying law, he entered the practice of law at Northampton, Massachusetts. He was elected councilman in 1898 and continued to hold one public office after another for the Republican Party. He was elected Governor of Massachusetts in 1918; elected vice-president to Warren Harding in 1920 and succeeded to the office of President on 3 August 1923, upon Harding's death; he was reelected in 1924. He died at "The Beeches" the home they bought after he retired in Northampton. Information from internet biography: www.whitehouse.gov/history/presidents. The 1910 census for Northampton, Hampshire County, Massachusetts shows Calvin Coolidge age 37, lawyer with own office with wife Grace G. age 31, married 4 years with 2 of her 2 children living: John age 3; Calvin age 2. The 1920 census for Northampton shows Calvin Coolidge age 47, Governor at State House with wife Grace age 41 and children: John age 13; Calvin age 11.

Beginning around 1900, Coolidge's work in the local Republican Club in Northampton won him a spot on the City Council, appointment as city solicitor in 1900, election as county clerk in 1903, and the chairmanship of the local Republican party organization in 1904. He ran for and lost a bid for a seat on the Northampton School Board in 1905 -- the only loss he ever experienced at the polls. Two years later, he was elected to the state legislature. In 1910, the citizens of Northampton selected him as their mayor, and then he won a statewide race for the Massachusetts Senate in 1912 -- serving as senate president in 1914. Next, moving up the ladder of state politics, Coolidge became the lieutenant governor of the state, serving from 1916 to 1918.

Governor Coolidge

Coolidge was a "fraternity man" -- loyal and committed to his "chums." His senior essay, entitled "The Principles Fought for in the American Revolution," took first prize (much to his astonishment) in a national contest sponsored by the Sons of the American Revolution.

After college, he read law in a Northampton, Massachusetts law firm, passing the bar in the summer of 1897. He then opened a law office in Northampton and began participating in local Republican politics. Calvin's family had lived in Plymouth Notch for five generations, and everyone was surprised when he moved one hundred miles away to Northampton.

Both Coolidge's mother, Victoria Josephine Moor Coolidge, a mystical and poetic woman, and younger sister, Abigail Gratia Coolidge, died while he was a teenager. Both of these tragedies caused him great sadness and contributed to his taciturn public image. His father, John Calvin Coolidge Sr., then married a local schoolteacher in 1891 -- a woman who grew very close to Calvin over the years. The senior Coolidge, a man of stern appearance and a pillar of the community, served six years in the Vermont House of Representatives, a term in the Vermont Senate, and in a variety of local offices from tax collector to peace officer. Known in the county and state as a prosperous but thrifty farmer and storekeeper, it is said that the elder Calvin's quiet nature and commitment to public service influenced younger Calvin greatly. So too did his prudence with money.

Beginning around 1900, Coolidge's work in the local Republican Club in Northampton won him a spot on the City Council, appointment as city solicitor in 1900, election as county clerk in 1903, and the chairmanship of the local Republican party organization in 1904. He ran for and lost a bid for a seat on the Northampton School Board in 1905 -- the only loss he ever experienced at the polls. Two years later, he was elected to the state legislature. In 1910, the citizens of Northampton selected him as their mayor, and then he won a statewide race for the Massachusetts Senate in 1912 -- serving as senate president in 1914. Next, moving up the ladder of state politics, Coolidge became the lieutenant governor of the state, serving from 1916 to 1918.

Governor Coolidge

His narrow victory for Massachusetts Governor over Democrat Richard H. Long placed Coolidge in the national arena just in time to benefit from the Republican ascendancy, or return to national power, at the end of World War I. As governor, he won national attention when he called out the state's national guard to break a strike by Boston city police, exclaiming to the American Federation of Labor union leader Samuel Gompers, "There is no right to strike against the public safety by anybody, anywhere, anytime." His blunt words and bold action contrasted with his fairly progressive agenda and overall avoidance of confrontation when possible. As governor, he supported a cost of living pay for public employees, limited the workweek for women and children to forty-eight hours, placed limits on outdoor advertising, and set up a state budgetary process -- all typical progressive measures.

While advancing in local politics, Calvin, aged thirty-three, had married Grace Anna Goodhue, aged twenty-six, on October 4, 1905. The two were wed at her parent's home in Burlington, Vermont. After graduating from the University of Vermont, she attended the Clarke Institute for the Deaf in Northampton, obtaining certification as an instructor for hearing-impaired students. Calvin first caught her eye one morning when she saw him through the open window of his boardinghouse in Northampton, standing in his underwear and wearing a hat while shaving. She thought that he looked ridiculous, laughed loud enough for him to notice her, and then turned away. He later said that he was wearing the hat to keep his uncombed hair out of his eyes while shaving. His marriage proposal in the summer of 1905 came in the form of a precise ultimatum: "I am going to be married to you." Despite her mother's objections, Grace loved the silent but blunt young lawyer and immediately consented. Calvin came to Chicago as his state's favorite-son candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1920, but he received only thirty-four votes on the first ballot at the convention. In the backroom deal that gave Warren G. Harding the presidential nod of party leaders, Coolidge was not among the names discussed for the second spot, and party leaders hoped to nominate Senator Irving Lenroot of Wisconsin. When Coolidge's name was entered into nomination, however, a stampede of support by rebellious delegates swept him onto the ticket. In the ensuing campaign, neither Harding nor Coolidge actively traveled the nation, in contrast to the Democratic Party candidate, James M. Cox, who traveled 22,000 miles while speaking to 2 million people. The election, a referendum on the Wilson administration, the Treaty of Versailles, and the League of Nations, gave the Republicans 61 percent of the vote. As vice president, Coolidge kept a low profile. He sat silently during cabinet meetings and seldom spoke in his role as president of the Senate.

Coolidge's father woke his vacationing son and daughter-in-law at the family home in Plymouth Notch, Vermont, on August 2, 1923, to tell them of Harding's death from a stroke. With no telephone in the house, Coolidge walked across town to a local store to phone Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes, who urged Coolidge to take the oath of office immediately. He took a drink at the store, then walked back to his family home. There his father, a justice of the peace, administered the oath, and then Calvin Coolidge went back to bed as the thirtieth President of the United States."

Children of Grace Anna GOODHUE and John Calvin COOLIDGE, Jr. were as follows:

19561  i  John COOLIDGE, born 1906 in Northampton, Hampshire County, Massachusetts.

Notes for Lillian Fraser

Lillian was married to Melvin P. Jenkins over 50 years. She emigrated to Massachusetts when about 10-12 years of age. She suffered from diabetes in latter years; died of heart attack at Weymouth Hospital, Weymouth, Mass. Lillian was number 12 of 13 children of John and Isabel Fraser. She was born April 1, 1889 in Dunmore (Port Hood), Nova Scotia. Her father died in 1894. When Lillian was only 13, she was entrusted with bringing her nephew, Robert Fraser, to live with his uncle William Mathias Fraser (much older brother to Lillian), who was managing a farm at Amesbury, Mass. and where Robert would be brought up by his uncle. Lillian probably joined her mother at Quincy, Mass., where they lived with her sister Carolyn Fraser now married to Stephen Price (William Price was born about this time in Quincy. Shortly afterwards Lillian (apparently) moved to Milk St., South Essex, Mass., with Mr. and Mrs. Price and another sister, Janet also joined the family group there. Janet was a little older than Lillian, but they were very close. Janet soon was old enough to find work in Ipswich and shortly married Albert Watson and then lived in Ipswich. Lillian, as soon as she was old enough, also got job in Ipswich and began living in room at the Watson house, about 1902. Isabel Fraser about 1902 began working at big Appleton Farm in Ipswich where Isabel's brother had been a manager for some time. (Isabel was cook for the Appleton Farm). Isabel soon obtained house on Kinsman's Court, Ipswich enabling her to then make a home for her unmarried children: Ida, born 1887 (about year older than Lillian), Lillian and William Fraser. Lillian must have become acquainted with Melvin Jenkins when she was living on Milk Street, as Melvin at time lived on farm across the street, about 1903, she married Melvin in 1911.

Irvine Charlton (Temple) Andrews: Residences, employment and education:

1912 Born at home at Hartford Connecticut, after my mother (Grace May Charlton Temple) became tired of waiting in the hospital. Father was a draftsman/ mechanical engineer.

Provisions were brought into the camp by canoe and Irvine recalls a time during a storm when the canoe was swamping, she was hysterical in the bottom and all thought they would perish. This probably is the direct cause of her intense dislike of being in boats.

1923-1924  Lived in West Upton, Massachusetts. Father a salesman.

1924  spent a few months in Portland, Maine. Father a salesman.

1925  lived in Worcester, Massachusetts. Father a salesman.

Notes: The 1930 census for Waltham, Middlesex County, Massachusetts shows William Barnard age 12, he and his parents born in Massachusetts, as an inmate at the Walter E. Fernald State School. The Walter E. Fernald State School, now the Walter E. Fernald Developmental Center, located in Waltham, Massachusetts is the Western hemisphere's oldest publicly funded institution serving people who have developmental disabilities. Originally a Victorian sanatorium, it became a "poster child" for the American eugenics movement during the 1920s. It later was the scene of one of the most notorious medical experiments of the twentieth century. The Fernald Center, originally called the Massachusetts School for Idiotic Children, was founded by reformer Samuel Gridley Howe in 1848 with a $2,500 appropriation from the Massachusetts State Legislature. The school eventually comprised 72 buildings total, located on 186 acres (0.75 km2). At its peak, some 2,500 people were confined there, most of them "feebleminded" boys. Under its first resident superintendent, Walter E. Fernald (1859-1924), an advocate of eugenics, the school was viewed as a model educational facility in the field of mental retardation. It was renamed in his honor in 1925, following his death the previous year. The institution did serve a large population of mentally retarded children, but the "The Boston Globe" estimates that upwards of half of the inmates tested with IQs in the normal range. In the 20th century, living conditions were spartan or worse; approximately 36 children slept in each dormitory room.

20866  ii  Peter "BARNARD.

Notes for June Ellen Johnston

Notes for Burt Beck Fisher

By the summer of 1929 he had a degree in English literature from the University of Wisconsin-Madison, but it was a good golf swing that got him a job. He had returned to his hometown of Appleton and was matched on the golf course with a Bergstrom executive, who offered him the opportunity to establish a sales office in Chicago. Fisher protested he knew nothing about paper manufacturing, so Bergstrom assigned him to its mill for six months to learn the business. Then Fisher went to Chicago to set up a one-man office. By 1942 he was transferred to the home office in Neenah where he became sales manager, corporate secretary and a member of the board. He was named vice president in 1955. Fisher called himself a peddler and "made calls up until the day he retired," his son said.

In 1944 he was president of the Salesman's Association of the Paper Industry, a trade group. He was born 23 Oct 1905, in the town of Angelica in Shawano County to Christine and Albert Fisher. In 1912 the family moved to Appleton, where his uncle, Harry Fisher, and his father operated the Fisher Brothers Piano Store on College Ave. until 1930.

Burt Fisher was thrice widowed. In 1931 he married Harriet "Boodie" Olds, of Madison, who died in 1970. The next year he married Lois Peebles Meade, of Appleton, who died in 1980. Two years later he married June Johnston Brumder, of River Hills, who died in 1996.

In his later years he divided his time among homes in Neenah, River Hills and Delray Beach Florida. He is survived by his son, of Wilton Manors, Florida. A daughter, Harriet "Sukie" Tippet, died in 1996. A service will be held at 2 pm Saturday at St. Thomas Episcopal Church, 226 Washington St. Menasha.

Notes for Harry Northrop Howe

Harry's parents, Henry Clay Howe, attorney & state legislator, and Marion Dorleski Northrop, were natives of New York state and were representatives of old families of New York and of New England. Harry graduated from Cornell studying civil engineering, graduating in 1904. He moved to Memphis & was later appointed a member of the Memphis City Commission and was made Commissioner of Bridges, Streets and Sewers. March 25, 1913 he married to Ethel Frank Warner (1888-1970), a native of Nappanee, Ontario, Canada. Ethel was raised in Denver, CO. Issue: Warner & Harriet. Prominent structural engineer in Memphis. Member, Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, University Club, Memphis Engineers Club, American Society of Civil Engineers and American Concrete Institute.

The 1930 census for Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee shows Harry N. Howe age 47, engineer building contractor with wife Ethel W. age 41 and children: Warner age 11; Harriette age 6; mother Marion D. age 81.

From "Tennessee The Volunteer State, Vol. II. S. J. Clarke Publishing Company, Chicago and Nashville, 1923. Contains biographies of professional individuals residing in Tennessee from 1769-1923. "Harry Northrop Howe, a structural engineer of Memphis with offices on the seventh floor of the Dr. D. T. Porter building, and serving at the present time as a member of the commission form of government, as commissioner of bridges, streets and sewers, is a native of the state of New York, his birth having occurred in Fulton, Oswego county, January 13,1882. He is a son of Henry Clay and Marion D. (Northrop) Howe, the former a lawyer, who died in 1889, while the latter is now living in Memphis with her son, Harry. Both parents were natives of the Empire state and were representatives of old families of New York and of New England.

Harry N. Howe was reared in New York to the age of eight years and then moved with his mother to Washington, D. C., where he obtained his grammar school education and afterward was graduated from the Central high school as a member of the class of 1900. Immediately afterward he matriculated in Cornell University at Ithaca, New York, and pursued a course in civil engineering there, being graduated with the class of 1904. On the 1st of July of the same year he arrived in Memphis and has remained here almost continuously since engaged in the practice of his profession as a civil and structural engineer. During a period of eighteen months, however, covering the years of 1906 and 1907, he was in New York city in the employ of a large construction company. His work has been of an important character, as he early demonstrated his ability to handle important engineering problems and to execute contracts of large magnitude. In March, 1921, he was appointed a member of the Memphis city commission and was made commissioner of bridges, streets and sewers to fill out the unexpired term of John B. Edgar, resigned, being chosen for the office by the other members of the commission. During the two years of his service in this connection he has made a most enviable record through his professional skill and his devotion to the general good.

On the 25th of March, 1913, Mr. Howe was married to Miss Ethel Warner, a native of Nappanee, Ontario, Canada, and they are parents of a son, Warner, three years of age. Mr. Howe belongs to the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, which indicates his deep interest in the welfare and progress of the city along all the lines of civic development and improvement. He is likewise a member of the Rotary Club and of the University Club and along professional lines he is associated with the Memphis Engineers Club, the American Society of Civil Engineers and the American Concrete Institute. Since deciding upon his life work he has been a close and discriminating student of the science of his profession and is constantly broadening his knowledge by reading as well as by practical experience. Those who know him—and he has a wide acquaintance—recognize his power and feel that interests such as claim his attention could not be placed in more competent hands. His work is highly satisfactory to those who employ him and is proving of much worth to the city through his activity as commissioner of bridges, streets and sewers.

"The Cornell Daily Sun", article by Casey Holmes:
Harry N. Howe was the man who built modern Memphis, Tenn. He constructed the Shrine Building, Veterans Hospital, Technical High School, Robert E. Lee Hotel, Bellevue Jr. High School, John Gaston Hospital, Claridge and the east wing of Baptist Memorial Hospital. During both World Wars Harry built military installations in the U.S., such as two flying fields in Montgomery, Ala. and a 900-foot wharf for Army Quarter Master Corps in New Orleans. Another native of New York, Harry N. Howe was born in Fulton in 1882. His father, Henry Clay Howe was a N.Y. state assembly person from 1885 to 1887. At Cornell, he was known for his rather quiet but genial disposition. He earned his degree in civil engineering in 1904 and moved right to Memphis to work for the U.S. Engineers Office, where he conducted surveys on areas along the Mississippi River. From 1906 to 1907, Harry became a detailer, designer and estimator for Turner Construction Company in New York City.

5517 Family Bible Warner-Smith .
In NYC, he was a member of the Cornell University Club. Harry married Miss Ethel Warner Denver in 1913. They had two children, Warner in 1919 and Harriet in 1924.

Harry moved back to Memphis and constructed a number of steel and concrete buildings all over Tennessee, Mississippi and Arkansas. Harry was appointed City Commissioner of Streets, Bridges and Sewers. When the Mayor announced his selection for commissioner he said, "I know Mr. Howe, and I am impressed with his splendid personal qualities."

Soon he started up his own firm and his son became a partner in 1949. Harry was honored by the Tennessee State Board of Architectural and Engineering Examiners for outstanding service on the board from 1951-59 and declared Engineer of the Year in 1957 by the Memphis Chapter of the Tennessee Society of Professional Engineers.

Harry died at the ripe age of 78 in 1960.

Notes for Ethel Warner

Ethel was born in Napanee, Ontario, Canada. Family moved to Denver to help her mother's TB. Lived in Memphis during her adult life. Sister, Ann the writer, remained in Denver, never having married. Her brother also remained in Denver and was an attorney. Ethel's mother had TB which was the reason the family moved from Canada to Denver. As a small child, Ethel was sent to live with relatives when her mother was too ill to take care of her. Also, her mother was not physically affectionate with her because of not wanting to transmit the TB.

Children of Harry Northrop HOWE and Ethel WARNER were as follows:

21503 i  Warner HOWE, born 1919 in Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee.

21504 ii  Harriet HOWE, born 7 Mar 1924 in Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee; died 19 Feb 1999 in Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee; buried 1999 in Memorial Park, Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee. She married on 12 Jun 1943 in Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee Robert Overton BLACK, born 13 May 1920 in Oakland, Coles County, Illinois; died 12 Jun 1964 in Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee; buried in Forest Hill Cemetery - Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee.

Notes: Harriet was born 5 years after her older brother and was, reportedly, cherished and spoiled by her (older) parents. She described her childhood as carefree but frugal, having grown up during the depression. Her maid-cook Savannah was an integral part of her life, often teaching her about basic life lessons. Her parents were not wealthy, but could afford household help. They were quite frugal with their money in many ways, yet bought quite expensive things for their home. They helped to found the University Club and Memphis Country Club. Her parents didn't attend church so Harriet joined a Methodist church, on her own. She was religious for the rest of her life. She attended Central High School in Memphis was quite popular, belonging to DBS sorority and other clubs. She was described as a beautiful girl. She attended camp in Colorado for many summers, often riding horses and enjoying the mountains, while she became acquainted her mother's family in Denver. She attended 1 year of college (Steven's in MO) and married Bob a month after her freshman year. She lived in different cities with and while her husband was in the Army, settling in Memphis in her mid-twenties. When widowed in 1964 she worked in real estate, public relations for a bank and marketing for a bakery. She married B. Stovall April 1968 and remained married for 4 years (12/1972). She took care of both her mother as well as his mother in their later years. Honorable Discharge. His duty included 2 1/2 years in the Pacific including: Australia, New Zealand, Samoa, New Guinea, New Caledonia, Espiritu Santos, Solomon Islands, Russells, Guam, Hawaii and combat at Okinawa, Japan.

Edward has been an active correspondent from his home in Leesburg, Florida with the compiler of this Andrews genealogy and with other distant cousins. He is very interesting and an excellent source of family lore at the age of 93!

Email from Edward Jenkins 21 Nov 2005:
"...I actually knew about the Royal Hawaiian Hotel (quite well)... Had liberties at Waikiki during W.W. II and then Royal Hawaiian had been taken over by Navy and was used to house officers (I was a chief petty officer, so didn't "get there" then. There was a U.S.O. building (for us enlisted men) on the Beach (near Royal Hawaiian)... and one day I ran into a man I had earlier enlisted at the Base in Quanstorm where I had served... Broke him in as a yeoman - and he had already reached petty officer 1st by then - had been at Iwo Jima just before that - so we had a great reunion in the short time we had together... Enlisted were required back on their ships by 6 p.m. (something to do with short age of hotel rooms - they told us.).

After I had been home a while (had served 8 years of active duty before my honorable discharge following war)... Took my wife Doris on Hawaiian tour - which included beautiful room in the Royal H. (Overlooking the pool and Waikiki Beach!). (we could see Diamond Head from there! We had flown in near midnight (exhausted but couldn't sleep... so Doris and I decided to find a cocktail lounge and try a Mai Tai (a la Hawaiian!). We found a place near end of a dock nearby and no one else there... waitress took our order and brought to very exquisite drinks - Big time - I dropped a $10 and young waitress said: "Here's your change - and gave me a dime! I was shocked as that time I had never bought a drink costing more than $2.00! She laughed (recognized my inexperience with their prices)... and I soon rectified problem - and gave her tip - we all had a good laugh over it as she was a good sport and not busy at that time. After the (delicious)(and expensive) drink, we went back to our room and about 3:30 a.m. discovered neither of us had slept a wink (couldn't adjust)... so we got up, put on bathing suits, and walked out onto the Beach (thinking it would be deserted at that hour...) Not that beach! Even at that hour there were lots of people around - some bathing and others wandering around (maybe tourists like us??). We then finally returned to room and got some sleep. Next morning we met our tour group - and had a great tour of 5 Islands.

"...p.s. And it was kind of nice to be able to use the Royal Hawaiian Hotel - now that I was a civilian! (Navy having left)..... I had been a Naval Reservist (as I say, about 8 years active duty!), and they made some tempting offers to get me to stay in (and go Regular Navy), but I had seen my wife and son for about a year; my parents for 2-1/2 years! Our ship was steaming into Pearl just as word was received that Japanese Emperor had accepted need to surrender! What a place to be for that news! I was on Bridge as Captain's Talker when the news came over radio - and it's a wonder we were able to bring the ship safely to anchor at Pearl a short time later! We had earlier spent days at Okinawa - helped shoot down a couple a Kamikaze while there - so quite happy to see the war end! (Yeah , I remember all these things pretty well!). .."

Email from Edward Jenkins 23 Oct 2006:
"I have had several exchanges recently of emails with David Whittredge (and although I have never met him - and probably never will), "know him" through messages you and Margaret have sent me earlier. Further, he had read a lengthy historical "paper" written by my father, Melvin Jenkins back in 1947 sent me copies - referring to "Old Cellars of Essex" written by his father (my grandfather, of course, Harold Jenkins)... and providing details regarding old roads in the woods - including the Mt. Hunger area (where my grandmother Esther Butler Burnham Jenkins, her father, Franklin Burnham had been born (on farm established by Abel Burnham, - a direct descendant of Betty's as well as mine - W. Gloucester - all of interest to him and others. I supplied him with copy of "Old Cellars" articles as well as "Connection to Essex" I had written. At present I am trying to make copies of about 40 odd pages my father laboriously hand wrote (1980) (he was about 92 at time) - in which he copied entries and commented on same from the Diary of Sarah Belinda Preston, written between 1856 and 1860 (when she died of consumption). Betty had indicated possible interested in contents of this diary as several items mention Andrews members of her mother's family as well as other "cousins" "aunts" etc. (and with Dad's comments, a better picture of relationships can be obtained). Don't know when I'll finish this project - and know only one way of providing copies - via mail (the old fashioned way)..."

email from Edward Jenkins 14 Jan 2007:
"Greetings: You recently were commenting regarding the house of Wm. Burnham. With the marriage of my grandparents, Harold Jenkins and Esther Butler Burnham, descendants of two of the Burnham boys who were wrecked in the Angel Gabriel were (in effect) linked. My grandmother's ancestry: John Burnham, apparently aged 20; My father wrote: . His property was probably had an eastern boundary of the Painter Farm and extended back to the Gloucester line.... extended thru "Nates Pasture and probably Wade's as well. .., probably took in land of George Haskell and beyond. " (mentions bounds established in 1693 at Andrews Farm). Dad explained that he was referring to Frank "Nate" Burnham ... Wade having received his property from daughter of John Fiske Burnham. (and, as we discussed, all on south side of Essex River).

His second son, Josiah was born May 9, 1662 and died Oct. 25, 1692, married Abigail Varney the daughter of Thos. and Abigail Varney. "The Varneys lived somewhere near Hardy's Poultry Farm" (By the way, I assume the Hardy Poultry Farm came years later and known to Dad, but I have no idea where it was... assume off road to Ipswich???)....(He also points out Mrs. Varney was a Proctor).

"Their son Josiah, born Apr 1688, married Elizabeth Butler. (Josiah was married twice, the second time to Abigail Day, but all children were by Elizabeth). Their son, William Burnham, was born Apr 22, 1728 and married Tabitha Goldsmith Dec 25, 1770." "William was an extensive land owner and seems to have owned most of the land between Grove Street and the River"... which would, of course, be in South Essex. "he had a big family and by the time some of the land was divided among his sons, the result was a lot of small farms." "I should say that Billy (I assume Dad is referring to William here)... lived in the 'Ozzie Gray' place opposite George Alvine's lane. Betty and Nabby were old maids who lived in the house below. Abel's Island is at the mouth of what I always called Eban's Creek. I've heard it called Haskell's Island."

As I believe you now know, my great grandfather, Abel Burnham was one of his youngest sons (and the story my grandfather wrote in Cellars of Essex articles)... the old schoolhouse he and friends were hauling to be place on his island, (when the tackle broke and jug found empty)... was then on his father's land, and someone remarked that as it was on his father's land, maybe his father with give him that land for his home... but, as we know, this never happened (William giving his land to other sons).... and Abel then obtained Butler land at Mt. Hunger and developed farm there.

(I am sending copy of this to Betty Storey because she, too, is descended from Abel, and the others mentioned, and may want to verify some of this info.) In another one of my grandfather's Old Cellar articles, he describes an incident involving Nabby Burnham... apparently part of our family.....

Hope this is understandable and helpful..... Ed Jenkins" regard to your question about my Navy service. I enlisted twice. First time in Oct. 1937 and went immediately on active duty at Naval Reserve Aviation Base at Squantum). The 1939 Congress extended all enlistments. Believe it or not, I was on the bridge of the Magoffin (Attack transport), entering Pearl Harbor when we heard news that the Japanese Emperor had signed the surrender! By then I was a chief yeoman - and at that moment "Captain's talker on the Bridge" - and I still don't know how we managed to get the ship to anchorage with everyone so overjoyed! The following day in Honolulu I read newspaper outlining my first information regarding the point plan, which allowed those whose enlistments had been extended in 1939 to become eligible for discharge ... and by then had so many points I knew what my decision would be.

Email from Ed Jenkins 16 Jan 2007:

When I saw the Captain the next morning, he had already been ashore and been given details. and ready for my application... I had served under him then from shortly after ship was commissioned - including battle of Okinawa. At Okinawa our ship was first to land Marines (this is in records; officially credited with helping to shoot down two Japanese planes - and saw both, with the second one within a couple hundred yards of our ship - I'm certain our guns were the reason the plane went down and I saw it explode just before we made radical move to evade possible damage.

Anyway, by the time I met with Captain, we knew each other very well indeed! He told me that the Navy was offering certain reservists special inducements to remain in service and enumerated what he had been especially authorized to offer me - (too involved to describe here)... but (as he knew), it had been 10 months since I had seen my wife and son and over two and one half years since I had seen anyone else in family - all that time I had been "on West Coast" with all rest of family in Mass. (Doris and my son had spent about 6 months in California and near Seattle so I was able to see them on occasion between June of 1944 and Oct. of 1944, at which time I had arranged for their transportation back to Mass. where they could live with her parents as I had learned my second ship - this attack transport, would not have a home port in the U.S.! (we had no relatives within 3000 miles). Although all the inducements to stay in Navy were very generous, I chose to take my discharge. Keep in mind it was almost 8 years since I had enlisted!

I later got job with Sun Oil Co. (retired 30 years later), but in 1946 (thinking there would be no more wars), I accepted offer to enlist again as chief yeoman in Reserve unit being established in Providence. About a month before that enlistment expired, (Korean War), Congress allowed Navy to (again) extend enlistments, and I was ordered to active duty. I spent next year in Norfolk area, served on 2 ships, one seldom left the dock and the other was in Navy Yard while I was assigned. Congress didn't extend enlistments further, so I was finally discharged - a year late - and decided never to join again! Sun was good company to work for so my job was protected while I was in service. Thus, 2 enlistments, a total of 13 years; almost 9 on active duty! (Both Honorable, of course). Keep in touch. Ed Jenkins

20580. Carole Joan ANDREWS (Frank Sydney, Frank Albert, Henry, Caleb, Caleb, Caleb, Joseph, John),
The Descendants of Lieut. John Andrews of Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. by Betty Andrews Storey 2009

Notes for Carole Joan Andrews
Joan, her sister Betty and their parents moved from Woodville, Massachusetts to California in 1953. The adventure included pulling a 32-foot house trailer they had used as a "weekender" on Cape Cod all the way to Seal Beach, California. In 1955 they moved to Wilmette, Illinois where Joan graduated from New Trier Township High School in Winnetka Illinois; she then attended Elmhurst College in Elmhurst, Illinois. After their marriage, Joan and Nelson Nedde lived in central Illinois where Nelson was teaching physical education and coaching at Mt. Zion High School. They moved to Westborough, Massachusetts in 1969 where Joan completed her education at Worcester State College, graduating with a BS in Natural Science in 1974. Joan then taught science at Marlborough High School for 14 years. After leaving class room teaching Joan worked at the EcoTarium (formerly the New England Science Center), an environmental education center in Worcester, Massachusetts, developing educational programs and exhibits. She continued teaching in the museum setting on environmental topics to groups of all ages.

Joan met Allen Erler, a property insurance adjuster, while on a hike with a "singles" group. They have been active members of the First Parish Church Unitarian Universalist of Northborough, Massachusetts. From their first meeting to this day their lives have been devoted to being out doors and active: hiking, camping, canoeing, kayaking, snow shoeing, skiing, Yoga, choral singing, volunteering at their church and they are active travelers. Joan's knowledge of flora and fauna make the time interesting for anyone with her. Joan and Allen have had a dream to retire to Maine. That dream has just come true (2009) and their new home has enough space and sun to have a garden, raise raspberries, start a fruit orchard, map out some hiking and skiing trails and enjoy the nearby lakes and mountains.

In 2001 Joan was appointed to handle the affairs of her parents, Syd and Irvine Andrews, who had retired to Hawaii in 1977. Needless to say, the distance from Massachusetts to Hawaii made the care of her parents in their 90s a difficult task. For over 5 years she arranged care that made it possible for them to stay in their home. They passed away in 2007, both age 95.

Notes for Nelson Richard Nedde
Nelson was born and grew up in Pennsylvania. He met Joan while attending Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois on a full academic scholarship. Nelson played baseball, his position as a “southpaw” pitcher, for the University. Nelson graduated as a physical education major; he was a physical education teacher and coach in the public school system in Illinois and Massachusetts. Nelson died of lung cancer just before his 53rd birthday.

Children of Carole Joan Andrews and Nelson Richard Nedde were as follows:

+ 21740 ii Ellen Marie Nedde, born 31 Aug 1961 in Decatur, Macon County, Illinois. She married William McKay Shipp.

Death Notice, Franklin/Hales Corners Hub Thursday 24 Sept 1992:
Pioneer in drug screening tests dies in plane crash

Served on Whitnall School Board 8 years

Funeral services were held Monday for a Hales Corners doctor who was killed in the crash of a private plane. Dr. James Storey, 52, was a pioneer in the field of drug screening tests in the work place. Storey also served two terms on the Whitnall School from 1977 to 1984. Storey was piloting a private plane on his way to a hunting cabin in Pennsylvania for a reunion with college friends. Flying over Michigan, Storey asked the control tower for permission to go to a lower altitude, according to a preliminary report by the Federal Aviation Administration. The tower did not hear from him again. "He was an excellent board member," remembered Whitnall Superintendent of Schools William Hittman. "We felt bad to lose him (from the board when he stepped down) and to have him pass away in this way is an absolute tragedy," he said. The wreckage of the Piper Lansing he was flying was found in a wooded area about 15 miles northeast of South Haven. There reportedly was a light rain at the time of the crash.

Laura Storey said her father "loved to fly." He did not own his own plane, but he usually flew once a week or so, she said. "He and my brother in summer flew to Louisiana to go fishing," Laura said. Her father had flown back and forth to Pennsylvania often because his mother and several close friends were there, she said. And the reunion was an event he looked for ward to every year, she said. Although held during deer hunting season, "it was basically an excuse to sit around with the guys and catch up" she said, and play cards. Those same college friends found themselves in Wisconsin Monday for their friend's funeral.

It was held at Our Shepherd Lutheran Church in Greendale. The Rev. Paul Schroeder officiated. Storey was medical director for the Medical Science Laboratories and the Franciscan Shared Laboratory, both in by the family. Donations may be addressed to the James Do Storey Scholarship Fund, to the Medical College of Wisconsin, and memorials to that fund were suggested about it. "The medical community and his fellow workers will greatly miss him," he said. "He was first and foremost a very kind, intelligent and thoughtful physician."

"Flying was one of his great loves," he said. "And he approached it very seriously and anyone who knew him knew he had to be a good pilot."

Storey was born and raised in Pennsylvania. He earned a medical degree in 1965 from the University of Pittsburgh. He served as chief of clinical chemistry at St. Luke's Medical Center for nine years. Then in 1981 he became chief of clinical chemistry at the Clement J. Zablocki V A Medical Center, serving there until he became medical director of the Central Laboratory Franciscan Shared Laboratory in 1989 and medical director of the Medical Science Laboratories in 1991. Storey is the author of many articles appearing in professional publications. He also has spoken to medical groups here and in England, Austria and Mexico. In addition, Storey has taught pathology, clinical pathology and medicine at the Medical College of Wisconsin for the last 20 years and at Marquette University for the last 10 years. Another big part of his life was his service in the Naval Reserve. That service spanned 30 years. And Storey, who had the rank of Captain, still drilled every two weeks with the reserve. Last year, his overall achievements won him the Jack Kennedy Memorial Alumni Achievement Award from his undergraduate alma mater, Grove City College, Grove City, Pa.

"He was a very busy person, but he was an active member of the board," Hittman said. "He was very much down to business," Hittman said, but at the same time had "a tremendous sense of humor." No one at the district will forget the a classic one-liner he slid out at a Whitnall annual meeting that he was chairing. It stayed with him the rest of his service on the board. A suggestion had come from the audience to do something quite radical. It was a lot farther than Storey thought the district should go, so he quipped, "Pioneers were the guys with the arrows in their backs." He said it to introduce a little lightness, Hittman said. "But we hung that on him the rest of the time he was here," he said with a laugh. "It is heartbreaking to have something like this happen," he said.

A memorial scholarship is being started at the Medical College of Wisconsin and memorials to that fund were suggested by the family. Donations may be addressed to the James Do Storey Scholarship Fund, to the Medical College of Wisconsin, P.O Box 26509, Milwaukee, Wis. 53226.

Storey is survived by his wife, Betty, and children, Laura and David, all of Hales Comers, and Military Honors in Forest Home Cemetery.

Notes for Linda Barbara Mears

Linda was born in Lynn, Massachusetts; moved to West Newbury, Massachusetts at the beginning of sixth grade; stayed there, graduating from Pentucket Regional High School. She graduated from Andover Institute of Business in Andover, Massachusetts having learned to operate and program IBM Machines; this was the pre home computer days. Even way back then, the technology intrigued her. She married her high school sweetheart, Rafe Henry Blood 23 January 1965 at the Congregational Church, Seabrook, Rockingham County, New Hampshire; then moved to Kensington, New Hampshire. Linda's husband worked in his own excavating business until he passed away, after 39 years of marriage, in 2004. She still lives in Kensington, 45 years later, on a small farm that has been home to many different animals including: miniature donkeys, horses, ponies, Brown Swiss oxen, pygmy goats, chickens and dogs. Linda and Rafe have 3 grown children and 5 almost grown grandkids. Linda served on the Kensington School Board and the SAU#16 Joint School Board for 15 years and enjoyed every minute of it. She also served on the Board of Registrars. At this time she is serving on the Board of Directors of the Kensington Education Foundation. Linda has worked off and on at part-time jobs, besides being the bookkeeper/secretary for her husband's business. She has dabbled in so many different crafts that she believes she has collected enough material to open her own craft store! Linda states: "Genealogy became a hobby about 25 years ago, and I work on my family tree when ever the mood strikes. To me, it's like doing an endless jigsaw puzzle. We are always seeking more pieces to put into place. I spend lots of time on my computer, a great tool for keeping track of the family tree. I also enjoy being able to chat with my grandkids, and keep in touch with friends and family via email."
