Digital publication 2009
I have been working on “The Descendants of Lieut. John Andrews of Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts” for over 25 years. It has been a wonderful experience that has included some of the finest people and libraries in the country. I especially want to thank my departed husband James D. Storey who helped me with our first computer, an Apple IIe, and the first edition of “Personal Ancestral File”. We had a great time traveling around looking for “another set of bones”.

I also credit Linda Mears Blood, Jean Andrews Marble, Edward Fraser Jenkins and David A. Whittredge for their continual encouragement and support. Jean contributed years of her meticulous research information to this publication. Thank you, cousins! The list of people who helped through their correspondence would add several more pages to this publication. Thank you! I apologize to those who sent me files or paperwork that I did not properly identify in the sources.

As this tome grew in size to over 3000 pages I realized that to do a digital publication was the most practical way to get this information out to researchers. I claim all errors as my own. In a publication with this much detail and opportunity for mistakes, I apologize for them all.

I hope this work has helped you make a connection to a very interesting man, Lieut. John Andrews. I am delighted to be a 10th generation direct descendant. Feb 2009
The Descendants of Lieut. John Andrews of Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts

1. John ANDREWS, born 1621 in England; died 20 Apr 1708 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married about 1645 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Jane JORDAN, born 1622 probably in Wiltshire, England; died after 1705/06 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Stephen JORDAN and Susanna (---).

Notes for John Andrews

Lieut. John Andrews of Chebacco, Mass., 1637-1708

The following is taken from a pamphlet by H. Franklin Andrews titled: "Lieut. John Andrews of Chebacco, Mass., 1637-1708". Published, 1909 by the Exira Printing Company, Iowa. The text has been edited by moving lengthy quotations, letters, and citations of land transactions to the Appendix of this article.
"Lieutenant John Andrews was probably born in England about 1621. His ancestry, date and place of birth, as well as the time and manner of coming to America have not been discovered. All attempts to discover any relation between him and other early settlers of the name in New England have failed. He was a youth at the time of his coming, which suggests whether he may have accompanied some relative; possibly he was a kinsman and may have come with Capt. Robert Andrews, who came over in 1635 as master and owner of the armed ship, the "Angel Gabriel", bringing with him his own family, his nephews John, Thomas and Robert Burnham and Mr. John Cogswell, a wealthy London merchant with his family. The vessel was lost in a terrible storm at Pemaquid, Me. on Aug. 15, 1635. After the loss of his ship, Capt. Andrews with the Burnham nephews and Mr. Cogswell, settled in Ipswich, Massachusetts, the same year. John Andrews may have come in that ill-fated ship; its passenger list probably lost when the vessel was destroyed and we have no further account of the passengers. He married Jane, daughter of Stephen Jordan of Ipswich, later of Newbury, Mass., but no record of their marriage has been found. She was probably born in England. In his deposition given in 1701 he stated his age then to be 80 years. Savage gives her age one year younger than her husband. Abraham Hammatt, the genealogist of early Ipswich families states that John Andrews of Ipswich was a soldier in the war against the Pequot Indians in 1637, and for that service was granted eight acres of land by the town. He was a house carpenter and probably a farmer and lived in Chebacco parish, now Essex, Massachusetts, but his exact place of abode is not positively known. He is supposed to have lived at one time at Belcher's Lane. In 1677 he gave a farm at Averill's Hill, which is supposed to have been near Belcher's Lane, to his son John and his daughter, Elizabeth Giddings. In 1678 he bought forty acres from John Cogswell, it being part of the Ipswich School farm or pasture. It is supposed that he lived upon this place perhaps for many years. Elias Andrews, Esq., of Essex, who was born on this old place and has always lived upon or near it and is very familiar with the locality says, that when he was a boy his father pointed out to him a rock on the hill in the field east of the ancient Joseph Andrews house on this place, upon which he said the corner of the old John Andrews barn used to stand and that near to it were pieces of brick where he stated the old John Andrews house once stood. No one can now tell who built the old house and barn. The old house now on the place was built by Joseph Andrews, whose son Elias, was the first child born there, in 1772. This farm is supposed to have descended to Joseph, son of Lieut. John and remained in that branch of the family until recent times and was recently owned by Walter H. Stowe. By deed of Oct. 8, 1703, he gave eight acres of land to his son John. In that deed he called the place his homestead and this was less than five years before his death. This place is in the north part of Essex, on the south side of Choate Brook or Hardy Creek at the ancient Hoffield bridge and near the north end of Belcher's Lane and north of the Averill's Hill place before mentioned. John Andrews, Jr. sold the land given him by his father, on Feb. 9, 1704 to John Wainwright for £400, and about the same time moved to Norwich, Ct.

In 1675 he (John Andrews) was on a committee to layout land near Ipswich. Lt. John Andrews entered in town book according to law: one iron gray horse one White mare with a long tayle. In 1697 John Andrews entered in town book: One White mare with a long tayle; One Dark Coll'd mare with a long tayle. March 30 1683. Corporal John Andrews appointed lieutennt to the 3d company at Chebacco and Mr. Goodhue, Jun, Ensigne. He should be remembered for his patriotism and sturdy courage in resisting the arbitrary measures of Sir Edmond Andros, the Colonial governor, in the town meeting of Ipswich on August 23, 1687, of which he was moderator. Upon the assent of James II as King of England, Sir Edmund Andros was appointed and sent over as governor of New England. And in 1687 the governor and council ordered that a tax of a penny on the pound should be levied on the property of the Colony for the King's revenue. It was an arbitrary act, clearly without warrant of law and in violation of the terms of the charter to the colony, which provided that the colonists should not be taxed, except by act of its General Court. An order was directed to the town officers of Ipswich to choose a commissioner to assist in accessing the tax in accordance with the order of the governor and the council. John Andrews was chairman of the selectmen and John Appleton was town clerk of Ipswich. The command was an unusual one and appeared unlawful to the town officers, but coming from the chief authority it demanded their earnest attention and they consulted and advised over the subject. Living in their neighborhood was Rev. John Wise, the minister of Ipswich, a man of eminent ability and of good understanding and judgment. He with Andrews, William Goodhue and others conferred about the matter and a meeting was held at the house of Mr. Appleton for further consultation, at which Mr. Wise made a bold, impressive speech advising the townsmen to stand to their privileges. He appears to have been the inspiration and leader in the affair. In town meeting the next day - August 23 called for that purpose, it was voted by the town that it was not willing to choose a commissioner as directed and a report to that effect was sent to the governor. Refer to the Appendix, Resistance to Taxation, for the text of these documents. They were arrested, brought before Gov. Andros and examined. John Appleton being examined owned ye paper signed by him as ye vote of ye town of Ipswich. That he wrote it as he was directed by moderator, Jno. Andrews. John Andrews, Moderator, owned ye paper signed by John Appleton, Ck. to be ye Vote of ye town: but sayd ye clerk was ordered to draw up a writing & he went out from ye meeting & did it & when read was approved.

They were tried and found guilty of contempt and high misdemeanor and imprisoned twenty-one days longer before sentence was passed on them. Refer to the Appendix, Resistance to Taxation, for an account of their affair written by John Wise.

The town of Ipswich afterwards made up the loss to those so prosecuted. And Mr. Wise sued Chief Justice Dudley for denying the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus and is said to have recovered damages from him.

The action of these brave and courageous men on this occasion has been called "The foundation of American Democracy." It was a leading incident in colonial events, occurring eighty-eight years before the outbreak of the Revolution, which culminated in the independence of this country. In commemoration of that event the seal of the town of Ipswich bears the following motto:

THE BIRTHPLACE OF AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE, 1687

During that horrible period of the Salem Witchcraft John Andrews again comes into creditable public notice. John Proctor, who was born in Chebacco, but had moved to Salem; he and his wife, Elizabeth, had the awful misfortune to be charged of being witches. They were arrested, cast into prison, tried and convicted. Most persistent efforts in their behalf for clemency were made. While in prison Proctor addressed Rev. Cotton Mather and others imploring their assistance that if possible, their innocent blood might be spared. Their neighbors joined in a petition to the court to save them. Rev. John Wise drew up a petition which was signed by the men of old Chebacco, whose names were: John Wise, William Cogswell, William Story, Sr., Jonathan Cogswell, Reginald Foster, John Cogswell, Jun., Thomas Choate, John Cogswell, John Burnham, Sr. Thomas Andrews, William Thompson, Joseph Andrews, Thomas Low, Sr., Benjamin Marshall, Isaac Foster, John Andrews, Jr., John Burnham, Jr., William Buslin, William Goodhue, William Andrews, Isaac Perkins, John Andrews, Nathaniel Perkins, John Choate, Sr., Thomas Wilkins, Joseph Proctor, William Cogswell, Samuel Giddings, Thomas Varney, Joseph Evelleth, John Fellows, James White. It appears that the names of John Andrews and his four sons are all signed to this petition, to their eternal honor and credit.

This document and list of names of those courageous, humane and tolerant men, compares favorably with any which has come down to us from the early colonial period of this country. By their act they opposed the intolerance and superstition of the Puritans of New England, promulgated, represented and controlled by its clergy and magistrates, a class of rulers whose opposition or enmity it was dangerous to encounter. Their acts on that occasion were at the hazard of their lives. Many men and women during that troublesome period lost their lives for as slight causes while attempting to interfere with public affairs. It required stout hearts for our ancestors to sign and present that petition at that particular time, more perilous in some respects than the case of the resistance to the unlawful tax above cited. Human blood was then rated cheap as the penalty for resisting the authority and power controlled and executed by tyrannical rulers. But our grand old ancestor and his neighbors were again fighting a righteous cause, for humanity and against ignorance and superstition. And while their efforts were futile to save the lives of both victims, for John Proctor was hanged, but his wife was spared. The wave of fanaticism receded and that reign of terror passed away-let us hope forever.”

The name of John Andrews frequently appears in the records of Ipswich, also in the land and court records showing the [following] conveyances in which he was interested. Refer to the Appendix for Land Transactions of Lieut. John Andrews.

Appendix:

Land Transactions of Lieut. John Andrews
Sept. 27, 1660. John Andrews and wife Jane, of Ipswich, sold to John Choate of same place, about 6 acres of marsh, south side of Chebacco river, at a place called Chebacco Marshes.

Oct. 25, 1673. John Andrews, Sen'r of Ipswich in consideration of a small parcell of marsh & £8, deeds to Henry Bennett of the same towne " All that my division lott, being a middle lott granted to me by the towne of Ipswich aforesd, N: 52 in the town Book, situate, lyeing & being in Ipswich aforesd, at Castle Neck, having the land of Daniel Warner on the one syde and the lott of Samuell Ingalls on the other syde, upon Wigwam Hill, with all and singular the appurtenances," &c. Acknowledged Jan. 27, 1675. The marsh which Bennett deeded to Andrews same day was “A part of my ffarme lyeing neare to the foote bridge over the creeke, being compassed by a creeke & ditched out to part it from the ffarm. Containing one acre & a halfe, be it more or less, as it is bounded by the creeke and ditch afore mentioned.”

Oct. 29, 1675. John Andrews of Ipswich bought of Robert Cross, Jr. of Ipswich, two parcels of marsh & land in Ipswich at an island formerly in ye possession of Robert Cross, Sen'r, in Chebacco River, bounded, the one parcell containing six acres, be it more or less, bounded by a creeke north, the land of Benjamin Marshall towards the west and the River towards the south and east. Also the other parcell of six acres of marsh & one acre of upland, being upon the same island and bounded from an oake tree North ward and to the river and then againe south west to a stake and from that stake norwest to ye River, To Hold, &c.

July 13, 1676 John Andrews, Sen'r of Ipswich bought of Nathaniel Emerson of Ipswich, "A 3 acre lott, the granter's father, Thomas Emerson's Division of Plum Island, Castle Neck & Hogg Island & fell out to be on Hogg Island."

29 9mo.1676. John Andrews, Sen'r of Ipswich, had made over to him by Robert Cross, Jr. of Ipswich, “A parcell of marsh which I had of my father, Robert Cross, Sen'r, containinge ten acres, more or less, lying in Chebacco River, bounded as follows: from a stake towards Hogg Island River, North west and from that stake to another against the middle of Dillo Est. and from that stake bounded with the thatch and from that stake Northeast to a stake at the River,”

June 30, 1677. Be it knowne unto all men by these presents: That I, John Andrews, Sen'r of Ipswich in the county of Essex, for and in consideration of that natural affection I doe bear to James Giddings and Elizabeth, his wife, my daughter, Have. ..and do. ..confrirme vnto the sd James Giddings, my sonne in law and Elizabeth, his wife, my sayd daughter and to the children of her, my daughter and their heirs forever, one moyaty and halfe part of that land at Averill's Hill, the upland as it is already parted where the said James and my son, John Andrews, now dwell and also halfe the meadow belonging thereunto, viz: James Giddings and John Andrews to make devision of the meadow between themselves, with all and singular the appurtanances and plivliedges belonging thereunto.

The town of Ipswich allotted to each freeman fifty acres of land for a farm and a house or home lot. We have mentioned that the town granted eight acres of land to John Andrews for military services. The Averill's Hill place may have been his farm allotment.

The town of Ipswich on Jan. 11, 1651 gave to the Grammar School all the "Neck beyond Chebacco River and up to the Gloucester line." The trustees of the school soon leased this land to John Cogswell, Jr. for 1000 years. Part of this land was sub-leased or sold to Lieut. John Andrews in 1678, as appears by the following conveyance:

June 16, 1678. John Andrews, Sen'r of Ipswich, carpenter, bought of John Cogswell of Ipswich in America in the shire of Essex, Gent. and Margaret, his wife, a parcell of upland and marsh, about 40 acres, it being part of the land the grantor's father John Cogswell highred (hired) of the town of Ipswich; also, an island of marsh & thach of about 2 acres, which lyeth by Goodman's old saw mill, bounded by stakes & trees, &c., by land of Goodman Coleman's fence, by Clark's Brook, by Gloucester line & by Chebacco River, &c. Andrews to pay yearly to Cogswell 20 in pork during the terms of the said lease.

The Andrews forty acres last described adjoined the land of Dea. John Burnham on the south. The line between their lands was settled by a committee of the town in 1694, as appears from the following report:

The Committee Impoowed to look after Incroachments and to settle the bounds where they prove not settled, being informed that Deacon John Burnham, Sen'r had Incroached on the Town's Common Land, on the Southwest thereof, between his Land and the New Pasture Land, so called. We having been upon the place formerly and examined the matter and finding the bounds uncertainly settled. Discoursed with the said Deacon Burnham, he having committed all into the hands of his son, John Burnham, Consenting to what agreement should be made between him and us; he the said John Burnham paying the charge of the Committee.

We have thus settled his bounds: beginning at the head of the Creek, called Clark's Creek, near Joseph Andrews, his house and run by the Instrument on the course of 58 degrees Eastwardly from the south, by the Circumferentor without variation and marked by a white oke tree within the fence near the said Creek, and so on that Course; Cross the field to a small pine tree on the brow of a hill within the Inclosed land; then further to a white oke tree on the hill without the fence, then a small walnut tree, then further on the same Course to a hollow oke just by the Rode that Leads to Gloster then further to a white oke tree within two rods of Gloucester Line and further to Gloster Line to a white oke, being a bound tree, marked with the marking iron. All which said trees are marked for his bounds he bordering all the way upon the New Pasture Land, from the said Creek onwards, about one hundred and twenty five Rods to a white oke tree, marked for the corner of said pasture Land, now belonging to Mr. John Cogswell and the other two rods outward bordering upon the land reserved by Ipswich men. Lying between the land of the New Pasture and Gloster Line: which said Bounds, as by the marked trees, we settle for his Bounds and by consent of the parties concerned. viz: Mr. John Cogswell for himself and we, in behalf of and with the power of the inhabitants of Ipswich. To have and to hold the said Bounds for his Bounds.

The law of entail was strictly enforced in Massachusetts. Not until 1692 did the General Court permit the full disposal of lands. This law perhaps accounts for the second lease from Cogswell to Andrews, which follows. It may have been the opinion of the lawyers of that time, that Cogswell could not prior to 1692, alienate the land which he had sold to Andrews to 1678, as against his heirs; and that after the new law was passed and after the settlement of the boundary between the land of Burnham and himself, the second lease was given to perfect the title.

To all Christian people to whom these shall come or whom they may concern: I, John Cogswell of Chebacco, in Ipswich, in the county of Essex, in the Province of Massachusetts Bay in New England send Greeting:

Know yee the said John Cogswell, son and heire of Mr. John Cogswell, formerly of Chebacco, deceased. An Account by John Wise:

“We John Wise, John Andrews, Sen. Robert Kinsman, William Goodhue, Jr. all of Ipswich, about the 22d of August, 1687, were, with several principal inhabitants of Ipswich, met at Mr. John Appleton’s and there discussed and concluded that it was not the town’s duty in any way to assist that ill method of raising money without a general Assembly, which was generally intended by Sir Edmund Andros and his Council, as witness a late act issued out by them for such a purpose. The next day in a general town meeting of the inhabitants of Ipswich, we the above named J. Wise, J. Andrews, R. Kinsman, W. Goodhue, and the rest of the town, there met (none contradicting) and gave our consent to the vote then made. The ground of our trouble, our crime, was the copy transmitted to the Council, viz: ‘At a legal town-meeting, Aug. 23, assembled by virtue of an order from John Usher, Esq, for choosing a commissioner to join with the Selectmen to assess the inhabitants according to an act of His Excellency, the Governor and Council for laying of rates. The town then considering that their act doth infringe their liberty as free English subjects of His Majesty, by interfering with the Statute Law of the land; by which it was enacted, that no taxes should be levied upon the subject without the consent of an Assembly chosen by the freeholders for assessing of the same; they do therefore vote that they are not willing to choose a commissioner for such an end without said privilege, and moreover, consent not, that the Selectmen do proceed to lay any such rate, until it be appointed by a General Assembly concurring: with Governor and Council.’

"We, the complainants, with Mr. John Appleton and Thomas French, all of Ipswich, were brought to answer for the said vote out of our own county thirty or forty miles into Suffolk and in Boston, kept in jail for contempt and high misdemeanor, as our mittimus specifies, and upon demand, denied the privilege of habeas corpus, and from prison overruled to answer at a Court of Oyer and Terminer in Boston. Our Judges were Joseph Dudley of Roxbury, Stoughton of Dorchester, John Usher of Boston and Edward Randolph. He that officiates as Clerk and Attorney in the case is George Farwell. The Jurors only twelve, and most of them (as is said) non freeholders of any land in the colony, some of them strangers and foreigners, gathered up (as we suppose) to serve the present turn. In our defense was pleaded the repeal of the Law of assessment upon the place; also the Magna Charter of England, and the Statute Laws, that secure the subject's properties and estates, &c. To which was replied by one of the judges, the rest by silence assenting, that we must not think the Laws of England follow us to the ends of the earth, or whether we went. And the same person (J. Wise aforesaid testifies) declared in open council, upon examination of said Wise: ‘Mr. Wise, you have no more privilege left you, than not to be sold as slaves,’ and no man in Council contradicted. By such Laws our trial and trouble began and ended. Mr. Dudley, aforesaid, Chief Judge, to close up a debate and trial, trims up a speech that pleased himself (as we suppose) more than the people. Among many other remarkable passages to this purpose, he bespeaks the jury's obedience, who (we suppose) were very well preinclined, viz: 'I am glad' says he, 'there be so many worthy gentlemen of the jury so capable to do the King's service, and we expect a good verdict from you, seeing the matter hath been so sufficiently proved against criminals.'"

Note-The evidence in the case, as to the substance of it was, that we too boldly endeavored to persuade ourselves we were Englishmen and under privileges, and that we were, all six of us aforesaid, at the town meeting of Ipswich aforesaid, and as the witness supposed, we assented to the aforesaid vote, and also, that John Wise made a speech at the same time, and said that we have a good God and a good King and should do well to stand to our privileges."
"The jury returned us all guilty, being all involved in the same information. We were remanded from verdict to prison, and kept one and twenty days for judgement. There, with Mr. Dudley's approbation, as Judge Stoughton said, this sentence was passed. viz: John Wise suspended from the ministerial function, fined £50, pay costs, £100 bond; John Appleton, not to bear office, fine £50, pay costs, £100 bond; John Andrews, not to bear office, fine £30, pay costs. £500 bond: Robert Kinsman, not to bear office, fine £15, pay costs, £500 bond. These bonds were for good behavior one year. We judge the total charges for one case and trial under one single information, involving us six men, abovesaid, in expense of time and moneys of us and our relations for our necessary succor and support, to amount to more, but not less than £400, money. Too tedious to illustrate more at this time, and so we conclude.' "

The will of Lieut. John Andrews, dated 13 March 1705 and proved 17 May 1708. [NEHGR 70:102-05]

The Descendants of Lieut. John Andrews of Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. by Betty Andrews Storey 2009

The following taken from "Butlers and Kinfolk" page 61. In her "John Andrews (second generation) of Ipswich, Massachusetts and Norwich, Connecticut" printed in the NEHGR Volume 70 page 103, Mrs. Harriet Andross Goodell of New Haven, Connecticut" writes: "Lieut. John Andrews' name appears first in the records of Ipswich in 1637, when it is stated that he was a soldier in the Pequot War. Lieutenant John Andrews was a house carpenter and a farmer and lived in . . . Chebacco Parish. His name is frequently found in the land and court records of Ipswich where he seems to have accumulated considerable property and to have been a man of some distinction. He was honorably connected with that outbreak of independence which led the inhabitants of Ipswich in 1687 to resist the order of Sir Edmund Andros and his council for levying a tax on the King’s subjects, viz: "a penny in the pound on all Estates personal or real, twenty pence per head as poll money." etc.

John Andrews what at that time the chairman of the selectmen of Ipswich and John Appleton was the town clerk. They with John Wise, the minister and others, called a meeting at which the command by the governor to choose a commissioner to assist in assessing the tax was discussed. At the town meeting the next day (23 August 1687) the town considered that by the laws of England it was enacted "that no Taxes should be Levied upon the Subjects without consent of Assembly chosen by the Freeholders."

"For this act of the town, Mr. Wise, John Andrews, John Appleton, William Goodhue, Robert Kinsman and Thomas French were arrested. They were brought before the court at Boston and tried; and "that they might be sure to be found guilty, Jurors were picked of such as were no Freeholders, nay of Strangers; the Prisoners pleading the privilege of Englishmen not to be taxed without their consent, they were told that the Laws of England would not follow them to the end of the Earth. . ." that they had no right to claim the privileges of Englishmen "when it had been declared in the Governour's Council that the King's Subjects in New England did not differ much from Slaves.

NEHGR 70:102 "John Andrews (2) of Ipswich Massachusetts and Norwich, Connecticut and Some of his Descendants" by Mrs Harriet Andross Goodell of New Haven Connecticut (1916): John Andrews (1) called Lieut. John Andrews or John Andrews, Sr. to distinguish him from Corporal John Andrews and two others of the same surname who lived at the same time in Ipswich, Massachusetts, was born in England it is supposed about 1621. He deposed in 1701 that he was aged 80. He died at Chebacco Parish in Ipswich 20 April 1708. The names of his parents have not been found. He married Jane Jordan, daughter of Stephen Jordan of Ipswich and later Newbury, Massachusetts which in his will dated 5 April 1667 mentions his daughter Andrews of Ipswich, his son John Andrews and his grandchild Elizabeth Andrews. Jane Jordan Andrews was living in 1705 when her husband made his will.

It is not known when Lieut. John Andrews came to New England but his name appears first in the records of Ipswich in 1637, when it is stated that he was a soldier in the Pequot War. It is thought that he may have been a nephew of Capt. Robert Andrews, master of the ship "Angel Gabriel" (wrecked off Pemaquid, Maine in 1635) and later an innkeeper at Ipswich, but no record is known that indicates this relationship.

Lieut. John Andrews was a house carpenter and farmer and lived in that part of Ipswich which in 1679 was organized into Chebacco parish and in 1819 was incorporated as the town of Essex, Massachusetts. His name is frequently found in the land and court records of Ipswich, where he seems to have accumulated considerable property and to have been a man of some distinction. He was honorably connected with the outbreak of independence which led the inhabitants of Ipswich in 1687 to resist the order of Sir Edmund Andros and his council for levying tax on the King's subjects, viz. "a penny in the pound on all Estates personal or real, twenty pence per head as poll money," etc. (Andros Tracts volume 1 page 81, published by the Prince Society) John Andrews was at that time chairman of the selectmen of Ipswich and John Appleton was town clerk. They with John Wise, the minister, and others, called a meeting at which the command by the Governor to choose a commissioner to assist in assessing the tax was discussed. At the town meeting the next day (23 August 1687) the town considered that by the laws of England it was enacted "that no Taxes should be Levied upon the Subjects without consent of an Assembly chosen by the Freeholders". (Ibid page 84) For this act of the town Mr. Wise, John Andrews, John Appleton, William Goodhue, Robert Kinsman and Thomas French were arrested, brought before the court at Boston and tried. (All are direct ancestral lines except Mr. Wise and Thomas French!). At the trial in Boston "that they might be sure to be found guilty, Jurors were picked of such as were no Freeholders, nay of Strangers; the Prisoners pleading the privilege of Englishmen not to be taxed without their consent, they were told that the Laws of England would not follow them to the end of the Earth. . . for the penalties they resolved should follow them quo jure quaque injuria." That they had no right to claim the privileges of Englishmen, "when it had been declared in the Governours Council that the King's Subjects in New-England did not differ much from Slaves, and that they should be taxed without their consent, they were told that the Laws of England would not follow them to the end of the Earth. . . . for the penalties they resolved should follow them quo jure quaque injuria." That they had no right to claim the privileges of Englishmen, "when it had been declared in the Governours Council that the King's Subjects in New-England did not differ much from Slaves, and that the only difference was, that they were not bought and sold. . . In as much as the Prisoners mentioned had asserted their English Liberties, they were severely handled, not only imprisoned for several weeks, but fined and bound to their good behavior." (Ibid page 82) This act of resistance has been called "the foundation of American Democracy," and was the beginning of those events which 88 years later culminated in the Revolutionary War. It is commemorated in the seal of the town of Ipswich which bears the motto, "The Birthplace of American Independence 1687". During the unhappy days of the Witchcraft Delusion John Andrews and his four sons were among those who signed the petition to save John Proctor and his wife, who had lived at Chebacco and had been tried and convicted of witchcraft at Salem. Although they could not save the husband, they put themselves on record as among the more tolerant of the people of New England.
Mr. Threlfall 5518 Barton Road, Madison, WI 53711 has researched the English ancestry of John Andrews and thinks he may be the John Andrews of Woodton, Norfolk, England (near Norwich) who was baptised 22 Oct 1620, the son of William Andrews and Elizabeth Sheldrake. There is a William Andrews born in Bedingham 1588/89 who married Elizabeth Sheldrake 9 Oct 1617 at Bedingham. She was buried 26 Feb 1623/24 in Woodton, Norfolk, England. Children of William and Elizabeth are:
William baptized 10 Jan 1618/19 with no further record
John baptized 22 Oct 1620 (perhaps the immigrant to New England)
Richard baptized 23 March 1622/23 with no further record
Prudence baptized 20 June 1624 with no further record

There are no church registers for 1624 to 1630. Mr. Threlfall thinks that Robert and John Andrews who were in Ipswich, Massachusetts together were possibly uncle and nephew.

The following is from the Essex, Massachusetts website: Lt. John Andrews (ca. 1621-1708) of Chebacco Parish, Ipswich of no known relation to innholder Robert Andrews of Ipswich. Robert Andrews had son John who many genealogists confused with Lt. John Andrews, including Andrews genealogy compiler H.F. Andrews who later corrected his error in book Lt. John Andrews of Chebacco (much less widely available than his earlier work). Robert's son John removed to Salem and left only female descendants. Persons who can trace their Andrews ancestry to early Essex County Massachusetts are probably descended from Lt. John Andrews of Chebacco. There is a very good typed manuscript genealogy of his descendants compiled by Elliott Morrison Andrews of Lee, Maine June 1, 1961 available at New England Historical Genealogical Society in Boston.

"Lieutenant John Andrews was probably born in England about 1621. His ancestry, date and place of birth, as well as the time and manner of coming to America have not been discovered. A record was kept in England only of those emigrants who on leaving that country took the oath of allegiance to England and also promised conformity to the doctrine, discipline and form of worship of the Established Church and who further swore that they were "No subsidy men." Many who desired to avoid these requirements and to enter the land of their adoption free to follow their own political and religious inclinations did not conform themselves to the law and took no legal departure from the mother country, but came away clandestinely and therefore were not enrolled in the government records of departures from England. Others intentionally concealed their emigration, for various reasons. Nothing has been discovered to suggest that our ancestor had any motive for concealing his emigration. All attempts to discover any relation between him and other early settlers of the name in New England have failed. He was a youth at the time of his coming, which suggests whether he may have accompanied some relative; possibly he was a kinsman and may have come with Capt. Robert Andrews, who came over in 1635 as master and owner of the armed ship, the "Angel Gabriel," bringing with him his own family, his nephews John, Thomas and Robert Burnham and Mr. John Cogswell, a wealthy London merchant with his family. The vessel was lost in a terrible storm at Pemaquid, Maine on Aug. 15, 1635. After the loss of his ship, Capt. Andrews with the Burnham nephews and Mr. Cogswell, settled in Ipswich, Massachusetts, the same year. John Andrews may have come in that ill fated ship; its passenger list probably lost when the vessel was destroyed and we have no further account of the passengers.

He married Jane Jordan, daughter of Stephen Jordan of Ipswich, later of Newbury, Massachusetts, but no record of their marriage has been found. She was probably born in England. In his deposition given in 1701 he stated his age then to be 80 years.

Hammatt, the genealogist of early Ipswich families states that John Andrews of Ipswich was a soldier in the war against the Pequot Indians in 1637, and for that service was granted eight acres of land by the town.

He was a house carpenter and probably a farmer and lived in Chebacco parish, now Essex, Mass., but his exact place of abode is not positively known. He is supposed to have lived at one time at Belcher's Lane. In 1677 he gave a farm at Averill's Hill, which is supposed to have been near Belcher's Lane, to his son John and his daughter, Elizabeth Giddings. In 1678 he bought forty acres from John Cogswell, it being part of the Ipswich School farm or pasture. It is supposed that he lived upon this place perhaps for many years. Elias Andrews, Esq., of Essex, who was born on this old place and has always lived upon or near it and is very familiar with the locality says, that when he was a boy his father pointed out to him a rock on the hill in the field east of the ancient Joseph Andrews house on this place, upon which he said the corner of the old John Andrews barn used to stand and that near to it were pieces of brick where he stated the old John Andrews house once stood. No one can now tell who built the old house and barn. The old house now on the place was built by Joseph Andrews, whose son Elias, was the first child born there, in 1772. This farm is supposed to have descended to Joseph, son of Lieut. John and remained in that branch of the family until recent times and was recently owned by Walter H. Stowe. By deed of Oct. 8, 1703, he gave eight acres of land to his son John. In that deed he called the place his homestead and this was less than five years before his death. This place is in the north part of Essex, on the south side of Choate Brook or Hardy Creek at the ancient Hoppfield bridge and near the north end of Belcher's Lane and north of the Averill's Hill place before mentioned. John Andrews, Jr. sold the land given him by his father, on Feb. 9, 1704 to John Wainwright for £400, and about the same time moved to Norwich, Ct.

The name of John Andrews frequently appears in the records of Ipswich, also in the land and court records showing the following conveyances in which he was interested:

Sept. 27, 1660. John Andrews and wife Jane, of Ipswich, sold to John Choate of same place, about 6 acres of marsh, south side of Chebacco river, at a place called Chebacco Marshes.

John Andrews Sen'r of Chebacco sold to Sergt. Thomas Burnam same town, carpenter, two 3 acre lotts: one granted unto Mr. Sam'l Symonds & the other unto the grantor apointed by the selectmen to be layd out next unto Sergt. Burnam's at farr Chebacco, neare to the pasture given to the free scoole, acknowledged Mar. 19, 1673; "and Jane, his wife, did freely surrender her thirds or interest or dowry in the land herein conveyed."

Nov. 20, 1673. John Andrews. Sen'r of Chebacco, carpenter, bought of Rich'd Lee of same place in Essex county, planter, "All that six acres of marsh, more or less, scituate, lying and being on the ffar syde of that creek that bounds Proctor's Land & bounded by that creeke butting down to a Cove towards Goodman Dane's Island to a great creeke and so upon a straight line up to that creeke to Proctor's ground. The aforesaid six acres of marsh being alienated, bargain'd & sold by me, Richard Lee, unto the sayd John Andrews Sen'r, for & in consideration of nyne pounds in corn in hand payd."

June 16, 1674. John Andrews of Ipswich, carpenter, bought of Samuel Symonds of Ips. Gent. "All that pcell of his land or lott, belonging to the farmme or tenement of the sd Samuell Symonds, which Killgresse Rosse now holdeth of the sayd Samuel containing by estimation three acres, be it more or less, with all and singlular its appurtenances which land lyeth at the lotts adjoining to the scoole farme of Ipswich commonly called the new pasture in the Towne and shire aforesayd. excepting the commonage," &c.

Oct. 25, 1673. John Andrews. Sen'r of Ipswich in consideration of a small parcell of marsh & £8, deeds to Henry Bennett of the same towne " All that my division lott, being a middle lott granted to me by the towne of Ipswich aforesd. N: 52 in the town Book, situate, lyeinge & being in Ipswich aforesd, at Castle Neck, having the land of Daniel Warner on the one syde and the lott of Samuell Ingalls on the other syde, upon Wigwam Hill, with all and singular the appurtenances," &c. Acknowledged Jan. 27, 1675. The marsh which Bennett deeded to Andrews same day was "A part of my farme lyeinge neare to the foote bridge over the creeke, being compassed by a creeke & ditched out to part it from the farme. Containing one acre & a halfe, be it more or less, as it is bounded by the creeke and ditch afore mentioned."

Oct. 29, 1675. John Andrews of Ipswich bought of Robert Cross, Jr. of Ipswich, seaman, two parcels of marsh & land in Ipswich at an island formerly in ye possession of Robert Cross, Sen'r, in Chebacco River, bounded, the one parcel containing six acres, be it more or less, bounded by a creeke north, the land of Benjamin Marshall towards the west and the River towards the south and east. Also the other parcel of six acres of marsh & one acre of upland, being upon the same island and bounded from an oake tree North ward and to the river and then againe south west to a stake and from that stake norwest to ye River, To Hold, &c.

July 13, 1676 John Andrews, Sen'r of Ipswich bought of Nathaniel Emerson of Ipswich, "A 3 acre lott, the granter's father, Thomas Emerson's Division of Plum Island, Castle Neck & Hogg Island & fell out to be on Hogg Island."

29 9mo. 1676. John Andrews, Sen'r of Ipswich, had made over to him by Robert Cross, Jr. of Ipswich, "A parcell of marsh which I had of my father, Robert Cross, Sen'r, containing ten acres, more or less, lying in Chebacco River, bounded as follows: from a stake towards Hogg Island River, North west and from that stake to another against the middle of Dillo Est. and from that stake bounded with the thatch and from that stake Northeast to a stake at the River."

June 30, 1677. Be it knowne unto all men by these presents:
That I, John Andrews, Sen'r of Ipswich in the county of Essex, for and in consideration of that natural affection I doe bear to James Giddings and Elizabeth, his wife, my daughter, Have. . .and do. . .conferme vnto the sd James Giddings, my sonne in law and Elizabeth, his wife, my sayd daughter and to the children of her, my daughter and their heirs forever, one moyaty and halfe part of that land at Averill’s Hill, the upland as it is already parted where the said James and my son, John Andrews, now dwell and also halte the meadow belonging thereunto, viz: James Giddings and John Andrews to make devison of the meadow between themselves, with all and singuler the appurtanances and plivliidges belonging thereunto.

The town of Ipswich allottted to each freeman fifty acres of land for a farm and a house or home lot. We have mentioned that the town granted eight acres of land to John Andrews for military services. The Averill's Hill place may have been his farm allotment.

The town of Ipswich on Jan. 11, 1651 gave to the Grammar School all the "Neck beyond Chebacco River and up to the Gloucester line." The trustees of the school soon leased this land to John Cogswell, Jr. for 1000 years. Part of this land was sub-leased or sold to Lieut. John Andrews in 1678, as appears by the following conveyance:

June 16, 1678. John Andrews, Sen'r of Ipswich, carpenter, bought of John Cogswell of Ipswich in America in the shire of Essex, Gent. and Margaret, his wife, a parcell of upland and marsh, about 40 acres, it being part of the land the grantor's father John Cogswell hirghed (hired) of the town of Ipswich; also, an island of marsh & thach of about 2 acres, which lyeth by Goodman's old saw mill, bounded by stakes & trees, &c., by land of Goodman Coleman's fence, by Clark's Brook, by Gloucester line & by Chebacco River, &c. Andrews to pay yearly to Cogswell 20 in pork during the terms of the said lease.

The Andrews forty acres last described adjoined the land of Dea. John Burnham on the south. The line between their lands was settled by a committee of the town in 1694, as appears from the following report:

We the Committee Impoed to look after Incroachments and to settle the bounds where they prove not settled, being informed that Deacon John Burnham, Sen'r had Incroached on the Town's Common Land, on the Southwest thereof, between his Land and the New Pasture Land, so called. We having been upon the place formerly and examined the matter and finding the bounds uncertainly settled. Discoursed with the said Deacon Burnham, he having committed all into the hands of his son, John Burnham, Consenting to what agreement should be made between him and us; he the said John Burnham paying the charge of the Committee.

We have thus settled his bounds: beginning at the bead of the Creek, called Clark's Creek, near Joseph Andrews, his house and run by the Instrument on the course of 58 degrees Eastwardly from the south, by the Circumperentor without variation and marked by a white oke tree within the fence near the said Creek, and so on that Course; Cross the field to a small pine tree on the brow of a hill within the Inclosed land; then further to a white oke tree on the hill without the fence, then a small walnut tree, then further on the same Course to a hollow oke just by the Rode that Leads to Gloster then further to a white oke tree within two rods of Gloucester Line and further to Gloster Line to a white oke, being a bound tree, marked with the marking iron. All which said trees are marked for his bounds he bordering all the way upon the New Pasture Land, from the said Creek onwards, about one hundred and twenty five Rods to a white oke tree, marked for the corner of said pasture Land, now belonging to Mr. John Cogswell and the other two rods outward bordering upon the land reserved by Ipswich men. Lying between the land of the New Pasture and Gloster Line: which said Bounds, as by the marked trees, we settle for his Bounds and by consent of the parties concerned. viz: Mr. John Cogswell for himself and we, in behalf of and with the power of the inhabitants of Ipswich. To have and to hold the said Bounds for his Bounds.

The law of entail was strictly enforced in Massachusetts. Not until 1692 did the General Court permit the full disposal of lands. This law perhaps accounts fir the second lease from Cogswell to Andrews, which follows. It may have been the opinion of the lawyers of that time, that Cogswell could not prior to 1692, alienate the land which he had sold to Andrews to 1678, as against his heirs; and that after the new law was passed and after the settlement of the boundary between the land of Burnham and himself, the second lease was given to perfect the title.

To all Christian people to whom these shall come or whom they may concern: I, John Cogswell of Chebacco, in Ipswich, in the county of Essex, in the Province of Massachusetts Bay in New England send Greeting:

Know yee the said John Cogswell, son and heire of Mr. John Cogswell, formerly of Chebacco, deceased. Lessee of the New Pasture (so called) on the southwesterdly side of Chebacco River, for one Thousand years from the first tearm and by vertue of An Indenture or Deed of Lease, bearing date the sixteenth day of January, Anno One Thousand six hundred and fifty. Hath (for and in consideration as well, of one hundred pounds of Good merchantable Pay and five pounds in Good and Lawful money Current in New England to him in hand paid, or to or before the encealing & delivering of these presents, to satisfaction secured, By Lieut. John Andrews. Sen. of Chebacco aforesaid, the Receipt whereof said Cogswell doth hereby acknolage of said Andrews of any other Paym’t thereof doth hereby discharge together with his heirs, Executors & Administrators forever.) As for other Lawful Considerations, Especially the Consideration hereafter Rehersed. ...?-demiscsand to Farm, Let and by these presents doth clearly and absolutely Grant, Demise, Lease and convey said Farm Lot unto said Lieut. John Andrews & heirs, Executors, Administrators, Assigns, These several Parcels of land, whether Woodland, Pasture, meadow or Arabale. Joyntly containing by Estimation Fifty acres, be it more or less, as it is bounded in the following Discription. viz: One angle of land in the said New Pasture, containing by Estimation twenty four acres, more or less, bounded eastwardly by land of John Burnham, Sen. viz: beginning at the head of Clark's Creek
In 1675 he was on a committee to layout land near Ipswich. Lt. John Andrews entered in town book according to law:

Mr. Wise tell the story of their affair:
"We John Wise, John Andrews, Sen. Robert Kinsman, William Goodhue, Jr. all of Ipswich, about the 22d of August, 1687, were, with several principal inhabitants of Ipswich, met at Mr. John Appleton's and there discussed and concluded that it was not the town's duty in any way to assist that ill method of raising money without a general Assembly, which was generally intended by Sir Edmund Andros and his Council, as witness a late act issued out by them for such a purpose. The next day in a general town meeting of the inhabitants of Ipswich, we the above named J. Wise, J. Andrews, R. Kinsman, W. Goodhue, and the rest of the town, there met (none contradicting) and gave our consent to the vote then made. The ground of our trouble, our crime, was the copy transmitted to the Council, viz: 'At a legal town-meeting, Aug.

commissioner for such an end without said privilege, and moreover, consent not, that the Selectmen do proceed to lay any such rate, until it be appointed by a General Assembly concurring: with Governor and Council.'"
"We, the complainants, with Mr. John Appleton and Thomas French, all of Ipswich, were brought to answer for the said vote out of our own county thirty or forty miles into Suffolk and in Boston, kept in jail for contempt and high misdemeanor, as our mittimus specifies, and upon demand, denied the privilege of habeas corpus, and from prison overruled to answer at a Court of Oyer and Terminer in Boston. Our Judges were Joseph Dudley of Roxbury, Stoughton of Dorchester, John Usher of Boston and Edward Randolph. He that officiates as Clerk and Attorney in the case is George Farwell. The Jurors only twelve, and most of them (as is said) non freeholders of any land in the colony, some of them strangers and foreigners, gathered up (as we suppose) to serve the present turn. In our defense was pleaded the repeal of the Law of assessment upon the place; also the Magna Charter of England, and the Statute Laws, that secure the subject's properties and estates, &c. To which was replied by one of the judges, the rest by silence assenting, that we must not think the Laws of England follow us to the ends of the earth, or whether we went. And the same person (J. Wise abovesaid testifies) declared in open council, upon examination of said Wise: 'Mr. Wise, you have no more privilege left you, than not to be sold as slaves,' and no man in Council contradicted. By such Laws our trial and trouble began and ended. Mr.
Dudley, aforesaid, Chief Judge, to close up a debate and trial, trims up a speech that pleased himself (as we suppose) more than the people. Among many other remarkable passages to this purpose, he bespeaks the jury's obedience, who (we suppose) were very well preinclined, viz: 'I am glad' says he, 'there be so many worthy gentlemen of the jury so capable to do the King's service, and we expect a good verdict from you, seeing the matter hath been so sufficiently proved against criminals.'"

Note-The evidence in the case, as to the substance of it was, that we too boldly endeavored to persuade ourselves we were Englishmen and under privileges, and that we were, all six of us aforesaid, at the town meeting of Ipswich aforesaid, and as the witness supposed, we assented to the aforesaid vote, and also, that John Wise made a speech at the same time, and said that we have a good God and a good King and should do well to stand to our privileges.'"

"The jury returned us all guilty, being all involved in the same information. We were remanded from verdict to prison, and kept one and twenty days for judgement. There, with Mr. Dudley's approbation, as Judge Stoughton said, this sentence was passed. viz: John Wise suspended from the ministerial function, fined £50, pay costs, £100 bond; John Appleton, not to bear office, fine £50, pay costs, £100 bond; John Andrews, not to bear office, fine £30, pay costs. £500 bond; Robert Kinsman, not to bear office, fine £'K), pay costs. £500 bond; William Goodhue, the same; Thomas French, not to bear office, fine £15, pay costs, £500 bond. These bonds were for good behavior one year. We judge the total charges for one case and trial under one single information, involving us six men, aforesaid, in expense of time and moneys of us and our relations for our necessary succor and support, to amount to more, but not less than £400, money. Too tedious to illustrate more at this time, and so we conclude.'"

The town of Ipswich afterwards made up the loss to those so prosecuted. And Mr. Wise sued Chief Justice Dudley for denying the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus and is said to have recovered damages from him.

The action of these brave and courageous men on this occasion has been called "The foundation of American Democracy." It was a leading incident in colonial events, occurring eighty-eight years before the outbreak of the Revolution, which culminate in the independence of this country. In commemoration of that event the seal of the town of Ipswich bears the following motto:

THE BIRTHPLACE OF AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE, 1687

During that horrible period of the Salem Witchcraft John Andrews again comes into creditable public notice. John Proctor, who was born in Chebacco, but had moved to Salem; he and his wife, Elizabeth, had the awful misfortune to be charged of being witches. They were arrested, cast into prison, tried and convicted. Most persistent efforts in their behalf for clemency were made. While in prison Proctor addressed Rev. Cotton Mather and others imploring their assistance that if possible, their innocent blood might be spared. Their neighbors joined in a petition to the court to save them. Rev. John Wise drew up a petition which was signed by the men of old Chebacco, whose names were: John Wise, William Cogswell, William Story, Sr., Jonathan Cogswell, Reginald Foster, John Cogswell, Jun., Thomas Choate, John Cogswell, John Burnham, Sr. Thomas Andrews, William Thompson, Joseph Andrews, Thomas Low, Sr., Benjamin Marshall, Isaac Foster, John Andrews, Jr., John Burnham, Jr., William Buslin, William Goodhue, William Andrews, Isaac Perkins, John Andrews, Nathaniel Perkins, John Choate, Sr., Thomas Wilkins, Joseph Proctor, William Cogswell, Samuel Giddings, Thomas Varney, Joseph Eveleth, John Fellows, James White.

It appears that the names of John Andrews and his four sons are all signed to this petition, to their eternal honor and credit.

This document and list of names of those courageous, humane and tolerant men, compares favorably with any which has come down to us from the early colonial period of this country. By their act they opposed the intolerance and superstition of the Puritans of New England, promulgated, represented and controlled by its clergy and magistrates, a class of rulers whose opposition or enmity it was dangerous to encounter. Their acts on that occasion were at the hazard of their lives. Many men and women during that troublesome period lost their lives for as slight causes while attempting to interfere with public affairs. It required stout hearts for our ancestors to sign and present that petition at that particular time, more perilous in some respects than the case oft the resistance to the unlawful tax above cited. Human blood was then rated cheap as the penalty for resisting the authority and power controlled and executed by tyrannical rulers. But our grand old ancestor and his neighbors were again fighting a righteous cause, for humanity and against ignorance and superstition. And while their efforts were futile to save the lives of both victims, for John Proctor was hanged, but his wife was spared. The wave of fanaticism receded and that reign of terror passed away—let us hope forever."

Notes for Jane Jordan

Stephen Jordan came in the "Mary and John", in the company of Rev. Thomas Parker, from Wiltshire, England, which sailed from Southampton with Capt. Robert Sayers, March, 1634, and arrived at Boston, May 24, 1634. Little is known about his family; his daughter Jane married Lieut. John Andrews and another daughter, Hannah, married Robert Cross of Chebacco. It is probable that he was first married before coming to this country, but nothing has been found relative to the mother of his children. He settled in Ipswich, Mass. where he was a proprietor, 1636; herd keeper, 1645. Sold his land at Ipswich, 1653 and moved to Newbury, Mass. Married Susannah, widow of Nathaniel Merril of Newbury: probably his second wife, but not the mother of his children. He died Newbury, Feb. 8, 1669. His widow died Jan. 25, 1672.

The last will and testament of Stephen Jordan of Newbury, in the County of Essex, written this fifth of April, One thousand six hundred and sixty seven; having through God's grace perfect sense & memory. First. I commend my soule to God that gave it & my body to the earth in assured hope of the resurrection of the just & for what estate the Lord hath given me I dispose of as followeth: First. I give to my daughter Cross, fifteen pounds which is in her husband's hands already. Also, I give to my daughter Andrews of Ipswich fifteen pounds which is in her husband's hands already. For my house & land in Newbury. I give it to my wife during her natural life & after her decease I give it to Stephen Cross, the son of Robert Cross of Ipswich, my son-in-law. Two cows I give to my wife; half my household goods I give also to my wife & the other halfe to my two sons Robert Cross and John Andrews equally divided. My will is that Stephen Cross shall give to my kinswoman & my grand child Elizabeth Andrews out of the land above given unto him the sum of £5. Signed with my hand this 5 April (1657. In the presence of us whose Stephen Jordan names are underwritten and a mark Susan Wheeler and a mark. Mary Poore and a mark.

He married in 1680/81 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Judith BELCHER 26, 27, born 19 Aug 1658 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Jeremiah BELCHER, Immigrant and Mary LOCKWOOD.

Notes for John Andrews, Jr.

"The Ancestry of Phoebe Tilton" by W. G. Davis pp. 132-135: Robert Cross, Jr. was born about 1642, that year being determined by his estimated age in many court depositions. He married Martha Treadwell on 19 Feb 1664/65. He died in 1713 and his widow died 3 March 1738/39 at the age of 95.

In 1667, after a day spent in military training, Robert Cross and his cousin John Andrews, Jr. [son of Lieut. John Andrews], and a few other young men, probably under the influence of too much "sack" or aqua-vitae, committed what the court with some justice termed a "barbarous and inhumane act". They opened the grave of the Indian Sagamore of Agawam, who had been a constant friend of the first settlers of Ipswich, scattered his bones and carried his skull on a pole. Cross was apparently the ring-leader, and he was sentenced to jail until the next lecture day when he was to sit in the stocks for an hour after meeting, then to be taken back to prison to remain until he paid a fine of 6:13:4. After his release he was bound to good behavior and obliged to bury Sagamore's bones and erect a cover of stones two feet high on the grave. The case naturally caused a great sensation, the mildest comment being that the fines and imprisonment punished the culprits' parents, who had to find the money and replace their labor, more than it did them. Drink was Robert Cross' curse. He owned that he drank excessively in 1670, he was "much in drink" in Gloucester in September 1671 again in Salem in 1673 and was fined for breach of the peace in 1677.

William Andrews (son of John) appears on the record for the first time in March 1667 when he, Stephen Cross and Joseph Giddings were brought into court and convicted of "great misdemeanors of pulling up bridges at the windmill". They were committed to prison until the next lecture day, and after the lecture to be brought forth by the marshall and constables, to sit one hour in the stocks, then to be carried back to prison until they paid a fine of three pounds each. They were also bound to good behavior. His brother John was also questioned in the matter and admitted having pulled up part of the bridge. John further admitted that the past spring he and Robert Cross, Jr., had dug up the grave of Sagamore of Agawam, and that Cross carried the skull upon a pole. Cross was sentenced to a term in prison, was fined and ordered to rebury the bones and construct a stone cover for the grave. John Andrews was ordered to help him in the work or pay a fine of twenty nobles. Thomas Bishop openly criticized these sentences and declared that it was a very hard sentence and it punished the innocent and let the guilty escape for the fines and imprisonment punished their parents. He also said that it would have been better to give them a little of the whip. For this criticism of the court he was fined and ordered to make a public acknowledgement.

In the Ipswich papers by Messrs. Dow and Caldwell, appears this account of the affair: "MASCONNOMET" "The last of the Sagamores of the Agawams was buried with Indian honors on Sagamore Hill, now within the limits of Hamilton. About 1658 some young fellows dug up the skull and carried it about the streets. They were brought to justice and some fragments concerning the affair, without dates, from the Court tiles have been found. Testimony of John Andrews, Jr. The last spring he was at the Sagamore's grave with Robert Cross, Jr., when he was digging of it and that he the sayd Cross carried the skull upon a pole to a lott where John Giddings was at plow and Confess that at first he digged up some of the upper pt of the Grave, but did not after dig further; they digged it with hows [hoes.]"

On 8 Oct 1703, Lieut. John Andrews gave to his "Eldest Sone John Andrews, House Carpenter of ye sa me town" his homestead with eight acres of land, confirming to him other pieces of land, subject to certain conditions. On 25 Oct 1704, John Andrews sold this homestead, given to him by his father, to John Wainwright of Ipswich, the deed being signed by John and Judith Andrews. The deeds were signed by John and Judith Andrews.

John was a carpenter, and a tythingman in 1697. He lived on a farm at Averill's Hill. In a deed, he stated "Judith, now my wife", On 9 Feb 1704 John sold his Ipswich lands to John Wainwright for 400 pounds, and about 1704 moved to Norwich, Connecticut. A record of John Andrews in 1684 states that he was then 36 years old and was a tythingman in 1697. In the will of his father, Lieut. John Andrews in 1705 he is mentioned as the eldest son. He is mentioned in a deed made by his father 30 June 1677, to James Giddings and his wife Elizabeth (Andrews).

Children of John ANDREWS , Jr. and Judith BELCHER were as follows:
+ 7 i John ANDRUS, born 1680 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 1750 in Preston, New London County, Connecticut. He married (1) Sarah COOK; (2) Ruth GATES.
+ 8 ii Jeremiah ANDRUS, born 1682 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 7 May 1762 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. He married Dorothy (---).
+ 9 iii Benjamin ANDROS, born 13 Apr 1685 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died about 1769 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. He married Ann MIX.
+ 10 iv Richard ANDREWS, born 1688 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 1768 in Scotland, Windham County, Connecticut. He married Abiah ROBINSON, born about 1692 in Tisbury, Dukes County, Massachusetts; died about 1775 in Scotland, Windham County, Connecticut, dughter of Peter ROBINSON and Experience MANTOR. Notes: Richard and Abiah had no children. Richard went from Chebacco Parish, Ipswich to Norwich, Connecticut about 1704 with his father's family. On 12 Jan 1713/14 his parents conveyed to him one hundred and ten acres of land.
He and his wife were admitted to the church in Scotland, Connecticut, on a letter from the church in Preston. In 1719 Richard sold to his brother Jeremiah the land east of the Shetucket River, which had been given to him by his father, and moved with his wife to Scotland Parish, formerly a part of Windham.

Notes for William Andrews

"Descendants of Lieut. John Andrews". Ensign William Andrews was born in Chebacco Parish about 1649/50, he was a farmer and carpenter. According to an early town record [1667] in Ipswich, William Andrews, Joseph Giddings and Stephen Cross participated in a stunt which involved damage to a bridge at the windmill. These young men also were engaged in other pranks, which resulted in their being brought before the town authorities, found guilty of misdemeanors and punished by being committed to the stocks. In 1668 William was an Ensign in the Ipswich Military Company. He purchased 100 acres of land from Samuel Cogswell of Chebacco on 20 Aug 1672. In the Ancient Cemetery in Essex there is a slate gravestone with the following inscription:

William Andrews (son of John) was born about 1649 at Chebacco in Ipswich, Massachusetts. This section in now the town of Essex. He appears on the record for the first time in March 1667 when he, Stephen Cross and Joseph Giddings were brought into court and convicted of "great misdemeanors of pulling up bridges at the windmill". They were committed to prison until the next lecture day, and after the lecture to be brought forth by the marshall and constables, to sit one hour in the stocks, then to be carried back to prison until they paid a fine of three pounds each. They were also bound to good behavior. His brother John was also questioned in the matter and admitted having pulled up part of the bridge. John further admitted that the past spring he and Robert Cross, Jr., had dug up the grave of Sagamore of Agawam, and that Cross carried the skull upon a pole. Cross was sentenced to a term in prison, was fined and ordered to rebury the bones and construct a stone cover for the grave. John Andrews was ordered to help him in the work or pay a fine of twenty nobles. Thomas Bishop openly criticized these sentences and declared that it was a very hard sentence and it punished the innocent and let the guilty escape for the fines and imprisonment punished their parents. He also said that it would have been better to give them a little of the whip. For this criticism of the court he was fined and ordered to make a public acknowledgement. William Andrews was released from his bond of good behavior the following September.

On 20 August 1672, just two months before his marriage, William Andrews and his father entered into a lease for 100

Notes for John Andr us

Mr. Will E. Osborn wrote the following: John Andr us moved to Norwich, Connecticut with his parents, was admitted to Norwich Church in 1722, received land from parents in Norwich in 1713. John Andr us, like his father end grandfather before him, was a carpenter and farmer and lived on the land given him by his father. He removed to Norwich, Connecticut and was made a freeman there in 1716, and was one of the collectors in 1729. John owned considerable land in Norwich and in Windham County, Connecticut. He is sometimes referred to as John Andrews, sometimes as Androuse, and sometimes as Andr us. In his will, which is dated 21 January 1747/48, the name is spelled Andr us throughout, while his son Jacob used the spelling Andros and his son Benjamin spelled his name as Andross. A copy of John's will is as follows:

"In the Name of God Amen. The 23d day of January Anno Domini 1747/8 I John Andr us or Norwich in the County of New London, and colony of Connecticut in New England Yooman, being weak in Body but of Perfect mind and memory Thanks be given to God. Therefor, Calling unto mind the mortality of my Body, and Knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this my Last Will & Testament, that it is to say Principlly, and first of all, I give and recommend my Soul. into the hands of God that gave it and my Body I recommend to the earth; to be Buried in decent Christian Burial at the discretion of my Executors; Nothing Doubting but at the General Resurrection I shall Receive the same again by the Almighty Power of God, and as Touching Such Wordley Estate, wherewith it hath pleased God to Bless me in this Life, I give, devise and dispose of the same in the following manner and form.

Children of John ANDRUS and Sarah COOK were as follows:

+ 43 i  John ANDRUS, born 18 Apr 1710 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. He married Abigail RICHARDS.

+ 44 ii Sarah ANDRUS, born 9 Jan 1712/13 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 16 Aug 1788. She married Samuel PALMER.

+ 47 v Thankful ANDRUS, born 20 Sep 1719 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. She married Joseph READ.

+ 48 vi Joseph ANDRUS, born 26 Jun 1722 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died about 1798. The name of his wife is unknown.

Children of John ANDRUS and Ruth GATES were as follows:

50 ii Dorcas ANDRUS, born 24 Sep 1728 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. She married on 29 Apr 1752 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut Barnabas LOTHRUP, born 27 Mar

1727 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut, son of John LOTHROP and Lydia PALMETOR. Notes: Dorcas was the third wife of Barnabas Lathrop, she had no children.

+ 51 iii Isaac ANDRUS, born 22 Apr 1731 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 30 Jun 1824 in Shaftsbury, Bennington County, Vermont; buried in Shaftsbury Center Cemetery, Shaftsbury, Vermont. He married (1) Elizabeth TRACY; (2) Truelove OATMAN; (3) Anna SPENCER, Widow; (4) Freelove WILCOX.

+ 52 iv Jacob ANDRUS, Sr., born 29 Apr 1734 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 5 Apr 1806 in Montgomery, Hampden County, Massachusetts. He married Huldah (---).

Notes for Jeremiah Andrus
Jeremiah went from Chebacco Parish, Ipswich to Norwich, Connecticut about 1704. He was a freeman there in 1717. Jeremiah and Benjamin Andrus, both of Norwich, sold on 10 Mar 1718/19, for £620, to Samuel Gore of Roxbury, Suffolk County, Province of Massachusetts Bay, “all that land which our father John Andrus, deceased, did give us in a deed dated 12 Jan 1714, lying on the east side of the Shetucket River... with housing,” etc. Richard Andrus of Norwich sold on 1 Apr 1719 for £222, to his brother Jeremiah Andrus of the same town, husbandman, 110 acres of the eastside of the Shetucket River, being land that had been conveyed to him by his father (Norwich Land Records). By the order for the distribution of the estate of Richard Andrus of Windham, 10 May 1769, the heirs of Jeremiah Andrus were to receive one seventh of the real estate, with £5.7s. 2d. in money, ”and further the court orders that the administrators receive the parts of said real estate and personal property set out to the heirs of Jeremiah Andrus, they being out of the government and incapable to receive their parts and said administrators are to exhibit their receipts.” (Windham Probate Records). Jeremiah and his descendants used the surname ANDRUS. Children Elizabeth and Jeremiah's births were entered in Norwich records 11 Oct 1742 "at the desire of her father".

Notes for Dorothy (---)
Perhaps she is Dorothy MIX, sister of Ann, wife of Benjamin Andrus and daughter of Thomas Mix of Norwich Connecticut, born 23 May 1691. "The Diary of Jabez Fitch", about 1765, mentions the death of "Old Doryt Andews".

Children of Jeremiah ANDRUS and Dorothy (---) were as follows:
53  i  Jeremiah ANDRUS, born 20 May 1727 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.

Notes for Benjamin Andros

79 New York Genealogical and Biographical Record, Vol 46:188, Allen County Public Library, Fort Wayne, Indiana, periodicals. Article disproves that Jeremiah Andrews and John Andrews were the sons of Francis Andrews of Fairfield, Connecticut. Proves that the Norwich, Connecticut Andrews-Andrus family were descended from Lieut. John Andrews.
81 Ibid., 70:108, footnote. Speculation that Dorothy may be the daughter of Thomas and Hannah (Fitch) Mix, the sister of Ann Mix who married Benjamin Andrus [Andrews in this document]: “John Andrews of Ipswich, Mass., and Norwich, Conn. and Some of His Descendants” by Harriet Andross Goodell.
Benjamin Andros went from Chebacco Parish, Ipswich to Norwich, Connecticut about 1704. He was a carpenter. In the settlement of his brother's estate, at Scotland, Connecticut, he or his heirs inherited a share of the estate. Benjamin's father John conveyed to him 100 acres of land. Benjamin and his descendants used the surname ANDROS.

Children of Benjamin ANDROS and Ann MIX were as follows:

+ 56 ii  Zebediah ANDRUS, born 1716 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; christened 23 Aug 1719 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 26 Jul 1804 in Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont; buried in Mettowee Cemetery, Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont. He married Elizabeth SWAN.

11. David ANDRUS, born 1690 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died about 1757 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. He married on 14 Feb 1711/12 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut Hannah HASKELL, born 23 Jan 1687/88 in Beverly, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Roger HASKELL and Hannah WOODBURY.

Notes for David Andrus

David Andrus went from Chebacco Parish, Ipswich to Norwich, Connecticut about 1704. On 12 Jan 1713/14, his parents conveyed to him one hundred and ten acres of land on the east side of the Shetucket River. His will is dated 17 Feb 1749/50. The inventory of his property, exhibited on 28 March 1758, mentioned Negro slaves: Quam being valued at fifty pounds, and Cecas valued at forty four pounds. David and his descendants used the surname ANDRUS.

Notes for Hannah Haskell

Hannah was admitted to the First Church of Norwich, Connecticut on 6 Sep 1715; her son David was baptized the same day.

Children of David ANDRUS and Hannah HASKELL were as follows:

+ 62 ii  Lucy ANDRUS, born 4 Nov 1715 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. She married Jonathan BREWSTER.

Notes for William Andrews, Jr.
William is mentioned in his father's will: "William Andrews son of the above deceased having delivered unto me one good yoke of oxen out of my fathers cattle to be my own free from any obligation of paying anything for them and the free privileged income and benefit of eight apple trees standing in the field during my natural life; I will acquit my said fathers estate from me and my heirs for ever." He was a yeoman and lived in Gloucester, Massachusetts, probably on Andrews Point, Pigeon Cove.
William Andrews, Jr. was a yeoman and lived in Gloucester, Massachusetts, probably on Andrews Point, Pigeon Cove from 1704-1746. His house and garden on Andrews Point is supposed to have been near Mrs. Thompkin's stone house. See "The Descendants of Lieut. John Andrews" reference for description of other homes and possible graveyard in this area.

Notes for John Andrews

John was a yeoman and lived in Chebacco Parish. It is tradition that Deacon John built part of his house on his land and that his brother, possibly Ezekiel, built on the other part. It is said that the Deacon was accustomed to killing deer in violation of the law, and that he concealed the meat in one of the two cellars under his house. He was discovered and punished for these unlawful acts. John is mentioned in his fathers will: "John Andrews is fully satisfied as to any more portion of my fathers estate provided I may possess and enjoy the thirty acres of upland which I received by a deed of my father. I will acquit the said estate of my said father."

Notes for Elizabeth Story

Elizabeth is mentioned in her father's will dated 24 June 1724. "Elizabeth Andrews twenty shillings to be paid by my son Seth Story and his heirs."

Children of John ANDREWS and Elizabeth STORY were as follows:

16. Margaret ANDREWS111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116 (William', John'), born about 1676/77 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 1 Nov 1722 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 26 Jun 1697 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Samuel B. GOTT117, 118, 119, born about 1677 of Wenham, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 23 Nov 1748 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts, son of Charles GOTT and Lydia CLARK.

Notes for Margaret Andrews
Margaret received 20 pounds in her father's will. The will of Ensign William Andrews of Chebacco mentions sons William, John, Ezekiel, daughters Margaret the wife of Samuel Gott; Elizabeth the wife of Joshua Norwood; Abigail the wife of Thomas Butler; Rachel the wife of Zachariah Story; and unmarried daughter Miriam.

Notes for Samuel B. Gott
Samuel was a weaver. Two children were born to Samuel and Margaret in Wenham and in 1702 the family moved to Gloucester. On 23 Oct 1702 Samuel purchased of William Cogswell, of Chebacco, for sixty pounds lawful money, eight six acre lots on Halibut Point. Samuel was the first settler at Pigeon Cove. William Andrews (Samuel's wife Margaret Andrews older brother) subsequently settled at Andrews Point and was the only neighbor of Samuel Gott.

Children of Margaret ANDREWS and Samuel B. GOTT were as follows:

107 ix Anne GOTT, born 11 Mar 1712 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 13 Jan 1736 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Benjamin SCOTT, born of Newbury, Essex County, Massachusetts.

+ 108 x William GOTT, born 17 Apr 1715 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died before 1752. He married Elizabeth WANSON.

109 xi Nathaniel GOTT, born 2 Nov 1717 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 20 Jun 1720 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: Nathaniel died young.

110 xii Lydia GOTT, born 28 Jan 1719 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 22 Oct 1722 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: Lydia died young.

17. Ezekiel ANDREWS120, 121 (William2, John1), born Jun 1680 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died after 1723. He married on 19 Feb 1707/08 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Abigail CURTIS, died after 1723.

Notes for Ezekiel Andrews
Ezekiel was a mariner. He sold his land to his brother John 22 Nov 1723 when he and his wife were still living in Ipswich. Ezekiel received a parcel of land, 2 acres of marsh and he was to pay 5 shillings for the land and 12 pounds 10 shillings to the estate of his father, according to his father's will. Ezekiel Andrews, son to William Andrews, am fully satisfied with the parcel of land bounded northerly side of Thomas Burnham's barn from thence to the scotsmans tree, etc., and I will acquit my father's estate.

Notes for Abigail Curtis
Her name is also seen spelled as Abigail CURTICE.

Children of Ezekiel ANDREWS and Abigail CURTIS were as follows:

111 i Benjamin ANDREWS.

+ 112 ii Rachel ANDREWS, born Oct 1710 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 27 Apr 1803 in Ashby, Middlesex County, Massachusetts. She married James COLMAN.

113 iii Nathan Poland ANDREWS.

19. Elizabeth ANDREWS122, 123, 124 (William2, John1), born 15 Jan 1685/86 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 1 Nov 1774 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes for Abigail Andrews

Thomas Butler and his wife Abigail appear in a deed of 12 March 1710/11 (Vol. 23, p. 73).

Abigail received 20 pounds in her father's will. The will of Ensign William Andrews of Chebacco mentions sons William, John, Ezekiel, daughters Margaret the wife of Samuel Gott; Elizabeth the wife of Joshua Norwood; Abigail the wife of Thomas Butler; Rachel the wife of Zachariah Story; and unmarried daughter Miriam.

The Ancient Burying Ground in Essex bearing dates prior to 1800. This cemetery was used soon after its grant of one acre from the town of Ipswich Feb. 15, 1681. Essex was a part of Ipswich, being the Chebacco Parish, until its incorporation as the town of Essex Feb. 15, 1819. "Here lyes ye body of Abigail Butler wife of Thomas Butler Decd ye 20th 1718 in ye 31st year of her age."

Notes for Thomas Butler

Date of intention for marriage to Martha Story [second wife of Thomas Butler] was published 16 Jan 1719. Thomas was a cordwainer in Chebacco Parish. He and Martha moved to Hopkinton, Massachusetts in 1745 and had a farm adjacent to the estates of Sir Charles Henry Frankland.

Thomas and Martha [Martha Story, second wife of Thomas Butler] appear on 8 May 1719 for an exchange of woodland with Samuel Cogswell for a Gloucester woodlot. On 10 March 1731/32, Thomas and Martha "for love and affection" give to their son, Thomas, an undivided half of a right in Pond Neck division in Chebacco. Thomas and Martha were dismissed from the Chebacco church to that of Hopkinton, Middlesex, Massachusetts in 1745 but they do not appear on the list of church members, except for a reference to a Martha Butler who joined the church 1 Feb 1756, twelve years later.

Children of Abigail ANDREWS and Thomas BUTLER were as follows:

+ 129  i  Thomas BUTLER, born about 1705 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died in Windham, Windham County, Connecticut. He married (1) Abigail CRAFTS; (2) Deborah MEACHAM; (3) Thankful LUCE.

+ 130  ii  Stephen BUTLER, born 1707; died before 20 Apr 1764 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Sarah INGALLS.

+ 131  iii  William BUTLER, born 1712; died 4 Nov 1741 in Lunenburg, Worcester County, Massachusetts. He married Lucy STORY (see 144).

21. Miriam ANDREWS141,142 (William2, John1), born 1692/93 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 12 Jan 1716/17 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Nathaniel RUST143,144, born about 1685 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died before 9 May 1744, son of Nathaniel RUST and Joanna KINSMAN.

Notes for Miriam Andrews

Miriam received 20 pounds in her father's will. Her name appears as ANDROSS on the marriage record in Gloucester. She was appointed Administratrix of Nathaniel's, who died intestate, estate 9 May 1744. His real estate consisted of one and one-half acres, a barn near the head of Little River and half of a wood lot, No. 194. No children were named in this

To my wife one third of my estate except my dwelling house which I give to her the eastern end for her use during her natural life. Of my personal estate I give unto her one cow, six sheep and all household stuff except what I herein particularly give to others.

To son Jeremiah, the western end of my dwelling house and one half of my barn and half of all the land my father gave to me by deed.

To son Nehemiah I give the eastern half of my dwelling house at my wife's desire, one half of the barn and the shop at the eastward of the house, and one half of the land my father gave me by deed, and my part of the wood lot which I and my brother Seth Story bought of William Hunt and of Daniel and Thomas Hodgkins and one half of the marsh of which I bought of Mr. Nathaniel Foster.

To son Isaac that land I had from my father by deed that was formerly Joseph Parsons and the buildings on it and that land which I bought of Jonathan Baxter and half of my part of the land which I and my brother Seth Story bought of John Goodhue, Jr. and half of that marsh which I bought of Mr. Nathaniel Foster and half of that marsh which I bought of Thomas and Alexander Lovel.

To son Jesse the dwelling house which he now lives and one half of my part of that land which I and my brother Seth Story bought of John Goodhue, Jr. and the wood lot I bought of Oliver Appleton.

To sons Jeremiah, Nehemiah, Isaac and Jesse I give all my scratch lots that I have bought to be equally divided amongst them and all my husbandry tools to be equally divided amongst them.

To lawful heirs of daughter Lucy 12 shillings

To daughter Rachel six shillings

To daughter Deborah six shillings

To daughter Jerusha the bed and furniture in the bed chamber and a chest with two drawers in it and the loom with all the weaving furniture and six shillings.

To daughter Lois six shillings

To sons Nehemiah and Isaac I give my part of the freighting canoes and my live stock except what is above to be equally divided between them.

I order my son Nehemiah to pay the lawful heirs of my daughter Lucy twelve shillings and to my daughter Deborah six shillings.

I order my son Isaac to pay to my daughters Rachel, Jerusha and Lois six shillings apiece.

I order my sons Nehemiah and Isaac to pay each of the above mentioned Legacies at the end of two full years after my decease.

To my sons Nehemiah and Isaac I give all that is due to me an order them to pay all my debts out of what is given to them. I make them joint executors.

Francis POOLE\textsuperscript{165, 166, 167} (see 486), born 22 Jul 1729 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 21 Apr 1804 in Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts, son of Ebenezer POOLE and Elizabeth NORWOOD.

23. Patience\textsuperscript{3} ANDREWS\textsuperscript{168, 169} (William\textsuperscript{2}, John\textsuperscript{1}), born 1696 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 6 Feb 1719/20 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Benjamin STEWART, born 1695 of Weymouth, Norfolk County, Massachusetts; died about 1771 in New Braintree, Worcester County, Massachusetts.

Notes for Benjamin Stewart

Patience appears as ANDROUSE on her marriage record. She and Benjamin lived at Cape Ann (Gloucester) where they sold land to Caleb Poole November 1731, they then moved to Upton about 1736 and afterwards lived in New Braintree, Massachusetts. Administration of Benjamin's estate was granted in New Braintree in 1772 to his son Benjamin.

Children of Patience ANDREWS and Benjamin STEWART were as follows:

153  i  Patience\textsuperscript{4} STEWART. She married on 4 Jan 1736/37 in Upton, Worcester County, Massachusetts John WATKIN.
+ 154  ii  Susanna\textsuperscript{4} STEWART, born 1725. She married Stephen ROLPH.
+ 155  iii  Joseph\textsuperscript{4} STEWART. He married Jane WILSON.

Jonathan was blacksmith, and lived in Chebacco until 1733 when he moved to Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine. He and his wife Sarah were dismissed from the second church in Chebacco in 1732 and admitted to the First Congregational Church in Scarborough 25 Feb 1733.

Jonathan Andrews made his will 3 July 1752 which was proved 9 July 1759 and reads as follows:

"In the name of God Amen. The Third Day of July in ye year of our Lord 1752. "I Jonathan Andrews of Scarborough in the County of York in New England Blacksmith, being weak in Body, but of perfect Mind and Memory Thanks be given to God, therefore calling to Mind the Mortality of my Body and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die. Do make and ordain this my last Will & Testament, That is to say principally and first of all, I give & recommend my Soul unto ye Hands of God that gave it, hoping thro ye free Pardon & Forgiveness of all my Sins, and to inherit everlasting Life, And my Body I commit to ye Earth to be decently buried at ye Discretion of my Executor hereafter named, nothing doubting but at ye general Resurrection I shall receive ye Same again by ye Mighty Power of God; And as touching such worldly Estate where with it has pleased God to bless me in this Life I give demise & dispose of ye Same in the following Manner & Form, that is to Say, I give & bequeath to Sarah my dearly beloved Wife all that I have both House & Lands and all ye Moveables as long as she lives but after her Death, I give to my well beloved Son Jonathan Andrews twenty acres of land joining on the West side of the home Lot, and the Tools that have belonging to the Smith Trade, and I give to my well beloved Ephraim Andrews Fifty three Acres of Land which was formerly called Fly's Place. And to Sarah Andrews my well beloved Daughter I give her the Sum of Thirteen pounds eight Shillings lawful money to be paid by Jonathan Andrews & Ephraim Andrews Fifty pounds apiece; And it is also my Will that She has all ye Household Goods. And I give to my well beloved Son Amos Andrews whom I likewise constitute meake & ordain my only Executor of this my last Will & Testament all ye Home place and also all The Cattle belonging to ye aforesd Home place; And also I desire that the Common Lands may be divided equally among them all by them freely to be possessed & enjoy. And I do hereby utterly disallow and revoke & disannul all & every other former Testaments Wills & Legacys Bequests & Executors, Ratifying & Confirming this & no other to be my last Will & Testament. In the witness thereof I have hereunto Set my Hand & Seal the Day & year above written they lived before returning to Kittery after 1739. Will 1 Oct. 5 Nov. 1767. Children the first four baptized in Scarborough: Jonathan, baptized 5 Dec. 1734; Deborah, baptized 1736; Miriam, baptized 1738; Aaron, baptized 1739; Simeon; Mary; Dorcas; Hepsibah; Lydia; Sarah. This cannot be the Abigail Andrews born in 1732, daughter of Jonathan Andrews and Sarah Smith who married 19 Apr 1733 Joseph Keene. Abigail is not mentioned in her father's will of 1759.

167  ix  Nathan ANDREWS, christened 28 Jul 1733 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine. Notes: Nathan was not named in father's will in 1752

+ 168  x  Sarah ANDREWS, born 13 May 1739 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine; christened 13 May 1739 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine; died 18 Sep 1778 in Carlisle, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; buried in Old Cemetery, Carlisle, Massachusetts; daughter of Joseph INGALLS and Sarah THOMPSON.

25. Solomon ANDREWS (William, John), born 8 Aug 1699 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 18 Sep 1778 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; buried in Old Cemetery, Carlisle, Middlesex County, Massachusetts. He married on 27 Oct 1726 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Elizabeth INGALLS, born 24 Jul 1710 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died about 1777; buried in Old Cemetery, Carlisle, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Joseph INGALLS and Sarah THOMPSON.

Notes for Solomon Andrews

Solomon was a farmer and a blacksmith. He came from Chebacco to Concord on ox sleds about 1765 and settled on the Captain Page farm; it was that part of Concord that now is Carlisle, Massachusetts. Both Solomon and Elizabeth are buried in the Old Cemetery there.

Deeds recorded: In 1757, 200 acres of land was transferred to Solomon Andrews of Ipswich from Abraham Colburn of Dracut (John Blood's former land). In 1793 there is record of 20 acres and a house from David Blood to Solomon Andrews. In 1799 Edmund Andrews to Solomon Andrews [is probably the son of Edmund], 70 acres and a barn.

Children of Solomon ANDREWS and Elizabeth INGALLS were as follows:

+ 169  i  Solomon ANDREWS, born 9 Sep 1727 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died before 23 Nov 1759 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Ruth LOW.

+ 170  ii  Isaac ANDREWS, born 18 Jan 1729/30 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 30 Dec 1796 in Hillsboro, Hillsborough County, New Hampshire. He married Lucy PERKINS , Widow.

+ 171  iii  Elizabeth ANDREWS, born 21 Apr 1732 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died in Southport, Lincoln County, Maine. She married Joseph THOMPSON.

172  iv  Stephen ANDREWS (William, John), born 2 Nov 1734 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died after 1808 in Waldoboro, Lincoln County, Maine. He married Susannah (---). Notes: Stephen was a mariner of Boston in 1774 and then purchased property in Waldoboro, Maine. He was not the father of Samuel E. Andrews and John Andrews as reported in some references, they were the sons of Ammi and Molly (Brown) Andrews, person (4-130) in E. M. Andrews manuscript. The following research was compiled by Jean Andrews Marble: 1790 census records; 1 male over 16, 1 under 16 and 1 female. 1800 census: 1 male over 45 years of age, 1 female over 45, and 2 others, except

Furthermore, the Captain was a citizen of standing repute whose name appears frequently in town records as one holding many offices and discharging many trusts in the complete confidence of the public. He was a selectman in 1780, 1791 and 1797. Toward the end of their life the Andrews couple was unable to provide for itself, and in consequence on October 17, 1808, he and his wife Susannah, deeded their farm to Charles Samson "in consideration of a maintenance for life secured by bond." "History of Old Broad Bay and Waldoboro" by Jasper Jacob Stahl, Vol. 1, pp. 400-2: ... This was in the period of frame house construction, and it is highly probable that the present Davis home was built by the Captain [Stephen Andrews]. In the late eighteenth century it was the frequent scene of special Town Meetings which for one reason or another might be called in the winter months, when the present church, at that time stoveless, stood on Merle Castner's Shore. Whatever the temperature in the church was beyond the endurance of the few civic-minded faithful the meeting would invariably "vote to adjourn to Captain Andrews' house," and there transact the town business. Andrews was not one of the wealthier captains who moved to Broad Bay at this period, but he did practice the fine art of genteel living and to that end had brought here with him two negro [as written] slaves, a man, name unknown, and a woman, named Phebe, who appropriated the Andrews name [Lincoln County Deeds, Book 8, page 150].

Furthermore, the Captain was a citizen of standing repute whose name appears frequently in town records as one holding many offices and discharging many trusts in the complete confidence of the public. He was a selectman in 1780, 1791 and 1797. Toward the end of their life the Andrews couple was unable to provide for itself, and in consequence on October 17, 1808, he and his wife Susannah, deeded their farm to Charles Samson "in consideration of a maintenance for life secured by bond." So far as known, there are no descendants of the Captain now in Waldoboro. "The house of Mrs. Lawrence Davis, built by Capt. Stephen Andrews... dates from the same period (post-Revolutionary War Cape Cod) albeit a little later". Ibid, p. 551" 1790 data for Waldoboro shows: "... 3 members plus 1 colored, "doubtless a house servant brought back by the captain [Stephen Andrews] from a West 'Indy' trip". There are no land exchanges between the Wallis and Andrews families in the grantor or grantee indices in Essex County before 1799. There is a deed dated 1 February 1730/31 whereby John Andrews exchanged land with Josiah Burnham. John Andrews, junr of Chebacco in Ipswich, yeoman, deeded land to Josiah Burnham in return for "sundry parcels of land with dwelling house and barn there on ... in Chebacco in Ipswich...the whole about fifty acres ... to me conveyed...in an instrument equally dated with these presents by Josiah Burnum of Chebacco in Ipswich, cooper, with which I am fully contented...." The land deeded to Burnham was described as:
"...my homestead of land in sd Chebacco being part of the Great farm known by the Name of School farm with dwelling house and barn and orchards on the same, ... about twenty-two acres...tillage pasture and mowing land bounded...joining to the northerly side land that was left to my brother Daniel Andrews now in possession of Ebenezer Burnum, beginning at a stake of stones by the fence...land of Thomas Burnum...running easterly to a white oak tree thence on a line to a stake and stones, thence... along a straight line to a swamp white oak tree near a run of water... extending to Samuel Cogswell's land as the fence between Ebenezer Burnum and the premises now stands and bounding northerly on the land that John Cogswell's as the bounds was formerly settled till it comes to Joseph Andrews land to a stake at an Old Ditch parting said Joseph Andrews land and sd premises and including two acres of Salt Marsh be it more or less from sd stake bounding up sd ditch as the same ... to the crick... fence between Ebenezer Burnum of sd premises and so bounding toward southwesterly upon sd Burnum as the fence now stands all...are part of the aforesaid School Farm..."

Reference was made to a "Grand Lease of sd School farm," for which the tenant paid 20 shillings per year to the use of the Grammar School in Ipswich, which evidently was excluded from the agreement. Elizabeth "the now wife of sd John Andrews" relinquished her dower rights in the property, both signed, and they acknowledged the deed on 9 February

A few days later Josiah Burnam, cooper, of Chebacco, and his now wife Elizabeth, in exchange for sundry parcels of lands in Chebacco totaling about 30 acres, traded to John Andrews, Jr., yeoman, of Chebacco, one new woodlot 238, old 237, old 234, old 233, bought of John Andrews, Sr., John Andrews, Jr., and others.

Three documents recorded 28 October 1765 further establish connection between several of the Andrews children. John Andrews of Ipswich, yeoman, on 31 October 1757 transferred to his sons John Andrews, Jr., and James Andrews, fishermen of Ipswich, two thirds of a woodland, lots 36, 37 and 38 totaling 47 acres; witnesses were Caleb Andrews and Jonathan Andrews. On the same day, John Andrews transferred to son John Andrews, Jr., James Andrews, and Caleb Andrews, fishermen of Ipswich, 11 acres in Chebacco he had purchased of Solomon Andrews; witnesses were Joshua and Jonathan Andrews. The grantor died before the deeds were recorded, and on the last Tuesday of March 1765 the witnesses testified that they had seen John Andrews, lately deceased, sign them. Joseph Giddings and wife Eunice of New Fairfield, Connecticut, were paid on 1 March 1764 by her brother Jonathan Andrews, fisherman of Ipswich, for their share of the real and personal estate of her father John Andrews, late of Ipswich.

John Andrews died intestate, and his eldest son, John was appointed administrator of the estate on 15 November 1762. The settlement on 2 January 1762 identified children John, Joshua, Caleb, Jonathan and Eunice as well as heirs of deceased son James.

Notes for Elizabeth Wallis

Mr. Elliott M. Andrews in his "The Descendants of Lieut. John Andrews" has her as the daughter of James Sr. and Martha (Stanford) Wallis. I believe these are her brother and sister-in-law.

Notes for Margaret Choate

She was the widow of Benjamin Crafts who kept a Journal at Louisburg, that has been published; there are references to a number of men with the surname Andrews who served at Louisburg.

Children of John ANDREWS and Elizabeth WALLIS were as follows:

216  i  Eunice ANDREWS, born 1718 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died after 1759 in New Fairfield, Fairfield County, Connecticut. She married on 28 Oct 1737 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Joseph GIDDINGS (see 203), born 26 Jul 1713 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 10 Jan 1803 in New Fairfield, Fairfield County, Connecticut, son of Thomas GIDDINGS and Sarah ANDREWS.

church at Hampton, "in full communion" 20 Oct 1734. The Burnham homestead was situated one quarter of a mile from the old Burnham Meeting House. Ebenezer died at age 54, 10 March 1746. He is buried in South Cemetery next to the 19th century Howard Valley Baptist Church. The headstone has a border and topped with a cherub. It reads: Here lies the body of Mr Ebenezer Burnam Husband of Mrs Dorothy Burnam He died March ye 10th 1746 aged 54 years. Next to his grave is his wife's. The tombstone is basically the same and says: Here lies the body of Mrs Dorothy Burman. She died June 26 1760 aged 65 years.

The will of Ebenezer Burnham is found in 1746 Windham County Probate Court, Willimantic, Connecticut. It mentions all his children with Joseph being the executor. Joshua received a 30 acre tract Andrew Burnham was given the south side of Ebenezer's farm, Ebenezer, Jr. received land north of Andrew's land, and Isaac was given part of the south side of the farm. He married on 10 Apr 1755 Deborah BURNHAM, christened 10 Jun 1733, daughter of Benjamin BURNHAM and Jane HADLOCK.  Notes: The marriage to Deborah Burnham needs to be proven.  Ipswich Vital Records spell the name as ANDROUSE.

235  iv  Stephen' 4 ANDREWS, christened 15 Oct 1732 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died after 1759.  Notes: Stephen lived in Concord, Massachusetts in 1759.

236  v  Lydia' 4 ANDREWS, christened 9 Nov 1735 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.

42.  Lucy' 3 ANDREWS (Joseph' 2, John' 1), born 1703 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.  She married on 27 Feb 1723/24 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Noah SMITH, born of Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.

Notes for Lucy Andrews

The Ipswich Vital Records has her surname as ANDROUSE.

Children of Lucy ANDREWS and Noah SMITH were as follows:

237  i  Joseph' 4 SMITH, christened 16 Dec 1725 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.

238  ii  Noah' 4 SMITH, christened 30 Jul 1727 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.

married on 10 Dec 1730 Abigail RICHARDS, christened 1 Jul 1711 in Preston, New London County, Connecticut, daughter of John RICHARDS and Abigail WOODWARD.

Notes for John Andrus

Harriet Andross Goodell in her reference states: "John and Abigail may have had other children." Elizabeth Duncan Lee in her publication "John and Grace (Rood) Andrus of Chelsea, Vermont", adds John Andrus to this family. She states that the connection "is at this time mere supposition". I have added John to this family so that the individuals appear in the index of this publication. The connection between John and Abigail (Richards) Andrus and the John Andrus who married Grace Rood needs to be proven.

Children of John ANDRUS and Abigail RICHARDS were as follows:
+ 242 i Solomon 5 ANDRUS, born 10 Sep 1732 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. He married Honour DEMING.

+ 244 iii John 5 ANDRUS, born 1744 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 6 Oct 1817 in Chelsea, Orange County, Vermont; buried in Blaisdell Cemetery, Chelsea, Vermont. He married Grace ROOD.

Notes for Samuel Palmer

Samuel is generation (4), Thomas (3), Deacon Samuel (2), Thomas (1) of Rowley, Massachusetts

Children of Sarah ANDRUS and Samuel PALMER were as follows:
+ 246 ii Jedediah 5 PALMER, born 14 Feb 1736/37 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 25 Jul 1798. He married Esther READ (see 264).
+ 251 vii Mary 5 PALMER, born 30 Jun 1745 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. She married Isaiah COOK.

+ 258 vi John \(^5\) CORNING, born 23 Nov 1746 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. He married Sally CLARKE.

+ 259 vii Mary \(^5\) CORNING, born 22 May 1749 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. She married Mr. STORY.

+ 261 ix Asa Alexander \(^5\) CORNING, born 3 Dec 1753 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 27 Dec 1815 in Hartford, Hartford County, Connecticut. He married Cynthia SEYMOUR.

+ 262 x Ephraim \(^5\) CORNING, born 1755 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. Notes: Ephraim died at sea.

47. Thankful \(^4\) ANDRUS\(^{276, 277}\) (John \(^3\), John \(^2\), John \(^1\)), born 20 Sep 1719 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. She married on 16 Sep 1740 Joseph READ\(^{278}\), born 23 May 1709 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 24 Apr 1774 in East Windsor, Hartford County, Connecticut, son of Joseph READ and Marcy GUPPIE.

Notes for Thankful Andrus

Thankful and Joseph were among the first members of the Third Society of Windham, called the Scotland Society. They seemed to have moved to Newent (later Lisbon) and helped to form the Separate Church in 1750. Several of their children were baptized in that church. They seemed to have returned to Scotland, for in the church records there is mentioned: "Joseph Read and wife of Newent added to the church in 1782."

Notes for Joseph Read

Joseph Read [also spelled REED] moved from Norwich to East Windsor, Connecticut; died 24 Apr 1774 in his 67th year.

Children of Thankful ANDRUS and Joseph READ were as follows:

263 i Jabez \(^5\) READ, born 11 Oct 1741 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 7 Jan 1741/42

+269  vii  Amos' READ, born 25 Mar 1756 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 2 Nov 1838.

Notes for Joseph Andrus

The name of Joseph's wife is unknown. His will is dated 25 Aug 1790 and his inventory having been exhibited 6 June 1798. Joseph appears frequently in the land records of Norwich. Among the signers of a petition, dated 15 Feb 1786, in which all the inhabitants of that part of the town of Norwich lying east of the Shetucket River pray that they may be annexed to the town of Preston, are Joseph Andrus and Joseph Andrus, Jr.. The inventory of his estate was presented by Jesse Palmer, the husband of Joseph's daughter Abigail, on 28 Apr 1789 for 759 pounds, 53s.

Children of Joseph ANDRUS were as follows:

270  i  Joseph' ANDRUS, born 1756 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died before 1790. Notes: Joseph probably died before 1790 as he is not mentioned in his father's will.

271  ii  Christopher' ANDRUS, born 1758 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. Notes: Christopher was a member of Long Society church in 1768. He was in Capt. Lathrop's company from Norwich. A Christopher Andrus enlisted 4 Sept 1777 and was dismissed 22 Oct 1777. No further record of him has been found.

He married (1) about 1753 Elizabeth TRACY, born 21 Jan 1731/32 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 27 Aug 1877 in Bennington County, Vermont; buried in Shaftsbury Center Cemetery, Shaftsbury, Vermont, daughter of Jeremiah TRACY and Mary WITTER; (2) about 1773 Truelove OATMAN, born 4 Jan 1755 probably in Stratford, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 4 Jan 1806 in Shaftsbury, Bennington County, Vermont; buried in Shaftsbury Center Cemetery, Shaftsbury, Vermont, daughter of George OATMAN and Ruth WOOSTER; (3) after 1806 Anna SPENCER , Widow, born about 1750; died 27 Jan 1809 in Shaftsbury, Bennington County, Vermont; (4) Freelove WILCOX, born 1759; died 10 Mar 1830 in Shaftsbury, Bennington County, Vermont; buried in Shaftsbury Center Cemetery, Shaftsbury, Vermont.

Notes for Isaac Andrus

From land records it is known that Captain Isaac Andrus lived for a time after his marriage at Windham and later at Newent. On 27 Feb 1765 he sold his farm of about 100 acres in Newent to Daniel Corning, and soon afterwards moved with his family to Shaftsbury, Albany County, New York (now Shaftsbury, Vermont), where he was one of the earliest members of the Baptist Church. His name is found in the Vermont Revolutionary War rolls. He was a Lieutenant and Inscription on gravestone at Shaftsbury, Vermont: "In Memory of Captain Isaac Andrus who died June 30, 1824 in his 94th year of his age. The days and years of my pilgrimage are 93 years, few and evil have the days of the years of my life been."

Children of Isaac ANDRUS and Elizabeth TRACY were as follows:
+ 284 i Joseph ANDRUS, born 16 May 1754 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died after 1833 probably in Shaftsbury, Bennington County, Vermont. He married Zilpha HARRIS.
+ 285 ii Jeremiah ANDRUS, born 16 Jan 1756 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 29 Dec 1775. Notes: It is possible, but not proven, that this is the Jeremiah Andrus who is found in the Vermont Revolutionary War rolls as enlisting 26 Nov 1775 and dying 29 Dec 1775. Was in Shaftsbury, Bennington County, Vermont.
+ 286 iii Abiah ANDRUS, born May 1758 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 1 Jan 1840 in Fairfield, Franklin County, Vermont; buried in Fairfield Cemetery, Fairfield, Vermont. Notes: Abiah died young.
+ 287 iv Ruth ANDRUS, born 1762 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 16 Apr 1803 in Augusta Township, Greenville County, Ontario. She married Elijah BOTTEM.
+ 288 v Isaac ANDRUS, Jr., born 1765 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. He married Clarissa HARRIS.
+ 289 vi Roswell ANDRUS, born 1767 in Shaftsbury, Bennington County, Vermont; died 11 Sep 1845 in Poultney, Rutland County, Vermont; buried in Poultney Cemetery, Poultney, Vermont. He married Lucy COY.

Children of Isaac ANDRUS and Truelove OATMAN were as follows:
+ 290 i John ANDRUS, born 9 Mar 1774 in Shaftsbury, Bennington County, Vermont. He married Amy COY.
+ 291 ii Jeremiah ANDRUS, born 26 Jun 1777 in Shaftsbury, Bennington County, Vermont. He married Mehitable WARREN.
+ 292 iii David ANDRUS, born 29 Mar 1779 in Shaftsbury, Bennington County, Vermont; died 8 Feb 1861 in Perry, Wyoming County, New York; buried in Hope Cemetery, Perry, New York. He married Mary PARKS.
+ 293 iv Mary (Polly) ANDRUS, born 22 Dec 1780 in Shaftsbury, Bennington County, Vermont; died 22 Sep 1802 in Shaftsbury, Bennington County, Vermont; buried in Shaftsbury Center Cemetery, Shaftsbury, Vermont.
+ 294 v Benjamin ANDRUS, born 16 Sep 1783 in Shaftsbury, Bennington County, Vermont. He married Freelove MILLEMAN.
+ 295 vi Jonas ANDRUS, born 28 May 1792 in Shaftsbury, Bennington County, Vermont; died 7 May 1808 in Shaftsbury, Bennington County, Vermont; buried in Shaftsbury Center Cemetery, Shaftsbury, Vermont.

52. Jacob ANDRUS, Sr. (John, John, John), born 29 Apr 1734 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 5 Apr 1806 in Montgomery, Hampden County, Massachusetts. He married Huldah (---).

Notes for Jacob Andrus, Sr.
Jacob Andrus was a corporal in the French and Indian War, was promoted to be sergeant in 1757 and is mentioned in the Diary of Jabez Fitch, Jr., who relates that in the campaign of 1757, near Fort Edward, on 27 May, "Jacob Andrus fell into ye River" while crossing, and also mentions Corporal Andrus as in camp near the same place on 10 June 1757. In 1760 he was a member of the Long Society Church. In 1770 he sold the whole of his farm to Daniel Rose of Preston. He was a house carpenter and shoemaker. The children listed in order mentioned in Jacob's will, may not be the order of 290 Will E. Osborn, One Branch of the Andrus Family (typescript, copy obtained from Montgomery, Massachusetts Public Library), p. 6.

In the name of God Amen, this second day of May one thousand seven hundred and ninety-six I Jacob Andros of Montgomery in the County of Hampshire & Commonwealth of Massachusetts, yeoman, being of sound mind; therefore calling into mind the mortality of my Body and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this my Last Will and Testament -that is to say, Principally & first of all I give and recommend my Soul into the hands or God who gave it; my Body I recommend to the Earth, to be buried in decent burial at the Discretion of my Executor.

Nothing doubting but at the General Resurrection I Shall receive the same again by the Mighty Power or God. And touching such worldly estate wherewith it hath pleased God to bless me in this life, I give and dispose of in the following manner and form:

Imprimis. I give to my beloved wife Huldah Andros the use and improvement of one third part of my Real estate during her natural Lire & Likewise I give her the third part of my live stock & the Whole of my Household Goods and Furniture to be at her disposal forever.

Item. I give to my son Elijah Andros five Pounds more that he already has received in full of his share of my Estate.

Item. I give to my son Richard Andros five shillings in full share of my estate.

Item. I give to my son Ralph Andros five shillings in full share of my estate.

Item. I give to my daughter Huldah, wife of Rufus Spencer of Arlington, Vermont, five shillings in full of her share of my estate.

Item. I give and devise to my son Jacob Andros the whole of my Estate both Real and Personal, he paying all my just debts and Legacies before mentioned, to be at his disposal forever, And I do hereby constitute and appoint my son Jacob Andros sole Executor of this my Last Will and Testament.

Signed, sealed, published & declared by the said Jacob Andros as his Last Will & Testament Jacob Andrus (Seal) Who subscribed the same in Presence of us witnesses in his presence Sam Mather, Elijah Bates, Cynthia Mather [Note: In the body of the will, the name is spelled ANDROS but it is signed as ANDRUS].

Inscription on gravestone: "In Memory of Jacob Andrus who died in the 72nd year of his age."

Children of Jacob ANDRUS , Sr. and Huldah (---) were as follows:

296 i Huldah ANDRUS, born 1762 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. She married Rufus SPENCER.

+ 297 ii Sarah ANDRUS, born 1764 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died in Nottawa, St. Joseph County, Michigan. She married James HAZZARD.

298 iii Elijah ANDRUS, born 1766 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. Notes: Elijah was unmarried in 1790 (as per first census) and lived with his father in Montgomery, Massachusetts. In 1796 he is the first son mentioned in his father's will.

+ 299 iv Ralph ANDRUS, born 1768 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 14 Oct 1822 in Russell, Hampshire County, Massachusetts. He married Lydia SNYDER.

+ 305 iv Thomas ANDROS, born 1 May 1759 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 30 Dec 1845 in Berkley, Bristol County, Massachusetts. He married (1) Abigail CUTLER; (2) Sophia SANFORD.

56. Zebediah ANDRUS294, 295 (Benjamin3, John2, John1), born 1716 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; christened 23 Aug 1719 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 26 Jul 1804 in Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont; buried in Mettowee Cemetery, Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont. He married on 19 Dec 1737 Elizabeth SWAN, born 15 May 1715 in Stonington, New London, Connecticut; died 29 Aug 1789 in Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont; buried in Mettowee Cemetery, Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont, daughter of John SWAN and Susanna EASTMEN.

Notes for Zebediah Andrus
Zebediah Andrus was ensign of a trainband in Norwich in 1754, lieutenant 9 Oct 1758, and in 1761 was captain of the Fifth Company of Foot, Third Regiment. On 5 Feb 1777 he sold to William Coit for L550, about 103 acres of land in Long Society, "being the whole of the farm which was given to me by my Honored father, Benjamin Andrus, deceased:"
In or about 1784 he moved with his family to Pawlet, Vermont. In his will dated at Pawlet 24 Sept 1803, he mentions two sons, Asa and Zebediah; grand-daughter Betsey Andrus, daughter of son William, deceased, when she shall reach "lawful age;" grandson Allen Andrus, son of son William, deceased; to whom he leaves L100 "at lawful age;" and daughter Elizabeth Denison. His son Zebediah was named executor.

Children of Zebediah ANDRUS and Elizabeth SWAN were as follows:

+ 306 i William ANDRUS, christened 10 Dec 1738 in North Stonington, New London, Connecticut, died 10 Apr 1797 in Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont, buried in Mettowee Cemetery, Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont. He married Elizabeth ALLEN.

+ 307 ii Asa ANDRUS, born 1742 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 12 Jan 1821 in Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont; buried in Mettowee Cemetery, Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont. He married Mary PRIDE.

+ 308 iii Zebediah ANDRUS, born 1744 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 1830 in Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont. He married Judith ANDRUS (see 325).

+ 309 iv Elizabeth ANDRUS, born 1748 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 11 Jun 1826 in Richmond County, New York. She married Daniel DENISON.

John Andrews (Typescript: Lee, Maine, 1961), person (4-16) in Mss, New England Historic Genealogical Society, Boston, Massachusetts, Manuscript pages are not numbered. Reference states that Thomas Andrews is "perhaps the son of Benjamin, not proven"; also has marriage and name of daughter.
Children of Thomas ANDROS and Elizabeth BREWSTER were as follows:

+- 310  i  Anne ANDROS, born 4 Apr 1754 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died Dec 1838. She married Elias SWAN.

Notes for John Deming

Children of Sibyl ANDROS and John DEMING were as follows:

311  i  John DEMING.

+ 312  ii  Prosper DEMING, born in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. He married Alice GRAVES.

313  iii Andrew DEMING, born 14 Jan 1761 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. He married Hannah GRANGER.

314  iv  Benjamin DEMING, born 10 Aug 1768. He married Fanny TILDEN.

315  v  Judah DEMING. She married Roger UNDERWOOD.

+ 316  vi Elizabeth DEMING. She married Thomas HALE.

317  vii Abigail DEMING.

Notes for David Andrus
David Andrus served in the French and Indian War, being an ensign in 1760, second lieutenant in 1761, and first lieutenant of the Fourth Company in 1762. He is frequently mentioned in Jabez Fitch's Diary.

Children of David ANDRUS and Mary FITCH were as follows:

318  i  Hannah ANDRUS302, born 7 Oct 1734 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. She married on 1 May 1760 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut Joseph PALMER303 (see 245), born 7 Oct 1734 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut, son of Samuel PALMER and Sarah ANDRUS. Notes: Hannah and Joseph were second cousins. On 11 June 1769 they receipted for a portion in her father's estate.

319  ii  Zipporah ANDRUS304, 305, born 1744 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. She married

Notes for Jonathan Brewster

Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 1754, son of Jonathan 62.

325 viii

Children of Lucy ANDRUS and Jonathan BREWSTER were as follows:

+ 320 iii Mary ANDRUS, born 1747 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 1822 in Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont. She married Joseph FITCH.

+ 321 iv Amos ANDRUS, born 1748 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died in Andrustown, Otsego County, New York. He married Desire FITCH.

+ 322 v David ANDRUS, born 1749 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 28 May 1826 in Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont; buried in Mettowee Cemetery, Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont. He married Sally (---).

323 vi John ANDRUS306, 307. Notes: This is probably the John Andrus who married (perhaps as his second wife) about 1778 Mrs. Priscilla (Sampson) Brewster, daughter of John and Priscilla Bartlett of Duxbury, Massachusetts, and widow of William Brewster, a descendant of the Elder William Brewster of the "Mayflower". See reference for further discussion as to John's wife identity.

324 vii Eunice ANDRUS, born 1753 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. She married on 26 Dec 1771 in Preston, New London County, Connecticut Henry WILLIAMS. Notes: Eunice was living in 1775 when she sold to Benjamin Fitch land in the East Society of Norwich which she had inherited from her father.

325 viii Judith ANDRUS308, 309, 310, born 1756 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 1850 in Mount Tabor, Rutland County, Vermont. She married in 1774 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut Zebediah ANDRUS311, 312 (see 308), born 1744 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 1830 in Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont, son of Zebediah ANDRUS and Elizabeth SWAN. Notes: Judith died at age 94 by accidentally being burned to death.

Notes for Jonathan Brewster

Jonathan is a descendant of Elder William Brewster of the "Mayflower". He had four children with his first wife, Ruth Morgan.

Children of Lucy ANDRUS and Jonathan BREWSTER were as follows:

Judith BREWSTER, born 31 May 1744 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. She married Mr. PENNYMAN.

Children of Mary ANDRUS and Samuel READ were as follows:

Elisha READ, born 5 Jan 1753 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut.

David READ, born 1 Jun 1755 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut.

Prudence READ, born 20 Aug 1757 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 28 Apr 1833 in Cornish, Sullivan County, New Hampshire. She married Hezekiah FITCH.

Benjamin READ, born 24 Sep 1762 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut.

Notes for Daniel Andrus

On 17 Feb 1749/50 David Andrus [father of Daniel], "for divers good causes and mature consideration me moving, and more especially for farther improvement and comfortable settlement of my well beloved son Daniel Andrus, gave to Daniel a tract of land on the east side of the Shetucket River, it being "understood that said Daniel is never to sell this land in his father's lifetime." In 1752 Daniel Andrus of Norwich, for £550 bought land in the East Society of his cousin Isaac Andrus (Norwich Land Records). "ye 25th [Jan 1762]. . .in ye afternoon we went Down to Pratys to an arbitration betwendi Capt. Truman & Danl Andrus, which ye Pratys Settled" (Jabez Fitch's Diary). In 1763 Daniel Andrus, with others, was permitted to build a pew in the church of Long Society. His name is frequently found in the land records of Norwich, both as a buyer and seller of land. In 1768 he seems to have fallen into financial difficulties and is mentioned several times in court records on account of debt. In 1777 he took the freeman's oath at Norwich. No further record is found on him until 1789, when he was at Danby, Vermont, and gave a quitclaim deed of certain land at Preston to Jonathan Truman of that place. In 1802 he was mentioned in the will of his sister Judith Andrus, who gave £20 to her "brother Daniel Andrus, now of Pawlet, Vt."

Children of Daniel ANDRUS and Temperance HOLMES were as follows:

+ 340 i Temperance ANDRUS, born 21 Oct 1759 in Preston, New London County, Connecticut; died 17 Dec 1831 in Ellisburg, Jefferson County, New York. She married Timothy BREWSTER.

341 ii Hannah ANDRUS. Notes: Elisha Andrus is listed as a private 28 Dec 1776, in the first troop of Col. Sheldon's Light Dragoons, in the Revolutionary War. He is described as a carpenter of Norwich, "5 feet 10 inches tall, dark complexion, black hair." In 1813 Elisha and Timothy Andrus (perhaps a brother) sold land in Norwich. No further record of him has been found. The E. M. Andrews manuscript has a possible marriage and children: wife possibly Wealthy Ann Lothrop daughter of Thomas and Wealthy Ann (Cobb) Lothrop; children possibly: Betsey, Wealthy Ann, Sarah, Elisha, Thurston, Thomas, Erastus, Heman, Stephen Pearl Andrus. This is incorrect. The Reverend Elisha Andrews that married Wealthy Ann Lothrop was born 29 Sep 1768 in Middletown, Middlesex Connecticut, Connecticut, the son of Isaac Andrews and Mabel Messinger. Isaac Andrews was the son of Thomas Andrews and Abigail Kirby; he was the son of John Andrews (died 8 Jun 1690) and Mary (--) of Hartford, Hartford County, Connecticut.

+ 343 iv John Holmes ANDRUS, born 1769 in Preston, New London County, Connecticut; died 1841 in Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont. He married (1) Rachel WILLEY; (2) Louisa (---).

344 v Desire ANDRUS, born 1770 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died after 1842 in Vermont. Notes: Desire is mentioned in the settlement of the estate of John Holmes Andrus, who died in 1841, being called "A relative and friend" and being at that time insane.

Children of David ROATH and Elizabeth CULVERWELL were as follows:

+ 345 i Lucy ROATH, born 29 Mar 1758 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 6 Dec 1840 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. She married John BUSHNELL.

Children of Stephen ROATH and Sarah BURNHAM were as follows:

346 i Stephen ROATH, born 25 Feb 1741/42.

347 ii Mary ROATH, born 23 Apr 1744.

348 iii Sarah ROATH, born 21 Jul 1747.

Jonathan ANDREWS (William, William, John), born 20 Oct 1713 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died before 1780. He married (1) on 1 Mar 1740 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Hannah ROBINSON, died 1750; (2) on 23 Nov 1752 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Anna (Harris) TARR, Widow.

Notes for Jonathan Andrews
Jonathan was a fisherman of Gloucester; the record says he was of Sandy Bay (now Rockport). He became the guardian of four minor children of his brother William.

Notes for Anna (Harris) Tarr, Widow
Anna was the widow of William Tarr who drowned.

Children of Jonathan ANDREWS and Hannah ROBINSON were as follows:
+ 364 i Jonathan ANDREWS, born 30 Mar 1741 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Hannah MORGAN.

365 ii William ANDREWS, christened 8 Apr 1744 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: William probably died young. He is not the William Andrews that married Ruth Riggs.

+ 366 iii Abigail ANDREWS, born 11 May 1746 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married Jabez WOODBURY.

Children of Jonathan ANDREWS and Anna (Harris) TARR, Widow were as follows:
+ 367 i Mary ANDREWS, born 2 Aug 1753 in Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 30 Dec 1834 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married Stephen KNUTSFORD.

+ 368 ii William Tarr ANDREWS, born 2 May 1756 in Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts; died about 1829 in Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married (1) Hannah WILLIAMS; (2) Rebecca WILLIAMS.

369 iii Anna ANDREWS, born 19 Nov 1759 in Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts; christened 14 Sep 1760 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 11 Jul 1840 in Mount Desert, Hancock County, Maine. She married on 5 Nov 1778 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Stephen NORWOOD (see 483), christened 26 Feb 1758 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 26 Dec 1821 in Mount Desert, Hancock County, Maine, son of Joshua NORWOOD and Sarah GOODRICH.

370 iv Judith ANDREWS, born 10 Apr 1763 in Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: Vital records has her surname and her mother as ANDRESS. She was unmarried in 1787.

William ANDREWS (William, William, John), born 12 Apr 1723 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 24 Dec 1759 in Quebec, Canada. He married on 2 Nov 1744 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Ruth RIGGS, born 18 Nov 1723 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Jeremiah RIGGS and Rachel HASKELL.

Notes for William Andrews
William was a fisherman and yeoman of Gloucester. He was wounded at Louisburg and died on the passage home about 1759. His widow was appointed Administratrix of his estate 24 Dec 1759. His brother Jonathan was appointed guardian of his minor children; William, Sarah, Martha and Elizabeth, on 18 April 1763.

Children of William ANDREWS and Ruth RIGGS were as follows:

324. Ibid., see persons (5-109 and 5-112) in Mss, Reference shows only birth, no marriage for Mary Andrews and shows her sister Anna as marrying Stephen Knutsford. This is an error; Mary Andrews was the wife of Stephen Knutsford. Anna Andrews married Stephen Norwood.

371  i  Ruth ANDREWS328,329, born 10 Aug 1745 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died in Bass Harbor, Mount Desert, Hancock County, Maine. She married on 12 Dec 1765 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Joshua NORWOOD (see 477), christened 6 Nov 1743 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 1785 in Bass Harbor, Mount Desert, Hancock County, Maine, son of Joshua NORWOOD and Sarah GOODRICH.

372  ii  John ANDREWS330, born 20 Jun 1748 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: John was a fisherman in Gloucester in 1771. He was a private and later a corporal in the Revolutionary War in the company of Major Burnham, May 1790, in service of the Scioto Company to make settlement on the Ohio River. There is some discussion as to if he was married and if his wife was Susanna Choate. See Reference.

373  iii  William ANDREWS331, born 18 Sep 1750 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: William was a private and late a sergeant during the Revolutionary War. He was reported killed.

374  iv  Elizabeth ANDREWS332, born 23 Oct 1752 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 26 Jan 1769 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Isaac NORWOOD (see 479), born 1746 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died about 1846 in Georgetown, Sagadahoc County, Maine, son of Joshua NORWOOD and Sarah GOODRICH.

375  v  Sarah ANDREWS333, born 29 Apr 1755 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 11 Jun 1774 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts John BURNHAM, christened 13 Aug 1758 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, son of Jeremiah BURNHAM and Abigail ANDREWS.

376  vi  Solomon ANDREWS, christened 4 Sep 1757 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: Since there was no guardianship for Solomon at his father's death, he probably died young.

Notes for James Perkins
About the time of James' marriage, his father gave him, by deed of gift, a potion of land in Chebacco. He moved from Ipswich to the town of Lyme, Connecticut and at that time sold to his brother, Isaac, the same parcels of land that had been given to him by his father. His wife Margaret was dismissed from the church in Chebacco, with letters of recommendation to the Third Church in Lyme, Connecticut. The record of this event is dated on the church books, 25 April 1736, which gives the time of their removal to Lyme, Connecticut. James was a farmer by occupation. He with his brother in law, John Butler, who had married his sister Hannah, bought 294 acres of land in the town of Lyme on 30 March 1736. His family was very large, but only two children were born in Ipswich. Gravestones in the cemetery at Lyme bear the following inscriptions: "James Perkins died Sept 17, 1789, in the 84th year of his age" and "Mrs. Margaret Perkins, wife of James Perkins, died Nov. 20, 1781, in the 70th year of her age."

James Perkins was the first of the name to settle in Lyme. He followed in Ipswich the occupation of "cordwainer," and on 14 December 1732, married Margaret, daughter of Deacon John and Elizabeth Andrews of Chebacco Parish, Ipswich. In company with his brother-in-law, John Butler, who had married his sister Hannah, he went to Lyme, where on 30 March 1736, they purchased jointly of William Rathbun a tract of land comprising 294 acres on the hill called "Mount Archer," with the dwelling house, barn, forest trees, fences, timber and stone, etc., for £982 1s.

Their families probably accompanied them as letters of dismission and recommendation were issued about that date to "Hannah, wife of John Butler," and to "Margaret, wife of James Perkins," dismissing them to the Third Church in Lyme.

On 9 December 1736 Perkins and Butler divided this purchase quit-claiming to each other, and each one granting the other a right of way across his farm, "a pent highway for himself and his heirs to pass and repass . . . with his creatures of all kinds, forever."

On 2 September 1758, he bought of James Ely of Lyme, for £6 lawful money, one certain piece or tract of land in Lyme at the mouth of Eight Mile River (which empties into the Connecticut), which land was subject to overflow at high tide.

On 24 April 1789, he sold to his son John for £541 18s two pieces or tracts of land; one lot is where I now live, the other called the "ell" lot, containing about 50 acres, and the other lot about 96 acres, etc. Also, one other piece of land, a marsh or flat containing about two acres, being a piece of flats or tidal land at the mouth of Eight Mile River, etc. In Lyme his occupation was farming, and this last transfer was doubtless made in anticipation of his death, which occurred a few months later. His wife's death was previous to his own. An inventory of his estate was taken and accepted by the court at New London 14 June 1790, and 10 October 1791. It showed that he died possessed of little personal property of the value of £7 4s 9d and a "Right of Land at Susquehanna," £4 10s.

His two oldest children, James, Jr., and Lucy, were born in Ipswich, and their births are recorded there; they are also recorded at Lyme, together with the other children.

Children of Margaret ANDREWS and James PERKINS were as follows:

392 i  James PERKINS, christened 3 Feb 1733 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 19 Dec 1760.

393 ii  Lucy PERKINS, christened 28 Dec 1735 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married William ELY, born 14 Oct 1739; died 28 Jan 1807, son of William ELY, Jr. and Elizabeth PERKINS.

+ 394 iii  Elizabeth PERKINS, born 14 Oct 1737 in Lyme, New London County, Connecticut; died 18 Mar 1777 in Sterling City, Windham County, Connecticut; buried in Sterling Cemetery, Sterling City, Connecticut. She married Samuel STERLING.

112. Rachel ANDREWS401 (Ezekiel1, William2, John3), born Oct 1710 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 27 Apr 1803 in Ashby, Middlesex County, Massachusetts. She married on 17 Jan 1733 James COLMAN402, born 17 Mar 1711 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 15 Aug 1773 in Ashby, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, son of James COLMAN and Sarah (---).

Notes for James Colman

James' house was near the Stacy Mill in Ashby, Massachusetts James Colman, sometimes written Coleman, and wife Rachel moved from Ipswich to the northern part of the town in about 1763, they moved to Ashburnham in 1743. The following is from "Phineas Allen's Descendants": James Colman and Deacon Foster were the first permanent settlers in Dorchester Canada [this area in Worcester County, Massachusetts, was called the "Dorchester-Canada Plantation"], the original name of the present town of Ashburnham. During the troubling times from 1745 to 1749, it is known that Mr. Foster, retiring within the line of the block houses, resided in Lunenburg. It is not probable that Mr. Colman remained all the time during this period of insecurity (caused by the French and Indian Wars) in Dorchester-Canada. However, he is found here continuously after 1750. For several years the nearest church was in Lunenburg, Worcester County, and in 1743 Mr. Colman and his wife Rachel brought letters from the church in Ipswich, and united with it. In 1760, when the church was organized in Dorchester-Canada, they transferred their church relations. From the record of this proceeding it has been erroneously inferred that Mr. Colman at that time moved from Lunenburg to this place. The records of every year afford ample evidence that except during the years 1745 to 1749, of which little is known, Mr. Colman resided continuously in this town. He was appointed on committees by the proprietors, and was held in high esteem by his associates. In 1765, at the first town meeting in Ashburnham, he was chosen one of the selectmen and a surveyor of highways. When Ashby was incorporated, his house and lands were included in that town, where his descendants have been numerous. He died Aug 15, 1773.

Children of Rachel ANDREWS and James COLMAN were as follows:

471 i Elizabeth5 COLMAN, born 29 Sep 1734 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.
472 ii James5 COLMAN, born 5 Sep 1736 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.
473 iii Ezekiel Andrews5 COLMAN, born 28 Sep 1740 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.
+ 474 iv Job5 COLMAN, born 11 Oct 1741 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 2 Sep 1805 in Heath, Franklin County, Massachusetts. He married Elizabeth MARTIN.
+ 475 v Benjamin5 COLMAN, born 3 Aug 1749 in Lunenburg, Worcester County, Massachusetts; died 11 Oct 1826 in Ashby, Middlesex County, Massachusetts. He married Susanna MARTIN.
+ 476 vi Solomon5 COLMAN, born 20 Jun 1752 in Massachusetts; christened in Ashburnham, Worcester County, Massachusetts. He married Hepzibah DAVIS.

115. Joshua4 NORWOOD403,404 (Elizabeth3 Andrews, William2, John1), born 18 Oct 1707 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died about 1785 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Sarah GOODRICH405, born 1705 in Newbury, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Daniel GOODRICH and Mary ORDWAY.

Notes for Joshua Norwood

There may have been a twin to son Joshua Norwood: Stephen Norwood, christened 6 Nov 1743, no further record.

Children of Joshua NORWOOD and Sarah GOODRICH were as follows:

+ 477 i Joshua5 NORWOOD, christened 6 Nov 1743 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 1785 in Bass Harbor, Mount Desert, Hancock County, Maine. He married Ruth ANDREWS (see 371).

+ 479 iii Isaac NORWOOD, born 1746 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died about 1846 in Georgetown, Sagadahoc County, Maine. He married Elizabeth ANDREWS (see 374).

480 iv Solomon NORWOOD\(^{410}\), born 8 Feb 1746/47 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married (1) on 2 Nov 1766 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Rebekah GAMAGE, born 23 Oct 1747/48 in Cambridge, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Nathaniel GAMAGE and Mary NORWOOD; (2) Lois LUFKIN.

481 v Nathan NORWOOD, born 1755 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts.

482 vi Moses NORWOOD, christened 20 Jun 1756 in Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts.

+ 483 vii Stephen NORWOOD, christened 26 Feb 1758 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 26 Dec 1821 in Mount Desert, Hancock County, Maine. He married Anna ANDREWS (see 369).

116. Elizabeth NORWOOD\(^{411}\) (Elizabeth Andrews, William\(^{2}\), John\(^{1}\)), born 8 Oct 1708 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 1785 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 30 Jan 1724 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Ebenezer POOLE\(^{412,413}\), born 1 Jan 1698/99 in Beverly, Essex County, Massachusetts; died May 1779 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts, son of John POOLE and Sarah HASKELL.

Notes for Ebenezer Poole
Ebenezer died of smallpox.

Children of Elizabeth NORWOOD and Ebenezer POOLE were as follows:

484 i Ebenezer POOLE, Jr., born 1725 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts.

485 ii Elizabeth POOLE, born 1727 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts.

+ 486 iii Francis POOLE, born 22 Jul 1729 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 21 Apr 1804 in Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Lois STORY (see 152).

+ 487 iv Stephen POOLE, born 14 Aug 1731. He married Judith GROVER.

488 v Lucy POOLE, born 26 Feb 1733/34.

489 vi Moses POOLE, born 20 Jun 1736.

+ 490 vii Lucy POOLE, born 20 Jun 1736 in Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married James B. TARR.

491 viii John POOLE, christened 3 Feb 1738.

492 ix Miriam POOLE, born 16 Oct 1742.

493 x Mary POOLE, born 19 Mar 1747.

118. Stephen NORWOOD (Elizabeth Andrews, William\(^{2}\), John\(^{1}\)), born in Attleboro, Bristol County, Massachusetts; christened 28 Jun 1713 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married on 11 Oct 1735 Sarah BULOW.

Children of Stephen NORWOOD and Sarah BULOW were as follows:

494 i Sarah NORWOOD, born 14 Feb 1751.

120. Mary Norwood (Elizabeth Andrews, William, John), born 15 Apr 1717 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 1822 in Bristol, Lincoln County, Maine. She married in 1731 Nathaniel Gamage, born 1 Nov 1712 in Cambridge, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; died 1810, son of John Gamage and Deborah Wyeth.

Notes for Mary Norwood
Mary is reported to have died at the age of 105 years in Bristol, Maine.

Notes for Nathaniel Gamage
Nathaniel had mysteriously disappeared and was believed he had been seized by press gang, a method used to secure men for the English Navy. His family moved to Rockport Massachusetts and then to Bristol, Maine. He died at age 97.

Children of Mary Norwood and Nathaniel Gamage were as follows:

495 i Joshua Gamage, born 3 Jan 1740/41 in Cambridge, Middlesex County, Massachusetts. He married on 27 Dec 1764 Elinor Foster, born 1747/48 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts.

496 ii Rebekah Gamage, born 23 Oct 1747/48 in Cambridge, Middlesex County, Massachusetts. She married on 2 Nov 1766 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Solomon Norwood, born 8 Feb 1746/47 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts, son of Joshua Norwood and Sarah Goodrich.

497 iii Sarah Gamage, born 15 Sep 1750/51 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 27 Apr 1769 William Gott, born 6 Dec 1747, son of William Gott and Elizabeth Wanson.

123. Abigail Norwood (Elizabeth Andrews, William, John), born 28 Mar 1723 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 9 Nov 1774 in Mount Desert, Hancock County, Maine; buried in Walnut Hill Cemetery, North Yarmouth, Maine. She married (1) on 20 Mar 1743 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Josiah Lane, born 29 Mar 1721 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died in Mount Desert, Hancock County, Maine, son of James Lane and Judith Woodbury; (2) Joseph Caffareen.

Notes for Josiah Lane
Josiah and Abigail were members of the Third Church of Annisquam. She was admitted in 1749 and its records show the baptism of their children. He is probably the Josiah Lane that made six purchases of land in Gloucester from 1749 to 1757. Administration of his estate was granted to his widow on 3 Nov 1766. Inventory taken 12 Jan 18767 included house and lands, and "Half a small schooner, a pew in Squam meeting house and one third of another pew, and one third of one eighth of the vacancy in the gallery". Josiah and Abigail had eleven children, of whom six or seven sons were together at the Battle of Bunker Hill. Abigail married a second time to "Joseph Caffareen, the school master". She is said to have died at Mount Desert, Maine at her daughter Abigail's.

Children of Abigail Norwood and Josiah Lane were as follows:

498 i Ruth Lane, born 8 Oct 1743 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts.

499 ii Judith Lane, born 20 Jul 1745 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts.

500 iii James Lane, born 23 Jul 1747 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Hannah.

ROBINSON.
+ 501 iv Josiah LANE, born 6 Dec 1748 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Jerusha STEVENS.
+ 502 v Isaac LANE, born 4 Nov 1750 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married (1) Dorcas BENNETT; (2) Jerusha (---).
+ 503 vi Theophilus LANE, born 9 Jul 1752. He married (1) Susannah DAVIS; (2) Rebecca (---).
+ 504 vii Levi LANE, born 3 Nov 1754 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 21 Jun 1806 in Boston, Suffolk County, Massachusetts; buried in Copp's Hill Burying Ground, Boston, Massachusetts. He married (1) Elizabeth GYLES; (2) Susanna (Newman) LANE, Widow.

Notes: Levi was a soldier under Capt. Nathaniel Warner at the Battle of Bunker Hill. Capt. Warner's company marched from Gloucester to Cambridge in the latter part of May. On the morning of the attach by the British forces, the company made a rapid march to Charlestown, crossed the peninsula under fire, and was ordered by Gen. Israel Putnam to the redoubt and then to the left towards the rail fence. While still a young man, Levi visited France and returned in the company with Marquis de Lafayette, who came to join the American colonies in the spring of 1777. He was a member of the St. Andrews' Lodge of Free Masons. His place of business as a sail maker and merchant was near Clinton Street in Boston. He was a sail maker of wide repute, and is said to have made the best sails that went out of Boston. Levi became a leading merchant and ship owner, losing some vessels about 1800, by French spoliation. He was a pew owner ad prominently connected with the First Universalist Church at the corner of North Bennett and Hanover Streets. His residence was on Pine Street in Boston.

505 viii Francis LANE, born 12 Dec 1756 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married (1) Esther GRIFFIN; (2) Hannah WYMAN; (3) Betsey GAMMON.
506 ix Abigail LANE, born 19 Oct 1759 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died in Mount Desert, Hancock County, Maine. She married Nathaniel BENNETT.

GROVER; (2) on 19 Apr 1770 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Jerusha STORY\(^{428, 429}\) (see 151), born 29 Sep 1732 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 15 Aug 1810, daughter of Zachariah STORY and Rachel ANDREWS.

Notes for Jerusha Story

The following from the Robert L. Pratt reference: "From what the author can learn it appears that Jerusha was a child of Jerusha born out of wedlock. Jerusha was with her mother when Jerusha married in 1770 Caleb Norwood, Sr. It is not surprising that Caleb Norwood, Jr. would marry Jerusha since this girl probably came with her mother to live with her father-in-law to be. In the vital records of Gloucester Jerusha, in her marriage to Caleb Norwood Jr., is listed as Jerusha Story [vital records Gloucester 2:528]. That Jerusha had married someone prior to Caleb Norwood cannot be ruled out however. In fact, in her marriage to Caleb Norwood [ibid] she is listed as Mrs. Jerusha Story.

Additional evidence for this conclusion comes from Rachael Story's will made in 1777 [ECPR Vol. 352, p. 493]. In that will Rachael mentions each of her married daughters by their married name. Yet she writes in the will "I give to my Grand Daughter, Jerusha eldest daughter of my daughter Jerusha aforesaid all the Rest and Residue of my Estate...".

Children of Caleb NORWOOD , Sr. and Elizabeth GROVER were as follows:
+ 514 i Caleb NORWOOD , Jr., born 5 Jul 1762 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Jerusha STORY (see 603).

Children of Caleb NORWOOD , Sr. and Jerusha STORY were as follows:
515 i Francis NORWOOD, born 23 Apr 1771 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts.
516 ii William NORWOOD, christened 30 Oct 1774 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married on 4 Feb 1796 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Susannah WHEELER.
517 iii Lucy NORWOOD, born 24 Sep 1781 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 18 Jul 1800 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Jeremiah BUTMAN , Jr., born Sep 1776 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts, son of Jeremiah BUTMAN and Martha HARRIS.

129. Thomas BUTLER\(^{430, 431, 432}\) (Abigail Andrews, William\(^{2}\), John\(^{1}\)), born about 1705 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died in Windham, Windham County, Connecticut. He married (1) on 9 Mar 1732 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Abigail CRAFTS\(^{433, 434}\), born 19 Jan 1708 in Roxbury, Suffolk County, Massachusetts; died 11 Jan 1743/44 in Windham, Windham County, Connecticut, daughter of Benjamin CRAFTS and Abigail HARRIS; (2) on 7 Nov 1744/45 Deborah MEACHAM\(^{435}\), born of Windham, Windham County, Connecticut; died 3 Mar 1748/49 in Windham, Windham County, Connecticut; (3) on 17 Jun 1749 in Windham County, Connecticut Thankful LUCE\(^{436}\).

Children of Thomas BUTLER and Abigail CRAFTS were as follows:

Nov 1789 in Yarmouth, Yarmouth County, Nova Scotia, Canada. He married on 11 Jan 1758 in Windham, Windham County, Connecticut Lydia DURKEE439, died 10 Apr 1812 in Yarmouth, Yarmouth County, Nova Scotia, Canada, daughter of Stephen DURKEE and Lois MOULTON.

Notes: See the extensive narrative in the Butlers and Kinfolk" reference regarding the settlement of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia by settlers from Connecticut, which reads in part: Eleazer Butler, who in 1763 moved with his wife, Lydia (Durkee) Butler, from Ashford, Windham County, Connecticut, to Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, was ancestor of the many to whom is offered chiefly the work of the compiler of this volume. Eleazer was the great grandson of Lieut. William Butler, who married Sarah Cross, he married the great granddaughter of William Durkee of Ipswich, who married Martha Cross, sister of Sarah. With them to Yarmouth went Phineas Durkee, brother of Lydia. Phineas Durkee came from Brimfield, Massachusetts, just over the line from Windham County, Connecticut, and was the ancestor of the Durkees of Nova Scotia. They sailed from Saybrook, Connecticut, to Yarmouth. A later arrival was David Pearl, a brother or near relative of Phoebe Pearl, who married Phineas Durkee. On March 20, 1769, Pearl married Eunice Allen, eldest daughter of Capt. Jeremiah Allen, Sr. The Pearls had a son and five daughters, and after the Revolutionary War they returned to Windham, taking their family with them. Tradition is that on arrival of Eleazer Butler and party in Yarmouth harbor they landed at what is now known as Butler's Point. On the division of the lands of the township by the government in 1767 Eleazer Butler settled on Butler's Hill. He had 1-1/2 shares, or 1390 acres. His homestead lot, writes George S. Brown in his Butler genealogy, "extended northerly to what are now Argyle Street and Bernard's Lane, and his nearest neighbor on the south was David Pearl." The reason for the exodus from Connecticut to Yarmouth is found in the invitations extended by the Nova Scotia government to the people of New England to come over and settle on the lands from which the Unfortunate Acadians had been expelled in 1755.

520 iii Benjamin BUTLER440, christened 21 Apr 1739 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 17 Jun 1787 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. He married (1) on 27 Dec 1761 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut Diadema HYDE441, born 10 Dec 1740 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 18 Sep 1777 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut, daughter of Jedediah HYDE and Sarah PERKINS; (2) on 3 Feb 1784 Ruth HUNTINGTON, born 1735, daughter of Peter HUNTINGTON and Ruth EDGERTON. Notes: Dr. Benjamin Butler, son of Thomas and Abigail (Andrews) Butler and brother of Eleazer Butler, was an outstanding Tory during the Revolution, prohibited because of his loyalty to the King from wearing arms and declared incapable of holding office. In contrast, two of his granddaughters married distinguished American naval officers who fought the War of 1812: Commodore John Rodgers, for many years senior officer in the United States Navy, and Capt. John Dandridge Henley. Commodore Rodgers, says the National Encyclopedia of American Biography, fired the first gun against the British in the War of 1812. Previous to the outbreak of the Revolution, Dr. Butler had held public office, being named in Connecticut records as constable and collector of taxes in Norwich in 1772. Dr. Butler, born in April, 1739, at Ipswich, Massachusetts, lived in Norwich, where he married. Dec. 27. 1761, Diadema Hyde, born in Norwich 10 Dec 1740. youngest daughter of the Rev. Jedediah and Sarah (Perkins) Hyde. She died 18 Sept 1777 at Norwich, and he married, second 3 Feb 1784, Ruth Huntington born in 1735, daughter of Peter and Ruth (Edgerton) Huntington. His children were all by the first marriage. He died 17 June 1787, at Norwich. While he was a physician, where he studied for the profession is not given in records found concerning him. He also seems to have conducted a store. He was a man of great wit whose company and entertainment, which were much, sought. Miss F. M. Caulkins, in her History of Norwich, Conn., says: "A very great evil experienced during the war was the high price of salt and the difficulty of securing it at any price. It was almost impossible to get a sufficiency to put up provisions for a winter's use. . .Mr. Butler, willing to have a little sport with his neighbors, put up a sign over his shop one day, 'Hard money to let, and old pork to sell.' This of course brought every passerby to a stand, these being two articles not to be found in the place."

Describing the jubilation of the people of Norwich over a report of victory over the British at Bunker Hill, in which battle Col. John Durkee and his company from Norwich participated under Gen. Israel Putnam, Miss Caulkins writes: "Among this audience that day were doubtless two, if not more, who did not sympathize in these patriotic proceedings, and were therefore stigmatized as Tories and grumbletonians, viz: Mr. Thomas Leffingwell and Mr. Ben Butler, both men of talent and respectability, who remained loyal to the King during the whole contest. They were of course exposed to many insults, public and private, prosecuted, imprisoned, threatened with the skimmerton, and their goods impressed. Mr. Butler emigrated from Hampton. He was arrested and imprisoned in 1776, on a charge of 'defaming the Honorable Continental Congress. His trial came on before the Superior Court at New London, and the fact being proved, he was prohibited from wearing arms, and declared incapable of holding office. "Mr. Butler regarded this sentence with indifference. He was a man of strong sense and original humor, and his company was much sought after on that account. He died of a lingering disease. A few years before, while in good health, he had selected a sapling, to have his coffin made of it when it should grow large enough; but finding that it increased too slowly, he had the coffin constructed of other wood, and kept for a long time this affecting memento of his end constantly in his chamber. As he pined away he would frequently put his hands upon his knees and say, 'See how the mallets grow.' He lies interred in the Norwich graveyard; his wife Diadema and his two daughters, Rosamond and Minerva, repose by his side. "Alas, poor human nature" is the expressive motto engraved by his own direction upon his headstone. See the "Hyde Genealogy" for descendants.

Children of Thomas BUTLER and Thankful LUCE were as follows:

521  iv  Abigail BUTLER, born 10 Jan 1743/44 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.

130. Stephen BUTLER (Abigail Andrews, William, John), born 1707; died before 20 Apr 1764 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Sarah INGALLS, born 1711, daughter of Joseph INGALLS and Sarah THOMPSON.

Notes for Stephen Butler
Stephen was a wheelwright of Ipswich and later of Gloucester. He is not recorded in his father's (Thomas Butler) will of 20 Apr 1764.

Children of Stephen BUTLER and Sarah INGALLS were as follows:

527  i  Stephen BUTLER, christened 5 Sep 1731 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.

528  ii  Sarah BUTLER, christened 24 Mar 1733 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.

529  iii  Mary BUTLER, christened 23 May 1736 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.

131. William BUTLER (Abigail Andrews, William, John), born 1712; died 4 Nov 1741 in Lunenburg, Worcester County, Massachusetts. He married on 7 Apr 1737 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Lucy STORY (see 144), born Jan 1717 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 4 Sep 1759 in Lunenburg, Worcester County, Massachusetts, daughter of Zachariah STORY and Rachel ANDREWS.

Notes for Lucy Story
Lucy had died before the writing of her father's (Zachariah Story) will in 1761, her heirs received a legacy.

Children of William BUTLER and Lucy STORY were as follows:

The Descendants of Lieut. John Andrews of Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. by Betty Andrews Storey 2009

530  i  Lucy BUTLER, born 25 Jun 1738 in Lunenburg, Worcester County, Massachusetts. Notes: Lucy was mentioned in her grandfather Thomas Butler's will of 1766 as daughter of my son William, deceased.

531  ii  Rachel BUTLER, born 23 Oct 1739 in Lunenburg, Worcester County, Massachusetts. Notes: Mentioned in her grandfather Thomas Butler's will of 1766

532  iii  Abigail BUTLER, born 25 Nov 1741 in Lunenburg, Worcester County, Massachusetts. Notes: She is not mentioned in her grandfather Thomas Butler's will, perhaps she was deceased in 1766.

132. Nathaniel RUST (Miriam Andrews, William, John), born 1718 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married on 15 Nov 1737 Mary LUFKIN, daughter of Joseph LUFKIN and Hannah RING.

The Descendants of Lieut. John Andrews of Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, by Betty Andrews Storey 2009

Notes for Nehemiah Story, Sr.

"Probate Records of Essex County", LDS microfilm number 861446, Volume 369 pages 436-437.

Last will and testament of Nehemiah Story in the presence of three witnesses: Elisha Story, Zebulon Foster and Joseph Story.

To all People to whom these presents shall come, Samuel Holton, Esq., Judge of Probate for the County of Essex within the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, sends his greetings. Know ye that on the sixth day of July Anno Domini 1802 the testament afore-written (the last will and testament of Nehemiah Story late of Ipswich in said County yeoman deceased) was presented for probate by Nathan Story the Executor therein named, then present Elisha Story and Zebulon Foster who made oath that they saw the said Testor sign and seal and that he declared the Testament to be his last Will and Testament and that they the said Elisha and Zebulon with Joseph Story subscribed their names together as witnesses to the execution thereof in the said Testor's presence, and that he was then (to the Best of Mens judgments) of sound and disposing mind. Which Testament being proven as above, I do approve and allow of the same as the last Will and Testament of the before named deceased and do commit the Administration thereof in all matters the same concerning and of his Estate. Nathan Story the before named Executor will and faithfully to execute the same Will and to administer the Estate of said deceased according thereto to, who accepted of his said trust and gave bond with Elisha Story and Zebulon Foster as sureties to exhibit and inventory by the sixth day of October next and to present an account by the sixth day of July which will by in the year of our Lord 1803.

"The Family Story" manuscript, page 11: Nehemiah Story probably lived all his life in Chebacco. He made his will 27 June 1800 and mentions wife Mary, daughters Priscilla Story, Sarah Smith, Rachel Hooper, Lydia Holmes, heirs of Lois Low (deceased daughter); sons Nathan, William, Nehemiah (deceased) and Henry. "Died July 4, 1802, Nehemiah Story a church member, aged 81-2" (parish record).

"History of the Town of Goffstown, New Hampshire" by George P. Hadley, Vol. II page 505. Nehemiah Story was the son of Zachariah and Rachel (Andrews) Story. He was a sea captain and at the time captured several English vessels while privateering. He was drowned after the war, coming from the East Indies with a cargo of molasses.

Notes for Sarah Gould

Name of Sarah's parents and her date of birth from page 317 of "The Family of Zaccheus Gould" by Benjamin A. Gould (1895). Date of marriage is the date intentions were published.

Notes for Mary Allen

I had her two marriages (Jacob Lee and Nehemiah Story) before the assumption in Robert L. Pratt's book that she was the widow of Jacob Lee.

Children of Nehemiah STORY, Sr. and Sarah GOULD were as follows:

Email from Dave Whittredge, Feb 2007: "I am descended from Skipper Westley's sister Lucy and by good fortune have been in the Westley Burnham house on Pond Street several times. The preservation of it is extraordinary. Most of the 17th century architecture has been saved and it is furnished with period furniture or reproductions for the most part. The back yard runs down to Chebacco Lake. The immigrant ancestor of Westley was Lieutenant Thomas Burnham. Thomas had his farm on what is now the corner of Essex Road (Rt 133) and Candlewood Road in Ipswich, not far from Masconomet's camp. A map was found in London years ago of the Massachusetts Bay Plantation, drawn about 1634, which includes Agawam (Ipswich) and shows the location of Masconomet's camp now on Candlewood Road. Candlewood was the path from Ipswich Village to Chebacco Pond, as it was formerly called. I think Thomas had the second mill on Chebacco River on the part that is now called Alewife Brook, near the corner of Apple Street. Thomas's son John had his farm at the other end of Apple Street. It was John's son David who they believe had the house built on Pond Street. Dave [Whittredge]"

Children of Deborah STORY and Westley BURNHAM, Sr. were as follows:

586 Joanna BURNHAM born 11 Oct 1744 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; christened 14 Oct 1744 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 20 Jan 1847 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 23 Jan 1766 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Amos ANDREWS (see 860), born 31 May 1743 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 21 Oct 1827 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts, son of John ANDREWS and Mary BURNHAM. Notes: Amos Andrews was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. His widow, Joanna, applied for a pension at the age of 95 years. She died in Gloucester aged 102 years, 2 months and 28 days, the cause of death listed as old age. The New England Historical and Genealogical Register", Vol. 1:197 states; "She probably was the oldest person in the state."

Thomas Burnham had a son John who had a son David who had a son Westley. Westley Burnham married Deborah Story; they had a daughter Joanna who married Amos Andrews. The History of Gloucester states: "At the age of 100 this remarkable woman was able to keep her own separate domestic establishment in the house of her grandson, and attend to her own wants. From that time her decay was as gradual and marked in retrogressive order by the same stages as an infant's growth."

+ 587 ii Lydia BURNHAM, christened 24 Nov 1745 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married Thomas EMMERTON.

+ 588 iii Westley BURNHAM, Jr., born 27 Aug 1747 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; christened 30 Aug 1747 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 1 Sep 1835 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; buried in Old Burial Ground, Essex, Massachusetts. He married Molly WOODBURY.

+ 590 v Lucy BURNHAM, christened 25 Nov 1750 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 30 Jun 1840 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married Jacob BURNHAM.

+ 591 vi Mark BURNHAM, christened 1 Apr 1753 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 2 Jul 1827 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: Mark died unmarried.

+ 592 vii Elizabeth BURNHAM, christened 22 Dec 1754 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 9 Jun 1840 in Danvers, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married Samuel WHIPPLE.

+ 593 viii Sarah BURNHAM, christened 15 Jul 1759 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 10 Nov 1846 in Canaan, Grafton County, New Hampshire. She married Abner POLAND, Jr.

+ 594 ix Ruth BURNHAM, christened 11 Oct 1761 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 4 Oct 1877 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: Ruth died "suddenly in a fit", she was never married.

150. Jesse STORY, Sr. (Rachel Andrews, William, John'), born 12 Mar 1730 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 26 May 1824 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married (1) on 13 Dec 1753 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Ruhami BURNHAM, christened 1 Feb 1735/36 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Solomon BURNHAM and Mehitable EMERSON; (2) on 19 Nov 1799 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Eunice BURNHAM, christened 30 Apr 1749 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 28 Nov 1821 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Jacob BURNHAM and Sarah COGSWELL.

Notes for Jesse Story, Sr.

Jesse Story, Sr., was paid a sum by the state of Massachusetts for the death of his son at the Battle of Bunker Hill, 17 June 1775. In a resolution by the Massachusetts House of Representatives, "resolved that there be paid out of the public Treasury of this State to Jesse Story of Chebacco in Ipswich (father of Jesse Story, Jr., under 21 years of age, the sum of 5 pounds, 15 shillings in full for the loss he sustained in arms, ammunition, and wearing apparel by the 5 death of said son who was killed at the Battle of Bunker's Hill, as will appear in the account and certificate."

Notes for Ruhami Burnham
Both the Emerson and Burnham Genealogies give the incorrect date of death as Nov 1821 for Ruhami (Burnham) Story. This is the date of death for Jesse's second wife, Eunice.

Notes for Eunice Burnham
Robert L. Pratt gives her ancestry as Jacob (3), John (2), Thomas (1) Burnham.

Children of Jesse STORY, Sr. and Ruhami BURNHAM were as follows:
+ 595 i Solomon STORY, christened 20 Oct 1754 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Rose GOODHUE.

596 ii Jesse STORY, Jr.512, christened 15 Aug 1756 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 17 Jun 1775 in Battle of Bunker Hill. Notes: Jesse Story, Sr., was paid a sum by the state of Massachusetts for the death of his son at the Battle of Bunker Hill, 17 June 1775. In a resolution by the Massachusetts House of Representatives, "resolved that there be paid out of the public Treasury of this State to Jesse Story of Chebacco in Ipswich (father of Jesse Story, Jr., under 21 years of age, the sum of 5 pounds, 15 shillings in full for the loss he sustained in arms, ammunition, and wearing apparel by the 5 death of said son who was killed at the Battle of Bunker's Hill, as will appear in the account and certificate." Jesse was the only member of Colonel Moses Little's regiment to die in action that day.

+ 597 iii Parker STORY, christened 2 Nov 1760 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 13 Mar 1795 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Mary PIERCE.

598 iv Ruhami STORY, christened 23 Oct 1763 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 26 Feb 1847 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married Ammi BURNHAM.

599 v Aaron STORY, born about 1767 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 13 Mar 1795 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: He and his brother Parker and brother-in-law Thomas Holmes drowned in a violent storm.

+ 600 vi Elizabeth STORY, born Feb 1773 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 5 Nov 1859 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married (1) Thomas HOLMES; (2) Nathan STORY (see 577).

+ 601 vii Ephraim STORY, christened 16 Jun 1776 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 10 Mar 1857 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Hannah Burnham GOLDSMITH.

602 viii Lois STORY513, christened 21 Dec 1777 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 19 Jan 1797 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Henry WHITMAN. Notes: There is no further record of this family in the Robert L. Pratt reference, he states that they might have both died or that they moved away.

151. Jerusha STORY514,515 (Rachel Andrews, William, John), born 29 Sep 1732 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 15 Aug 1810. She married (1) unknown; (2) on 19 Apr 1770 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Caleb NORWOOD, Sr.516,517,518,519 (see 128), born 1736 in Attleboro, Bristol County, Massachusetts, son of Joshua NORWOOD and Elizabth ANDREWS.

Notes for Jerusha Story

The following from the Robert L. Pratt reference: "From what the author can learn it appears that Jerusha was a child of Jerusha born out of wedlock. Jerusha was with her mother when Jerusha married in 1770 Caleb Norwood, Sr. It is not surprising that Caleb Norwood, Jr. would marry Jerusha since this girl probably came with her mother to live with her father-in-law to be. In the vital records of Gloucester Jerusha, in her marriage to Caleb Norwood Jr., is listed as Jerusha Story [vital records Gloucester 2:528]. That Jerusha had married someone prior to Caleb Norwood cannot be ruled out however. In fact, in her marriage to Caleb Norwood [ibid] she is listed as Mrs. Jerusha Story.

Additional evidence for this conclusion comes from Rachael Story's will made in 1777 [ECPR Vol. 352, p. 493]. In that will Rachael mentions each of her married daughters by their married name. Yet she writes in the will "I give to my Grand Daughter, Jerusha eldest daughter of my daughter Jerusha aforesaid all the Rest and Residue of my Estate...".

Children of Jerusha STORY were as follows:
603  i  Jerusha STORY520, born 14 Dec 1756 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 27 Sep 1781 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Caleb NORWOOD, Jr. 521 (see 514), born 5 Jul 1762 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts, son of Caleb NORWOOD, Sr. and Elizabeth GROVER. Notes: The following from the Robert L. Pratt reference: "From what the author can learn it appears that Jerusha was a child of Jerusha Story born out of wedlock. 154. Susanna STEWART (Patience Andrews, William, John), born 1725. She married on 25 Jan 1743/44 in Upton, Worcester County, Massachusetts Stephen ROLPH.

Children of Susanna STEWART and Stephen ROLPH were as follows:
604  i  Susanna ROLPH, christened 24 Feb 1744 in Grafton, Worcester County, Massachusetts.

Notes for Joseph Stewart

Upton Vital Records shows the intent to marry of Joseph Stewert [as written] and Jane Wilson Dec 8, 17--.

Children of Joseph STEWART and Jane WILSON were as follows:

606  ii  Submit STEWART.

607  iii  Jane STEWART.

158. Lucy STEWART (Patience Andrews, William, John), died before 1770. She married on 10 May 1757 in Upton,
The Descendants of Lieut. John Andrews of Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. by Betty Andrews Storey 2009

Worcester County, Massachusetts John Wilson524,525, born 3 Dec 1732 in Marlborough, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; died Mar 1820 in Poultney, Rutland County, Vermont, son of John Wilson and Jane (---).

Children of Lucy Stewart and John Wilson were as follows:

608 i  James5 Wilson, born 1758 in Upton, Worcester County, Massachusetts; died 16 Aug 1777. Notes: James was killed while fighting the Germans in the Battle of Bennington.

609 ii  Lucy5 Wilson, born 1759 in Upton, Worcester County, Massachusetts.

610 iii  John5 Wilson, born 1761.

611 iv  David5 Wilson, born 1763.

612 v  Patience5 Wilson, born 1765; died 1783. Notes: Patience drowned in the Connecticut River at East Putney at age 18 years.

613 vi  Rachel5 Wilson, born 1768; died 28 Jan 1801 in Winhall, Bennington County, Vermont.

159. Margaret4 Andrews (Jonathan3, William2, John1), born 1719 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; christened 12 Oct 1740 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; buried in Ash Point Cemetery, Ash Point, Cumberland County, Maine. She married on 29 Oct 1740 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine Nathaniel Crockett526,527, christened 31 Mar 1719 in Portsmouth, Rockingham County, New Hampshire, died in Ash Point, Cumberland County, Maine, buried in Ash Point Cemetery, Ash Point, Cumberland County, Maine, son of John Crockett and Mary Knight.

Notes for Margaret Andrews
Margaret is not named in her father's will of 1752 and is not listed as a child of Jonathan in "The Essex Antiquarian", Vol. III No. 7. Margaret is the first child of Jonathan and Sarah (Smith) Andrews; she was christened as an adult.

Children of Margaret Andrews and Nathaniel Crockett were as follows:

   + 614 i  Jonathan5 Crockett, born 2 Jul 1741 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine; died 20 Apr 1829. He married Elionai Robbins.

   + 615 ii  Lucy5 Crockett, born 24 Sep 1743 in Falmouth, Cumberland County, Maine; died 10 Nov 1832 in North Haven, Knox County, Maine. She married David Wooster, Sr.

   + 616 iii  Isaac5 Crockett, born 1746 in Falmouth, Cumberland County, Maine. He married Susanna Hooper.

   617 iv  Margaret5 Crockett528, born 1748. She married on 9 Dec 1772 Zebulon Howland, born in Pembroke, Plymouth County, Massachusetts; died 19 Feb 1824 in Avon, Franklin County, Maine, son of Zebulon Howland and Lydia Cushing.

   + 618 v  Nathaniel5 Crockett, born 25 Apr 1750 in Falmouth, Cumberland County, Maine; died 12 Oct 1818 in Tiffin, Seneca County, Ohio; buried in Egbert Cemetery, Tiffin, Seneca County, Ohio. He married Eunice Cooper.

   619 vi  Lydia5 Crockett, christened 29 Aug 1759 in Stroudwater, Cumberland County, Maine. She married on 7 Jun 1775 in Fox Island, Knox County, Maine Francis Haskell529 (see 1301), born 28 Feb 1752 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 14 Jul 1842 in South Thomaston, Knox County, Maine; buried in Owls Head, Knox County, Maine, son of Francis Haskell and Elizabeth Wheeler. Notes: Lydia died about 1781 and Francis remarried. Intentions to marry for Francis Haskell and "Mrs." Anna Low were published for 18 February 1785 in the Vital Records of Gloucester and Newburyport. Francis is reported to be of Deer Island and Anna Low of Gloucester.

   + 620 vii  Polly5 Crockett, christened 29 Aug 1759 in Stroudwater, Cumberland County, Maine. She married Benjamin Packard.

   621 viii  David5 Crockett.

529 Marion S. Anderson, Haskell Family Association Newsletters (Haskell Family Association).
160. Jonathan Andrews (Jonathan, William, John), born 1721 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 5 Dec 1803 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine. He married (1) on 8 Mar 1743/44 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine Hannah Seavey, born 5 Jan 1725 of Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine; died 14 Mar 1790 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine, daughter of Thomas Seavey and Hannah Knight; (2) on 15 Sep 1790 Hannah Libby.

There might be a son Isaac for this family. If so, he is not the one who married Elizabeth Warren, that was Isaac Andrews the son of Amos and Anna (Seavey) Andrews.

Notes for Jonathan Andrews

Jonathan was a farmer and proprietor of a saw mill in Scarborough. He was mentioned in his father's will written 3 July 1752: "I give to my well beloved Son Jonathan Andrews twenty acres of land joining on the West side of the home Lot, and the Tools that I have belonging to the Smith Trade". He was called Deacon Andrews. It is charged by the King family that he instigated the mobbing of Richard King, father of Gov. King of Maine; referred to in Southgate's "History of Scarboro", as the "Arch Deacon Andrews".

Children of Jonathan Andrews and Hannah Seavey were as follows:

+ 622 i Jonathan Andrews, born 22 Mar 1745 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine; died 7 Aug 1832 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine. He married Dorcas Stuart.

623 ii Nathan Andrews, born 11 Nov 1749 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine; died 13 Apr 1750 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine.

624 iii Hannah Andrews, born 13 Sep 1751 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine; died 25 Jul 1762 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine.

+ 625 iv Stephen Andrews, born 7 Dec 1753 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine; died 24 Sep 1815 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine. He married Mary Holmes.

626 v Anna Andrews, born 17 Apr 1756 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine; died 7 Dec 1768 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine. She married (1) Amos Milliken, born of Buxton, Oxford County, Maine; (2) Abram Milliken. Notes: There is some question to the parents of Anna, she had children by both husbands.

627 vi John Andrews, born 29 Jul 1758 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine; died 10 Aug 1758 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine.

Notes for Ephraim Andrews

536 Doris M. Kenerson, Andrews (typed manuscript, 1953), pp. 76-82, DAR Library, Washington D.

Ephraim went with his parents in childhood to Scarborough, Maine. On 29 April 1750, Ephraim and Anna "own'd the covt" at the Second Parish Church. He then moved to Machias, Washington County, Maine about 1763/65 with several other Scarborough families including that of Anna's sister, Silence and her husband Joseph Holmes. He was Collector there in 1770. His house and barn in Machias were burned by the British under Sir George Collier in 1777. Ephraim is mentioned in his father's will written 3 July 1752: "and I give to my well beloved Ephraim Andrews Fifty three Acres of Land which was formerly called Fly's Place." [See Vol. 8 page 72 of the "Bangor Historical Magazine"]. Ephraim died after 30 May 1785 when he conveyed to Stephen Parker "all my original Second Division Proprietor's Right and lot of land."

Ephraim is not named as a child of Jonathan in "The Essex Antiquarian", Vol. III No. 7.

The E. M. Andrews manuscript shows a "daughter" who married John Holmes; had children Daniel and John and perhaps others, see footnote.

Notes for Anna T. Brown

Anna is a descendant of William White of the "Mayflower", through her grandmother, Mercy or Marcy Hayward daughter of John and Anna (White) Hayward. There is an extensive article discussing her family in "The Maine Genealogist" Vol. 19, No. 2, pages 51-66.

Children of Ephraim ANDREWS and Anna T. BROWN were as follows:

+ 629 i Timothy³ ANDREWS, christened 3 Jun 1750 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine. He married Alice PHINNEY.
+ 630 ii Hannah³ ANDREWS, christened 15 Sep 1751 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine. She married (1) George SMITH; (2) Joseph CLENDENIN.

Maine; christened 13 May 1739 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine; died 10 Oct 1781 in Machias, Washington County, Maine. She married on 2 Oct 1757 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine Sylvanus SCOTT born 1732 in Portsmouth, Rockingham County, New Hampshire; died 5 Aug 1784 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine, son of Sylvanus SCOTT and Sarah MOSES.

Notes for Sarah Andrews

Sarah is mentioned in his father's will written 3 July 1752: "And to Sarah Andrews my well beloved Daughter I give her the Sum of Thirty pounds eight Shillings lawful money to be paid by Jonathan Andrews & Ephraim Andrews Fifty pounds apiece; And it is also my Will that She has all ye Household Goods." Sylvanus and Sarah moved to Machias, Maine in 1763, he was the Treasurer of that town in 1770. He built a breastwork against the British near his house in 1775. The home was burned by the British under Sir George Collier in August 1777.

Children of Sarah ANDREWS and Sylvanus SCOTT were as follows:

651 i Sarah SCOTT, born 6 Feb 1758 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine. She married John LONG.

652 ii Mary SCOTT, born 3 Mar 1759 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine. She married (1) Mr. ADAMS; (2) Mr. COMSTOCK; (3) Abram TYLER.

662 xii James SCOTT, born 29 Jun 1781 in Machias, Washington County, Maine.

663 xiii William SCOTT, born 29 Jun 1781 in Machias, Washington County, Maine.

169. Solomon ANDREWS (Solomon, William, John), born 9 Sep 1727 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died before 23 Nov 1759 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married on 23 Nov 1748 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Ruth LOW, christened 11 Jun 1727 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.
Notes for Solomon Andrews

"Solomon Andrews of Ipswich, died intestate, and Ruth Andrews his widow was appointed Administratrix of his Estate. Nov 23, 1759, with Thomas Low, husbandman, & Timothy Bragg Jr., husbandman, all of Ipswich, bondsmen in the sum of 1000."

The judge called him "Solomon Andrews, Jr." when he appointed appraisers of the estate 23 Nov 1759, viz. John Baker, William Brown & Timothy Bragg, Jr., all of Ipswich, who appraised the estate at 11-13-0. The judge allowed the widow Ruth on 10 Dec 1759 to make oath and "allowed her for Nesesarys and charge of Administration, the whole estate."

Children of Solomon ANDREWS and Ruth LOW were as follows:

664  i  Issachar 5 ANDREWS 555.

170. Isaac 4 ANDREWS 556, 557, 558, 559 (Solomon 3, William 2, John 1), born 18 Jan 1729/30 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 30 Dec 1796 in Hillsboro, Hillsborough County, New Hampshire. He married on 10 Aug 1754 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Lucy PERKINS, Widow, born probably in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died in Hillsboro, Hillsborough County, New Hampshire.

Notes for Isaac Andrews

Isaac was a blacksmith and farmer. Marriage intentions published at Ipswich 10 Aug 1754, with Mrs. Lucy Perkins. Shortly after their marriage they moved to Concord, Massachusetts that part which was later Carlisle. He settled about 1765 in Hillsborough, New Hampshire (as did his brother Ammi). The "History of Hillsboro, by G. Waldo Browne states: "Isaac Andrews, who not only became the founder of one of the leading families in Hillsborough, but was himself an active and influential man in the new town, came from Carlisle in 1764." Isaac lived on "Bible Hill", one of the finest views in town. It was so called as Isaac and Joseph Symonds lived here and they owned the only two bibles in town. On 15 Feb 1770 he signed a petition to the Governor of New Hampshire, asking for the incorporation of the Town of Hillsboro. He was the first town clerk; many times moderator of town meetings; served on many committees; Selectman 1772/75; Town Clerk 1772/75 and 1781/86; Justice of the Peace 1774/76; Delegate from Henniker, Hillsboro, to meet at Concord, New Hampshire 10 June 1770 to form a new constitution. He was in the Battle of Bunker Hill and in the Revolutionary War commissioned as Captain in Col. Thomas Stickney's Regiment 5 March 1776. The above cited source also states: "Another early comer was Major Isaac Andrews, tall, slim and straight as an arrow, dignified and courteous to a marked degree, and whose every step and movement told of his austerity." He was the second largest taxpayer in town, according to a list dated 1782 in the Hillsboro history.

Isaac, the first to bear this surname in Hillsborough, was a direct descendant of Lieut. John Andrews, born in England about 1618. He moved from Ipswich, Massachusetts to Concord, Massachusetts, when a young man, and from thence to this town [Hillsborough, New Hampshire]. He settled on Bible Hill, upon the farm since occupied by Erickson Burnham, and was the agent for the inhabitants in procuring the charter of the town. Chosen its first Town Clerk, he held the office for three years, being for the same period the chairman of the board of Selectmen, as well as a member of the Church Society at its formation.

Children of Isaac ANDREWS and Lucy PERKINS, Widow were as follows:

+ 665 i  Isaac 5 ANDREWS, Jr., born 11 Nov 1755 in Concord, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; died 5 Mar 1843 in Hillsboro, Hillsborough County, New Hampshire; buried in Bible Hill Cemetery, Hillsboro, New Hampshire. He married (1) Rebecca SYMONDS; (2) Abigail (Woodbury) BEARD, Widow.

Notes for Ammi Andrews

Ammi was a husbandman, he lived in Chelmsford, Massachusetts in 1761, moved to Hillsborough, New Hampshire in 1766. Guardianship of Hepzibah Brown (the younger sister of his wife) was granted to Ammi Andrews 27 April 1761. Ammi's brother, Isaac Andrews, also settled in Hillsborough, New Hampshire. He served through the whole Revolutionary War; he was a member of Captain Baldwin's company at Bunker Hill. At one time he owned a large tract of land where Hillsboro now stands, but his last days were spent in poverty, his only support being a small pension. Epitaph: In memory of Lieut. Ammi Andrews, who died March 30 1833 age 97 years. He distinguished himself as a brave and valiant officer in many perilous situations during the Revolutionary War and shared with Gen. Arnold the privations and dangers of the memorable campaign to Quebec in 1775. On 21 Dec 1825, Ammi was made a pensioner on account of his service in the war and having received wounds in several engagements.

One of Ammi Andrews' townsmen at Hillsboro was Capt. Isaac Baldwin who under Gen. John Stark had fought the Indians in the French and Indian Wars. In April 1775, Capt. Baldwin was engaged in framing a barn at Deering. The news of the battle of Lexington was announced to him and he hastened to Hillsboro. Here he raised a company of volunteers including his neighbor Ammi Andrews. This company was soon on its way to the vicinity of Boston. They passed through Billerica, the former home of Ammi, on Sunday and attended church service. The Rev. Dr. Henry Cummings preached a

1784 Persecution

"Molly Andrews who had accepted the faith of believers, was a resident of Hillsboro, N. H. She was forced to flee from her persecuting husband and sought protection at the home of Jonathan Bassford of Henniker who was also a Believer. The husband, in company with others, attempted to force her to return to his home. They violently seized her, where [upon] Rachel Bassford put her hand around Molly to prevent the mob from taking her away. They, however, smote Rachel's hand so roughly that she was forced to quit her hold. They then beat and whipped Molly 'til; she fell to the floor, which so frightened them that they feared to take her away, lest she should die in their hands.

By the request of Jonathan, the husband consented to leave Molly for a few days, on condition that she should not leave the house, 'til his return. These Inquisitors were not dull in the invention of torture for others. They indeed provided a horse for her, but it had no saddle, nor even a blanket on his back. Molly was now rudely thrown astride of the horse and her infant child placed in her arms. Ropes had been provided and with these her legs were securely and violently fastened under the belly of the horse. Her position was one of great torture. The Christian savages then captured one of the Believers, and tied him to the tail of the horse. They then secured the services of a negro, whose language was filled with profanity, to lead the horse.

On this journey to Hillsboro, a distance of 12 miles, they passed the house of Asa Williams. As he was a member of the order of Believers, they bound him, and placed him on the horse behind Molly, carried him a short distance, and then set him free without any other harm. Our Historian, John Whitacher, says that the conduct of the negro was shameful, obscene and brutish, too filthy to relate. He was permitted and even encouraged in all this by the leaders of the mob. The treatment of these unoffending persons was very aggravating and shameful. Having arrived at Hillsboro, the place of their destination, the mob released Molly and Gaben and dispersed. The sufferers now returned thankful that their lives had been spared; and so soon as they had rested, they began the return journey on foot, travelling most of the night & arriving at the house of Jonathan Bassford in Henniker about sunrise the next morning. The infant was carried all this distance.

At a subsequent date, Molly was compelled to flee to the woods to escape the cruelty of this lawless class of men. Even in her retreat, she was discovered and subjected to the seduction of flattery and force by one of the same unprincipled characters, but freed herself from his polluted hands by her exertions and her screams. Suffering so much from the hands of these cruel persecutors, this poor woman found her case to be intolerable. She now fled to the society in Canterbury for protection, where there was a large number of believers and where a violation of the laws of the land would have been seriously contested. In this place the persecuted woman found protection from her cruel enemies. She died in the Church at Enfield 31 March 1820 age 80."

Molly and her three daughters, Bella, Eunice and Lucy, spent the last years of their lives with the Society of Shakers at Enfield, New Hampshire.

Notes: According to DAR records, William and Sarah Wood had one son: Cyrus Wood that married Amy DeMott. Cyrus and Amy had Estelle, born in Arkwright, Chautauqua County, New York, DAR ID #23302, a descendant of William Wood, a Minute Man from Westford [not Westborough?], Massachusetts, born 1735 [the William who married Sarah Andrews was born in 1764] in Pomfret, Chautauqua County, Connecticut. I cannot find a connection to Cyrus Wood using the 1880 census, Cyrus' mother should be named Sarah, not Amy. The 1870 census for Pomfret, Chautauqua County, New York shows Cyrus Wood age 61, farmer born in Vermont with wife Amy age 54, born in New York; Estelle age 17, born in New York; Amy [not Sarah?] Wood age 78 [born in 1792 rather than 1768?], born in Vermont.

Notes for John Andrews

John Andrews, 3d, of Ipswich, fisherman, was appointed guardian of his children Amos and John, both minors, on 25 December 1749. He married both times as John Andrews, 3d. By 17 November 1754 when his son Daniel was born he was John Andrews, Jr. He was administrator of his father's estate in 1763. John Andrews, Jr., and his three brothers James, Caleb and Joshua, were all fishermen when the purchased land together on 13 December 1754 from Nathan and Elizabeth Brown. John and his brothers Caleb and Jonathan, all yeomen, with wives Mercy [sic], Anna and Ann, sold a parcel of land for 24 pounds 8d to Benjamin Andrews, laborer, on 21 March 1777.

On 2 February 1788, Martha Andrews, widow, Amos Andrews, John Andrews, Daniel Andrews, William Andrews, James Andrews, mariners, and Mary Andrews, singlewoman, all of Ipswich, and Jeremiah Kingsman of Fitchburg, Worcester County, Massachusetts, yeoman, in the right of his wife and Martha his wife in her own right, "all heirs of the estate of John Andrews, late of said Ipswich, yeoman, deceased in consideration of certain deeds of acquittance made unto us by Jonathan Andrews, of said Ipswich, mariner and heir to the said deceased," released unto Jonathan 4 1/4 acres and 14 rods of upland and marsh bounded south on Aaron Low, west on the creek, north on Caleb Andrews, and east on the highway; witnesses were Benjamin Andrews, Barnabas Dodge, Eleazer Craft and Abigail Craft. Amos, John, and Daniel Andrews and Martha Kinsman all claimed a right in the estate of Martha's dower of her late husband. On 5 December 1808 Jeremiah Kinsman, Jr., and Martha Kinsman acknowledged the deed; Amos Andrews personally acknowledged it 13 February 1818, the same day it was recorded. This land record, which refers to "all heirs of the estate of John Andrews," is taken as the standard for this family.

The deed recorded immediately before the above, on the same day, was a transfer from Thomas Low of Somerset, Bristol County, mariner, to Jonathan Andrews, of land in Chebacco on 13 May 1805. The deed following, also recorded on 13 February 1810, was from Nathan Story to Jonathan Andrews, on 28 December 1803 for land in Chebacco, an estimated one acre and 40 poles bounded by land on Lt. Aaron Low, Jonathan Andrews, and others, and land of Thomas Burnham, with witnesses Jonathan Andrews, Jr., and Jonathan Cogswell, Jr.

Amos Andrews, yeoman, and John Andrews, mariner, both of Ipswich, received $79.50 on 26 April 1803 from James Andrews, Jr. of Ipswich, mariner, for their right in the estate held by the widow Martha Andrews, Ipswich, by virtue of her dower on the estate of her late husband, John Andrews, Ipswich, yeoman, deceased. Daniel Andrews, yeoman, Jeremiah Kinsman and Martha, his wife, all of Fitchburg, sold their right in the same estate to James Andrews, Jr., for $53, on 7 March 1805. Jonathan Andrews, yeoman of Ipswich, and his wife Mary on 6 April 1810 sold to Benjamin Andrews, yeoman of Ipswich, one acre of woodland for $50 and another parcel set off as "part of the dower of my mother Martha Andrews, deceased.” The same day, James Andrews, Jr., yeoman of Ipswich, and his wife Lucy, for $50, sold to Benjamin Andrews "part of the dower of my mother Martha Andrews, deceased.” Five years later, on 1 March 1815, Winthrop Andrews, mariner, of Ipswich, and his wife Rhoda for $280 sold to Jonathan Andrews, 3d, mariner of Ipswich, a dwelling house, barn, and 10 acres, "reserving to the heirs of John Andrews, the privilege of way to pass with a team over.” These land records clarify that it was their son, Jonathan Andrews (not his first cousin of the same name) who married Mary Burnham.

Notes for Joshua Andrews

Joshua Andrews of Ipswich, fisherman, and his wife Prudence appear three times as grantors in Essex County. On 8 April 1765 he sold to Jonathan Andrews of Ipswich, fisherman for 5 pounds 6 s 8 d, one salt marsh in Chebacco bounded by marsh of John Andrews; witnesses were John and Martha Andrews. John and Martha were again witnesses on 29 December 1766 when Joshua and Prudence sold, for 9 pounds, pasture land in Chebacco to Jonathan Andrews, bounded by land of said Jonathan. On 29 March 1768, Joshua and Prudence sold their homestead and dwelling house, for 28 pounds 8d 3f, equally to John, Caleb and Jonathan Andrews, all fishermen alias yeomen, with 5 1/2 acres in Chebacco bounded by land of John Andrews, James Andrews and Sarah Andrews. Joshua appeared on 12 February 1774 and owned this document, which was recorded 13 April 1776, shortly after his death. This property appears to be the same--a dwelling house and five and a half acres in Chebacco--which John with wife Mercy [sic], Caleb, with wife Anna, and Jonathan, with wife Ann, sold on 21 March 1777 to Benjamin Andrews of Ipswich, laborer. It was bounded by land of Jonathan Andrews, Francis Perkins, and Jacob Perkins, the sale also included two acres in Chebacco bounded by John Andrews, Caleb Andrews, and heirs of James Andrews and Ezekiel Knowlton; witnesses were Amos and Joanna Andrews.

Administration on Joshua's estate was granted to Lucy Andrews on 3 June 1776 and the inventory was taken on 24 June 1776 with final accounting 3 May 1784. He died of "gravel" at age 52.

Notes for Prudence Marshall
Prudence's death record is from Ipswich vital records, page 479, which states that she died of fever. Her date of birth is inferred from death record.

Children of Joshua ANDREWS and Prudence MARSHALL were as follows:
874 i Elizabeth ANDREWS, christened 10 May 1747 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died before 17 Apr 1757 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: Elizabeth died young.

Children of Jonathan Andrews and Anne Story were as follows:

223. Jonathan Andrews (John, Joseph, John), christened 14 Jul 1734 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died before 2 Nov 1784 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married on 16 Apr 1761 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Anne Story, born 21 Sep 1740 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; daughter of Stephen Story and Elizabeth Story.

Notes for Jonathan Andrews

Jonathan was a fisherman and a yeoman, lived in Chebacco Parisha; a private in the Revolutionary War and a family tradition states that "he was wounded in battle and died in 1778 of gravel in Albany, New York". The Daughters of the American Revolution Patriot Index shows: Andrews, Jonathan, Sr.; #: A002669; Service: Massachusetts; Rank: Private; Birth: 17 Jul 1734; Chebacco, Massachusetts; Death: 2 Nov 1784 Chebacco, Massachusetts; Service Description: Capt. Cogswell; Spouse: Anne Story; Anne Andrews, his widow was granted administration of his estate 2 Nov 1784.

NEHGR 153:44-50:

Administration on the estate of Jonathan Andrews of Ipswich, fisherman, was granted to Ann Andrews, who gave bond to Aaron Low and Stephen Story, sureties, on 2 November 1784. As Administratrix, Ann sold three acres of pastureland in Chebacco to Benjamin Andrews, fisherman of Ipswich, on 3 January 1789.

The appraisal of Jonathan's land and division into four parts was made 4 January 1825, by Moses Burnham with Eleazer Andrews, yeoman, and David Andrews, yeoman, sureties. Four parts were assigned to one or more children: #1 to Eunice Burnham, daughter; her husband Moses Burnham to pay Elizabeth Andrews, a daughter, $34, and $34 to the representatives of Daniel Andrews, deceased son of the intestate, and $24 to Anna Burnham, daughter; #2 to Eleazer Andrews who was to pay $10 to Anna Burnham and $26 to Lois Rider, daughters of the intestate; #3 David Andrews, son who was to pay Sarah Andrews $34 and Lois Rider $8; #4 to Jonathan Andrews. Each daughter received $34. Whether daughter Elizabeth Andrews was single or had an unrecorded marriage has not been studied further.

The last record relating to Jonathan Andrews was the appointment of Jesse Burnham as guardian to the children of Jonathan's son David Andrews, with multiple receipts in 1824 an early 1825. David was still living; his name is an obvious mistake for that of his deceased brother Daniel. Nine children are mentioned in Jonathan's probate records, only the first three are recorded in Ipswich.

He married (1) on 13 Mar 1745/46 in Concord, Middlesex County, Massachusetts Lucy RUST736, 737, 738, born 4 Jun 1725/26 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 6 Feb 1761; buried in Carlisle, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Joseph RUST and Rachel CHOATE; (2) on 3 Dec 1761 in Concord, Middlesex County, Massachusetts Susanna RUSSEL.
Notes for Jeremiah Andrews

Jeremiah was dismissed from the Church in Chebacco to Concord, Massachusetts in 1769. He moved to Sharon, New Hampshire and was Moderator of town meetings there in 1780, and was living there in 1790.

His wife Lucy died of smallpox, her grave and that of her daughter, Elizabeth, is in the woods in Carlisle, Massachusetts. Jeremiah stipulated when he sold his land that the plot where his wife and daughter were buried should be kept apart from the rest of the land. That was so for a certain time, but eventually it was forgotten and no trace of it as a burial place are left.

The following is a note about the Andrews settlers of Carlisle written by Donald A. Lapham: Lucy and her daughter were placed in a common casket and buried in a clearing in the woods. The gravestones were pulled up and buried by the late Peter Christianson in about 1920 to prevent his cows from harming them. In 1952 Donald A. Lapham and Mr. Christianson reset the stones in the original position. However, the stones were later placed in the Historical Room in the Gleason Public Library, as one of them had been broken. The grave is located on the end of Peter Hans Road, north of Old Boston Road.

Deeds recorded: in 1758 Josiah Hodgman to Jeremiah Andrews, 118 acres with dwelling. In 1772, Jeremiah Andrews to Stephen Blood, Jr. reserved 1 square rod where his wife and child were buried.

Children of Jeremiah ANDREWS and Lucy RUST were as follows:

+ 942 i  Lucy 5 ANDREWS, christened 15 Jan 1748/49 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died probably in Temple, Hillsborough County, New Hampshire. She married Peter FELT.
+ 943 ii  Hannah 5 ANDREWS, christened 25 Nov 1750 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 1837 in Temple, Hillsborough County, New Hampshire. She married Benjamin CUTTER.
+ 944 iii  Katherine 5 ANDREWS, christened 18 Feb 1753 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 19 Nov 1845 in Temple, Hillsborough County, New Hampshire. She married Nathaniel SHATTUCK.
+ 945 iv  Jeremiah 5 ANDREWS, born 6 Apr 1757 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; christened 10 Apr 1757 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 25 Feb 1827 in Bethel, Oxford County, Maine; buried in Bartlett Cemetery, East Bethel, Oxford County, Maine. He married Elizabeth SAWTELLE.

946 v  Elizabeth 5 ANDREWS, born 18 Sep 1759 in Concord, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; died 6 Feb 1761; buried in Carlisle, Middlesex County, Massachusetts. Notes: Elizabeth died of smallpox with her mother, they are buried together in the woods in Carlisle, Massachusetts.

951 v  Stephen 5 ANDREWS, born 20 Jan 1770 in Concord, Middlesex County, Massachusetts.

Generation 5

Notes for Solomon Andrus

Solomon Andrus served in the French and Indian War, being corporal in 1756 and first lieutenant in 1760. He is probably the Solomon Andrus who served in the Revolutionary War and was mustered out in 1781. In 1785 his name is found among the names of members of the Long Society Church. There may have been more children born to this couple.

Children of Solomon ANDRUS and Honour DEMING were as follows:

952  i  Thankful ANDRUS, born 31 Jul 1763 in Lisbon, New London County, Connecticut.

+ 953  ii  Honour ANDRUS, born 1777 in Preston, New London County, Connecticut; died 21 Sep 1841 in Preston, New London County, Connecticut. She married (1) George LEONARD; (2) Warren ANDREWS.

Notes for John Andrus

Elizabeth Duncan Lee's "John and Grace (Rood) Andrus of Chelsea, Vermont", has John was the son of John and Abigail (Richards) Andrus of Norwich. Her source was Dr. James Brugler Bell, the Director and Librarian of the New England Historic and Genealogical Society, and others, who thought that this John could have been one of the "other children" of John Andrus (4). As far as I know this has never been proven, so the following line must be considered speculative. It is entered into this family history so the names can appear indexed and further research can be done on this family line. The 1800 census shows: Lebanon, Grafton County, p. 404, 1 male over 45; 1 female over 45; 1 female over 45. John died age 73. The 1820 census for Chelsea, Orange County, Vermont lists sons: Richard, Cyprian, Luther and Robert as heads of households.

In the Blaisdell cemetery in Chelsea, John Andrus and his wife Grace Rood have a double slate stone located next to the road and about mid-point along the fence. The top has carvings of weeping willows hanging over the typical urn. The left inscription reads 'In memory of Mr. John Andrus who died Oct 6, 1817 at 73 years' and the right reads 'In memory of Mrs. Grace wife of John Andrus who died Nov 21, 1820 at 76 years.' The stone evidently was broken from its base if it had one and is leaning in its present depth, which is about one foot deeper than was intended. Elizabeth Lee Duncan states: "I raised the stone and discovered that within that buried depth is a poem which dirt has protected from the weathering evident at the top of the stone. It reads:

In life how peaceful mov'd this happy pair
How bless'd in death, releas'd from mortal care
Ye angels, o'er their dust your vigils keep Calm be their slumbers, undisturb'd their sleep
And ye who tread in solemn silence near Repress the sigh, restrain the swelling tear
No more to wound shall earthly sorrows fly
Eternal bliss awaits them in the sky.'

John Andrus served in the War of the Revolution. Many documents verify his service. In a certified copy of an original roll in the National Archives, John Andrews (Andrus) appears on the Pay Roll in the New Hampshire Militia. He was a private in Col. Jonathan Chase's Regiment of Militia which marched from Cornish in the state of New Hampshire Sept 1777 and joined the Continental Army under General Gates near Saratoga. This is dated at Exeter 31 Dec 1777. John entered service 23 Sept 1777 and was discharged 23 Oct 1777. Time in service: one month and one day. Rate per month as 4 pounds, 10 shillings. Amount of wages 4/13. Travel to Saratoga 3d per mile out and 2d home; miles 115, amount 2/7/11. Whole amount 7/0/11 Signed at Exeter. John Andrews, private in Col. Chase's Regiment, enlisted at Plainfield

New Hampshire, served 32 days. John was a taxpayer in Lebanon, New Hampshire in 1800.

Notes for Grace Rood

Grace is probably a descendant of John Rood and Mary Edy who were married at Preston 1687. Grace Rood, who was born 1744 and died 21 Nov 1820. We do not know the names of her parents but we believe she could be a descendant of John (2). Thomas (1) Rood and his wife Mary Edy; they were married at Preston 1687. The reason for this belief is the fact that John and Grace Andrus had a granddaughter named Mary Ede, daughter of Richard and Sena Andrus. Grace (Rood) Andrus. Her family name is sometimes given as RUDE. The 1820 census shows a female over 45 with Richard [her son] in Chelsea.

Children of John ANDRUS and Grace ROOD were as follows:

+ 954 i Lucy ANDRUS, born 15 Aug 1771 in Lebanon, Grafton County, New Hampshire; died 14 Feb 1813 in Chelsea, Orange County, Vermont; buried in Blaisdell Cemetery, Chelsea, Vermont. She married Comfort ALLEN.

+ 955 ii Cyprian ANDRUS, born 22 Jun 1772 in Lebanon, Grafton County, New Hampshire; died 10 Aug 1844 in Wolcott, Lamoille County, Vermont; buried in Davenport Cemetery, Wolcott, Vermont. He married (1) Anna STORRS; (2) Betsey KENDRICK.

956 iii Elijah ANDRUS, born 22 Aug 1775 in Lebanon, Grafton County, New Hampshire.

+ 957 iv Richard ANDRUS, born 25 Aug 1777 in Lebanon, Grafton County, New Hampshire; died 9 Jan 1852 in Chelsea, Orange County, Vermont; buried in Old Cemetery (Riverside Cemetery), Chelsea, Vermont. He married Asenath HUNTINGTON.

958 v Elon ANDRUS, born 3 Aug 1779 in Lebanon, Grafton County, New Hampshire. Notes: He is listed as B. Elam Andrus on the IGI.

+ 959 vi Luther ANDRUS, born 18 Nov 1782 in Lebanon, Grafton County, New Hampshire; died 5 Jun 1863 in Wolcott, Lamoille County, Vermont; buried in Davenport Cemetery, Wolcott, Vermont. He married Mary GREELEY.

+ 960 vii Robert ANDRUS, born 26 Nov 1783 in Lebanon, Grafton County, New Hampshire; died 3 May 1869 in St. Johnsbury, Caledonia County, Vermont; buried in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, St. Johnsbury, Vermont. He married (1) Roxanna BARKER; (2) Betsy WOODWORTH.

1030 ii Solomon READ, born 1 Apr 1778 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut.
1031 iii Stephen READ, born 25 May 1779 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. Notes: Asa and Hannah Appley left Connecticut soon after their marriage and went with his brother Elisha and brother-in-law Stephen Read to Delaware County, New York. Stephen built a log house at Crooked Eddy and they all lived there with him until he married. Asa then built a house on Peas Island in the bend of the Delaware around Hawk Mountain. On the 1800 census Elisha Appley is still in their household along with their three eldest children. Asa and Stephen Read bought a parcel at Peas Island together in 1802, another at Readburn in 1810. Stephen's house at Readburn still stands, across the road from the cemetery where he is buried. Presumably Asa and Hannah Appley are buried there too, but the stones have not survived.
1032 iv Esther READ, born 25 Oct 1782 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. Notes: The 1860 census for Lisbon, New London County, Connecticut shows a Jabez L. Benjamin age 47, farmer with wife Mary A. age 52 and children: John R. age 27 [?], jeweler; Ruth A. age 23, dressmaker; Gilbert L. age 19, teacher; Esther Read age 77 [this individual?].

1133  iv  William HAZZARD, born 10 Feb 1798 in Berkshire, Berkshire County, Massachusetts; died 29 Sep

Notes for James Hazzard

From "History of St. Joseph County, Michigan, with Illustrations", Published by L. H. Everts, Philadelphia, 1877, page 107: "James Hazzard, the father of our subject, was born in Massachusetts in 1769; was married in 1791 to Miss Sally Andrus of the same State. The fruits of this union were five sons and five daughters. William, the fourth child, was born February 10, 1798, at Berkshire, Massachusetts. When he was thirteen years of age his father died. The family were at that time living in the State of New York. After the death of his father the family removed to Vermont, where they remained a short time, and then removed to Oneida County, New York, and from thence, in 1817, to the territory of Michigan. They settled on the Huron River, near Detroit, where they remained until 1829. In the spring of that year Mr. William Hazzard penetrated the wilderness as far as the present town of Centreville, in St. Joseph County, in quest of a location for a home. He selected a government lot about two miles east of the county-seat, which has ever since been the home of himself and family. He made a little improvement and put in some crops on his new purchase, and returned in the fall to the family in Wayne County, and in the month of December in company with the Fletchers and others, came out to St. Joseph County. They arrived on Christmas day, 1829. He was married at the age of twenty-five to Miss Cassandra Coan, of Monroe, Michigan, by whom he became the father of fourteen children, named respectively James, Augustus, David, William, Melvin, Electa, Emily, Huldah, Sarah, George, Elvira, Lovilley, and two infants not named. Eleven of these children are now living, and all married. Mrs. Hazzard, the mother, died at the old homestead in 1871, aged sixty-four years, universally regretted and mourned by her husband and friends.

"The old gentleman, having all his life enjoyed the loving care of a wife and companion, felt his loss keenly, and finding an opportunity of repairing his loss, he married a second time. This was consummated in 1875. His second wife was a worthy widow lady of Mendon, with whom he leads a peaceful, happy life in his old age. Mr. Hazzard is today the only surviving member of the first Methodist class formed in St. Joseph County in 1830, and has been all his life an honored member and a zealous advocate of the claims of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The children were all educated in the tenets of that church, and two of the sons became ministers, and another is an exhorter and licensed preacher. We present in this work a fine view of the old homestead, and portraits of the old pioneer and his deceased wife.

Children of Sarah ANDRUS and James HAZZARD were as follows:

297. Sarah ANDRUS (Jacob, John, John, Jordan, Jonas, Jonas), born 1764 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died in Nottawa, St. Joseph County, Michigan. She married James HAZZARD, born 6 Feb 1769; died 1811 in St. Joseph County, Michigan, son of Robert HAZZARD and Mabel CLARK.

Notes for Jacob Andrus, Jr.

Jacob was a farmer and a shoemaker. After 1805 he and his family moved to Clarendon, Orleans County, New York, where they acquired and settled on the so called Royal Taylor Farm. It appears that the family was in tight circumstances. Jacob Andrus it is said to have been a very large and powerful man. His grandson, Britt Andrus, has in his possession a large and specially reinforced chair, home made which was built for and used by Jacob. It would accommodate two persons very readily. Britt recalls stories that his father would tell that of in the early days, those of his grandfather Jacob Andrus. There were times when there was nothing in the house to eat and Jacob would go to Penfield and carry a bag of flour home on his shoulders.

The "History of Clarendon" by Copeland states:

"In 1814, Jacob Andrus, the father of Enoch, came onto the farm knows as the Royal Taylor Farm. In 1816, a seven years of age, Enoch came here and lived with his father in a rude log cabin about 18 by 20 with a roof covered with bass wood troughs, one over lapping the other, on a flat surface and this house had no chimney--only a hole through the roof.  "In 1816, the cold summer, there were two frosts; the first cut the corn and the second one killed it.  The following year, Jacob was forced to sell the only cow he had in order to buy flour for the family.

"The first winter wheat Jacob raised he paid a man one shilling per bushel out of the store of wheat to draw it to Rochester where it sold for two shillings per bushel.  The first wagon he had was a two-wheel cart drawn by oxen.  "The milling for the Andrus family, in 1814, was a Pumpkin Hill and Jacob would take a bag of wheat on his shoulder and go in a path to that place."

The 1850 census for Clarendon, Orleans County, New York shows the household of Enoch Andrus age 41, which includes his parents: Jacob Andrus age 78, farmer born in Massachusetts; Sarah Andrus age 75, born in Massachusetts; Gravestones in Root Cemetery: "Jacob Andrus died in 1851 age 79 years and 10 months".  "Sarah wife of Jacob Andrus it is said to have been a very large and powerful man.  His grandson, Britt Andrus, has in his possession a large and specially reinforced chair, home made which was built for and used by Jacob. It would accommodate two persons very readily. Britt recalls stories that his father would tell that of in the early days, those of his grandfather Jacob Andrus. There were times when there was nothing in the house to eat and Jacob would go to Penfield and carry a bag of flour home on his shoulders.

The "History of Clarendon" by Copeland states:

"In 1814, Jacob Andrus, the father of Enoch, came onto the farm knows as the Royal Taylor Farm. In 1816, a seven years of age, Enoch came here and lived with his father in a rude log cabin about 18 by 20 with a roof covered with bass wood troughs, one over lapping the other, on a flat surface and this house had no chimney--only a hole through the roof.  "In 1816, the cold summer, there were two frosts; the first cut the corn and the second one killed it.  The following year, Jacob was forced to sell the only cow he had in order to buy flour for the family.

"The first winter wheat Jacob raised he paid a man one shilling per bushel out of the store of wheat to draw it to Rochester where it sold for two shillings per bushel.  The first wagon he had was a two-wheel cart drawn by oxen.  "The milling for the Andrus family, in 1814, was a Pumpkin Hill and Jacob would take a bag of wheat on his shoulder and go in a path to that place."

Notes for Frederick Andross
Frederick Andross was a sailor in the Revolutionary War for a short time on the "Oliver Cromwell", a schooner which was sent out as a privateer by the people of Windham, Connecticut. In 1799 he was captain of a company of light infantry. Frederick and his descendants used the surname ANDROSS.

The "History of New London County, Connecticut", compiled by D. Hamilton Hurd, 1882 has the following: "The 'Oliver Cromwell,' a twenty-gun ship, built at Saybrook in 1776 by the State, was also fitted out from New London. Her first commander was Capt. William Coit, and she was expected to sail in October, but difficulties existed among her people, and the British kept a constant watch over the harbor, so that she was detained through the winter. The next spring Capt. Harding was transferred to her from the 'Defence,' and she succeeded in getting out in May 1777. In March 1777, on the day of the marriage of Capt. Elisha Hinman, the officers of the 'Oliver Cromwell' ordered a complimentary salute to be fired from the ship. Some mischief-lover among the crew charged the cannon with a hand-grenade, which 'whistled through the town the like was never known.' The terrified inhabitants caused the offender to be arrested and put in irons. In June she took a merchant brig, called the 'Medway,' and in July the brigantine 'Honor,' which sold, with her cargo, for £10,692. In September she captured the 'Weymouth Packet,' a brig of fifteen guns, which was fitted up for a cruiser and called the 'Hancock.' The 'Cromwell,' after two and a half years of faithful republican service, was destined to pass into the ranks of royalty. She sailed from New London in May 1779, in command of Capt. Timothy Parker, of Norwich, a seaman of tried gallantry and experience. She was absent twelve days, sent in four prizes, two of them armed vessels, and touched in herself to land her prisoners."

"The privateer brig Oliver Cromwell, Captain William Cole, of Beverly, carried sixteen guns and a hundred men and cruised in the Bay of Biscay. August 4, 1777, and again on the 6th, she was chased by a sixty-gun ship, and not only escaped, but during the chase captured two brigs, one of which "was formerly an American Privateer called the Montgomery, mounting 18 Guns, taken & carried into Gibraltar, Capt. Fibby Commander. She had several Laidys on Board bound to Lisbon, whom we determined to take on Board us & together with all our other Prisoners, land them (as they were affectionately desireous of it) on the British Shore. But at 3 P.M. saw 2 Brigs which we bore away for, and not knowing what they might prove to be, ordered Capt. Gray to keep away from us on a westward Course. Out Oars (being a small Breeze) & rowed towards them. They kept near each other & hove too and formed in a Posture of Battle to receive us. Every Thing being prepared for Battle, we advanced; one of them gave several Shot[t], which we took no Notice of till we came nigh enough to give her 2 Broad Sides, She continuing her Fire. By our well directed Fire She was compelled to strike to us & earnestly beg of us to desist our Fire on her. Our Capt. then ordered to bear away for the other Brig, which orders were immediately complied with. We then charged the other with an incessant Fire for almost 3 Glasses. She returned our Fire for some Time with Spirit, but being disabled, wore off. The other which fell a Stern & notwithstanding she had fairly struck to us, yet seeing her Partners Fire, she worried us with her Bow Chacers, but did us no Damage. But now our Officers began to think of the Man of War, which had been in Chace all Day & was now realistically expected to be near up with us; therefore being dark, they rightly judged it best to give over the Assault for this Night, least falling in between three of them we must be obliged to submit, & so altered our Course." Two days later the Oliver Cromwell fell in with a fleet of British transports convoyed by three men-of-war. August 16 she took three prizes, and a week later was at Bilbao, where she found the Civil Usage and another American privateer. The Cromwell returned to America by a southerly route, and by the middle of October was not far from the Canary Islands. On the 16th she saw a sail which gave chase. "Discovered her to be a Frigate. Now she began to fire at us; many of her Shot went over us. Several struck our Hull & Sails. We hove our Guns overboard & stove some Water & by that means got a little from her." The next day, "the Man of War in Chace hard by. We Rowed & kept at a Distance." October 18, "lost sight of the Man of War." (Essex Institute Collection: July 1909; Boston Gazette, December 15, 1777; London Chronicle, September 2, 1777. Notes for Timothy Brewster Timothy Brewster is a descendant of Elder William Brewster of the "Mayflower". He was in Pawlet, Vermont in 1784 and in 1791 he was licensed to preach by the Baptist of that town. In 1813 Timothy moved to Ellisburg, Jefferson County, New York where he preached in the Baptist church. Later he joined the Disciples and from that time was called Elder Timothy Brewster. He was also a farmer in Ellisburg and owned land here, near that of his son Ephraim who settled there in 1816. His sons Elisha and William settled on adjoining farms, which gave the vicinity the name of Brewster Settlement.

Children of Temperance ANDRUS and Timothy BREWSTER were as follows:

1241 i Ephraim\(^6\) BREWSTER\(^833\), born 9 Apr 1782 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 16 Apr 1880 in Ellisburg, Jefferson County, New York. 1261  iii  Lucy BUSHNELL, born 4 Apr 1789 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut.

Notes for Richard Larrabee

Richard Larrabee served in the American Revolutionary War as a private in Warner's Regiment of Continental Troops. He is shown with various spellings Laraba, Larabee, Laraby and Larrebee (Index to Revolutionary War Service Records, 3:1592, 1594). Richard Larrabee made his initial application for a pension on 11 April 1818 while a resident of Westmoreland, Oneida County, New York. He states he enlisted at Lenox, Berkshire County, Massachusetts in December 1776 in the company of Captain Simion Smith, regiment of Colonel (Walkes or Walker), in General Patterson's Brigade. He was with this regiment until October 1780 when he was taken prisoner by the Indians near Fort George, New York (Pension file, affidavit 11 April 1818). The Indians turned him over to the British and he was taken to Montreal where he was confined in jail for thirteen months; moved up the St. Lawrence river about forty-five miles and remained there for about a year. He was then sent to Boston were he was involved in an exchange of prisoners of war. He immediately rejoined the U.S. Army and on 12 December 1782 he was attached to the First Massachusetts Regiment of Colonel Joseph Vose, General Patterson's Brigade. Richard Larrabee was discharged 9 June 1783 (ibid). He was granted a pension of eight dollars per month to commence on 11 April 1818, the date of his application (Pension file, certificate 8375). Later, Richard Larrabee was required to report on his assets. At age fifty-eight he states he has not given away or hidden any assets; that he rents a small farm and his crops are mostly destroyed by grasshoppers; living with him is his wife fifty-five and sickly; also a son thirteen years old and daughter ten years old. His other children are unable to support him. The court's opinion is that his assets are worth no more than forty dollars (Pension file, affidavit 8 Sep 1820). Compiler's note: The two children would be David and Parmilia. His widow applied for a pension on 11 June 1834 at Rome, Oneida county, New York. Included is an affidavit of son David Larrabee of Paris, Oneida county, and deposes he is the son of Ruth and Richard Larrabee, and that his father died 17 February 1834 (Pension file, affidavit 11 June 1834). Ruth Larrabees pension was eighty dollars per year starting retroactively to 4 March 1836 (Pension file, certificate 16 Sep 1839). Her pension was increased to ninety-six dollars per year, retroactively to 1 July 1848 (Pension file, certificate of 23 Jan 1851). There are no further entries in the pension file and no indication of when pension payments ceased on account of the widow's death. However, on 23 September 1888, there was an inquiry from Nellie Forsyth, 465 13th Street, Oakland, California; she wanted to know if anyone was drawing the pension formerly drawn by the widow Larrabee.

Children of Richard LARRABEE and Ruth SEDGWICK were as follows:
1270 ii Polly LARRABEE, born 10 Jul 1786 in New York. She married John ELKINS.
1271 iii Lucy LARRABEE, born 25 Aug 1788 in New York. She married Adam CAFFEY.

Notes for Mary Andrews

Mary was also called Molly or Polly. Gloucester Vital Records give her marriage on 5 Nov 1778 to Stephen Knutsford, sojourner. She is buried at Folly Cove Grave Yard, age 81 years, 4 months, 28 days.

Notes for Stephen Knutsford

As midshipman, Stephen Knutsford was landed from a British warship at Pigeon Cove as a punishment for a misdemeanor. He afterwards married Annie [sic, Mary] Andrews, the village belle, who it appears had a dream which foretold that which came to pass. This is the beginning of the Knutsford family in Rockport, and it may be the first in the United States.

Children of Mary ANDREWS and Stephen KNUTSFORD were as follows:

1283 i Polly KNUTSFORD, born 1779. She married on 16 Dec 1797 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Daniel ROWE.

Notes for Abijah Perkins
Abijah married Lucy Ely and settled in Marlborough, New York, and died probably in 1784. His wife survived him and married, second, Mr. Smith; third, Mr. Cook. His will is on file and recorded in the offices of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals of the County Clerk at Albany, and of the Secretary of State, and is published by the Society of Colonial Dames of the State of New York. The will is dated 20 August 1776, and it was proved 21 September 1784. He mentions in it his wife Lucy, his children Hannah and George Whitefield Perkins, his brothers and sisters: John, Isaac and Seth Perkins, Lucy Ely, Elizabeth Startin [Sterling], Margaret Belden, Sarah Marvin, Hannah and Lydia Perkins; also his father, who resides at Lyme. The inventory shows, real estate and personal property (books). Executors, his wife, her brother William Ely, son George Whitefield Perkins, and brother-in-law Samuel Startin [Sterling]. Lucy Cook, late Lucy Smith, sworn as executrix.

Children of Abijah PERKINS and Lucy ELY were as follows:

1336 i Hannah 6 PERKINS.
1337 ii George Whitefield 6 PERKINS.

Notes for Isaac Perkins
A tradition mentioned by a descendant is that Isaac Perkins enlisted in the Revolutionary War and was either wounded in battle or was taken sick and died while returning home from the army. An inventory of his estate was taken Jan. 3, 1777. ("At ye Desire of Mr. James Perkins, Mrs. Lois Perkins, widdow, & Relick, of sd. Issac decsd."), etc. It amounted to £123 8s, and included wearing apparel, books, furniture and utensils, part of a set of cooper's tools, cash, a wheel and a cow, besides a "debt due from James Perkins, as appears by four notes of hand he gave the Relict for £18 each for the benefit of children." The widow Lois married, May 15, 1783, Jacob Ely of Lyme, and they probably removed to Harwinton, Connecticut. By her second husband she had seven sons. She died April 11, 1837, aged 81 years and 8 months. Jacob Ely died Sept. 28, 1836.

Children of Isaac PERKINS and Lois BEEBE were as follows:

1338 i James Andrews 6 PERKINS, born 4 Jul 1776.

Essex County, Massachusetts Benjamin STOCKBRIDGE, born 8 Feb 1733/34 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died before 18 Jun 1760 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts, son of Samuel STOCKBRIDGE and Ruth (--); (2) on 11 Jun 1760 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts John THURSTON896, 897, born 30 Jun 1737 in Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 25 Jun 1814 in Deer Isle, Hancock County, Maine, son of Joseph THURSTON and Mary (Lane) FINSON, Widow.

Notes for Benjamin Stockbridge
See: "Genealogies of Mayflower Families, 1500-1800's".

Notes for John Thurston
Captain John Thurston was born on 30 Jun 1737 at Rockport, Massachusetts. Captain John Thurston was a fisherman, living in Rockport, Massachusetts, and lost his vessel to the French in 1783 (during the French and Indian War). He then moved to Deer Isle, Maine and pursued the same business there. He was taken prisoner by the British in the Revolutionary War and was confined in Dartmoor Prison, later released and returned to Rockport, Massachusetts and thence came to Deer Island, Maine, and settled on Lot #102. Eunice (Gott) Stockbridge had a son by her first marriage: Benjamin Stockbridge, Jr. who married Elizabeth Dresser. John and Eunice were members of the Baptist Church. He died on 25 Jun 1814 at age 76.

Dartmoor Prison: at Princetown, Devonshire, England was built 1806-1809 to house French captives during the Napoleonic Wars. During the War of 1812 many American prisoners were confined there, and their brutal mistreatment was investigated after the war by an Anglo-American commission that awarded compensation to the families of those who had died there. Between 1812 and 1816 about 1,500 American and French prisoners died in the prison and were buried in a field beyond the prison walls. Unoccupied for over 30 years, Dartmoor was reopened in 1850 as a civilian prison for convicts sentenced to long terms of imprisonment or to hard labor.

Notes for William Gott

William enlisted and served in the Revolutionary War. He was wounded and a report of his death reached his wife. William who is said to have been a "Seer gifted with second sight," saw in a vision that marriage of his widow with one Gray, of Stark. Discharge from the army, made his way home to find that his wife had married, just as he had dreamed. Neither she nor the children were overjoyed at his return and so, the story goes, drove him from their door. He settled in Madison, where he lived and died, but buried at Stark, beside his former wife, who, at the time of William's internment was quite incapable of turning him away a second time.

Children of William GOTT and Sarah GAMAGE were as follows:

+ 1504 i William^6 GOTT, born 1771. He married (1) Elizabeth GROVER; (2) Judith MCKENNEY.

925 Ibid., pp. 231-232. See reference for land transactions.
503. Theophilus LANE (Abigail Norwood, Elizabeth Andrews, William, John), born 9 Jul 1752. He married (1) Susannah DAVIS; (2) Rebecca (---).

Notes for Theophilus Lane

Theophilus' widowed mother Abigail was appointed his guardian, 27 Nov 1770. He was a shoemaker and went early in life to North Yarmouth, Maine where he subscribed to a private school on 27 March 1770. The following is written about Theophilus by F. F. Babson: "Being out on the fishing ground in the spring of 1776 he was seized by an English vessel and employed as a pilot to bring the craft into Gloucester bay. He had assured the captain that Gloucester was in the hands of the British and thus induced him to run into this port. Gloucester people went off to her in sufficient number to overpower the crew and took possession of the vessel." Theophilus and his second wife Rebecca sold to Thomas Wentworth, tailor, for $180, June 1, 1801, part of Lot 32, with buildings in North Yarmouth, "which I purchased from Joseph Banks." Five other transfers of real estate by him are recorded between 1801 and 1810.

Children of Theophilus LANE and Susannah DAVIS were as follows:

1586 i. Theophilus LANE. He married Zeruiah (Ring) PORTER, Widow, born 7 Oct 1792; died 12 Nov 1867, daughter of Eleazer RING and Olive MITCHELL.

509. Samuel WANSON (Patience Norwood, Elizabeth Andrews, William, John), born 1751 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 1829 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married (1) Sally LURVEY; (2) on 27 Sep 1772 Lydia GOTT, born 1750 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died Aug 1829 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of William GOTT and Elizabeth WANSON.

Notes for Lydia Gott

IT NEEDS TO BE PROVEN THAT LYDIA WAS THE DAUGHTER OF WILLIAM AND ELIZABETH (WANSON) GOTT. There is confusion between Lydia Gott and a Lois Gott of Gloucester, Massachusetts born 23 Sept 1750 the daughter of Stephen and Eunice (Emmons) Gott who married 14 March 1773 Samuel Gott (c.1752-1828).

Children of Samuel WANSON and Sally LURVEY were as follows:

1587 i. Nancy WANSON.
1588 ii. Sally WANSON.
1589 iii. William WANSON.

514. Caleb NORWOOD, Jr. (Caleb, Elizabeth Andrews, William, John), born 5 Jul 1762 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married on 27 Sep 1781 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Jerusha STORY (see 603), born 14 Dec 1756 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Jerusha STORY.

Notes for Jerusha Story

The following from the Robert L. Pratt reference: "From what the author can learn it appears that Jerusha was a child of Jerusha Story born out of wedlock. Jerusha was with her mother when Jerusha married in 1770 Caleb Norwood, Sr. It is not surprising that Caleb Norwood, Jr. would marry Jerusha since this girl probably came with her mother to live with her father-in-law to be. In the Vital Records of Gloucester; Jerusha, in her marriage to Caleb Norwood Jr., is listed as Jerusha Story [Vital Records, Gloucester 2:528]. That Jerusha had married someone prior to Caleb Norwood cannot be ruled out however. In fact, in her marriage to Caleb Norwood [ibid] she is listed as Mrs. Jerusha Story.

Children of Caleb NORWOOD, Jr. and Jerusha STORY were as follows:

1590 i Caleb 6 NORWOOD, born 29 Mar 1785 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts.

1591 ii Betsy 6 NORWOOD, born 28 Dec 1789 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts.

1592 iii Charles 6 NORWOOD, born 31 Dec 1794 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married on 16 Oct 1813 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Tammy YORK.

1593 iv Gorham 6 NORWOOD, born 28 Jan 1797 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married on 25 Dec 1823 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Eliza PATCH.

1594 v Theodore 6 NORWOOD, born 3 Sep 1798 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts.

Children of Thomas BUTLER and Elizabeth HOLT were as follows:

1596 ii Zebediah 6 BUTLER, born 13 Apr 1759 in Windham, Windham County, Connecticut. He married about 1780 in Windham, Windham County, Connecticut Hannah WALES, daughter of Elisha WALES and Meriam (---).

540. Lucy 5 RUST931 (Enoch 4, Miriam 3 Andrews, William 2, John 1), born 1767; died 19 Aug 1852. She married Mr. RIDGWAY.

Notes for Lucy Rust
Lucy made her will in 1835. She is buried in 38 Copp Hill, Boston, marked "L. Ridgway's tomb, 1819".

Children of Lucy RUST and Mr. RIDGWAY were as follows:

1597 i Enoch Henry 6 RIDGWAY, born 1781; died 22 Jun 1857. Notes: Enoch Henry was called "Rust", he died unmarried at age 76 years.

+ 1598 ii Lucy Myrick 6 RIDGWAY, born 1784; died 1824 in Boston, Suffolk County, Massachusetts. She married William INGALLS.

546. Isaac 4 RUST (Zebulon, Miriam 3 Andrews, William 2, John 1), born 21 Aug 1764. He married Mary RING.

Children of Isaac RUST and Mary RING were as follows:

1599 i Zebulon 6 RUST, born 10 May 1787; died 4 Feb 1867. He married on 23 May 1827 Harriet (Sargent) EMERTON, WIDOW, born 1799; died May 1881.

547. Nathaniel 4 RUST (Zebulon, Miriam 3 Andrews, William 2, John 1), born 10 May 1768 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Esther WOODBURY.

Children of Nathaniel RUST and Esther WOODBURY were as follows:

1600 i Esther 6 RUST, christened 15 Dec 1793.

1612 ii Sarah5 STORY, born May 1787 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire. Notes: Sarah died young.

553. Zachariah6 STORY934,935,936 (Jeremiah, Rachel Andrews, William, John), christened 20 Dec 1741 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 12 May 1831 in West Windsor, Windsor County, Vermont, buried in Shedsville Cemetery, West Windsor, Windsor County, Vermont. He married on 19 Nov 1761 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Susannah LOW937,938, born 3 Oct 1748 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 27 Aug 1824 in West Windsers, Windsor County, Vermont, buried in Shedsville Cemetery, West Windsor, Windsor County, Vermont, daughter of Samuel LOW and Jemima WOODBURY.

Notes for Zachariah Story

Zachariah served on the schooner "Shatlet" out of Gloucester, Massachusetts. He purchased 65 acres in Hopkinton, New Hampshire in 1790 and moved to West Windsor, Vermont where he purchased 200 acres. He served in the Revolutionary War in the New Hampshire Company of Benjamin Silas. There were four children born to Zachariah and Susannah early in their marriage but they all died young. Zachariah went to sea as a cabin boy and eventually became Master of the sloop "Charlotte." He signed the 1776 loyalty oath at Hopkinton, New Hampshire and served in the Revolution between 1776 and 1783 as Captain in the New Hampshire militia.

Dyer Story was the thirteenth son of Zachariah and Susannah Low. Zachariah Story, in his early career, was the master of the sloop Charlotte that sailed the seas, trading New England products in the West Indies. When Captain Story tired of the sea, he and his growing family settled for a while in Hopkinton, New Hampshire. In 1790, at the age of forty-nine, he came to the West Parish of Windsor and bought 200 acres on the lower slopes of Ascutney Mountain, just west of the present village of Brownsville. He cleared the land and built a brick house (south side of Route 44, less than a mile west of the center of Brownsville). Of the nine children in the family when they arrived (he and Susannah had buried four) Asa (later, the well-known gunsmith) was two years old, Dyer was one year.

Children of Zachariah STORY and Susannah LOW were as follows:

1613 i Jemima STORY, born 1772 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire; died 13 Jul 1798 in Windsor, Windsor County, Vermont. She married Henry HERRICK.

1614 ii Isaac STORY, born 12 Apr 1776 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire; died 2 Nov 1801 in Windsor, Windsor County, Vermont; buried in Shedsville Cemetery, West Windsor, Windsor County, Vermont. Notes: Isaac was never married. He practiced as a Doctor for two years at Windsor, Vermont. ("History of Windsor County, Vermont with Biographical Sketches of its Prominent Men", by F. R. Holmes and L.C. Alrich; D. Mason & Co., Syracuse, NY, 1801).

1615 iii Zachariah STORY, born 1 Jun 1778 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire; died 3 Feb 1799 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: Zachariah was never married, he died of fever at Daniel Low's home in Ipswich, Massachusetts.

1616 iv Susannah STORY, born 21 Apr 1780 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire; died 3 Oct 1863 in Reading, Windsor County, Vermont; buried in Amsden Cemetery, Reading, Vermont. She married (1) Abel AMSDEN; (2) Oliver BLOOD.

Notes for Thomas Story

Thomas, known as Captain, moved to Hopkinton, New Hampshire about 1775. He and Hannah were dismissed from the Chebacco Second Church to Hopkinton, New Hampshire. He served in the Revolutionary War with Colonel Isaac Wyman's Regiment at Mount Independence in 1776. The will of Thomas Story probated in 1818 names his wife Hannah, four daughters Betsey, Susannah, Lucy and Margaret. (Nashua, New Hampshire probate records #03356, 1818). He also mentions Sewell Story, Charles Story and Harriet Story, children of his son Thomas, deceased, as well as his son Moses who was the executor. The executor paid Sarah Story, widow of Jeremiah as per contract in discharge of said Thomas Story estate the sum of $324.17.

Children of Thomas STORY and Hannah BURNHAM were as follows:

1625 i Hannah STORY, born 19 Aug 1770 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.

+ 1626 ii Susannah STORY, born 21 Sep 1772 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 1841. She married Nathaniel HOLMES.

Notes for Nathan Story

The will of Nathan Story was probated in 1819 and the widow Sarah declined appointment as administrator; his son William Knight Story was the administrator. Nathan had deeded his property to his son Nathan in 1830. (Nashua, New Hampshire Probate Records, #0814 (1819). Nathan was a Revolutionary War soldier in the Ipswich militia between 1775-79. In 1776, he signed the loyalty oath at Hopkinton, New Hampshire.

Children of Nathan Story and Sarah BURNHAM were as follows:

1634  i  Sarah Story, born 13 Sep 1772 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 13 Aug 1800.
+ 1635  ii  Elizabeth Story, born 30 Jul 1775 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 21 Mar 1850 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire. She married Moses HOYT.
+ 1636  iii  Nathan Story, born 3 Jul 1780 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire; died 18 Sep 1867 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire. He married Lydia KNOWLTON.
+ 1637  iv  William King Story, born 29 Dec 1781 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire; died 16 Sep 1867 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire. He married Lydia KNOWLTON.
1638  v  Hannah Story, born 30 Apr 1785 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire; died 1866.
1639  vi  Francis Story, born 20 Jul 1787 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire; died 26 Jul 1788 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire.
1640  vii  Lydia Story, born 1 May 1790 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire; died 3 Jan 1883 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire.
+ 1641  viii  Phebe Story, born 5 Jul 1793 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire; died 23 Aug 1865 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire. She married John SAWYER.
+ 1642  ix  Eleanor Story, born 13 Mar 1795 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire. She married Alexander NICHOLS.

Notes for Joseph Storer, Sr.

Joseph moved to Weld, Maine in the winter of 1807 and his surname was changed to STORER. "The name Storer is said to have originated with a Mr. Abbott, in writing deeds of land to those of the name Story who first went to Maine." This is from the "Dows or Dowse Family in America" by Azro Milton Dows. Joseph served in the Revolutionary War in Capt. Silas's New Hampshire Company.

Children of Joseph STORER, Sr. and Rachel LOW were as follows:

+ 1643  i  Rachel Low Storer, born 10 Sep 1774 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire; died 13 Feb 1869 in Sutton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire. She married Samuel DRESSER.

The Descendants of Lieut. John Andrews of Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. by Betty Andrews Storey 2009

Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 5 Jun 1819 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married (1) on 22 Nov 1768 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Eunice CHOATE985, christened 2 Feb 1746 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died before 1808 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Daniel CHOATE and Hannah PROCTOR; (2) on 8 Dec 1808 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Elizabeth STORY986 (see 600), born Feb 1773 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 5 Nov 1859 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Jesse STORY, Sr. and Ruhami BURNHAM.

Notes for Nathan Story

Nathan moved from Ipswich to Manchester, Massachusetts as a young man where he lived at the time of his marriage with Eunice Choate of Ipswich. He was known as Skipper Nathan Story. It seems possible that Nathan returned to Chebacco at or soon after his marriage with Elizabeth (Story) Holmes. He died 5 June 1819, age 73. His will made 4 June 1819 he is mentioned as Nathan Story of Essex, laborer, with children: sons Daniel, Charles, David; daughters Mary Dunnels, Eunice Burnham, Sarah Brown, Hannah Norton, Ruth Colado and children and granddaughter Miriam Williams. Inventory of estate made 6 Sept 1819, Joseph Story executor. The 1855 state census for Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts shows the Charles Story household that includes his mother Elizabeth Story, age 84.

Notes for Eunice Choate

The marriage of Daniel Choate and Widow Pitman and the baptisms of their four children are recorded in the Church records of Chebacco parish. Robert Choate [son of John and Elizabeth (Giddings) Choate] was appointed guardian of Daniel, Susanna, Hannah and Eunice, children of Daniel Choate, July 9, 1750 (Ipswich vital records). Mr. Daniel Choate had only one son, Daniel, who was a boy of eight when his father died. He was lost at sea when about thirty years of age, and his estate was settled Feb. 28, 1769, and there appear the following brothers and sisters, viz., John Pitman, Susanna Andrews, Hannah Pierce, Eunice Story and Mary Wheeler. John Pitman and Mary Wheeler were doubtless the children of Mrs. Hannah Choate by her first husband, John Pitman. "The children of Hannah, widow of John Pitman, inherited 1/6 of the estate of Daniel Choate, 1769 who was lost at sea." Probate Records, Salem, Massachusetts. Mrs. Choate who before her marriage was Hannah Proctor, as appears from the following: "Nov 30th 1730 John Pitman of Marblehead and Hannah Proctor of Ipswich" among the marriages of the Church Records of Essex, Massachusetts.

Notes for Elizabeth Story

Elizabeth was the widow of Thomas Holmes and daughter of Jesse Story. She died a widow at age 88 years 9 months.

Children of Nathan STORY and Eunice CHOATE were as follows:

+ 1692 i Nathan STORY, born 27 Aug 1769 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 19 Sep 1817 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Joanna FOSTER.

+ 1693 ii Eunice STORY, born 5 Nov 1771 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died Dec 1774 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts.

+ 1694 iii Mary STORY, born 22 Sep 1773 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married Israel DUNNELS.

The Descendants of Lieut. John Andrews of Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. by Betty Andrews Storey 2009

Children of Nathan STORY and Elizabeth STORY were as follows:

+ 1700 i Charles STORY, born 11 Sep 1809 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 20 Oct 1880 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Eleanor BURNHAM (see 4317).

+ 1701 ii David STORY, born 1812 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 13 Apr 1875 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; buried in Spring Street Cemetery, Essex, Massachusetts. He married (1) Susan GOLDSMITH; (2) Sarah Augusta BURNHAM (see 4370).

578. Nehemiah STORY, Jr.987, 988, 989, 990 (Nehemiah1, Rachel Andrews2, William RIGHT3, John4), christened 26 Feb 1748/49 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 1784 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married on 7 Apr 1771 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts Lucy ALLEN991, 992, died993 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts.

Notes for Nehemiah Story, Jr.
Marriage date is that of intent to marry. Nehemiah served in the Revolutionary War. Story, Nehemiah, Manchester. Master, sloop "Liverpool"; descriptive list of officers and crew, sworn to May 17, 1780; age 31 years.; stature, 5 ft. 10 in.; complexion, light; residence, Manchester. Elnathan Whitney was appointed guardian to the children of Nehemiah Story. Lucy Story (now Whitney) was administrator of Nehemiah's estate and distributed money to Nehemiah, Lucy, Sarah and Bethia in 1789.

Notes for Lucy Allen
The ancestry of Lucy Allen who married Nehemiah Story is unknown to me at this time. Lucy (Allen) Story married secondly, Elnathan Whitney in 1784. Elnathan Whitney was appointed guardian to the children on Nehemiah Story. Lucy Story, now Whitney, acted as administrator of Nehemiah's estate which distributed money to Nehemiah, Lucy, Sarah and Bethia in 1789.

Birth record, page 13 Manchester births of 3 Nov 1751 is for the Lucy Allen that was the daughter of Jacob Allen and Sarah Lee.

According to "The Fewkes-Darling Papers" from Ipswich Public Library, the Lucy Allen that married Nehemiah Story is the daughter of Jacob Allen and Sarah Lee. This is not correct. According to the "Allen Genealogy" in the "Essex Antiquarian", Volume II page 161, that Lucy Allen married George Towgel and ___ Whitney.

"The Genealogy of the Allen Family" by George Price page 237 has Lucy Allen, the daughter of Jacob Allen and Sarah Lee as marrying George Towgel of Marblehead, 13 Sept 1772.

Children of Nehemiah STORY, Jr. and Lucy ALLEN were as follows:

1702 i Lucy STORY, born 5 Sep 1771 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 24 Mar 1794 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 3 Dec 1789 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts Aaron ALLEN994, born 28 Aug 1765 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 31 Mar 1839 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts, son of Malachi ALLEN and Ruth EDWARDS.

+ 1703 ii Sarah STORY, born 29 Aug 1773 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 19 May 1860 in Goffstown, Hillsborough County, New Hampshire. She married Edward Abbot SALTMARSH.

1704 iii Bethia STORY, born 25 Dec 1775 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 1834. She married in 1795 Moses RING.

1705 iv Nehemiah Story, born 20 Feb 1779 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 19 Nov 1803 at sea. He married on 26 Jun 1803 Hannah Story, born 29 Feb 1784 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 27 Jan 1835 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Henry Story and Hannah Tewksbury. Notes: Nehemiah was a Captain, he died at sea at age 25.

579. Rachel Story (Nehemiah, Rachel Andrews, William, John), christened 23 Jun 1751 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 25 Jul 1842 in Freeport, Cumberland County, Maine. She married on 1 Dec 1768 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts David Hooper, born 28 May 1745 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 19 Feb 1835 in Freeport, Cumberland County, Maine, son of Andrew Hooper.

Children of Rachel Story and David Hooper were as follows:

1706 i David Hooper, born 15 Aug 1769 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts.
1707 ii Nehemiah Hooper, born 3 Sep 1772 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts.
1708 iii Rachel Hooper, christened 26 Jun 1774 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 21 Mar 1869. She married Moses Harris.

Lawrence on this cruise we had an Engagement with a British brig of 18 guns but she escaped at the End of our 3 months tour we returned to Salem he then immediately shipped on board the Mohawk for a Privateering cruise off the West India Islands in cruise we took 2 prizes sent them to Martinica (Martinique) & sold them & returned home to Beverly in Massachusetts was out in this cruise say as near as I recollect 6 months"

[Martinique was a heavily used port in the West Indies. Many American privateering cruises took captured British ships there, sold them, and took the money back to the States to help finance the Continental Army. Many of the arms taken from the captured ships or "prizes" were taken back to the States and used against the British Army. The privateering raids on British shipping were more injurious to the British than the "major" naval battles were. By the end of the war, privateering raids had taken about 1500 British vessels and captured more than 12,000 British sailors. By 1781 British merchants were screaming for an end to the hostilities because their trade was virtually halted.]

http://www.salemweb.com/guide/arch/houses.shtml  "One of the early traders and merchants in Salem, Captain John Turner owned a number of ships and made his fortune in the Barbados trade. He built his house, later to become famous as the House of the Seven Gables, near his wharf. The house remained in his family for three generations and underwent many renovations. It was built in 1908 by Caroline O. Emmerton who was responsible for its restoration."

Notes for Westley Burnham, Jr.

In Memory of / Mr. Wesley Burnham, / who died / Sept. 1, 1835; / Aged 88 years

"Captain Wesley Burnham was in early life a sailor. At the age of seventeen he made a voyage to Lisbon, and rowed in a boat over the site of "Old Lisbon", which had been destroyed and sunk by an earthquake in 1755. For a short time he served as a soldier in the War of the Revolution. Afterwards he entered the privateering service. In an engagement with the enemy, the vessel in which he sailed was captured, and with the rest of the crew he was carried to England. An order of the admiralty gave permission to any American prisoners to go on board His Majesty's ships and do sailor's duty, except fighting, if they should choose to do so.

After remaining some time in the "Mill Prison", he took advantage of this order, and entered service on the seventy-four gunship "Preston". While on a cruise to the West India station he was taken sick with the small pox, and was left in a hospital in Jamaica. He was so near to dying there, that one man who returned to this country from that island, reported to his family that he was dead. On his recovery he immediately took ship for Boston, and on arriving there walked to Chebacco. His arrival was noised abroad and as he expressed it, "that night all Chebacco was at the house to see one who had risen from the dead". Captain Westley Burnham became a successful navigator. No vessel commanded by him was ever wrecked or dismasted, and his judgment in maritime matters was very highly esteemed. He afterwards followed the hereditary occupation of vessel-building. For a considerable length of time he was totally blind. He was a man of extraordinary strength."

"History of the Town of Essex" by Rev. Robert Crowell, pages 312-315: This source includes much of the same information as above with these additions: "He became a successful navigator, although his education had been only such as Chebacco afforded. He was always styled "Skipper Westley". For several years in succession, he made voyages to Virginia. The cargoes in those days usually consisted of fish, lumber and New England rum. In exchange for these, corn, raccoon skins, snake root and rice were obtained, and brought into Chebacco, or disposed of at other harbors in the country. Mr. Burnham was also a fisherman and made many trips to the "Grand Banks".

Though not a member of the church; he was a constant church goer and a strict observer of the Sabbath, which in his belief and practice commenced on Saturday evening. For a considerable length of time, he was totally blind. And it is very significant fact with reference to his intelligence and mental training, that he was accustomed to spend his evenings in listening to the reading of a grandson (who was for several years a member of his family), partly for his own entertainment but also for the sake of knowing what the boy was in the habit of reading and training him to the correct pronunciation. Mistakes in accent and in the emphasis were carefully criticized and passages were required to be read over and over again until their meaning was properly and fully expressed.

The grandchildren of Skipper Westley have numbered 81. His favorite employ has, to a great extent, been adopted by his descendants, though few of them have had as much of a seafaring life and so many nautical adventures to relate as his son Samuel." In 1771 he married Molly, daughter of Robert Woodbury of Beverly Farms.

Revolutionary War service, taken from the Daughters of the American Revolution national membership number 449466: this is the membership application for Mrs. Rachael Preston Richardson born in 1900. Westley volunteered in Feb or March 1776 and served eight months as a private in Capt. Daniel Giddings’ Company, Col. Joseph Foster's Regiment. He reenlisted in Dec 1776 and served three months as a private in Capt. Ray's Company, Col. Pickering's Massachusetts Regiment. He was in the Battle of Benus Heights and was present at the surrender of Burgoyne. Westley also served in a training band in 1778. Burnam, Wesley, Jr. Private, Capt. David Low's (3rd) co., Col. Cogswell's regt.; return of train bank and alarm list dated April 30, 1778; reported as belonging to the train band.

From an announcement of a monthly meeting Sept 2005 for the Essex Historical Society & Shipbuilding Museum: There are pictures of some Burnhams, Goodhues, Andrews from the mid 1800's, old pictures of houses on Southern Ave.,

Notes for Nathan Story

Nathan moved from Ipswich to Manchester, Massachusetts as a young man where he lived at the time of his marriage with Eunice Choate of Ipswich. He was known as Skipper Nathan Story. It seems possible that Nathan returned to Chebacco at or soon after his marriage with Elizabeth (Story) Holmes. He died 5 June 1819, age 73. His will made 4 June 1819 he is mentioned as Nathan Story of Essex, laborer, with children: sons Daniel, Charles, David; daughters Mary Dunnels, Eunice Burnham, Sarah Brown, Hannah Norton, Ruth Colado and children and granddaughter Miriam Williams. Inventory of estate made 6 Sept 1819, Joseph Story executor. The 1855 state census for Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts shows the Charles Story household that includes his mother Elizabeth Story, age 84.

Children of Elizabeth STORY and Thomas HOLMES were as follows:

1792  i  Ruhamah\(^6\) HOLMES\(^{1060}\).

1793  ii  Thomas\(^6\) HOLMES, born 1794; died 5 Mar 1875.

601. Ephraim\(^5\) STORY\(^{1061}\) (Jesse\(^4\), Rachel\(^3\) Andrews, William\(^2\), John\(^1\)), christened 16 Jun 1776 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 10 Mar 1857 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married on 19 Feb 1804 in Andover, Essex County, Massachusetts Hannah Burnham GOLDSMITH\(^{1062, 1063}\), born 10 Aug 1783 in Andover, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Benjamin GOLDSMITH and Hannah ABBOTT.

Notes for Ephraim Story

The 1850 census for Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts shows Ephraim Story age 76, farmer with wife Hannah B.

Notes for Israel Andrews, Sr.

Israel probably moved from Scarborough to Machias with his parents prior to 26 Jul 1766, his father being among those who on that date joined in signing a power of attorney to Ichabod Jones of Boston to represent the colony's interest before the Massachusetts General Court (James Phinney Baxter, ed.; "Documentary History of the State of Maine", Vol. XIII, Containing the Baxter Manuscripts, Maine Historical Society. Collection, 2nd Series, 13 [1909], pp. 431-33). His father was also named among those who petitioned for the incorporation of Machias in 1769; he may have arrived by 1765, although he is not specifically named among those who arrived that year (George W. Drisko, "Narrative of the Town of Machias" [1904], p. 20; Machias Memorial, p. 152). Israel shortly afterwards went to Nova Scotia where he secured a land grant in Cornwallis in Oct 1771.

He evidently returned to Machias following the start of the Revolutionary War, as he had service during the Revolutionary War from Machias, first as a private in Jun 1777, then as a corporal at a second enlistment in Jul 1777, and finally as a sergeant in 1779 (MS&S I :248; Fishers’ Soldiers, p.16). His widow applied for a pension in 1841 based on this service (White's "Revolutionary War Pension Abstracts", p. 62). Israel's only recorded land purchase in Washington County, Maine, was on 13 May 1788 when he procured at auction a parcel of land in what is now East Machias which was sold to cover the just debts and incidental charges of his late brother-in-law Joseph Sevey, Jr. (Washington County deed 15:406). The deed of record on this transaction, however, was executed only some 20 years later on 25 Jul 1807 (ibid.).

A deed of Israel Jr. affirms that this property is "the same lot of land my father as aforesaid once lived upon" (Washington County deed 18:514). Israel sold this lot to his two oldest sons some 10 months before his death (Washington County deed 5:407-8). It is interesting to note, though, that at the Aug 1809 session of the Washington County Court of Common Pleas several small suits against Israel were awarded to the plaintiffs and portions of his lands set off to pay these claims (e.g., Washington County deeds 6:55, 58). These note that Israel 'neglects & refused to choose for himself one of the 3 persons charged with appraising the lands to be set off. It is unclear whether these judgments against Israel were subsequently converted to cash payments or the awards overturned due to the prior sale of that land to his sons. In 1828, Israel [Jr.] "in consideration of a bond by me given" sold this property to his 2 youngest brothers "agreeable to my father's will" (Washington County deed 18:514). In each of the deeds concerning Israel, his occupation is given as yeoman.

Israel served in Revolutionary War as follows: Andrews, Israel. Private, Capt. Joseph Sevey's co., Col. Benjamin Foster's (Lincoln Co.) regt.; enlisted June 23, 1777; discharged July 16, 1777; service, 23 days, at Machias, when ship "Ambuscade" lay in the harbor; also, Corporal; pay roll for service from July 16, 1777, to Oct. 10, 1777, 3 mos. 24 days; stationed at Machias when British ships lay in the harbor until relieved by Col. John Allan; also, Sergeant, Lieut. John Scott's co., 6th Lincoln Co. regt.; service 6 days at Machias, between Aug. 31 and Nov. 20, 1779."

Children of Israel ANDREWS, Sr. and Mary SEAVEY were as follows:

+ 1870 i Mary ANDREWS, born 13 Jul 1781 in Machias, Washington County, Maine. She married Burnham HATHAWAY.

+ 1871 ii Israel ANDREWS, Jr., born 14 Apr 1784 in Machias, Washington County, Maine; died 16 Dec 1859 in Northfield, Washington County, Maine. He married (1) Olive ANDREWS (see 1880); (2) Elizabeth (---).

+ 1872 iii Joseph ANDREWS, born 6 Mar 1787 in Machias, Washington County, Maine; died 17 Jun 1858 in East Machias, Washington County, Maine; buried in East Machias Cemetery, East Machias, Maine. He married Mary GRAY.

Dartmoor Prison at Princetown, Devonshire, England was built 1806-1809 to house French captives during the Napoleonic Wars. During the War of 1812 many American prisoners were confined there, and their brutal mistreatment was investigated after the war by an Anglo-American commission that awarded compensation to the families of those who had died there. Between 1812 and 1816 about 1,500 American and French prisoners died in the prison and were buried in a field beyond the prison walls. Unoccupied for over 30 years, Dartmoor was reopened in 1850 as a civilian prison for convicts sentenced to long terms of imprisonment or to hard labor.

Notes for Moses Elsemore

In 1790 Moses was the only Elsemore head-of-household listed in the Maine census which would suggest he came from another location. A Moses, John, and William Elsemore served in the same units of the third and fourth Virginia regiments of the Continental line during the Revolutionary War, however it has not been proven that this was the same Moses. No further information on this family was located in Virginia records. However, the Moses Elsemore of Maine was a Revolutionary War veteran as proven by his appearance in court on 28 Aug 1832 in which he and others "made declarations under oath of their services in the war of the Revolution" (Washington County Probate 8:125). However, this record unfortunately does not provide confirmation that this service was with the Virginia unit mentioned above. In 1789 and in 1803, Moses served as a hog reeve in Machias, and on 8 May 1794 he was one of a group asked "to consider some other method better calculated for preservation of fish". By 1820, he was living in Plantation #18 [now Jacksonville] where he apparently resided until his death. The 1850 census for Township 18, Washington County, Maine shows the Charles Elsimore [as written] household that includes his mother Lydia Elsimore [as written] age 81.

Children of Lydia ANDREWS and Moses ELSEMORE were as follows:

+ 1914 i Sophia\(^6\) ELSEMORE, born 7 Dec 1785 in Machias, Washington County, Maine; died 1861 in Waterville, Kennebec County, Maine. She married (1) Mark THING; (2) Pelatiah PENNEY.

+ 1915 ii William\(^6\) ELSEMORE, born 24 Aug 1787 in Machias, Washington County, Maine; died 25 Feb 1885 in East Machias, Washington County, Maine; buried in Elsemore Family Cemetery, East Machias, Maine. He married Lucy G. FULSOM.

1916 iii Moses\(^6\) ELSEMORE, born 31 Aug 1789 in Machias, Washington County, Maine. He married on 16 Jul 1814 in Machias, Washington County, Maine Lucy FOSTER\(^{1121}\), daughter of John Wooden FOSTER and Lucy CHASE.

+ 1917 iv Samuel\(^6\) ELSEMORE, born 20 Oct 1791 in Machias, Washington County, Maine; died 19 Sep 1855 in East Machias, Washington County, Maine. He married Mary CHALONER.

1918 v Sally\(^6\) ELSEMORE, born 24 Mar 1793 in Machias, Washington County, Maine. She married on 20 Oct 1811 Mark FENLASON, born 4 Jul 1788; died before 1840, son of Wallis FENLASON and Susannah SCOTT. Notes: Sally was a widow by 1840 when she was enumerated in Alexander, Washington County, Maine, as "widow Sally, Mark Fenlason," heading a household containing three males and three other females.

1919 vi Lydia\(^6\) ELSEMORE, born 17 Apr 1795 in Machias, Washington County, Maine. She married John FENLASON, born 30 Jul 1790, son of Wallis FENLASON and Susannah SCOTT.

1930 iii Jonathan MARSHALL, born Oct 1780 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine. He married Phebe MILLKEN.

1931 iv Anna MARSHALL, christened 31 Oct 1783 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine. Notes: Anna probably died young.

1932 v Joel MARSHALL, born 1 Jun 1786 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine. He married (1) on 5 Jul 1807 in Buxton, York County, Maine Elizabeth KIMBALL, born 2 Jan 1784 in Buxton, York County, Maine; died 18 Apr 1833 in Buxton, York County, Maine, daughter of Joshua KIMBALL and Martha ELDEN; (2) Mary (Sweet) MOULTON, Widow. Notes: Joel was born after his father died at sea, he was a captain.

642. Amos ANDREWS (Amos', Jonathan', William', John'), christened 3 Sep 1758 in Scarborough, Cumberland County, Maine; died 1790 in Buxton, York County, Maine. He married (1) on 30 Nov 1779 in Buxton, York County, Maine Elizabeth KIMBALL, born 2 Jan 1784 in Buxton, York County, Maine; died 18 Apr 1833 in Buxton, York County, Maine, daughter of Joshua KIMBALL and Martha ELDEN; (2) Mary (Sweet) MOULTON, Widow. Notes: Joel was born after his father died at sea, he was a captain.

County, Maine, died in St. George Island, Lincoln County, Maine. He married on 1 Mar 1785 Susannah YOUNG\(^{1125}\), born 9 Aug 1764 in York, York County, Maine, daughter of Abraham YOUNG and Phoebe YOUNG.

Notes for Amos Andrews

On 21 March 1792, Amos, a fisherman then living on Matinicus Island, bought the northern half of the Great Muscle Ridge Island (Lincoln County Deed 28:93). Amos, a mariner in 1798, sold about 100 acres of land on Welch's Island to John Andrews (Lincoln County Deed 147:147). This would be Amos' brother John Andrews baptized in Scarborough 23 Aug 1761. On 30 Dec 1805, Amos was described as a farmer living on Welch's Island [also known as Pond Island], which is part of the Muscle Ridge Islands. At that time, he sold another of the Muscle Ridge Islands known as High Island containing 30 acres more or less (Lincoln County Deed 58:105).

The inventory of the estate of Amos Andrews late of St. George, yeoman, was appraised 12 Jan 1828 for $592.51 and included, among other property, the homestead which was located on an island, the name of which was left blank on the probate documents. Other items on the inventory were 85 sheep, a loom and spinning wheels, wool and woolen yarn, fish lines and leads, boat sails, a grindstone belonging to J. Graffam, a wherry belonging to P. Metcalf and a mariner's compass (Lincoln County Probate 28:359-360). The estate was eventually declared insolvent (Lincoln County Probate 31:105-06).

The children listed as those found on page 142 in "Matinicus Isle: Its Story and Its People" by Charles A. E. Long, 1926. This reference states that Amos and Susannah had a family of 15 children, but only the names of Pamelia, Deborah and two marriages of unnamed daughters appear. [See "Maine Families in 1790" Vol. 7, p. 9, for references used in giving names Joanna, Sarah and Margaret to unnamed daughters.] The 1790, 1800 and 1810 census records suggest they did not have 15 children who lived to maturity. The source lists three other "possible" children taken from census records that are not included in this publication. Susannah was living in the 1850 census in St. George with her daughter Deborah, her husband Jonathan Norton and family.

Children of Amos ANDREWS and Susannah YOUNG were as follows:

+ 1933 i Joanna ANDREWS, born 1 Nov 1786 in Matinicus Island, Knox County, Maine. She married David PHILBROOK.

+ 1934 ii Sarah ANDREWS, born 1788. She married Jacob GRAFFAM.

+ 1935 iii Permelia ANDREWS, born 1791; died 15 Oct 1877 in Camden, Knox County, Maine. She married Jonathan ALLEN.

Notes for Solomon Andrews

Solomon moved with his parents to Hillsboro when he was eight years old. He was a farmer and shoemaker. On 5 Jul 1777 he was a private in Col. Thomas Stickney's regiment, commanded by Col. Henry Gerrish. This regiment was raised in Concord and nearby towns. On 5 July 1777 the company which Solomon was assigned marched to the relief of the garrison at Fort Ticonderoga. They had marched 70 miles when news came that the Fort has been evacuated. Solomon was honorably discharged from his assignment of 12 July 1777 and received payment for eight days of service and travel amounting to: one pound, 18 shillings and fourpence.

On 20 July 1777 Solomon re-enlisted as a private in Capt. Ebenezer Webster's Company in Col. Thomas Stickney's regiment, General Stark's brigade that had been raised out of the militia of New Hampshire. This command joined the Continental Army at Bennington, Vermont and Stillwater. He participated in the battle of Bennington on 16 Aug 1777. For this service he received payment from 2 July 1777 to 25 Sept 1777, including travel for a sum of: 10 pounds, 15 shillings and sixpence.

On 16 Aug 1777 one of the most significant battles of the Revolution took place when a force of New Hampshire Militia under General John Stark defeated a combined force of Hessians, British Loyalists and Indians at Bennington, Vermont. They were sent to Bennington by General John Burgoyne to capture the depot of supplies that the Americans were reported to have there. As the invaders were utterly ignorant of the country, as well as the Revolutionary's methods of warfare, they were easily trapped, surrounded and captured. Of a force of about 1000, more that 200 were killed and wounded; 70 returned to Burgoyne and the rest were taken prisoner. The American loss was 14 killed and 42 wounded. Washington called this victory a "great stoke" because it prevented Burgoyne from getting the supplies he sorely needed and cut off all communication between him and the garrison he left at Fort Ticonderoga. Further, it resulted in the desertion of a large body of Indians and Canadians and encouraging the enlistment of large bodies of American militia under the service of General Gates.

On 6 Aug 1778, Solomon enlisted for the third time as a private. He was in Col. Moses Kelly's regiment, Capt. Jonas Bowman's company of volunteers. This regiment marched and joined the Continental Army in Providence, Rhode Island. He was honorably discharged and paid for service, including travel; 14 pounds, 13 shillings and fourpence. This travel represented 160 miles. The Selectmen of Hillsboro on 8 Aug 778, drew from the town funds 80 pounds as a bounty to pay eight volunteers from that town to the Providence Expedition. Solomon Andrews was one of the eight men who received 10 pounds, his portion of the bounty.

An Act of Congress on 7 June 1832 provided for a pension for veterans of the Revolutionary War. Solomon received a monthly pension of $42.78 from 4 March 1831 until the time of his death in 1840. His widow drew a pension for the

Notes for Issachar Andrews

Nathaniel Parker was taxed as the guardian of Issachar and Betsey Andrews 16 Nov 1798. It is supposed he moved from Carlisle to Chelmsford, Massachusetts where the records show his marriage. The 1850 census for Roxbury, Norfolk County, Massachusetts shows the Alfred Andrews household that includes his mother Betsy age 60.

Children of Issachar ANDREWS and Betsey HODGMAN were as follows:
+ 2175 i Alfred A.\(^6\) ANDREWS, born 26 Sep 1805 in Billerica, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; died 28 Oct 1864 in Boston, Suffolk County, Massachusetts. He married Harriet Maria PEIRCE.
+ 2176 ii Eliza\(^6\) ANDREWS, born 10 Sep 1807 in Billerica, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; died 18 Jun 1846 in Lowell, Middlesex County, Massachusetts. She married Matthias PARKHURST.

719. Betsey\(^5\) ANDREWS\(^{1190}\) (Issachar\(^4\), Solomon\(^3\), William\(^2\), John\(^1\)), born 8 Jan 1788 in Carlisle, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; died 7 Feb 1855 in Carlisle, Middlesex County, Massachusetts. She married on 23 Nov 1806 in Carlisle, Middlesex County, Massachusetts Jonathan HEALD\(^{1191}\), born 7 Oct 1782 in Carlisle, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; died 13 Oct 1858 in Carlisle, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; buried in Green Cemetery, Carlisle, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, son of Jonathan HEALD and Sarah BROWN.

Notes for Betsey Andrews

Nathaniel Parker was taxed as the guardian of Issachar and Betsey Andrews 16 Nov 1798. Betsey's son Issachar wrote: "I had one of the best mothers that ever walked the earth."

Notes for Jonathan Heald

Jonathan was a farmer in Carlisle, a Democrat and Congregationalist. He served as Justice of the Peace, Assessor, and School Committee Man. Sources give his mother as either Elizabeth Barrett or Sarah (---). He inherited his father's land in Carlisle. One source has a marriage to Hannah French and having a daughter Hannah born in 1805 in Carlisle. Headstone from Green Cemetery:
Jonathan Heald Died Oct. 13, 1858 Aet. 73 yrs.
Betsey wife of Jonathan Heald Died Feb. 7, 1855 Aet. 67
Our mother sleeps. When will the morning come?

Children of Betsey ANDREWS and Jonathan HEALD were as follows:
2177 i Lydia\(^6\) HEALD, born 25 May 1807 in Carlisle, Middlesex County, Massachusetts. She married Addison BATES.
2178 ii Eliza\(^6\) HEALD, born 25 May 1807 in Carlisle, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; died 18 Sep 1807 in Carlisle, Middlesex County, Massachusetts.

720. Abraham ANDREWS, born 15 Aug 1774 in Woburn, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; died 7 Oct 1848 in Fryeburg, Oxford County, Maine; buried in West Fryeburg Cemetery, Oxford County, Maine. He married Hannah BARKER, born 1775 in Andover, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 17 Oct 1804 in Lovell, Oxford County, Maine; daughter of John BARKER and Hannah WILSON; (2) on 3 Nov 1805 in Fryeburg, Oxford County, Maine Sarah FRYE, born 7 Nov 1780 in Fryeburg, Oxford County, Maine; died 29 Dec 1832 in Fryeburg, Oxford County, Maine; buried in West Fryeburg Cemetery, Oxford County, Maine; daughter of Simon FRYE and Hannah JOHNSON; (3) on 7 Oct 1840 in Conway, Carroll County, New Hampshire Abigail COLBY, born 8 Nov 1803 in Fryeburg, Oxford County, Maine; died 30 Apr 1865 in Lovell, Oxford County, Maine; buried in Lovell Center Cemetery, Lovell, Oxford County, Maine; daughter of Robert COLBY and Hannah KELLEY.

Notes for Abraham Andrews

Another birth date is 10 Aug 1774. Abraham moved with his parents from Massachusetts to Lovell, Maine about 1768 where he was an active businessman, farmer, merchant and lumberman and lived in Lovell and Fryeburg, Maine and Conway (another reference states Chatham), New Hampshire. He was a Whig, a Congregationalist and married three times. Abraham and his first wife Hannah had an infant who died young. After the death of his first wife, Abraham moved to Fryeburg to the old family farm. Between 1841 and 1844 he sold the farm to his son-in-law George Ballard and moved to Chatham, New Hampshire. He buried two wives and was survived by his third. He was the father of sixteen children, born over a span of 27 years. He died after a weeklong illness of what was then called the "bloody flux". Abraham's widow thereafter married his brother Isaac. His youngest son, in writing of the family, said that the surviving siblings referred to themselves as the "twelve tribes of Abraham". In one generation they spread themselves across the continent from New England to Pennsylvania to Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, North and South Dakota, Colorado and California.
WEBER.

+ 2193 ii Stephen ANDREWS, born 23 Nov 1800 in Lovell, Oxford County, Maine; died 27 Nov 1852 in Lovell, Oxford County, Maine; buried in Sweden, Oxford County, Maine. He married Martha WOODBURY.

Notes for Isaac Stearns Andrews, Sr.
Isaac was the first white child born in Lovell, Maine. He had a farm at Lovell Center, was a merchant and carried on a lumbering business. He accumulated a good estate, was prosperous and employed many people in his various operations: cutting, hauling, rafting and marketing pine lumber; manufacturing cooperage (molasses and sugar hogsheds, etc) for the West Indies trade. These goods were hauled by teams and marketed in Portland, Maine in exchange for foreign and domestic goods which where in turn hauled back to Lovell. After the death of his first wife, he became embarrassed in business and engaged in farming and stock raising until 1865. He possessed an unhappy, disagreeable, complaining disposition; unpleasant even to is best friends. In 1865 after the death of his last wife, he moved with the family of his son Jacob to Exira, Iowa where he died.

2307 v Martha' GIDDINGS1232, born 10 Jun 1798 in Preston, New London County, Connecticut; died Apr 1882 in Lisbon, New London County, Connecticut. Notes: The following is from "The Giddings Family" reference: Martha attended the Preston district school till she was 14, then attended select school a year, and taught there fourteen years afterwards. I am indebted to her for much of the record of this branch of the family; although in her 83rd year her letters are written in a neat, plain hand, and she displayed remarkable memory of names and dates of events. She mentioned that her great grandfather, The Rev. Jabez Wight, born 1700 and died 1782, was ordained minister of the Congregational Church, East Norwich on 27 Oct 1726. Her uncle, H. L. Wight, of Richmond, Virginia, who died 12 July 1837, had two sons who graduated at Yale College. She resided at Hartford for many years. In April 1882, she went to Lisbon to reside with a niece, but the change proved too much for her, and she died eight days thereafter. She never married. The 1860 census for Hartford, Hartford County, Connecticut shows sisters Sarah Clark age 70 and Martha Giddings age 62. The 1870 census for Hartford, Hartford County, Connecticut shows sisters Sarah Clark age 81 and Martha Giddings age 72.

2308 vi George' GIDDINGS, born 3 Mar 1801 in Preston, New London County, Connecticut; died 13 Aug 1875 in West Hartford, Hartford County, Connecticut. He married Hannah CLARK, born 1802 in Hartford, Hartford County, Connecticut; died about 1893 in West Hartford, Hartford County, Connecticut. Notes: George was a large, portly and popular gentleman, a farmer, public speaker and lecturer.

2311 ix Ruth Ann' GIDDINGS.

+ 2312 x John Rensselaer' GIDDINGS. He married Sarah Jane BAILEY.

2313 xi Gilbert L.' GIDDINGS. He married Clara G. LYON.

745. Ruth' GIDDINGS1233 (Nathaniel4, Nathaniel3, Elizabeth2 Andrews, John1), born 1755 in Preston, New London County, Connecticut. She married (1) Paul HARVEY; (2) Nathan HERRICK.

Children of Anna GIDDINGS and Andrew WILLIAMS were as follows:

2318 i Lucy WILLIAMS.

749. Abiah GIDDINGS¹²³⁴,¹²³⁵ (James, Nathaniel, Elizabeth Andrews, John), born 3 Sep 1748 in Preston, New London County, Connecticut; died 28 Sep 1834 in East Randolph, Orange County, Vermont; buried in Old Cemetery, East Randolph, Orange County, Vermont. She married in 1771 in Preston, New London County, Connecticut Asa STORY¹²³⁶,¹²³⁷,¹²³⁸, born 26 Sep 1749 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 1 Feb 1828 in East Randolph, Orange County, Vermont; buried in Old Cemetery, East Randolph, Orange County, Vermont, son of Ezekiel STORY and Mary EDGERTON.

Notes for Asa Story

- Error in Robert L. Pratt reference: page 107, he states that the Eunice Story married Joseph Gay is a daughter of Asa Story and Abiah Giddings. Eunice is the daughter of Bradford Story and Sarah Copp.

- The information on this family line is from Mr. Edward J. Brumder of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. This is his ancestral line through daughter Eunice Whitney Story who married Joseph Gay and removed to Wisconsin.

- Asa Story served one and a half years in the Revolutionary War. Served as corporal in the Continental Line at the Lexington Alarm: he was a Sergeant in 1775, an Ensign in 1776, Second Lieutenant in 1777, he resigned 1778. (DAR record #115182).

- Asa Story was a Deacon of the Congregational Church in East Randolph, Vermont. A quote from his headstone located with others of his family in the Old Cemetery at East Randolph, Vermont: "Aged 79 years, Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord".

- Following from Mr. E. J. Brumder: This is a copy of an undated typewritten letter on Wizard Plow Co. letterhead, from a Julian J. Washburn to Mrs. E. A. Huse of Windsor, Vermont:

  "Deacon Story lived in what I would call the last house at the north end of East Randolph village and occupied by his son Bradford Story until his death well in my remembrance. The place has been owned in late years by Louis Kibbe. I only knew of three of their children, Ezekiel Story who was my grandfather who had the northwesterly part of the farm comprising what has been in recent years called the Grow place, now owned by Clarence Grow. He married Lydia Sprague, and my mother was their daughter. Clarence Grow's grandmother was my mother's sister, so his descent from Asa Story was the same as mine, except one generation removed. Lucian A. Edson's mother was my mother's sister and daughter of Ezekiel Story. His address is Randolph Center, Vermont. You will thus see that any descendant of Asa Story is eligible to membership in any of the Revolutionary patriotic societies. . . ."

Children of Abiah GIDDINGS and Asa STORY were as follows:

2319 i Lucy STORY, born 28 Jun 1771 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut. She married Asher HATCH.

2320 ii Elias STORY, born 1772 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 25 Jan 1779 in East Randolph, Orange County, Vermont; buried in Old Cemetery, East Randolph, Orange County, Vermont. Notes: Elias grave marker says he died "in the 9th year of his age". "Reader sob as you pass by".

+ 2321 iii Sally STORY, born 1773 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 1 Oct 1854 in Randolph, Orange County, Vermont. She married John SPRAGUE.

Massachusetts; died 22 Dec 1844 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Jacob GOODHUE and Ann SMITH. Notes: Colonel William Andrews was a farmer in Essex, Town Clerk 1830-1866 and a Colonel of the Militia. An obit taken from the "Salem Gazette": states, Died, William Andrews, Jr. after a very short illness. "His death has occasioned not only a severe and irreparable loss to his relatives and friends, but is also a public calamity to the town in which he lived, & of which he was a most worthy and valuable citizen. He was an industrious and thriving member of one of the most universally industrious and thriving communities. He was a good husband, an obliging and estimable neighbor, a courteous and social companion. Many offices of trust and honor have been bestowed upon him by his fellow citizens, all of which he has executed with singular zeal and fidelity. His friends and his fellow townsmen will long and deeply feel that in the death of Col. Andrews they sustain the loss of one of the most respectable, intelligent and useful citizens, cut off in the midst of his days, in the midst of his hopes. What shadows we are, what shadows we pursue."

Notes for Isaac Andrews
Isaac was a mariner and a soldier in the Revolutionary War. He was at the Battle of Lexington, he had enlisted three times. He was a seaman in the list of prisoners sent from Halifax to Boston in the cartel "Swift" 30 Sept 1778.

Children of Isaac ANDREWS and Joanna WOODBURY were as follows:

2475  i  Isaac ANDREWS, born 1782 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 30 Sep 1864 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: Isaac died unmarried. The 1850 census for Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts shows Isaac Andrews age 68, mariner.

2476  ii  Joanna ANDREWS, born Feb 1783 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 7 Nov 1870 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 3 Dec 1801 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts Jonathan ANDREWS (see 2704), born 25 Mar 1782 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died in possibly Brewer, Penobscot County, Maine, son of Amos ANDREWS and Joanna BURNHAM.

2477  iii  Lucy ANDREWS, born 1791; christened 20 Nov 1796 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married James HOAG.

2478  iv  Elias ANDREWS, born 1792 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 24 Jan 1793 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: Elias died at age 4 months, 25 days.

2479  v  Ruth ANDREWS, born 1803 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: Ruth married and moved to Derry, Rockingham County, New Hampshire according to E. M. Andrews Manuscript; also that she was baptized 20 Nov 1796 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. The 1850 census for Pittsfield, Merrimack County, New Hampshire [same town that Ruth Andrews' sister, Lucy (Andrews) Hoag resided] a shows James Brown age 59, farmer with wife Ruth age 47; Rosille M. age 5, all born in New Hampshire [?]. The 1860 census for Pittsfield, Merrimack County, New Hampshire shows James Brown age 59 with wife Ruth age 57. The 1870 census for Pittsfield, Merrimack County, New Hampshire shows Ruth Brown age 67, keeping house, born in New Hampshire. The 1880 census for Pittsfield, Merrimack County, New Hampshire shows Ruth Brown age 77, widow, keeping house, born in Massachusetts.

1293 Vol. III No. 7 “The Essex Antiquarian”, Descendants of John Andrews of Ipswich (Salem, Massachusetts: July 1899), p. 102. Reference states that Isaac died April or May 1799, “in a foreign land”. If daughter Ruth was born in 1803, as supposed by the census records, this must be incorrect.

808. Joseph ANDREWS 1297, 1298, 1299 (Joseph 4, Joseph 3, Joseph 2, John 1), born 23 Apr 1757 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 18 Oct 1831 in New Boston, Hillsborough County, New Hampshire. He married on 25 Oct 1781 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts Margaret OBER 1300, born 2 Jan 1765 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 21 Jun 1829 in New Boston, Hillsborough County, New Hampshire, daughter of Benjamin OBER and Anna FOSTER.

Notes for Joseph Andrews
Other birth dates for Joseph are 23 June 1763 and 22 Jan 1765. Joseph was a master mariner and a soldier in the American Revolution. He followed the sea until his settlement in New Boston, New Hampshire in 1790. From a descriptive list of officers and crew of the sloop "Liverpool", commanded by Captain Nehemiah Story dated 17 May 1780, it appears that Joseph Andrews served as a seaman, age 23 years, stature 5 feet 9 inches, complexion dark, residence Ipswich. This is not in harmony with family tradition of his service. It is claimed that while returning from the West Indies at the beginning of the Revolutionary War that he was captured and imprisoned at Halifax, Nova Scotia. Following his release, he commanded a privateer in the American service until the close of the War. It is probable he was captured as claimed, but he would have been only 18 years of age when the War began and most likely served as a seaman on the "Liverpool" rather than commanding a war vessel at that age. It is also claimed that he served as captain in the service of William Gray of Salem and Boston for 14 years. At some time he commanded the schooner "Neptune". A sea pass in the Spanish language issued to Joseph was found in the papers of the widow of his son Amos. He assisted in the founding of the Baptist Church in New Boston. Two accounts of his death: 8 Oct 1831 and 18 Oct 1834. Two accounts for the death of his wife Margaret: 21 June 1825 and 21 June 1829.

Children of Joseph ANDREWS and Margaret OBER were as follows:

+ 2480 i Joseph ANDREWS, born 25 Sep 1782 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts; christened 11 Jul 1784 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 23 Jan 1862 in Johnson, Lamoille County, Vermont. He married Jane ADAMS.

+ 2481 ii Ruth ANDREWS, born 29 Jun 1784 in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 11 Mar 1844 in Johnson, Lamoille County, Vermont. She married Joseph MANNING.

Notes for Elias Andrews

Elias inherited his father's real estate. He was a schoolteacher in early life; served as Selectman, Overseer of the Poor, Auditor and Moderator of town meetings. He was a Whig and a Baptist. The 1850 census for Essex County, Massachusetts shows Elias Andrews age 78, farmer, $6000 with wife Martha age 77, both born in Massachusetts and living next door to son Miles S. Andrews and family. The 1860 census for Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts shows Miles S. Andrews age 48, farmer and family; his mother Martha Andrews age 87 and servant Mary Ann Coy age 30, born in Ireland, are next door.

Notes: Clarissa had no children by the second marriage.

Children of Dorcas GIDDINGS and Ezra BROCKWAY were as follows:

Notes for William Giddings
William moved to New Fairfield, North Society, about 1761, for the records of Lyme show that he gave deeds of land in 1756, 1757, and 1761. He served with distinction as captain in the Revolutionary War, and settled as a farmer in the north district of Sherman, near the New York state line. He was chosen a deacon of the Congregational church in 1808.

Children of William GIDDINGS and Lydia NOBLE were as follows:

2517  i  Lucinda GIDDINGS, born 10 Apr 1764 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 7 May 1838 in Dover, Dutchess County, New York. She married Abraham SEAMAN.
+ 2518  ii  Mary GIDDINGS, born 1765 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut. She married Benjamin SOULE.

He married in 1775 in Sandwich, Bristol County, Massachusetts Hannah SWIFT, born 1752; died 11 Oct 1810 in Manchester, Bennington County, Vermont; buried in Dellpark Cemetery, Dellwood, Vermont.

Notes for Job Giddings

Old manuscripts say Job moved to Sherman with his brothers, but if he did he did not tarry long, for by deeds on the Lyme records it is shown that he was at that place in 1772, and the records of Manchester, Vermont, show him to have been there as early as 1785. His house is described as being "two stories high, with four-sided roof, once a country Tavern." He was a surveyor of land. His will made in April, 1816, witnessed in July, made mention of sons, Sereno, Moses, and Reuben; daughters Chloe, Harriet, Hannah, and Laura; and Moses three daughters: Harriet, Nancy, and Sophia. Some names were taken from a cemetery at Manchester, Vermont.

Children of Job GIDDINGS and Hannah SWIFT were as follows:

+ 2529 i Sereno GIDDINGS, born 1776 in Manchester, Bennington County, Vermont; buried in Erie Street Cemetery, Cleveland, Cuyahoga County, Ohio. He married Esther MATTOON.
+ 2530 ii Chloe GIDDINGS, born 2 Aug 1778 in Manchester, Bennington County, Vermont. She married Claude SOUTHWICK.
+ 2531 iii Moses GIDDINGS, born 1779; died 9 Feb 1806 in Manchester, Bennington County, Vermont. He married Harriet (---).
+ 2532 iv Hannah GIDDINGS, born 1781 in Manchester, Bennington County, Vermont; died 6 Apr 1831 in Manchester, Bennington County, Vermont. She married Eliphalet WELLS.
+ 2533 v Reuben GIDDINGS, born 1783 in Manchester, Bennington County, Vermont. The name of his wife is unknown.
+ 2534 vi Harriet GIDDINGS, born 25 Apr 1785 in Manchester, Bennington County, Vermont; died 5 May 1816 in Manchester, Bennington County, Vermont.
+ 2535 vii Laura GIDDINGS, born 29 Jun 1786 in Manchester, Bennington County, Vermont.

Notes for Zebulon Giddings

Zebulon moved from Lyme, and his name appears on the Church records of the North Society as early as 1773. He was a prominent man, was collector of taxes in the town of New Fairfield, 1792. His residence was on the place now owned by Deacon Hugh Gelston [1882], and he owned the first pleasure wagon that was ever in the town. The Sherman Congregational records state "Dec. 8, 1808, Zebulon Giddings was married to widow Patty Buckley." An old manuscript states "she lived in Rome, N. Y." He had eight children and all but three died quite young. Zebulon may have resided in Hartland previous to his settlement in New Fairfield, as there is found on the records an account of Elizabeth, wife of Zebulon Giddings, having died Nov. 29, 1770.

Children of Zebulon GIDDINGS and Louisa TOWNER were as follows:

2536 i Zaccheus GIDDINGS, born 6 Feb 1774 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died in Canada.
2537 ii Zebulon GIDDINGS, born 1778 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 1840 in Ohio.
+ 2538 iii William GIDDINGS, born 1782 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 8 Jan 1831 in Gull Prairie, Kalamazoo County, Michigan. He married Jane Louise ELY.

Notes for Jonathan Giddings

Jonathan moved with his father to New Fairfield, North Society, where he became a thrifty, enterprising farmer. He served in the Revolutionary War, enduring many hardships. He was at one time sent by his superior officer, at the head of a scouting party, as captain; and they were nine days without food, having become lost in the woods, where they were obliged to subsist on roots and herbs. Having received a severe wound he obtained his discharge and returned to his family. He was one of the original proprietors of the Connecticut Western Reserve, in Ohio. In 1786 the state of Connecticut reserved 3,500,000 acres of land in northwestern Ohio, which became known as the "Connecticut Western Reserve." Its claim on all other government lands was then ceded to the United States. This land was devoted to the use of the state of Connecticut for the Free education of her children. In 1795 Elijah Boardman, of New Milford, and others, among whom was Jonathan Giddings, purchased for $6,000 a large tract of land on the reserve (Hollister's "History of Connecticut").

On the 12th May, 1800, Elijah Boardman, Homer Boardman, David S. Boardman, Stanley Griswold, of New Milford, Elijah Wadsworth, Frederick Wolcott, of Litchfield, and Zephaniah Briggs, of New Fairfield, gave to Jonathan Giddings, of New Fairfield, a deed of land as "proprietors in common with him, of township number two, in the sixth Range, of township in the Connecticut Western Reserve, so called, and of lot number two in township no. seven in the tenth range. ..which lot contains the land which was annexed to said township number two, at the general partition of said reserve, made by the proprietors thereof at Hartford, in the state of Conn., on the 23d of Jan. A.D. 1798, being desirous of making a partition of said lands to each proprietor in severalty, according to the interest and property of each therein, have together with the sd. Jonathan Giddings, caused the sd. township, and the said lands thereto annexed, to be surveyed and laid out into lots, etc." The lands deeded to Jonathan Giddings were in various parcels and amounted in all to thirteen hundred and eighty-three acres, two rods and thirty-two rods.

"The deed was recorded the 27th day of Jan., 1801, in the Records of the town of Palmyra, Ohio, Book first, page forty-second."

On the back of the deed is written, "Elijah Boardman etc., Partition Deed, Received & Recorded in Trumbull County Records, Aug. 23d, 1802. Book D., Page 186.

Notes for Mary Herrick Baldwin

Mary was daughter of Gamaliel and Mary (or Rebecca) (Herrick) Baldwin, adopted daughter of Benoni Stebbins of New Milford, Connecticut, she being then eighteen years of age at marriage. Jonathan and Mary afterwards came in possession of the farm of Mr. Gamaliel Baldwin on the west side of the Housatonic River, the house fronting on the Wiminam Brook. This property remained in possession of the Giddings family for about one hundred years. He died 8 Apr 1817. His will was admitted to probate in 1818. The inventory of his estate amounted to $18,000. His widow Mary died 20 Feb 1824. Mary was very prepossessing in appearance, of an affectionate nature, and greatly beloved in the community. She was very kind to the needy, and the worthy poor found in her a friend. There are yet living a few old people who remember and mention her with great affection [the reference was printed in 1882]. She was admitted to the Congregational Church of the North Society on 28 April 1772. The inventory of her estate admitted to probate, 1824, amounted to $4,302.

The following account is gleaned in part from a manuscript of Jonathan C. Giddings, a descendant of Mary Herrick. Thomas Herrick, an Englishman, in 1723, embarked for America, with his wife and two daughters. His wife died on the passage. He landed in Derby, Connecticut and placed his youngest daughter Mary, then an infant under one year of age, in the care of strangers in Bridgeport, leaving funds for her support, while he proceeded to Boston, Massachusetts and engaged in the mercantile business and afterwards took an active part in the French War. From the latter place he sent instructions to those in charge of the child that she be given to some family worthy of the charge. Benoni Stebbins of New Milford, Connecticut, hearing of a child in Bridgeport, of good parentage, to be given away, proceeded thither on horseback, brought Mary home with him and adopted her as his own, where she remained till her marriage with Gamaliel Baldwin of New Milford, a man of wealth, in 1740/41, and they soon after became residents of New Fairfield, now

Sherman. (The New Milford Town Records state her name to be Rebecca Herric, adopted daughter of Benoni Stebbins, baptized (Rebecca) 1725/6). Mr. Stebbins, who was quite wealthy- says the narrative- died some twelve years after Mary married Mr. Baldwin, and his property fell to an only sister, who married a Sanford of New Milford. This jealous sister gave Mr. Stebbins a son whom she named "Benoni Stebbins," who, as he grew up with Mary, became attached to her and wished to marry her, but Mary loved him only as a brother, and declined to marry him. This displeased Mr. Stebbins, and also the mother of the young man, and report says that was the cause of his not leaving Mary any of his property.

Children of Jonathan GIDDINGS and Mary Herrick BALDWIN were as follows:

He married Sarah SMITH, born 12 Nov 1765 in Nine Partners, New York; died 19 Sep 1849 in Rutland, Rutland County, Vermont; buried in Pleasant Street Cemetery, Rutland, Vermont, daughter of John SMITH.

Notes for Dan Giddings

Dan served in the Revolutionary War. The following record was taken from the family Bible of Dan Giddings. His name was Dan (not Daniel), he went to Vermont to labor on Fort Vengeance at Pittsford, in 1780. He married Sarah, daughter of the noted John Smith, who was one of the trio for whom the State of New York offered a large reward, the other two being Col. Ethan Allen and Remembrance Baker. John Smith had eight children, seven boys and one girl, to each of whom he gave a farm, said farms being located in the southwestern part of Rutland and northeastern part of Clarendon, Vermont. On the farm in West Rutland, given to Sarah, Dan and his wife resided all their married life.

Children of Dan GIDDINGS and Sarah SMITH were as follows:

+ 2638 i Sarah GIDDINGS, born 29 Aug 1783 in Rutland, Rutland County, Vermont; died 1858. She married Peter MEAD.

He married Betsey REYNOLDS, born 1800 in Vermont. Notes: Chapman is said to have been one of Nature's noblemen, of fine appearance, six feet in height, usual weight about 225 pounds, intelligent, genial, kind, and companionable, and was an officer in the State Militia and several times a member of the State legislature. He was of a fearless nature. An anecdote is related of him, illustrating this trait: While he was an officer of a Militia Co., among those enrolled was a certain desperado who refused to answer to the bugle call. A court-martial to try said subject was called, whom a Sergeant was sent to arrest. The desperado defied him, and with a loaded gun drove him away. An assistant was then ordered to go with the Sergeant to arrest the man, who frightened away both. Chapman then said to the Court, Send me, I will arrest him. He was accordingly sent, and boldly facing the desperado said: "You dare not shoot any body", and arrested him without delay.

Notes for Amos Andrews

Amos Andrews and wife Joanna, of Gloucester, sold land in Essex to their son Benjamin Andrews, yeoman, of Essex in 1819. Amos Andrews and his son Jonathan, both with wives names Joanna, sold land to Eleazer Andrews on 16 April 1819. On 20 January 1832 Benjamin Andrews and his wife Martha sold to Malachi Andrews, of Gloucester, one half of the land which was set off to Benjamin as part of the settlement of the estate of Amos Andrews; the other half was sold to Isaac Andrews of Essex and Isaac Andrews of Gloucester. The will of Amos Andrews of Gloucester, yeoman, signed 8 December 1821, presented 15 January 1828, names wife Joanna and children Amos, Joanna, John, Mark, Molly, Jonathan (sole executor) and Benjamin. Amos is listed in the Daughters of the American Revolution database as having served as a Private from Ipswich; in the Company of Capt. Pearson and Dodge and Col. Gerrish.

Notes for Joanna Burnham

Amos Andrews was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. His widow, Joanna, applied for a pension at the age of 95 years. She died in Gloucester aged 102 years, 2 months and 28 days, the cause of death listed as old age. The New England Historical and Genealogical Register", Vol. 1:197 states; "She probably was the oldest person in the state." Thomas Burnham had a son John who had a son David who had a son Westley. Westley Burnham married Deborah Story; they had a daughter Joanna who married Amos Andrews. The History of Gloucester states: "At the age of 100 this remarkable woman was able to keep her own separate domestic establishment in the house of her grandson, and attend to her own wants. From that time her decay was as gradual and marked in retrogressive order by the same stages as an infant's growth."

Children of Amos ANDREWS and Joanna BURNHAM were as follows:

2698  i  Amos ANDREWS, born 1767 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died after 1821.
+ 2699  ii  Joanna ANDREWS, christened 3 Apr 1769 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 27 Jul 1851 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married Jesse BURNHAM.

John 5 ANDREWS,1358, 1359, 1360 (John 4, John 3, Joseph 2, John 1), born 20 Apr 1745 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married on 18 Dec 1766 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Sarah KINSMAN1361, 1362, born 1745 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died after 1789 in North Yarmouth, Cumberland County, Maine, daughter of Jeremiah KINSMAN and Sarah HARRIS.

Notes for John Andrews
Captain John was a mariner; he lived in Ipswich and was a Revolutionary War soldier.

Jeremiah Kinsman, Ipswich, yeoman, and wife Sarah for the love and affection gave one quarter acre, a single lot, to son-in-law John Andrews, Jr., of Ipswich, fisherman, on 19 April 1775. John Andrews, Ipswich, mariner, and wife Sarah, and Jeremiah Kinsman of Fitchburg, Worcester County, yeoman, and Martha, his wife, for 13 pounds sold three acres of salt marsh in Chebacco, bounded by heirs of Jonathan Andrews, deceased, and Elisha Story, to Joshua Burnham on 26 August 1786. The family moved to North Yarmouth, Maine. It appears John went to Boothbay, Lincoln County, Maine after Sarah's death.

Notes for Sarah Kinsman

Children of John ANDREWS and Sarah KINSMAN were as follows:

Notes for Jonathan Andrews

Jonathan was a farmer and fisherman of Chebacco Parish, he moved to Pleasant Ridge, Somerset County, Maine, about 1822.

The following is a deposition regarding Jonathan Andrews:[This was found among the papers of a descendant of Jonathan.] "I, Perez Drinkwater, of North Yarmouth, in the County of Cumberland and Commonwealth of Massachusetts aged fifty eight years do testify and say, that I was formerly acquainted with Jonathan Andrews of Essex in the County of Essex, formerly called Chebacco in the Commonwealth aforesaid, that in November or December in Seventeen hundred and seventy-eight, according to the best of my recollection, I entered as a sailor on board the Confederacy a frigate of 36 guns belonging to the United States fitted out at New London and commanded by Seth Harding of the same New London, and that said Jonathan Andrews entered also as a sailor a few days after I did. We sailed from Philadelphia to Cape Francois and on a cruise from there in company with the frigate Boston a 20 gun ship and the brig Hazard. We captured a valuable ship, which gave $19, and three-quarters dollars prize money to each sailor.

We both continued as sailors on board said frigate Confederacy until she was captured off the Cape of the Delaware in the latter part of the summer of the year seventeen hundred and seventy nine by the Roebuck of 50 guns and a frigate of 32 guns called the Allphise. We were put on board a Jersey Prison Ship where we remained about six weeks and were..."
then taken on board the British Ship America of 64 guns where we remained prisoners until the autumn of seventeen hundred and eighty, when I had an opportunity of running away from said ship in New York, leaving said Jonathan Andrews on board. Perez Drinkwater.

Cumberland, SS, North Yarmouth. Nov. 22,1819.

Then personally appeared before me the subscriber, one of the Justices of the peace for said County, the above named Perez Drinkwater, who after being carefully examined and cautioned to testify the whole truth and nothing but the truth made solemn oath to the truth of the foregoing deposition by him subscribed before me. Edward Russell, Justice of the Peace

He married on 13 Sep 1800 in Wenham, Essex County, Massachusetts Mary DODGE, born 1780 in Wenham, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 5 Aug 1854 in Shirley, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; buried in Center Street Cemetery, Shirley, Middlesex County, Massachusetts.

Notes for Eleazer Craft Andrews

Between 1806 and 1810, Eleazer bought the old Simonds-Going farm on the Townsend Road. The 1850 census for Shirley, Middlesex County, Massachusetts shows Peter Andrews age 48, farmer with wife Sarah age 44 and children: Orsamus W, age 18, farmer; Mary E. age 16; Martha W. age 13; Daniel W. age 10; Charles H. age 7; John H. age 1. Next door: Eleazer C. Andrews age 74, farmer; Mary age 78; Mary age 44.

Children of Eleazer Craft ANDREWS and Mary DODGE were as follows:

+ 2784 i Peter ANDREWS, born 5 Sep 1801 in Wenham, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 1864 in Shirley, Middlesex County, Massachusetts. He married Sarah B. MCMASTER.

2785 ii Mary L. ANDREWS, born 21 Jun 1806 in Shirley, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; died 19 Jan 1865 in Shirley, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; buried in Center Street Cemetery, Shirley, Middlesex County, Massachusetts.

+ 2786 iii Martha D. ANDREWS, born 10 Mar 1811 in Shirley, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; died 2 Dec 1895 in Shirley, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; buried in Center Street Cemetery, Shirley, Middlesex County, Massachusetts. She married Daniel G. WATERS.

Essex County, Massachusetts James STEVENS1435, born 22 Sep 1761 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 22 Oct 1836 in Litchfield, Hartford County, Connecticut, son of Nathaniel STEVENS and Jerusha BENNETT.

Notes for Ruth Andrews
Ruth died in childbirth, name of her child and if it survived is unknown.

Notes for James Stevens
James and Ruth were enumerated in the 1790 census for Gloucester, Massachusetts. They moved to Litchfield prior to 1798 when Ruth died there. It is possible they had one child born in Ipswich 23 March 1789. James served in the War of 1812. His fourth wife, Hannah applied for bounty land in 1855, pension #W2265.

Children of Ruth ANDREWS and James STEVENS were as follows:
2792  i  child STEVENS, born 23 Mar 1789.

887. Elizabeth1 ANDREWS1436, 1437, 1438 (Caleb4, John3, Joseph2, John1), christened 4 Jul 1762 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 19 Mar 1841 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts, buried in Old Burial Ground, Essex, Massachusetts. She married on 15 Sep 1796 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Samuel QUIMBY, born 28 Jan 1759 in Hopkinton, Merrimack County, New Hampshire; died 1 Jul 1833 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; buried in Old Burial Ground, Essex, Massachusetts.

Notes for Samuel Quimby
Samuel was a blacksmith and wheelwright. He had seven children by his first wife.

Children of Elizabeth ANDREWS and Samuel QUIMBY were as follows:
2793  i  Caleb6 QUIMBY, born 5 Jul 1797 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 2 Sep 1804 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.

Notes for Caleb Andrews

Caleb was born in Ipswich 6 Sept 1768; father Caleb Andrews; mother Anna. He married in Essex: Molly Burnham born in Beverly, Massachusetts 12 Oct 1772, daughter of Capt. Westley and Molly (Woodbury) Burnham; Molly died "w. Caleb, comsumption" in Essex 18 February 1847, age 74 years, 4 months, 5 days. Caleb died: "widr., yeoman, of suicide" Essex 12 Nov 1847, age 79 years, 2 months, 6 days.

Caleb Andrews of Ipswich, fisherman, and wife Molly on 26 December 1808 mortgaged to Capt. Jonathan Eveleth of Ipswich, 4 and one half acres and buildings, part of the School Farm in Chebacco; the mortgage was discharged 14 May 1825. Solomon and Molly Andrews were witnesses to this and a similar document. Caleb and Molly again mortgage property to Capt. John Eveleth 25 December 1809, and on 13 February 1815 Betsy Eveleth, wife of John, acknowledged receipt of payment. Caleb Andrews' will, signed 20 January 1838 and filed 4 January 1848, named his wife Molly; daughters, Mary Preston, Patience Kenison, Anna Preston, Sally Keniston, and Lucy Burnham; and two sons, Caleb Andrews, Jr., and Nathan Andrews, joint executors.

Correspondence from Edward Jenkins: "Passed down thru my family is a yellowed "record" listing "Births" - It lists Caleb Andrews, Sept. 6, 1768, Essex; then Molly Burnham, Oct 13, 1772; Mary Andrews, July 25, 1798, Patience Andrews, April 13, 1800, Anna Andrews, December 7, 1802 (my g.gr.grandmother); Caleb Andrews, Aug. 27, 1804, Eliza Andrews, April 17, 1808, Nathan Andrews, April 12, 1811, Lucy Andrews, May 9, 1819. I suspect the writing is that of my G.Grandmother, Anna Elizabeth Preston who married John Jenkins, and may have been done about 1840-50. The record had been in a desk formerly owned by David Preston. This, I am sure, would not be "proof for a purist: "I have mentioned diary my family has written by Sarah Belinda Preston prior to Civil War - in it she makes references to several of the people listed above - apparently didn't like Nathan very well. In one entry she mentions that the speaker hadn't shown up and "Nathan held forth".

Children of Caleb ANDREWS and Molly BURNHAM were as follows:

+ 2797 i Mary ANDREWS, born 20 Jul 1798 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; died Jun 1866 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married Samuel PRESTON.

He married on 5 Apr 1795 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts Mary ALLEN, born 4 Sep 1775 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 15 Oct 1849 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of William ALLEN and Tabitha (---).

Notes for Solomon Andrews

Solomon lived in an old house on part of the land once owned by William Andrews [1649-1715, son of the immigrant, John] in South Essex, Massachusetts. The house was occupied in 1907 by his great grandson, Albion Riggs. NEHGR 153:43 states that Solomon Andrews of Ipswich, fisherman, and his wife Molly on 8 July 1812 mortgaged 12 rods and a house on the School Farm to Capt. Jonathan Eveleth, and discharged the mortgage in December 1815. Solomon Andrews, mast maker, of Essex, was appointed 3 September 1850 as administrator of the estate of Solomon Andrews, late gentleman of Essex, with William Allen Andrews and Franklin Andrews, mechanics of Essex, as sureties. The 1850 census for Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts shows Philenia Guppy age 40 with children: Charles A. age 15, shoemaker; George F. age 13; Orlando age 11; John E. age 6; Samuel L. age 4; Mary E. age 1/12; also [father] Solomon Andrews age 81.

Notes for Mary Allen

Mary was also known as Polly or Molly.

Children of Solomon ANDREWS and Mary ALLEN were as follows:

2808 i child ANDREWS, born 29 Jun 1794 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 29 Jun 1794 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts.

+ 2809 ii Maria ANDREWS, born 11 Jul 1796 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 6 Jun 1844 in Beverly, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married William S. FOSTER.

+ 2810 iii Anna L. ANDREWS, born 10 Apr 1798 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 21 Apr 1888 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married Asa RIGGS.

+ 2811 iv Ruth ANDREWS, born 13 Dec 1799 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 20 Sep 1851 in Boston, Suffolk County, Massachusetts; buried in Old Burial Ground, Essex, Massachusetts. She married Daniel P. POLAND, Sr..

+ 2812 v Atarah ANDREWS, born 11 Jan 1802 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married Benjamin BROWN.

Jonathan ANDREWS1464, 1465, 1466, (Jonathan4, John3, Joseph2, John1), christened 22 Jul 1764 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 12 Jan 1848 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married on 18 Aug 1785 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Rebecca ANDREWS1467, 1468, 1469, (see 888), christened 22 Jul 1764 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, died after 1797 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Caleb ANDREWS and Anna MARSHALL.

Notes for Jonathan Andrews

Jonathan was a fisherman and lived in Ipswich. Jonathan Andrews and his wife Rebecca Andrews are first cousins. Jonathan Andrews died at age 83 years, 5 months, 27 days, of "consumption, son of Jonathan and Ann," widower, laborer. He and Rebecca had at least five children, the only one named in the records is Obed. Records show children with dates of Dec 1788, Oct 1790, Sept 1791 and Oct 1792, 22 June 1792, Ipswich vital records. Other children may have been Sally (born Sept 1799), Anna (born Aug 1801) and perhaps Seth (born May 1802). I have named the children according to other sources and made them the children of Jonathan and Rebecca (Andrews) Andrews rather than their son Seth S. and Sally (Dunnels) Andrews as in the manuscript of E. M. Andrews.

Notes for Rebecca Andrews

"The Descendants of Lieut. John Andrews" states that Rebecca was unmarried in 1797 or married Jonathan Andrews (5-440 in Mss) in 1785. The Jonathan Andrews (5-401 in Mss) that married Mary Burnham was the son of John Andrews (4) and Martha Cogswell, John Andrews (3) and Elizabeth Wallis, Joseph Andrews (2) and Sarah Ringe, John Andrews (1).

Children of Jonathan ANDREWS and Rebecca ANDREWS were as follows:

+ 2813 vi Solomon6 ANDREWS, born 13 Jul 1805 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 4 Feb 1862 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Lydia STORY HASKELL.

Massachusetts; died 7 Oct 1843 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married (1) on 16 Oct 1794 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Hannah BURNHAM1494, born 1775 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 25 May 1796 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Thomas BURNHAM and Mary HOWE; (2) on 28 Mar 1797 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Susannah BURNHAM1495, born 1771 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 8 Jun 1859 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts, daughter of Thomas BURNHAM and Mary HOWE.

Notes for David Andrews
David died in Essex, age 74 years, 2 months, 28 days, "gentleman, son of Jonathan and Ann, consumption". In his will dated 30 June 1843, proved 7 November 1843, he names his wife Susanna, sons David S., Ira, and Daniel (sole executor), daughters Susan Poland and Amelia Andrews, son-in-law Joshua Burnham, and grandsons Josiah Poland, Ira Poland and Jeremiah Poland. His list of children may be incomplete, they are not recorded by name in Ipswich.

Notes for Hannah Burnham
Hannah died in childbirth, age 21 years.

Notes for Susannah Burnham
Susannah is the sister of David Andrews' first wife, Hannah Burnham.

Children of David ANDREWS and Hannah BURNHAM were as follows:

2836 i Hannah ANDREWS1496, born 25 May 1796 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 1833. She married on 31 Mar 1822 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts Joshua BURNHAM1497, 1498 (see 2495), born 24 Mar 1793 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 11 May 1857, son of Joshua BURNHAM and Lucy ANDREWS. Notes for Daniel Andrews

Daniel Andrews, schoolmaster, and his wife Betsy sold part of the Chebacco School farm for $390 to William Burnham on 3 May 1803. A schoolteacher, in his will he named his wife Betsy and mentioned his three children, who were to receive part of his father's estate. Jesse Burnham was appointed guardian to Daniel's three daughters, Cynthia, 13; Sophia, 11; and Elizabeth age 9, on 2 December 1817. On the fourth Tuesday of April 1818 he was given permission to sell part of the real estate of David [Daniel] Andrews for the benefit of the minors, a small dwelling house and wood house on 20 poles of land in Ipswich, sold for $485 to Moses Burnham on 3 August 1818. On 1 February 1820, Jesse Burnham gave an account of the three daughters; it was stated that their mother was dead. There is a child born Feb 1820 in Ipswich that died suddenly of quinsy 10 May 1806 in Ipswich which is listed as a child of Daniel.

Children of Daniel ANDREWS and Betsey BURNHAM were as follows:

Notes for Eleazer Andrew, Sr.

Eleazer Andrews, fisherman, paid $450 on 4 November 1797 to Jesse Burnham of Gloucester, boat builder, for a tenement in Gloucester with a dwelling house and barn, estimated 35 rods or thereabouts running northeast to Ipswich to land of Jonathan Andrews. Eleazer Andrews of Ipswich, yeoman, and Mary his wife on 18 November 1824 sold for $43.75 three and a half acres in Essex to Samuel Andrews, Essex, yeoman; on the same day Moses and Eunice Burnham also sold property to Samuel Andrews. No probate records for Eleazer have been found in Essex County.

Children of Eleazer and Molly: Lois/Louis, Samuel and Emily all died in the late summer of 1824 of dysentery. Eleazer Andrews and Molly Andrews, his wife, are first cousins one generation removed. Inscription from gravestone in the Old Burying Ground, Essex, Massachusetts: Eleazer Andrews / Died / March 31, 1851. / AE. 79.

The following is from "The Old Cellars of Essex" by Harold Jenkins: "Keeping on our course to the westward, we come out on the old road to Manchester. The first cellar we visit is that of the late Eleazer Andrews, a very ancient homestead. Mr. Andrews was one of our old shipwrights, and raised a large family of very respectable men and women. His land would not be considered a very good one by this day, being composed of a gravely loam, or as some would say, good white bean land. Quite a large meadow comprises the farm, which bears some nice cranberries."

Notes for Molly Andrews

Inscription from gravestone in the Old Burying Ground, Essex, Massachusetts: Mary Andrews / Wife of / Eleazer Andrews / Died June 29, 1846. / Aged 72. Essex vital records give her age at death as 72 years, 8 months and 16 days; of consumption.

Notes for Joseph Burnham

Joseph served in the Revolutionary War. A court clerk took down his description of service later. It begins: "On about the 20th day of April 1775, I enlisted into the service...in the Army of the revolution for seven months as orderly Sergeant under the following named Officers, to wit, Capt. Daniel Lyon then of Woodstock, Connecticut, Lieutenant Sharp of Pomfret, Connecticut, and Ensign Sumner of Ashford, Connecticut. I served in a Regiment commanded by Col. Jedediah Huntington then of Norwich or New London, Connecticut...I was marched to and stationed at Roxbury, Massachusetts...and there served this term of my enlistment, and at the request of my officers I staid and served one month after my time was out. I was then dismissed and returned home." Other military records are generally in agreement. The payrolls preserved in Hartford add detail. The selectmen of Windham certified Joseph's first 10 days of service as a private during the Lexington Alarm, at 15 shillings per day including billeting. A later payroll under Capt. Daniel Lyon, 7th Co., 8th Reg., shows him a Sergeant. He received a premium of 2 pounds for reenlisting, and 10 shillings for his gun, 12 shillings for blanket and knapsack. The total for wages and billeting in a five-month period was 16 pounds, II shillings. He was discharged Dec. 15, 1775.

Joseph applied for a Revolutionary War pension in 1832, when a more liberal Act specified only that veterans show six months in any of the services. Since official War Office records had burned in 1800, evidence was supplied in many forms. Joseph relied on affidavits from comrades in arms and certificates of truthful character from fellow citizens. His file, S 12381, is available in the Archives of the United States in Washington. He first presented his request to the clerk of the Probate Court in Tolland, 11 Aug. 1832, who recorded it as follows: "Joseph Burnham...aged eighty years...doeth on his oath make the following declaration, in order to obtain the benefit of the Act of Congress passed June 7th 1832 that he entered the service of the United States under the following named officers, and served as herein stated."

Children of Joseph Burnham and Elizabeth Durkee were as follows:

2855  i  Eunice Burnham, born 25 May 1777 in Ashford, Windham County, Connecticut; died 7 Jun 1817. She married (1) on 27 Jun 1797 Amos Snow, born 20 Sep 1765 in Ashford, Windham County, Connecticut; died 13 Sep 1805; (2) Sampson Keyes, born 30 Oct 1761 in Ashford, Windham County, Connecticut; died 3 Jan 1834 in Ashford, Windham County, Connecticut.

Notes for Jeremiah Andrews

Jeremiah probably lived with his father in Concord, Massachusetts before he went into the army during the Revolutionary War. His physical description: "born in Ipswich, Mass., age 18 years, stature 5 ft. 8 in., fair complexion, black eyes, farmer, residence: Temple". The following from "Maine Families in 1790" Vol. 4, p. 10: Jeremiah married Elizabeth Sawtelle, daughter of Hezekiah and Margaret (Dodge) Sawtelle, ("History of Bethel, Oxford, Maine, 1768 to 1890 " by William B. Lapham (1891), p. 461. Jeremiah was a Revolutionary War soldier and pensioner and served in Col. Tupper's regiment (Fisher's Soldiers, p. 16; Revolutionary War pension #S36893). He was in the Battle of Bunker Hill and served another term before leaving Temple, New Hampshire (Lapham's Bethel, p. 84). He moved to Bethel soon after his marriage and settled on the south side of the Androscoggin River near the Rumford line (ibid.). He had first come to Bethel in 1780 with a group of men from Dublin New Hampshire under the hire of Capt. Joseph Twitchell, the original proprietor of the Bethel mills, to assist in building the first mills (ibid., p. 302). During his years in Bethel, he served several town offices including selectman, surveyor of highways, and treasurer (ibid. pp. 160-63). On 27 Mar 1823, Jeremiah declared that he was "now poor and needing charity" ("Maine Estate Schedules from Revolutionary War Pensions," NEHGR, 145:162, [1991]). He stated he had no real estate and that his personal estate consisted of a cow, a pig and a few ordinary articles of household utensils; he was a farmer who was unable to work due to "age and infirmity"; his wife Elizabeth, age 58y, was "a feeble old woman" (ibid.).

Notes for Asa Appley

Asa and Hannah left Connecticut soon after their marriage and went with his brother Elisha and brother-in-law Stephen Read to Delaware County, New York. Stephen built a log house at Crooked Eddy and they all lived there with him until he married. Asa then built a house on Peas Island in the bend of the Delaware around Hawk Mountain. On the 1800 census Elisha Appley is still in their household along with their three eldest children. Asa and Stephen Read bought a parcel at Peas Island together in 1802, another at Readburn in 1810. Stephen's house at Readburn still stands, across the road from the cemetery where he is buried. Presumably Asa and Hannah Appley are buried there too, but the stones have not survived. See: "History of the Appley Family in America", by Walter E. Casey, 1979.

+ 3233 iv Sophie ANDRUS, born 1846 in Michigan; died in Homer, Calhoun County, Michigan. She married Alvin HOPKINS.

Notes for Enoch Andrus

Enoch was a farmer and fruit grower in Clarendon, Orleans County, New York, living on the old Jacob Andrus farm. He spent one year in Michigan where he helped clear part of his brother Seymour's farm and erected a log cabin for him.

Enoch was a great story teller and the following relates the interest taken in the hanging of the Thayer brothers which took place in Buffalo many years ago when Buffalo was only a country town. When he was about 20 years of age, he with a score of others from Clarendon walked to Buffalo by way of Byron and Batavia to see the Thayer brothers hung. The party stopped for the night about five miles from Buffalo and in their journey found taverns every few miles the whole distance. At this time, Buffalo was a small village and the hanging took place on the west side of the Main Street near Terrace. All the boats in the harbor were crowded with people witnessing the execution.

The great crowd ate up all the food the village of Buffalo could supply and Enoch and his friends were in the streets all night without food or lodging. The weather was quite cold for the month of June. The following day, Enoch and his friends walked to Niagara Falls and stayed in a barn overnight. For a distance of one and a half miles before reaching the Falls, the countryside was a wilderness. The party returned home through Lewiston to Lockport and then took a "Line Boat" below the locks, which was drawn by horses. The Erie Canal at that time was only a ditch.

The 1850 census for Clarendon, Orleans County, New York shows the household of Enoch Andrus age 41, born about 1809 in Massachusetts, farmer with wife Abigail age 31, born in New York; Sarah Andrus age 18, born in New York; Julia L. He married on 4 Oct 1840 in Clarendon, Orleans County, New York Maria HAMMOND, born 11 Dec 1818 in Lima, Livingston County, New York; died 7 Mar 1913 in Hastings, Barry County, Michigan, daughter of Lyman HAMMOND and Annie BOWMAN.

Notes for Seymour Andrus

Before marriage, Maria worked in the home of Seymour's parents. Seymour Andrus was a farmer and shoemaker. He lived with his parents until 1814 when he went to Hastings, Michigan in a one-horse sleigh of his own making, and bought a farm. He returned to Clarendon. In 1842 his brother Enoch went to Michigan for a year and built a log cabin for him. In 1844 the young couple with their son Charles and daughter Mary went to Michigan. There is extensive biographical information in the E. M. Andrews reference. There is another interesting story, "One Pioneer Family" recorded in the "One Branch of the Andrus Family" reference.

The 1850 census for Hastings, Barry County, Michigan shows Seymour Andrus age 27, farmer with wife Maria age 25 and children: Charles S. age 8; Mary L. age 6; Enoch age 4; Almyra age 1. They are living next door to Betsy [Andrus, sister of Seymour] and Horace Dodge. The 1860 census for Hastings, Barry County, Michigan shows Seymour Andrus age 38, farmer with wife Maria age 40 and children: Charles age 19; Mary age 17; Enoch age 14; Almira age 13; Lois Ann age 12; Frank age 4; Frederick age 1. The 1870 census for Hastings, Barry County, Michigan shows Seymour Andrus age 47, farmer with wife Maria age 49 and children: Louisa age 18; Frank age 13; Fred age 12. Also in the household are: George Wolcott age 29, stone mason born in Ohio; Mary [Andrus] Wolcott age 27, born in New York; Fred Wolcott age 5; Fred Wolcott age 1, born in Michigan. The 1880 census for Hastings, Barry County, Michigan shows Seymour Andrus age 57, farmer with wife Maria age 60, keeping house; grandson Fred Wolcott age 15, at school. The 1894 Michigan State Census Schedule for Hastings, Barry County, Michigan shows Seymour Andrus age 73, Mariah Andrus age 75, Frank Wolcott age 25, Daisy Wolcott age 18; Charles Andrew age 52; Cynthia Andrew age 52; Nora Andrew age 24; Ada Andrew age 19; Harley Andrew age 15.

Notes for Maria Hammond

This little Genealogy or History of one Branch of the Andrus Family and some of their Kinsfolk, which is sponsored by her grandsons and granddaughters, is reverently and lovingly dedicated by them to the memory of: Maria (Hammond) Andrus, "Grandma Andrus".

Who, having few advantages herself, accomplished much; who was a model mother and a wonderful grandmother; who, having but little education of the school variety, strove always to obtain those advantages for her children and her children's children; who was our wise counselor at all times, encouraging us in all laudable undertakings, rejoicing in our successes, sympathizing with us in our misfortunes; who was alive to her finger tips during the ninety-five years of her life, always intensely interested in all civic and educational matters; and who, although totally blind during her latter years, never lost her courage or her sweet smile. [I have put the author in the sources as Will E. Osborn, a grandson].

Children of Seymour ANDRUS and Maria HAMMOND were as follows:

+ 3253 i Charles Seymour ANDRUS, born 23 Jul 1841 in Clarendon, Orleans County, New York; died 31 May 1922 in Bergen, Monroe County, New York. He married Cynthia KELLY.

Notes for Ephraim Fitch
Ephraim moved from Norwich to Pawlet with his father's family in 1774. In 1808, he built, a brick tavern and inn (now the Franklin House) as well as a mill in Pawlet. He was a legislator for three years, a Mason, a member of the Washington Benevolent Society, and a member of the Congregational Society. Moses Billings of Pawlet wrote: "He built a new gristmill at Algiers (the nickname of East Pawlet Village) a few rods below where his old mill stood; and in this, two or three years afterward, he got killed. The mill had a large over-shot wheel, which froze up in the winter; and in cutting away the ice to start the wheel, it became loose sooner than he expected; and the buckets on one side being filled with ice, so heavy as to carry the wheel half-way around, it crushed him between the wheel and the wall of the mill."
Reverend Griswold preached his funeral sermon; part of the sermon was inscribed on his grave stone. He was buried near his father in the Pawlet cemetery. There are extensive probate court records in settlement of his estate. Because he was an inn-keeper, these records list many of the inhabitants of Pawlet who owed him money and others to whom he owed money. After Ephraim died, Joseph Porter was appointed guardian, 12 Feb 1813, for sons George and Ferris.

Children of Ephraim FITCH and Sally PORTER were as follows:

3388 i Dorastus FITCH, born 12 Mar 1786 in Pawlet, Rutland County, Vermont.

Bushnell age 15, at school; Frederick Bushnell age 12, at school; Benjamin F. Bushnell age 6, at school.

Children of James BUSHNELL and Lucinda SMITH were as follows:

3482 i  Fanny BUSHNELL, born 13 Nov 1817 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut.
3484 iii  Mary Ann BUSHNELL, born 26 Jan 1821 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut.

Children of Polly LARRABEE and John ELKINS were as follows:

+ 3488 i  Mary Ann ELKINS, born 8 Nov 1824 in Augusta, Oneida County, New York; died 10 May 1902 in Chester, Eaton County, Michigan; buried in Gresham Cemetery, Chester, Michigan. She married Levi SPAFFORD.

Notes for David Larrabee

Census analysis by John Clement: 1840 for Paris Township, Oneida County, New York shows David Laraby. One male 0-4 (Dwight, son of David); one male 15-19 (unknown); one male 30-39 (David); one female 20-29 (Parmilia, sister of David); one female 30-39 (Caroline, wife of David); one female 70-79 (Ruth, mother of David). This listing indicates one person is in agriculture (probably the unknown 15-19 male who perhaps is a hired hand); one person in a learned profession [David, the 1850 census shows he is a physician]. The 1840 census had a special column to list Revolutionary War Pensioners, in this family group appears Ruth Larribee, age 75. The 1850 census for Paris Township, Oneida County, New York lists all members of the household by name. David Larribee, 40, physician; Caroline, 44; Dwight, 14; Caroline, 10; Ruth Larribee, 86. The 1860 Paris Township, Oneida County, New York census shows Ruth (Sedgwick) Larrabee, mother of David is not listed among her son's family, and assumed to be dead; David Larrabee, 52, physician; Caroline, 53; Dwight W., 25, merchant; Margaret, 26 (Dwight's wife); Caroline A., 19, District School Teacher.

Children of David LARRABEE and Caroline (---) were as follows:

+ 3489 i  Dwight LARRABEE, born 10 Jun 1836 in Paris Township, Oneida County, New York. He married Margaret HARRISON.
3490 ii  Caroline LARRABEE, born about 1840 in New York.

Benjamin was the first keeper of the Straitsmouth Island Light, Gloucester, Massachusetts. He died on the island. The 1850 census for Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts shows Mary Andrews age 62 with daughters Mary age 44 and Betsey age 37. The 1870 census for Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts shows sisters Mary W. Andrews age 64, keeping house and Betsy F. age 56, keeping variety store. The 1880 census for Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts shows sisters Betsy F. age 66, keeps shop and Mary age 73, keeping house.

"The area's vital granite business began in the 1820s, joining the fishing industry to put Rockport, which was then a part of Gloucester, on the map. In fact, before it was incorporated as a town in 1840, Rockport was known to many as Granitetown. Rockport grew up around an indentation in the northeastern part of the cape known as Sandy Bay. It was determined that Straitsmouth Island, some 1,600 feet offshore near Gap Head at the bay's southeastern end, would be an ideal place for a lighthouse to guide vessels toward the busy harbor at Pigeon Cove, and also to help vessels pass through the channel between Thacher Island to the south and the rocks known as the Salvages, northeast of Straitsmouth. Congress appropriated $5,000 for the lighthouse in 1834. A 19-foot lighthouse tower and a keeper's dwelling, both made of brick, were built on Straitsmouth Island in 1835. The first keeper was Benjamin Andrews, chosen because he was not likely to "serve as a juror, or to perform military duty." John Davis became keeper in 1841 at a yearly salary of $350. After inspecting Straitsmouth Island Light in 1842, engineer I.W.P. Lewis called the station a "specimen of contract work of the worst kind." Davis complained that the house was poorly built and leaky, and that the water cistern in the cellar was so leaky that it was useless. Davis dismantled the cistern and made many repairs on the dwelling. In his report, Lewis also pointed out that one of the original purposes of the lighthouse was to guide mariners through the narrow channel between Thacher Island and the Salvages. Unfortunately, the tower was situated about 500 feet out of position and failed to fulfill this purpose."

Notes for Mary Soper Marshall

The 1850 census for Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts shows Mary Andrews age 62 with daughters Mary age 44 and Betsey age 37. The 1860 census for Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts shows Mary Andrews age 72 with daughters Mary W. age 54 and Betsey age 46. The 1870 census for Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts shows Mary W. Andrews age 64 and Betsey F. Andrews age 56.

Children of Benjamin Williams ANDREWS and Mary Soper MARSHALL were as follows:

3512  i  Mary Williams ANDREWS, born 25 Jul 1806 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 1 Jul 1885 in Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: Mary died unmarried age 78 years 10 months.

+ 3513 ii  Benjamin Williams ANDREWS, born 11 Oct 1808 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 15 Apr 1887 in Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts; buried in Beech Grove Cemetery, Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Martha THURSTON.

3514 iii  Betsey Foster ANDREWS, born 20 Aug 1813 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 15 Mar 1885 in Rockport, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: Betsey died unmarried aged 75 years. Betsey Foster Andrews is mentioned in the Essex Institute Historical Collections, Vol. 95 [an article on fashion]; that refers to "The clothing worn by the Hatchet Gang of July 8, 1856, a group of Rockport women, armed with hatchets, who took it upon themselves to destroy every cask of liquor in the town, was described by an eye-witness, etc. ..." To this prevailing costume, there was one exception, Betsey Andrews, prophetess of the time when, as she said, women would no longer sweep up the filth of the streets with their skirts. She wore a short full skirt to just below the knee. Under this were wide bloomers of the same color extending from knee to ankle, and ending in a short gathered frill. It was fortunate that she did not make the mistake she did at her mother's funeral and go with one red bloomer and one white. Such a counter attraction would have ruined the raids."

http://www.rockportusa.com/Resources.cfm?id=10042&mk=63&ck=0&em=&ey= July 8, 1856, is an important date in the history of Rockport. On that summer morning, 200 wives, mothers, daughters and assorted supporters gathered in Dock Square to take part in an event that would have repercussions to this very day. Brandishing hatchets, led by Hannah Jumper, they began their raid. In the words of Ebenezer Pool, an eyewitness. "...On finding any keg, jug, or cask having spirituous liquor in it...with their hatchets broke or otherways destroyed it..." Who was Hannah Jumper? How did so many law abiding, homemakers find the courage to follow her? Hannah Jumper, a tall, redhead, 31 year old seamstress, left her family's farm in Joppa and came to Rockport in 1812. Her talent with a needle and thread, along with her abilities to grow herbs and make medicinal brews from them, helped her to build a pleasant life in the small fishing community. Thus established, Hannah began to form lasting friendships with many of the women who would later join her in the rebellion against "demon rum". Fishing was the mainstay of Rockport. However, the weather only permitted this activity for nine months of the year. Instead of finding other employment during their enforced three month "vacation" the men idled away their time and consumed enormous amounts of liquor. Year after year, the economic deprivation caused by those periods of inactivity was worsened by the money spent on spirits. The women of the town grew increasingly frustrated and their patience wore thin. Hannah Jumper not only shared their feeling and their concerns, but she also became very outspoken on the subject. Finally, in 1856, with the rise of the temperance movement and the early rumblings of women's rights being heard, the women of Rockport met secretly to plot their historic raid. Only three men were considered trustworthy enough to be taken into their confidence. On the morning of July 8, 1856 women from every corner of Rockport rallied around Hannah and five other women who had assumed leadership roles. Even at age 75, Hannah Jumper was still a formidable figure! Secreting their weapons beneath lacy shawls, the protesters set out to destroy every drop of alcohol located in places they had marked (under cover of darkness) with a small white cross. Howls of outrage and threats of recriminations followed the progress of the "hatchet gang". Five hours later. the weary but victorious women ended their revolt and went home to fix supper for their families. One disgruntled target of the raid, Jim Brown, took the matter to court. The verdict, in favor of the women, was appealed time and time again. In the end, the original verdict was upheld and Brown was ordered to pay the court costs of $346.25 to the defendants. Subsequently, Rockport became a 'dry' town, and remained so until 2005, when voters approved the sale of alcoholic beverages in local restaurants.

Notes for Asa Story

Asa Story, was a gunsmith. He built Kentucky-style turkey rifles (also called squirrel rifles), excellent for hunting game and birds. Asa was a fine workman. He fashioned each gun he made to the specifications of the future owner—the weight, the balance. Each rifle was put together with personal concern and precision. Each stock was carefully shaped to comfortably fit the man or boy who would raise it to his shoulder. The superior gunsmith was willing to share his skill and knowledge. The success story of one young Nicanor Kendall, who apprenticed in Asa's shop, was told years later by Guy Hubbard in his Industrial History of Windsor, Vermont.

Children of Asa STORY and Rhoda PHILLSBURY were as follows:

Notes for Dyer Story

Dyer studied medicine at Hanover, New Hampshire; he went to Bridgewater, Pennsylvania where he practiced with Dr. Dennison. He moved shortly to Rushford, New York where he spent three years and finally in 1817 moved to Windsor, Vermont and spent the rest of his life in the practice of medicine. In 1848 Dr. Dyer Story and the residents of the West parish of Windsor presented a petition for the separation of West and East parishes to the state legislature. On 28 October 1848 the governor approved and signed House Bill #63 and entitled "an Act to divide the town of Windsor". From that time the west parish of Windsor has been the independent township of West Windsor. See: "History of Windsor County, Vermont with Biographical Sketches of its Prominent Men", by F. R. Holmes and L.C. Aldrich; D. Mason & Co., Syracuse, NY, 1801. The 1850 census for West Windsor, Windsor County, Vermont shows Dyer Story age 60, physician with wife Susan age 52 and children: Susan L. age 26; Charlotte M. age 18.

Dyer Story was the thirteenth son of Zachariah and Susannah Low. Zachariah, in his early career, was the master of the sloop Charlotte that sailed the seas, trading New England products in the West Indies. When Captain Story tired of the sea, he and his growing family settled for a while in Hopkinton, New Hampshire. In 1790, at the age of forty-nine, he came to the West Parish of Windsor and bought 200 acres on the lower slopes of Ascutney Mountain, just west of the present village of Brownsville. He cleared the land and built a brick house (south side of Route 44, less than a mile west of the center of Brownsville). Of the nine children in the family when they arrived (he and Susannah had buried four) Asa (later, the well-known gunsmith) was two years old. Dyer was one year. The children attended the local district school. Dyer was an avid reader with a great thirst for knowledge. In 1813, he studied at Dartmouth Medical School in Hanover, New Hampshire. Leaving there, he followed the general western migration with many of the local families and started practicing medicine in Bridgewater, Pennsylvania. He was there only a short time before moving to Rushford, New York, a town settled by a number of Windsor families. Ill health precipitated his return to Vermont where he must have felt a need for his talents, for he settled down, married Susan Lawrence and had a family of five children. He spent fifty years of his life driving his gig, buggy or sleigh from farm to farm, winter and summer. His black doctor's bag was a wellspring of fascinating, but frightening, shiny instruments. Though various colored pills and powders which he dispensed did wonders to alleviate fever and pain they often did little towards curing the distressed patients or shortening their prolonged illnesses. Dr. Story practiced in the days when "bleeding, puking and giving of mercury" were thought to be of great benefit. The young doctor even invented a special instrument or appendage which he used in bleeding his patients.

He was greatly respected, not only by the people of the Parish, but by other medical men throughout the county. In 1846, he was Vice President of the Windsor County Medical Society. In 1846 and 1847, he was elected a member of the Vermont Legislature. For eight years, 1846-1851, he was on the State Board of Examiners for the Vermont Medical College at Woodstock.

Darwin Rush Story, his eldest child, born 1819, followed in his father's footsteps. He pursued his medical training in Woodstock and at the Berkshire Medical Institute, Pittsfield, Massachusetts, from where he graduated in 1841. For nine years, Darwin gained experience and knowledge working with his father in the West Parish before moving to Proctorsville, Vermont, where he practiced his profession for over fifty years. Upon his death in 1910, he provided for a community hall in West Windsor to be erected in memory of his father, Dyer. It was a few years before the plan was fully executed, but thanks to Edward I. White, husband of Darwin's only child Emma (deceased), and their friend and local West Windsor resident George G. Waite, the wish of the generous Dr. Darwin Story was carried out. The Union Church and an old shop were demolished and the substantial buff brick building with red slate roof and square clock tower was erected on the northeast corner of the junction of the roads in the center of Brownsville. Story Memorial Hall was dedicated in 1915. Story Memorial Hall became the central meeting place of West Windsor's social and town functions.

Children of Dyer STORY and Susan LAWRENCE were as follows:

- 3938 i Darwin Rush STORY, born 17 Aug 1819 in Windsor, Windsor County, Vermont; died 17 Sep 1910 in Cavendish, Windsor County, Vermont. He married Eliza Marie WAITE.

Notes for Moses Burnham

1786 Roderick H. Burnham, The Burnham Family, Genealogical Records of the Four Emigrants of the Name (Hartford: Press of Case, Lockwood & Brainard, 1869), pp. 335, 350. Reference on p. 325 has Moses the son of David Burnham and Elizabeth Marshall. Shows that he married Eunice Andrews 9 Mar 1799 and states that he had no children. I have Moses the son of Aaron Burnham and Margaret Story; who married Eunice Andrews 6 Apr 1799 and had seven children.
Moses Burnham was the last Essex man to build and then captain one of his own boats. Moses Burnham, yeoman, and Eunice his wife on 18 November 1824 sold for $103.96 a certain piece of pasture land of 13 and one fourth rods in Essex to Samuel Andrews of Essex, yeoman. Their six sons were highly famed as shipbuilders in the heyday of the Essex shipyards. Moses, Jr., is said to have launched 22 vessels in 22 months and gone bankrupt in the process.

Children of Moses BURNHAM and Eunice ANDREWS were as follows:

+ 3952 i Aaron BURNHAM, born 22 Jan 1802 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 14 Mar 1876 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. He married Anna ANDREWS (see 6334).

Notes for Seth Burnham

The following is from "The Old Cellars of Essex" by Harold Jenkins: "The last call we will make is at the house of John E. Lufkin and we take a look at what remains of the famous mansion of Mr. Seth Burnham. Mr. Burnham was a great mechanic. He made all the pumps, for both vessels and wells, and all the coffins that were then used, both in this town and in West Gloucester. He also made carpenter tools - a dafo of his making being in the possession of George Cogswell, which though rude in construction, will do its work as well as the best. He also built boats, and in his spare moments, built his mansion. For instance, he would think how nice a piazza would look on one side or the other of the house; after getting a piazza on, he would say, 'Well, it won't cost much more to make this into a room' and, accordingly would do so, until at one time it was said he had thirty-five dark bedrooms in his house.

The old gentleman's family grew up and left home. Not having the need for so many rooms, he began to sell off portions: several shoemaker shops, etc.

Mr. Seth Burnham raised a large family; 3 boys [sons from second wife Rebecca Andrews] still living are David and Obed plus Andrew Burnham of Chelsea, who is the government inspector of steamboat hulls, and whose name can be seen on the certificate of any steam vessel."

Notes for Job Story
When Job was 21 he set out with his brother George to walk to Meigs County, Ohio by way of Troy, New York and Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. From there they took passage on an open boat and went another 130 miles; but they were unhappy with this and again set out on foot. They arrived at their brother John's home in Orange County after a journey of 30 days and a total cost of $39.19. He remained nearly two years and after selecting a piece of land in the county, he returned to Enfield, New Hampshire, where he married his cousin Lucy Story. In 1833 he and his wife and six children returned to Meigs County for good. He purchased 120 acres of land near Burlingham and began farming. At one time he was town clerk for Bedford and also served on the Board of School examiners several times. He was considered an

The 1850 census for Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts shows Samuel Burnham age 63, shipwright with wife Sally A. age 45 and children: Sarah A. age 19; Everett age 15; Albion age 10; Willis G. age 4; also in household is [brother-in-law] Abel Andrews age 56, farmer. The 1860 census for Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts shows Samuel Burnham age 72, shipwright with wife Sarah A. age 55; Willis G. age 14; Abel Andrews age 67, shipwright.

Samuel had much experience as a seafaring man and had many nautical adventures. One of Captain Samuel's most memorable voyages was made when he was about 22 years of age. In January of the year 1809 or 1810, he sailed in a topsail schooner, Capt. Jacob Woodbury commanding, from Beverly to Baltimore, Maryland, thence onto Oporto, Portugal, and from that port onto Archangel, Russia. There the vessel lay frozen in the harbor from Sept 21 until the following May. On the passage home, they kept off shore in order to avoid the French cruisers, and sailing across in from 73 to 75 degrees north latitude, they saw the sun for six days and nights in succession. Their return cargo was invoiced at $80,000. It consisted of iron, hemp, linen and mats. Samuel married Amelia Choate and Sally Andrews. Information on his other marriages are from the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) application #449466.

Notes for William Allen

William Allen's birth date of 7 Aug. 1799 in Robbinston, Maine is from a "Family Register", apparently written about 1870 by Howard W. & Olive (Gove) Allen and now (1995) in possession of Melva Morrill of Robbinston, Maine, a descendant of one of Howard and Olive's adopted children. The death date of 4 March 1864, age 64 years, 7 months, is from William Allen's gravestone in Robbinston Ridge Cemetery, Robbinston, Maine. But in The "Family Register" apparently written about 1870 by William's son Howard W. Allan or Howard's wife Olive (Gove) Allen, the date of death is given as: 4 March 1863 in Robbinston, Maine. Information on this family provided by Frederic Cain. The 1860 census for Robbinston, Washington County, Maine shows Wm Allen age 60, farmer with wife Amy age 50 and children: Ruth age 25; Wm H. age 23, farmer; Minerva age 18; Howard W. age 15; David S. age 13.

Children of William ALLEN and Amy C. COOK were as follows:

+ 4693 i  Ruth ALLEN, born 24 May 1835 in Robbinston, Washington County, Maine; died 3 Feb 1929 in Robbinston, Washington County, Maine; buried in Brewer Cemetery, Robbinston, Washington County, Maine. She married William Towers SHARMAN.

+ 4694 ii  William Henry ALLEN, born 23 May 1837 in Robbinston, Washington County, Maine. He married Mary W. GOLDING.

4695 iii  Susan ALLEN, born 29 Jun 1839 in Robbinston, Washington County, Maine; died 2 Oct 1843 in Robbinston, Washington County, Maine.

4696 iv  Minerva ALLEN, born 20 Nov 1841 in Robbinston, Washington County, Maine; died 12 Oct 1894 in Robbinston, Washington County, Maine. Notes: When Minerva Allen was born, her parents had not yet picked a name for her. Before they decided on a name, William Allen went down to Mill Cove at South Robbinston, and there saw a ship anchored which had come from Scotland. The ship was named "Minerva". So William and Amy (Cook) decided to use this name for their daughter. Many years later, Minerva Allen (Sharman) Gray would be named after her great aunt Minerva Allen. Minerva Allen lived her entire life in Robbinston, Maine. She never married, although at one time she was engaged to marry a man from St. Stephen, New Brunswick.

+ 4697 v  Howard Wellington ALLEN, born 26 Feb 1845 in Robbinston, Washington County, Maine; died 3 Jul 1927 in Robbinston, Washington County, Maine. He married Olive E. SMALL.

+ 4698 vi  David Sewell ALLEN, born 28 May 1850 in Robbinston, Washington County, Maine; died in Port Angeles, Clallam County, Washington. He married Anna Loring WHITACRE.

4699 vii  Amy Helen ALLEN, born 23 Feb 1851 in Robbinston, Washington County, Maine; died 28 Mar 1853 in Robbinston, Washington County, Maine.

Notes for John A. Allen

John was killed by food poisoning while on a fishing trip to Deblois, Maine. The “Machias Union” of 19 July 1859 reported that John Mann of Township #28 had been charged with John Allen's murder, and Allen's wife was also implicated.

Their children were Mary born 6 Jul 1779; Solomon born 15 January 1782; John born 25 March 1784; and Lucy born in April 1786, and who died in infancy. Mary married James Wilson, Esq., of Hillsborough. Solomon, Major General, is now living at Hillsborough. General Solomon McNeil, married Nancy M. the second daughter of Gov. Benjamin Pierce. Gen. John McNeil married Elizabeth A. the eldest daughter of Gov. Pierce--she is still living. Gen. John McNeil was a distinguished officer in the war of 1812. He entered the service as a Captain, 12 March 1812. On 15 August 1813 he was promoted to Majority; 15 July 1814, he was brevetted a Lieut. Colonel "for his intrepid behavior on the 5th of July in the battle of Chippewa;" was brevetted a Colonel 25 July 1814, "for his distinguished valor as a commander of the 11th regiment of infantry on the 25th day of July in the battle of Niagara;" was promoted to the rank of Lieut. Colonel, 24 Feb 1818; to the rank of Colonel, 28 April 1826; and was brevetted Brigadier General, 25 July 1824 after ten years of faithful service as brevet Colonel. In April 1830, Gen. McNeil retired from the service, having been appointed by Gen. Jackson, Surveyor of the port of Boston. This last office he held until the day of his death, which happened at Washington, 23 Feb 1850. The oldest son of Gen. John McNeil was a graduate of West Point and was wounded in the Florida War, while leading an attack upon an Indian Camp, on the 10th of September 1837. He lived till the following night when he expired at the age of twenty years and six months, lamented by a large circle of friends. Lieut. Benjamin P. McNeil, the second son of Gen. John, was attached to the U. S. service, a Lieutenant in the artillery corps, and died at Boston, June 12th, 1853. Gen. McNeil had two daughters, Elizabeth Andrews Benham, who married Capt. G. W. Benham, of the United States Army and who now resides at Hillsborough, and Frances who also resides with her mother at Hillsborough."

Children of John MCNEIL and Elizabeth Andrews PIERCE were as follows:

4968 i John Winfield Scott MCNEIL, born 17 Feb 1817; died 10 Sep 1837 in Florida. Notes: "The oldest son of Gen. Notes for Abraham Andrews

Abraham prepared for college under the tuition of his uncle, the Rev. Ephraim Putnam Bradford; graduated at Dartmouth College in 1811, being the first college graduate from Hillsborough; studied law but it not proving congenial he chose the profession of a teacher, in which vocation he labored for nearly half a century. Taught an Academy in Charlestown, Massachusetts, until he was chosen Principal of the Bowdoin Grammar school in Boston, which position he held until 70 years of age, when he resigned, and moved to Groton, Massachusetts, to engage in agricultural pursuits for ten years, following which he returned to Charlestown, where he remained until his decease, Mar. 4, 1869. There is extensive biographical information in the E.M. Andrews reference.

The 1870 census for Charlestown, Suffolk County, Massachusetts shows Caroline S. Andrews age 55; Hannah G. age 35, teacher; Henry S. age 33, joiner; Abbie M. age 31, clerk in office.

Notes for Samuel Andrews

Samuel became a contractor in building walls, roads, bridges, etc., eventually dealing in lumber which operations he pursued for nearly 50 years. He became interested in freighting goods in the days before the railroads, and thus teamed his lumber to the markets, in Nashua, Lowell and Boston, his teams returning with 'store goods', for the towns all along the routes. In 1840 he opened a store, which he sold out four years later, and then moved to Bradford Springs, New Hampshire, where he opened another store, built a tannery and conducted a hotel. Now extensively dealing in lumber he began operations at Hookset, New Hampshire and from there he moved to Manchester, New Hampshire, entering into commercial business on a large scale dealing in furniture, crockery, clothing, etc., also engaging in the drug trade, becoming a manufacturer of bedsteads, oil cloths, etc. Seeing the possibilities of the growing city, he engaged in land speculations buying farms in the suburbs, building streets through these properties and selling the land in house lots. He returned to Bradford in 1858 and built the "Bradford Springs Hotel": a house 100 by 40 feet, and had it furnished and open for business in ten weeks, at the same time engaging in extensive operations in different parts of the state. In 1870 he was a large contractor in building the Bradford & Claremont Railroad. In 1872 he bought the Gov. Pierce place in Hillsboro. He gradually relinquished his enterprises as age advanced. As an evidence of "General Sam's" activities, it is a fact that he operated simultaneously four large retail stores on Elm Street, Manchester; a wholesale and retail furniture store in Boston, Massachusetts, (this being the original of the Paine Furniture Stores) a general store at Hillsboro Bridge Village; conducted a wood and lumber yard at Portsmouth; ran both steam and water-power mills at Hooksett; dealt extensively in lumber, and owned one third of Wilson Hill, in Manchester in which he had cut up and was selling to individual customers. During his long and active career he experienced varied business vicissitude; made and lost several fortunes, but in them all his honor and business sagacity were never doubted. In his early days he had a strong military taste, and rose from 3rd Sergeant at 18 to Major General, which office he held two years. He was Commander of the Amoskeag Veterans in 1855. Enjoying a very large acquaintance with the public he was universally known as “General Sam”.

Notes for James Chase

James lived at Henniker, New Hampshire until 1800 when he went to Hillsboro to live with his uncle, Jacob Jones, from whom he learned the carpenter's trade. Reaching 21 he went to Rochester, New York and built the first frame building there (a lawyer's office) for which he received a deed of 10 acres of land located in what is now the heart of the city. Becoming discontented, he sold it for $100 and returned to Hillsboro. He was a farmer, currier and shoemaker. He went to Concord, New Hampshire and lived with his daughter for a short time and then returned to Hillsboro. James was blind for ten years and the last six years of his life he was cared for by his children.

The 1850 census for Hillsboro, Hillsborough County, New Hampshire shows James Chase age 63, farmer with wife Lucinda age 57 and daughter Lucy H. age 18. James and Lucinda are on the 1860, 1870 and 1880 [ages 93 and 86] census for Hillsboro, Hillsborough County, New Hampshire.

Charles Andrews, born 21 Nov 1835 in Lovell, Oxford County, Maine; died 4 Aug 1862 in Fort Macomb, Louisiana. Notes: Charles was unmarried. Brave Defense of a Proud City: The chronicle of this vital defense location on the shores of the Rigolets goes back even further than the existing structure. When General Andrew Jackson was preparing to defend New Orleans from a British invasion during the War of 1812, he sent an urgent message to Captain Francis Newman, Commander of Fort Petite Coquilles (the small wooden fort which was later replaced by Fort Pike). "Defend your fort to the last extreme," ordered the general, "and in case you should not be able to hold out, spike your guns, blow up the fort and evacuate to Post Chef Menteur." None of this became necessary, of course, because Jackson's force won the decisive battle at Chalmette on January 8, 1815. Although the United States survived the War of 1812, the British destruction of our nation's capital and their attack on New Orleans emphasized the weakness of our country's defense. To prevent a foreign invasion from occurring again, President James Monroe ordered the placement of an extensive coastal defense system. These new fortifications, together with existing ones, stretched along the entire Atlantic and Gulf coasts and protected strategic ports and rivers such as New Orleans and the Mississippi. Forts Pike and Macomb (also called Fort Wood) were two of six new masonry forts built in coastal Louisiana at this time. Together with Forts Jackson and St. Philip on the Mississippi River and Fort Livingston on Barataria Bay, these fortifications protected New Orleans from a seaborne invasion. Aurella Andrews, born 31 Mar 1839 in Lovell, Oxford County, Maine; died 7 Jan 1859 in Fryeburg, Oxford County, Maine. Notes: Aurelia died of tuberculosis as did her sister, Lydia.

Calestia Andrews, born 13 Oct 1845 in Lovell, Oxford County, Maine; died Feb 1917 in Flint, Genesee County, Michigan; buried in River Falls, Pierce County, Wisconsin. Notes: Calestia was a school teacher, she was unmarried; she moved from Fryeburg, Maine to River Falls, Wisconsin where she was a superintendent for a large lumbering business; she then moved to Oberlin, Ohio, for the education of her niece; then to Danvers, Massachusetts where she lived with her brother, Dean; then to Florida; and died in Flint, Michigan. Calestia was a graduate from Fryeburg Academy and Oberlin College. She gave up a teaching career to go to River Falls, Wisconsin to raise her brother Abraham's motherless daughter, Amee. After Abraham's death they returned to Oberlin. After the death of Amee, she gave her home to Oberlin College and then went to Danvers, Massachusetts to care for her invalid brother, Dean, until his death.

Notes for Stephen Andrews

Stephen was a merchant in Lovell, Maine and an Abolitionist. His brother Joseph wrote of his death resulting from a ruptured appendix. He was in horrible agony, his groans and screams could be heard all over town. He could not lie in bed, but knelt beside it. A man would stand on each side of him to help support him. As soon as the mortification set in, the pain left him and he told his attendants to lay him on his bed. Stephen and Martha had two other children, who died in infancy. He is buried in Sweden, Maine in the Woodbury family cemetery with his wife and two infant sons.

Children of Stephen ANDREWS and Martha WOODBURY were as follows:

- 5204 i Martha Woodbury' ANDREWS 2239, born 27 Nov 1838 in Lovell, Oxford County, Maine; died in Fairmount, Richland County, North Dakota. Abraham was a farmer and a cooper. His family moved to Ebensburg, Pennsylvania about 1855 where he was engaged in lumbering and the mercantile business. Abraham was a representative to Congress in 1862; was chairman of the Prohibition State Central Committee of Pennsylvania in 1888. He was a strong anti-slavery man and prohibitionist. The 1850 census for Lovell, Oxford County, Maine shows Abraham A. Barker age 34, farmer with wife Orsca [as written] age and children: Valentine S. age 7; Florentine H. age 3; Augustine B. [sic] age 1. The 1880 census for Ebensburg, Cambria County, Pennsylvania shows A. A. Barker age 64, lumber merchant with wife O. P. age 58; son C. H. age 25, merchant, all born in Maine.

Abraham received a common school education, and early engaged in farming and the manufacture of shooks [A set of parts for assembling a barrel or packing box]. In June 1855, he moved to Cambria County, Pennsylvania, where he followed the same pursuits, and afterwards engaged extensively in lumber and mercantile business. He has taken an active part in politics, was the organizer of the Republican Party in his county, served as delegate to the Chicago Convention in 1860, was elected a member of congress in 1864, serving one term and then resuming his business, which had suffered severely from his absence. When General Lee invaded Pennsylvania, he shouldered his musket as a private soldier and served with his regiment until the militia disbanded. He took an active part in the Temperance movement and was one of the first to engage in the anti-slavery cause.

Children of Abraham Andrew BARKER and Orsina Parker LITTLE were as follows:

+ 5278 i Valentine Stephen BARKER, born 15 Aug 1843 in Lovell, Oxford County, Maine; died 1 Apr 1906 in Ebensburg, Cambria County, Pennsylvania. He married (1) Jennie EVANS; (2) Catherine W. WILLIAMS.

Rufus Morgan French, born 1 Apr 1822 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 7 Jun 1891 in Fort Wayne, Allen County, Indiana. He married Maria Catherine Rudisill.

2301. The following from the Minot S. Giddings reference: While a young man he went to sea, and at the age of 21 years was promoted to be captain of a ship, with full control of its cargo, and engaged in the West India trade. His vessel was at one time seized and destroyed by a French privateer, and himself confined as a prisoner in Cuba, in a damp stone building, from which he suffered great hardship and severe pain from toothache. He was after a time released by the United States Minister, who gave him eight dollars, two of which he expended in having his tooth extracted. The passage of the French privateer bill through Congress, not many years since, it is supposed had reference to that time, and since his death it has been ascertained that there was a sum of money to have gone to him could all the facts in the case have been proven.

He was a man of nerve, as was shown in many instances. One incident is related by an eyewitness. During a terrible storm that came upon them it became necessary to furl the sails, and he ordered one of his men to go up and perform the duty. The man, alarmed by the danger of doing it, protested with tears against obeying the order, when Capt. Giddings, instead of compelling the man to obey, climbed the rigging and performed the task himself, while the sails lashed him and the waves tossed the ship with great fury. He was a heavy man, which made it all the more dangerous. In 1810 he was shipwrecked off the coast of Hatteras. Losing nearly all of his property, he gave up a seafaring life for that of a farmer, and settled in Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania, where he remained during life, and where nearly all his thirteen children were born, twelve of whom lived to mature age, and were a remarkable family. He married in 1802 Lucy Demming of Norwich, Connecticut with whom he lived more than fifty years.

2308 Ibid., pp. 193-195.
Children of James GIDDINGS and Lucy DEMMING were as follows:

+ 5435 i  Sarah Waterman’ GIDDINGS, born 28 Aug 1803 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 1864 in Herrick, Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania. She married John Bishop LYON.

+ 5437 iii  Andrew GIDDINGS, born 7 Apr 1807 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 22 Dec 1853 in Herrick, Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania. He married Margaret STEWART.

+ 5438 iv  Charles Woodbury GIDDINGS, born 10 May 1810 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 23 Dec 1879 in Table Rock, Pawnee County, Nebraska. He married Clarissa GRIFFIN.

5439 v  Giles Albert’ GIDDINGS\(^{2309}\), born 6 Oct 1812 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; died 2 Jun 1836 in Galveston, Republic of Texas; buried in San Jacinto Battleground Cemetery [San Jacinto Battleground State Historical Park, the site of the battle of San Jacinto, which won independence for Texas, is adjacent to the Houston Ship Channel, where the USS Texas is moored, five miles northeast of the intersection of State highways 134 and 225]. Notes: Giles was a merchant and then a surveyor. In 1834 he went to Texas to select and survey a place for a colony from Pennsylvania, but when the war of Texas independence broke out he joined General Sam Houston's army. On 10 April 1836 he wrote to his parents a much quoted letter datelined "Texas four miles from headquarters." He was mortally wounded at the battle of San Jacinto, where Santa Anna was taken prisoner, and died June 2, 1836, leaving an estate of five thousand acres of land. He was buried in the San Jacinto Battleground Cemetery. As a result of his service in the war, he was awarded a sizable piece of land in Texas. Since he was not alive to claim it, napoleon Bonaparte Giddings, attempted to claim to it. The family in Pennsylvania got wind of this, and Giles' brother, Jabez Deming ['J.D.'] Giddings went to Texas to assert their right to this land. Here is the text of the letter: "Texas, four miles from headquarters 10 April 1863 Dear Parents, Since I last wrote you I have been engaged in arranging an expedition against the Indians, who have committed many depredation against the frontier. On my return to the settlements, I learned that our country was again invaded by the merciless horde of Mexicans, who were waging a war of extermination against the inhabitants. A call was made for all friends of humanity to rise in arms and resist the foe. Men were panic stricken and fled, leaving their all behind them. I could not reconcile to my feelings to leave Texas without an effort to save it. Accordingly, I sent my course for the army and arrived last evening at this place. I shall enter camp this morning as a volunteer. The army, commanded by Gen. Houston, is lying on the west side of the Brazos, 20 miles from San Fillipe. The enemy is in that place waiting to attack. It is reported Houston will attack them in the morning. What will be the result, or the fate of Texas, is hid in the bowels of futurity. Yet, I think we are engaged in the cause of justice, and hope that god of battles will protect us. The enemy's course has been the most bloody that has ever been recorded on the page of history. Our garrison at San Antonio was taken and massacred; so another detachment of seven hundred, commanded by Col. Fanning, and posted at la Bahia, after surrendering prisoners of war; were led out and shot down like bears. Only one escaped to tell their melancholy fate. In their course they show no quarter to age, sex, or condition, all are massacred without mercy. If such conduct is not sufficient to arouse the patriotic feedings of the sons of liberty, I know not what will. I was born in a land of freedom, and taught to lisp the name of liberty with my infant tongue, and rather than be driven out of the country or submit to be a slave, I will leave my bones to bleach on the plains of Texas. If we succeed in subduing the enemy and establishing a free and independent government, we shall have the finest country the sun ever shone upon, and if we fail, we shall have the satisfaction of dying fighting for the rights of man. I know not that I shall have an opportunity of writing to you in some time, but shall do so as often as is convenient. Be not alarmed about my safety. I am no better, and my life no dearer than those who gained the liberty you enjoy. If I fall you will have the satisfaction that your son died fighting for the rights of man. Our strength in the field is about 1,500. The enemy is reported 4,000 strong; a fearful odds, you will say; but what can mercenary hirelings do against the sons of liberty. Before this reaches you the fate of Texas will be known. I will endeavor to acquaint you as soon as possible. I am well and in good spirits, and as unconcerned as if going to a raising. The same being who has hitherto protected my life can with equal ease ward off the balls of the enemy. My company is waiting, and I must draw to a close, and bid you farewell, perhaps forever. More than a year has elapsed since I saw you, yet the thoughts of friends and home are fresh in my memory, and remembrance yet lives in my affections and will light a secret joy to my heart."

+ 5440 vi Jabez Deming GIDDINGS, born 1814 in Gibson Township, Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania; died 10 Jun 1878 in Brenham, Washington County, Texas; buried in Prairie Lea Cemetery, Brenham, Texas. He married Ann TARVER.

+ 5441 vii Louisa GIDDINGS, born Jan 1817 in Gibson Township, Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania; died in Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania. She married Spencer WATROUS.

+ 5442 viii Maria Antoinette GIDDINGS, born 19 Feb 1819 in Herrick, Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania; died 3 Jan 1908 in Syracuse, Onondaga County, New York; buried in Herrick, Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania. She married Walter LYON.

5443 ix John James GIDDINGS, born 1821 in Herrick, Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania; died 1861. He married on 2 Nov 1848 in Penn Yan, Yates County, New York Matilda SLOAN, born 1825; died 4 Apr 1864 in San Antonio, Bexar County, Texas; buried in Alamo Cemetery, San Antonio, Texas; daughter of John SLOAN and Elizabeth Scott BLACK. Notes: John died 1861, a victim of Indian barbarity. He was a civil engineer by profession. He surveyed the German colony in Texas, at that time some 250 miles from any settlement, among hostile Indians where he experienced many hair-breath escapes. A correspondent writes, "He was one of the finest-looking men I ever saw." At the commencement of the rebellion he was traveling in one of the mail coaches from San Antonio to California, when the U.S. troops were recalled from the frontier, and he, and all his company were massacred by the Indians. One of his boots and a glove was all that was found to tell of his sad fate. Another source states: John was killed 28 April 1861 by Apache Indians in Doubtful Canyon, Arizona, near Stein's Peak, New Mexico. He was riding the Butterfield stage route between San Antonio and San Diego, California. He was buried near the spot where he was killed. A picture of his tombstone my be found in the 'National Geographic Magazine', Oct, 1992, page 51. His widow did not long survive the shock of her husband's death, being found dead in bed, leaving five children orphans. The youngest born after his father's death, was found lying by his dead mother in all the sweet unconsciousness of infancy.

+ 5444 x George Henry GIDDINGS, born 3 Jul 1823 in Herrick, Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania; died 12 Dec 1902 in Mexico City, Mexico. He married (1) Emma LOCKWOOD; (2) Julia M. THOMPSON, Widow.

5445 xi Francis Marion GIDDINGS, born 1825 in Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania; died 10 Mar 1858 in El Paso, El Paso County, Texas. Notes: Francis, like his brothers he moved to Texas, going there in 1852 with his brother Dewitt Clinton Giddings. He died in 1868 at the hands of a desperado (murdered by a horse thief) at El Paso, Texas, where he was a practicing physician. At the time of his death he was attending to the transfer of the U.S. mail with his brothers. He was a graduate of the Medical College, Castleton, Vermont. He never married.

5446 xii Dewitt Clinton GIDDINGS, born 18 Jul 1827 in Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania; died 19 Aug 1903 in Brenham, Washington County, Texas; buried in Prairie Lea Cemetery, Brenham, Texas. He married on 24 May 1860 in Texas Malinda C. LUSK, born 16 May 1836 in Texas; died 19 Jun 1869 in Brenham, Washington County, Texas; buried in Prairie Lea Cemetery, Brenham, Texas, daughter of Samuel LUSK. Notes: In 1852 DeWitt moved to Brenham, Washington County, Texas where he served three terms in Congress; served on the Committee of Land Claims, & Indian Affairs; served in the Confederate Army from Texas; was in 1866 a member of State Constitutional Convention. The town of Giddings, Texas is named after him. In the 1850 Census, he is shown living with parents, a farmer. He was chosen by the Governor of Texas to go to Europe to manage a lawsuit between the cotton growers and the manufacturers of cotton goods. He so ably presented his case before the British courts that he won the suit. The following is from "Encyclopedia of American Biography", by Thomas William Herringshaw, p. 399: "Giddings, De Witt C., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born July 18, 1827, in Susquehanna County, PA. He served as a soldier in the confederate army. He was a member of the state constitutional convention of 1866. He was elected to the forty-second congress, as re-elected to the forty-third congress, and re-elected to the forty-fifth congress as a democrat. He served on numerous important committees while a member of Congress. The "Biographical Directory of the American Congress, 1774-1949"; Biographies, p. 1207 shows: "Giddings, DeWitt Clinton, a Representative from Texas; born in Susquehanna County, Pa, July 18, 1827; pursued an academic course; studied law in Honesdale, Pennsylvania; was admitted to the bar in Texas in 1852 and commenced practice in Brenham, Texas; served in the Confederate Army throughout the Civil War; member of the State constitutional convention in 1866; successfully contested as a Democrat the election of William T. Clark to the Forty-second Congress; was re-elected to the Forty-third Congress and served from May 13, 1872, to March 3, 1875; again elected to the Forty-fifth Congress (March 4, 1877 - March 3, 1879); engaged in the banking business in Brenham, Texas; delegate to the Democratic National Conventions in 1884, 1888, and 1892; died in Brenham, Texas, on August 19, 1903; interment in Prairie Lea Cemetery.

2302. Andrew^6 GIDDINGS (Solomon^5, Nathaniel^4, Nathaniel^3, Elizabeth^2 Andrews, John^1), born 3 May 1783; died 1804. He married Catherine ANDRUS.

Notes for Andrew Giddings

Notes for John Sprague

John Sprague was 14 years old when his father moved into Randolph, on the middle branch of the White River. There were very few inhabitants in the town then and grain was very scarce, and none could be bought nearer than Gov. Chitenden's in Williston, 50 miles away, no roads some of the distance and no guide to go by but marked trees. His father sent him, boy as he was, to buy grain for the family. He was to pay for the grain with a cow, which he drove or led. The cow was very old as apparent by the many wrinkles on her horns. John had two ounces of indigo and a pewter plate for spending money. The story goes that the Governor thought the cow was pretty old and couldn't allow very much to which John replied that she had three wrinkles when she was born, and was not as old as she looked. He purchased a lot of wild land on the East Hill, two miles from the village of East Randolph, Vermont; built a log house and moved his bride into it, and went to work clearing the land. The farm is now owned by Charles Waldo. He moved his household goods on a two-horse sled, and after the goods were loaded he used to say that there was room enough on the sled then to dance an eight-hand reel. In politics he was an abolitionist, he was a Free-Will Baptist and had a strong personality.

Notes for Bradford Story
Bradford was the only son left at home. When he married Sarah Copp, he brought his bride to his father’s home where they lived until coming to Wisconsin in 1860. Bradford Story was born in Norwich, Connecticut 17 Jan 1787 being four years of age when the family moved to Vermont. He was educated in the village schools of Randolph and taught school several years. In October 1812 he married Sarah Copp, daughter of Dr. Eliphalet Copp and his wife Ruth Butler of Gilmanton, New Hampshire. Just before his marriage Bradford was drafted into the War of 1812 but sent a substitute. They bought the first store they ever owned in 1825, paying $85.00 for it. Bradford Story lived on the same farm until he was 74 years old when his Aunt Eunice Gay went to Vermont from her home in Wisconsin and he and his wife returned with her in 1860. After remaining with her for a year they went to Minneapolis to visit their daughter Laura Keith. The 1850 census for Randolph, Orange County, Vermont shows Bradford Story age 63 with wife Sarah age 55 and daughter Samantha C. age 23.

Notes for Sarah Copp
Sally’s [Sarah Copp Story] mother Ruth Butler was born about 1760 in Gilmanton, New Hampshire. She had 2 daughters and a son. The son died in infancy. Sarah, the older daughter, was born July 9, 1790. Polly was younger and died unmarried. Dr. Copp left his wife when Sarah was a young girl, the trouble arising over money matters as she had property. He sent his daughter Sarah to Royalton and Randolph Center to attend the academies there where she also studied printing. She later taught school for several years. While attending Randolph Center Academy she dreamed one night that she went down the hill to the spring to get a pail of water and that a young man came and placed a shawl over her shoulders and taking the pail from her carried it up the hill. A few Sundays later while at church she saw two men, evidently father and son, enter and immediately recognized the younger one as the man in her dream. Upon inquiry she was told that he was Bradford Story, Deacon Asa Story’s son. He was dark and handsome, she a beautiful blonde. A romance followed and in 25 October 1812 they were married. Asa Story and wife lived with their son Bradford until their deaths, when B. told his wife to go to New Hampshire and bring home her mother, who had lived with a sister of hers, Mrs. Judge Eastman, after her husband’s desertion. Mrs. Coppers’ mind had become impaired by her trouble and after living 2 years with her daughter she died with the name of Eliphalet Coppers on her lips in about 1836.

Children of Bradford STORY and Sarah COPP were as follows:
+ 5506 i Eunice Whitney7 STORY, born 16 Jul 1813 in East Randolph, Orange County, Vermont; died 10 Sep 1900 in Briggsville, Marquette County, Wisconsin; buried in Briggsville, Marquette County, Notes: Ellen died at age 2 years and 8 months. Gravestone states: "Happy infant early blest-Rest in peaceful slumbers...".

Notes for Henry Fitch

Henry accompanied his family to Pawlet, Vermont in 1784 and became a school teacher. On 9 Oct 1794 he bought about 142 acres of land in the frontier town of Burlington from John Fisher of Burlington for little more than 274 pounds sterling. He moved there in 1795 and erected a log cabin. On 17 Jan 1800 he added about 34 acres, which he bought from his father, Daniel for $230. In 1806, Henry built a substantial home of Burlington. He was a founder and Trustee of Whitestown Seminary; a free will Baptist; and a strong supporter of Andrew Jackson.

Children of Henry FITCH and Isabel FITCH were as follows:

5513 i Sophia FITCH, born 3 Nov 1794 in Burlington, Otsego County, New York. She married Samuel NICHOLS.

He married in 1797 Clarissa ANDRUS (see 1234), born 19 Sep 1778 in Norwich, New London County, Connecticut; christened 18 Sep 1779; died 21 Feb 1860 in Burlington Flats, Otsego County, New York; buried in Burlington Flats, Otsego County, New York, daughter of Amos ANDRUS and Desire FITCH.

Notes for Erastus Fitch

Erastus was one of the earliest settlers of what was to become Burlington, New York. He built a cabin in the wilderness. On 17 Jan 1800, already of Burlington, Erastus bought 50 acres of land in Colden's Patent from his father, Daniel Fitch of Pawlet, Vermont. On 4 Jan 1806 he bought more land from Matthew Rogers of $180; on 21 Sept 1818 he purchased more land in Colden's patent from Thomas Brooks for $500. A month after Erastus died his son John bought three pieces of land, totaling about 112 acres, from his mother and siblings for $2000, on 27 Jan 1843. Clarissa lived with her son Hial in Paris, Oneida County, New York.

Sarah GIDDINGS\textsuperscript{2401} (William\textsuperscript{5}, Job\textsuperscript{5}, Sarah\textsuperscript{4} Andrews, Joseph\textsuperscript{5}, John\textsuperscript{5}), born 9 Jul 1766 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 3 Aug 1851 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut. She married on 6 Jan 1800 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut Bennett PICKETT, born 11 Jul 1764 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 3 Aug 1854 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut, son of Benjamin PICKETT.

Notes for Bennett Pickett

The 1850 census for Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut shows Bennet Pickett age 86; Eunice age 84; Buel Pickett age 35. "The Giddings Family" reference states that Clarissa Pickett married Frederick Starr, son of Levi and Loretta (Barnes) Starr. The 1870 census for Danbury, Fairfield County, Connecticut shows Frederick Starr, retail grocer age 36 and wife Clarissa A. age 36, keeping house who was born in New York, with children: Charles B. age 13 and Bella age 14. Loretta Starr age 67 is in this household. Clarissa Pickett was born about 1809 in Connecticut. She was not the wife of Frederick Starr; that Clarissa A. was born in 1834 in New York. I have left Frederick Starr in this publication so this error may be recorded. The 1900 census for Danbury, Fairfield County, Connecticut shows Frederick Starr age 65, born June 1834 and wife Clarissa A. age 66, born Dec 1833 in New York. This is NOT Clarissa Pickett, daughter of Bennett Pickett and Sarah Giddings.

Children of Sarah GIDDINGS and Bennett PICKETT were as follows:

County, Connecticut; died 1859 in Wilson, Niagara County, New York. She married on 20 Mar 1788 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut Amos LEACH.

Children of Dorcas GIDDINGS and Amos LEACH were as follows:
+ 5801 i Hiram LEACH, born 27 May 1809; died 17 Nov 1854 in Franklin Grove, Lee County, Iowa. He married Mariah C. FARNUM.
5802 ii Noble LEACH. He married Pruella HOLMES.

Children of George Noble GIDDINGS and Phebe HUNGERFORD were as follows:
5803 i Orissa GIDDINGS, born 27 Aug 1808; died 1 May 1837. She married in 1832 Nelson HOAG.
+ 5804 ii Susan GIDDINGS, born 20 Mar 1812 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut. She married Edwin HUNGERFORD.

Children of David GIDDINGS and Betsy SALMON were as follows:
5805 i Ammi GIDDINGS2405, born 31 May 1822 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 13 Feb 1882 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut. He married in 1850 Charlotte Augusta PAIGE, born 1826 in Connecticut, daughter of James Nelson PAIGE and Charlotte POTTER. Notes: Ammi spent his early life at home, and like many boys of his day and place, he alternated with the seasons from the farm to the district school. But his keen intellect, spurred on by ambition, soon grasped all the advantages with which he was surrounded, and he sought new fields and greater opportunities. After a thorough preparation for a collegiate course, under the instruction of Rev. E. Benedict of Patterson, New York, he studied law with Hon. Henry B. Graves, at Plymouth, graduated at the Yale Law School in New Haven, was granted the honorary degree of A.M., and settled in the practice of law at Plymouth, Connecticut, in 1849, where he held most of the local offices and was exceedingly popular and active in all town affairs; was also an active and zealous member of the Congregational Church and Sabbath-school, having in early manhood joined the church in his native town. He held the office of judge of probate for the district of Plymouth 14 years, and was a member of the State Legislature in 1851 and 1856. In 1851 he was appointed State Prison director, and was clerk of the House of Representatives in 1854. He was twice bank commissioner, and for the same length of time railroad commissioner. He was elected to the State Senate from the old sixteenth district in 1857 and 1864, and was chosen president pro tem of that body. In 1864, he received, unsolicited, from President Lincoln, the appointment of associate justice of the Supreme Court of Montana Territory, but resigned the position before he had entered upon its duties. Judge Giddings left Plymouth in 1864, and in 1865 established himself in Waterbury, Conn. In 1866, he moved to Michigan, and entered into a law partnership with Hon. Marsh Giddings (late governor of New Mexico) at Kalamazoo. He afterwards engaged in the manufacture of paints, from iron ore in Cleveland, Ohio to which he gave his means and several of the best years of his life. He returned to Connecticut in 1872, and resumed the practice of law for four or five years in Bridgeport and Norwalk.
As a member of the legislature of 1851 he was content to be an observer, which, with his experience obtained as clerk of the House in 1854, gave him much familiarity with legislative proceedings and the affairs of the State, that he went to the front in 1856, becoming one of the most prominent and influential members of the House. Elected to the Senate in the following year, he was chosen president pro tem., and acted as presiding officer during the entire session, with admirable aptness and impartiality. But it was in the dark and gloomy days of the Rebellion, when Connecticut grappled more firmly the sword of Liberty, that we find Judge Giddings in all the strength and vigor of his manhood, with voice, pen, and purse doing all that was in his power for the preservation of his country, and as the foremost man of the Senate in 1864, we find him the right hand of the noble war Governor Buckingham, rendering efficient service in what he deemed to be the cause of human right and liberty - service which afterward received unsought and unlapped -for recognition. To write of "Judge Giddings" as a legislator is also to deal with him as a lawyer, for the reason that his clear and active mind, which remained unclouded until the last, displayed the same keen common sense, sound and logical reasoning, when presenting a question of fact to a jury; or arguing a question of law before a court, as in his forceful presentation of a measure upon the floor of the House or Senate.

While he was not the greatest lawyer of his day in the State, yet he deservedly ranked among the ablest. He handled a cause for what there was to it, and won popularity by his fairness, honesty in dealing, and his polite and gentlemanly treatment of counsel and witnesses. In private life, the judge was uniformly kind and obliging. His most intimate associates were most warmly attached to him; he had rare social qualities, an immense fund of anecdote, and a Carlyle-like sense of humor, distinctively his own, which made him one of the most companionable of men. His acquaintance was large, embracing within its limits many men prominent in State and national affairs, as well as those of the legal profession and business circles.

The 1880 census for Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut shows [next door to David B.
Giddings, brother of Ammi] Earl Evans age 33, farmer with wife Emily age 25; daughter Elizabeth

Notes for William Giddings
William was a Justice of the Peace ten years, Captain of militia, and active in town affairs. He was Representative in 1818, 1824-1829. William moved with his family to Michigan about 1830, and encountered a severe storm on Lake Erie, where they had to abandon the vessel and take to open boats and rafts. They reached land, but lost most of their goods. He died at Gull Prairie, Michigan.

Children of William GIDDINGS and Jane Louise ELY were as follows:
5831 i  Adeline GIDDINGS, born 11 Aug 1803. She married on 12 Aug 1827 Jonathan RUSSELL.
5832 ii  Abner Eli GIDDINGS, born 8 Mar 1805.
5833 iii  William Pitt GIDDINGS, born 29 Mar 1807; died 15 Nov 1837 in Michigan. Notes: William was killed by stone thrown at his head by a ruffian at Gull Prairie, Michigan. His widow was burned on the steamboat 'Erie' in 1841. "History of Erie County, Pennsylvania" by Samuel P. Bates, 1884 Chapter XVI - Lake Navigation: "One of the most dreadful calamities in the history of lake navigation occurred on the 9th of August, 1841, and is still remembered with horror by our older citizens. The steamboat Erie, of Erie, owned by Gen. Reed, commanded by Capt. Titus, and bearing a large party of emigrants, was coming up the lake from Buffalo, and when off Silver Creek was discovered to be ablaze. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the bursting of some demijohns of turpentine on board, which ignited by coming in contact with the coals of the furnace. The Erie having been newly painted and the wind being high, the flames spread with amazing velocity, and in an inconceivably brief period of time the boat was burned to the water's edge. Two hundred and forty-nine persons were lost, of whom twenty-six were residents of Erie. Between 120 and 130 bodies rose to the surface and were recovered. An act of heroism occurred in connection with the disaster which deserves to be handed down to the farthest generation. The wheelman, Augustus Fuller, of Harbor Creek, on the discovery of the fire, immediately headed the boat for the shore, and stood at his post till surrounded by flames, when he fell dead from suffocation. The Erie was valued at $75,000. Her cargo was worth about $20,000, and the emigrants, it is calculated, had with them $180,000 in gold.

5834 iv Jane Ely GIDDINGS, born 11 May 1808 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut. She married Daniel A. PLUMMER.

5835 v Louisa GIDDINGS, born 16 Dec 1809. She married on 6 Jun 1835 Don Carlos BARNES.

5837 vii Ely GIDDINGS, born 11 Oct 1813 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut. He married Minerva SHEPARD.

5838 viii John GIDDINGS, born 9 May 1815; died 15 Jun 1843 in Illinois.

5839 ix Marsh GIDDINGS, born 9 May 1815 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 1875 in New Mexico. He married Louisa MILLS.

5840 x Ezar DeGraf GIDDINGS, born 26 Dec 1817.

5841 xi Czar GIDDINGS, born 6 Jun 1819. Notes: The 1860 census for Kimshew, Butte County, California shows a Czar Giddings age 42, born in Connecticut, no occupation but living with restaurant owner, cooks and stewards. [this person?] The 1870 census for Buena Vista, Humboldt County, Nevada shows a Czar Giddings age 50, stone cutter born in Connecticut with Mary A. Giddings age 37, born in Indiana. [this person?]

5842 xii Eusebia Dorcas GIDDINGS, born 18 Mar 1822. She married on 24 Jun 1841 in Michigan Erastus Northcote UPJOHN, born 17 Sep 1811 in Shaftesbury, England; died 11 Mar 1879 in Bellvue, Nebraska Territory, son of William UPJOHN and Mary STANDARD.

5843 xiii Similius GIDDINGS, born 11 May 1828.

Notes for Gamaliel Baldwin Giddings

Gamaliel was an extensive land holder in the Giddings District in Fairfield County and a man of much influence. He was of powerful frame, and had a pleasant and sociable disposition. He was Constable and Justice of the Peace for fifteen or twenty years, and a Representative to the Legislature in 1805, 1812 and 1813. In 1845 he moved to Palmyra, Ohio, near his son Hiram and died there at an advanced age.

Children of Gamaliel Baldwin GIDDINGS and Tabitha Eunice BARNES were as follows:

5844 i Harriet GIDDINGS, born 9 Sep 1791 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 8 Mar 1876 in Palmyra, Portage County, Ohio.

5845 ii Solomon GIDDINGS, born 5 Oct 1793 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 25 Feb 1838. Notes: Solomon was unmarried.

5846 iii Hiram GIDDINGS, born 4 Sep 1795 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died in Palmyra, Portage County, Ohio. He married (1) Cynthia M. FRENCH; (2) in 1842 Rebecca GIDDINGS, born 19 Dec 1810 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 27 Aug 1843 in Palmyra, Portage County, Ohio, daughter of Samuel GIDDINGS and Lydia GIDDINGS. Notes: In 1821 Hiram moved to Ohio, making the journey in a wagon, and settled in Palmyra, Portage County, on land that his father owned, the same being a portion of the Connecticut Reserve, in Ohio. Several times afterwards he made the journey in the same way, and on horseback. He was a dead shot, and as in those days game was abundant, it was fine sport for him to bring down deer, bears, and turkeys, with his unerring rifle. He was a man of fine appearance; good address, jovial disposition, with a mind well stored with knowledge, was quick to form his judgment, and generally adhered to it with tenacity. He resided in Palmyra 58 years, where he was prosperous, and being a true friend to the needy, was greatly beloved and respected in the community. His name was at the head of every subscription list, and he was greatly interested in religious matters and in the prosperity of the M. E. Church, of Palmyra. In politics, he was a Whig until the formation of the Republican Party, when he earnestly supported the organization. He was a postmaster 10 years, justice of the peace 10 years, and a member of the Legislature in 1840 and 1841, where he displayed marked ability. He was county commissioner during the building of the county courthouse, and was an officer of the bank at Revena. He married in 1842, Rebecca, eldest daughter of Samuel Giddings, of Sherman, who was a lady of cheerful disposition, Christian character, and possessed in an unusual degree those kindly qualities of mind and heart, that won her many friends, but her married life was brief, she died within a year. Hiram left a large estate for his brothers and sisters’ children.

+ 5847 iv Nancy GIDDINGS, born 30 May 1798 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died in South Dover, Dutchess County, New York. She married David W. STEVENS.

+ 5848 v Sally Maria GIDDINGS, born 23 Feb 1800 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died in Palmyra, Portage County, Ohio. She married William SPOONER.

+ 5849 vi Mary Ann GIDDINGS, born 20 Mar 1803 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut. She married Hamilton LUCAS.

5850 vii Eliza GIDDINGS, born 1 Sep 1807 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 18 Sep 1809 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut.

Notes for Rebecca Giddings
Rebecca "was a lady of fine personal appearance and pleasing disposition".

Notes for Revilo Fuller
Captain Revilo, was the son of Dr. Oliver Fuller, who was a surgeon in the army during the Revolution, and whose ancestors came to New England in the 'Mayflower'. He and Rebecca were both members of the Congregational Church. After their marriage they resided in a house built by Capt. John Ransom at Kent, Connecticut, and moved thence to Salisbury, Litchfield County, Connecticut about 1820.

Children of Rebecca GIDDINGS and Revilo FULLER were as follows:
+ 5851 i John Ransom FULLER, born 13 Feb 1792 in Kent, Litchfield County, Connecticut; died 6 Nov 1866 in Kent, Litchfield County, Connecticut. He married Aurelia ST. JOHN.

+ 5852 ii Amzi FULLER, born 19 Oct 1793 in Kent, Litchfield County, Connecticut; died 1847 in Kent, Litchfield County, Connecticut. He married Maria MILLS.

+ 5853 iii Louisa FULLER, born 25 Dec 1795 in Kent, Litchfield County, Connecticut; died 31 Dec 1863 in Torrington, Litchfield County, Connecticut. She married Luther COOK.

+ 5854 iv Jonathan Giddings FULLER, born 6 Jul 1798 in Kent, Litchfield County, Connecticut. He married Catherine PANBURN.

5855 v Robert Nelson FULLER, born 27 Sep 1799 in Kent, Litchfield County, Connecticut; died May 1869 in Salisbury, Litchfield County, Connecticut. He married Anna BURT. Notes: Robert held various offices including Justice of the Peace and Judge of Probate. He and Anna had no children.

+ 5856 vi Adaline FULLER, born 28 Dec 1801 in Kent, Litchfield County, Connecticut; died Dec 1838. She married David NORTHROP.

+ 5857 vii Thomas FULLER, born 26 Feb 1804 in Kent, Litchfield County, Connecticut; died 16 Dec 1843 in Wayne County, Pennsylvania. He married (1) Caroline NICHOLS; (2) Martha ROBINS.

+ 5858 viii Revilo FULLER, born 3 Aug 1806 in Kent, Litchfield County, Connecticut; died 18 Feb 1870 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut. He married (1) Caroline HUNGERFORD; (2) Ruth E. DENIO.

+ 5859 ix Rebecca FULLER, born 15 Apr 1808 in Kent, Litchfield County, Connecticut; died in Honesdale.

Wayne County, Pennsylvania. She married John TORREY.

5860  x  Arminda FULLER, born 1 Jan 1811 in Kent, Litchfield County, Connecticut; died 17 May 1815 in Kent, Litchfield County, Connecticut.

Notes for James Andrus Giddings
James was a man of tall and commanding presence, quiet dignity of character, and influence. He was a large farmer and landholder in the Giddings district in Fairfield County and was frequently called to hold important offices in the town. He was listed in 1802 when the town of Sherman was organized. James was a representative in 1810, and for fifteen or twenty years justice of the peace of the town. He was an active member of the Congregational Church and Society; for many years clerk and treasurer. Late in life he had his hand crushed in a flax mill, which crippled it. The 1850 census for Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut shows James A. Giddings age 79 with [second] wife Rachel age 52; Sophia Giddings age 55; David Giddings age 36; Jay Seeley age 23; Mason Pickett age 22, carpenter.

Notes for Rachel Main
Rachel was the widow of John Seelye.

Children of James Andrus GIDDINGS and Eunice PENFIELD were as follows:

+ 5873 iv Lucy GAYLORD, born 6 Jan 1814 in New Milford, Litchfield County, Connecticut.

Notes for Solomon Giddings
There is a little romance connected with this match. Solomon had the misfortune (or fortune) to break his leg in the vicinity of the residence of Martha (Patty) Paine, where he was taken in and given such kind attention that his heart was won, and they subsequently married and moved to Williamstown, Massachusetts and thence to Poultney, Vermont, where their lives were spent. Solomon was one of the surveyors of the "Connecticut Western Reserve".

Children of Solomon GIDDINGS and Martha PAYNE were as follows:

+ 5874 i Laura GIDDINGS, born 16 Sep 1802 in Poultney, Rutland County, Vermont; died 29 Mar 1860 in Rutland County, Vermont. She married Harvey PARKS.
+ 5875 ii Orpha GIDDINGS, born 15 Dec 1803 in Poultney, Rutland County, Vermont. She married Daniel HOOKER.
+ 5876 iii Armenia GIDDINGS, born 13 Dec 1804. She married William P. MERRIMAN.
+ 5877 iv Daniel Noble GIDDINGS, born 7 Sep 1807 in Poultney, Rutland County, Vermont; died 1 Feb 1882 in Sterling, Whiteside County, Illinois. He married Beulah BROWN.
+ 5878 v Solomon Paine GIDDINGS, born 2 Dec 1812 in Poultney, Rutland County, Vermont. He married Mary Elizabeth HOTCHKISS.
+ 5879 vi William Baldwin GIDDINGS, born 21 Jun 1818 in Poultney, Rutland County, Vermont; died 3 Oct 1864. He married Julia GOODRICH.
+ 5880 vii Mary Eloise GIDDINGS, born 20 Oct 1822 in Poultney, Rutland County, Vermont. She married Henry Olin PERKINS.

Notes for Jonathan Chauncy Giddings
Jonathan occupied the homestead of his father during his life. He was enterprising and influential and obtained considerable wealth. He was a Lieutenant in the Militia of the town, but had no ambitions for political office. Jonathan was a member of the Congregational Church.

Notes for Samuel Giddings

Another date of death seen as 10 Feb 1850. Samuel, inheriting from his paternal ancestors great muscular strength and agility, was in his youth distinguished for his skill in all athletic exercises, and seldom found his equal at wrestling and jumping. He could easily jump twelve feet forward and backward, and so great was his strength that he was more than a match for two ordinary men. He was seen to take up a barrel of cider that rolled out of his wagon and replace it by main strength. It was related that a workman on his farm refused to perform his commands at one time, when he seized him by the collar, and using one foot, skillfully sent him sprawling over the fence, and ordered him never to enter his yard again. He seemed to be absolutely fearless, afraid (as he expressed it) of 'neither man nor beast', and would not suffer his house or outbuildings to be locked, night or day. In person he was six feet in height, of commanding presence, with dark hair, but slightly tinged with gray at 70. His eyes were blue and piercing, and capable of an expression that would make an offender quail. He was stern of character, but kindly and charitably disposed, and greatly esteemed. The poor always found in him a benefactor and friend. Guests were welcomed at his house with open-handed hospitality. He was a reader of "Greeley's Tribune" from its origin. In politics a Whig, he cared nothing for office, but by the votes of his townsmen was called many times to hold official positions, was several times justice of the peace, and a lieutenant in the militia company. A member of the Congregational church and society, he contributed his full share towards their support, and was noted for his punctuality in church attendance as well as in business matters. He settled on a farm in Giddings District of Fairfield County near the New York line, and by industry and good management acquired a handsome property, which he used generously in the support of worthy objects. On the society records his subscription for building the new church edifice, in 1835, stands second in amount. He had a remarkably good constitution, never having suffered but slight illness till the last one, which speedily terminated his life.

Children of Samuel GIDDINGS and Lydia GIDDINGS were as follows:

5895 i  Rebecca GIDDINGS 2426, born 19 Dec 1810 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 27 Aug 1843 in Palmyra, Portage County, Ohio. She married in 1842 Hiram GIDDINGS 2427, born 4 Sep 1795 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died in Palmyra, Portage County, Ohio, son of Gamaliel Baldwin GIDDINGS and Tabitha Eunice BARNES.

5896 ii  Sally Ann GIDDINGS, born 24 Jun 1812 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 26 Mar 1831. Notes: Sally died from a cold contracted while away at school.

+ 5897 iii  Dorcas GIDDINGS, born 13 May 1814 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut. She married Harvey Hart Bidwell TURNER.

5898 iv  Arminda GIDDINGS, born 30 Dec 1815 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 18 May 1818.

+ 5899 v  Alfred GIDDINGS, born 5 Mar 1818 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 9 Nov 1878. He married Mary E. PICKETT (see 10741).

5901 vii  Ann Janette GIDDINGS, born 26 Jan 1823; died 8 Jan 1855 in Ohio. Notes: Ann died from a fever contracted while on a visit to Ohio.

5902 viii  Caroline GIDDINGS 2428, born 22 Jan 1825 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut. She married on 18 Oct 1849 in Kent, Litchfield County, Connecticut David Northrop FULLER (see 10717), born 24 May 1823 in Kent, Litchfield County, Connecticut, son of John Ransom FULLER and Aurelia ST. JOHN.

Children of Samuel GIDDINGS and Arminda SANFORD were as follows:

5903 i  Minot S. GIDDINGS 2429, born 19 Mar 1837 in Sherman, Fairfield County, Connecticut. He married (1) on 25 Nov 1863 in New Milford, Litchfield County, Connecticut Nellie Canfield

In the spring of 1860, he was seized with a violent cold, which threatened to speedily terminate his life, but in the autumn he made a tour of the western states, and returned with renewed health, which continued to improve. In 1865, he sold the homestead to his half-brother, Alfred, and removed to New Milford, and in the fall of that year went to Bridgeport, and engaged in the grocery business. In the spring of 1866, he disposed of his store and goods, and entered into partnership with Edmund V. Hawes, under the firm name of Hawes & Giddings, in the wholesale produce and commission business. It was soon found that with this a general wholesale grocery business could be advantageously connected, which was accomplished, Mr. Giddings, mainly, doing the purchasing. In 1869, the partnership was dissolved by limitation, and V. R. C. Giddings, his brother-in-law, and a lawyer by profession, entered into partnership with him; under the firm name of M. S. Giddings & Co. They largely increased the business, extending it through western Connecticut, and Massachusetts.

In 1873, V. R. C. Giddings retired from the firm and returned to the practice of law, opening an office in Bridgeport. Frederick A. Lucas, general merchant in Goshen, Connecticut, was for a few months a partner, and William R. and John M. Hopson, brothers, were afterwards members of the firm; the latter, retiring, became editor of a Waterbury paper. William R. remained, and with Henry H. Pyle, who had been bookkeeper for the firm, continued under the name of Giddings & Hopson, until Mr. Giddings, whose health was nearly broken down by the cares and responsibilities of business; residing for the last three years, on account of the illness of his wife, at New Milford, 35 miles distant, making a daily trip to and from his business, and once a week or oftener continuing it to New York city for business purposes, disposed of his interest January 1877, to Morgan, Hopson & Co. (Mr. Morgan afterwards became president of the city National Bank of Bridgeport and mayor of the city.) Mr. Giddings is no politician, and has never held a political office, except as a delegate to some Convention. He was appointed a delegate to the State Republican Convention, in New haven in 1880, which sent delegates to the Chicago Convention that nominated the lamented Garfield for President, and was one of the Committee on Resolutions, of which Charles Dudley Warner, the celebrated author, was chairman. He was also, the same year, a delegate to the State Republican Convention that nominated Governor Bigelow, and the State Officers, and Presidential Electors, and was appointed one of the Committee on Organization, of which Senator 0. H. Platt was chairman. His residence is pleasantly located near the Housatonic River in the village of New Milford, one of the most beautiful villages in New England, Since 1878, he has been connected with a tea firm in New York City, and has recently employed his leisure hours in obtaining the records of the "Giddings Family." With what success this little volume will illustrate. He thinks it will be admitted that his time has been busily employed. The article continues with a biography of his wife, Nellie Canfield.

GIDDINGS, born 12 Sep 1839 in Pennsylvania; died 22 May 1876 in New Milford, Litchfield County, Connecticut, daughter of V. R. GIDDINGS and Sarah Maria CANFIELD; (2) on 2 Jun 1877 Emma M. UMBERFIELD, daughter of Sidney UMBERFIELD and Sarah LINSLEY.

Notes: Minot S. Giddings [author of the cited “The Giddings Family” reference] was brought up on his father's farm; attended district school winters, and labored on the farm summers, pursuing his education at Gaylordsville Institute, North Bergen Institute, New Jersey, Amenia Seminary, New York and Williston Seminary, East Hampton, Massachusetts. He was always fond of reading, preferring historical and solid reading to light literature, and greatly interested in Debating Societies and Lyceums. While at Amenia, he was instrumental in establishing a Lyceum, and giving it the name "Adelphi," and was among the first to hold the offices of President and Secretary. At the age of sixteen, the care of the farm devolved upon him through the decease of his father. At 18, he was solicited to teach the school in his district, which he did for one term. On arriving at legal age, he was several times nominated by the Republican party for various important town offices, but considering it improper to vote for himself, or work for his own election, and that party being in a minority, he was defeated by a few votes. His mind was, early in life, turned to religious subjects, and he became a member of the First Congregational Church, at the age of sixteen.

In the spring of 1860, he was seized with a violent cold, which threatened to speedily terminate his life, but in the autumn he made a tour of the western states, and returned with renewed health, which continued to improve. 2547. Laura^4 GIDDINGS^2430,2431 (Jonathan^1, Joseph^4, Sarah^3 Andrews, Joseph^3, John^1), born 23 Jan 1786 in Sherman, Sturges PENFIELD\textsuperscript{2432, 2433}, born 11 Sep 1780 in New Fairfield, Fairfield County, Connecticut; died 26 Apr 1866 in Pittsford, Rutland County, Vermont, son of John PENFIELD and Eunice OGDEN.

Notes for Laura Giddings
Laura was of fine appearance, pleasing address, and a warm-hearted Christian, was much beloved by a large circle of acquaintance. She married Sturges Penfield (whose sister Eunice Penfield was the wife of James Andrus) and moved to Vermont, making the journey on horseback. They settled in Pittsford, where they remained during their lives. He was a merchant and an extensive manufacturer of cotton goods and carpets, and at one time carried on a large distillery. When the temperance movement showed him the evil of it, he abandoned the business at great financial loss to himself. He was a man of upright, exemplary character.

Notes for Sturges Penfield
The 1850 census for Pittsford, Rutland County, Vermont shows Sturgis Penfield age 69, farmer with wife Laura age 65 and children: Samuel F. age 28, manufacturer; John G. age 26, laborer; Catherine G. age 22; Abel O. age 21.

Notes for John Andrews

It is possible that this John Andrews is the son of Amos and Joanna (Burnham) Andrews. He is probably the John Andrews, 3rd, of Ipswich, fisherman, who on 1 October 1794 with his wife Susannah sold for 69 pounds to Parker Burnham a new dwelling house and 19 and one quarter rods, part of the farm known as the Great School Farm in Chebacco. This family apparently was in Maine by 1800, no record of births of children in Ipswich. The following census may not be the correct individual: The 1850 census for Saint George, Knox County, Maine shows John Andres age 80, property value $1,000 and wife Susanna age 77. The 1860 census for Saint George, Knox County, Maine shows a John Andrews age 90 pauper, living in the Alms House, superintendent James Wily. John's birth is recorded in the vital records of Saint George, Knox County, Maine.

Children of John ANDREWS and Susannah ANDREWS were as follows:

+ 6072  i  Mark ANDREWS, born 19 Jan 1796 in Saint George, Knox County, Maine; died about 1878 in South Norridgewock, Somerset County, Maine. He married Mary ANDREWS (see 6084).
+ 6073  ii  Susannah ANDREWS, born 2 Apr 1798 in Saint George, Knox County, Maine. She married Joseph SKINNER. Notes: Susannah and Joseph had no children.
+ 6074  iii  Anna ANDREWS, born 21 May 1801 in Saint George, Knox County, Maine; died before 1860 in Saint George, Knox County, Maine. She married John ALLEN.
+ 6075  iv  Mary ANDREWS, born 16 Sep 1803 in Saint George, Knox County, Maine; died in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 27 Nov 1842 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts Timothy ANDREWS (see 2850), christened 20 May 1804 in Gloucester, Essex County, Massachusetts, died 9 Dec 1867 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts, buried in Old Cemetery, Essex, Massachusetts, son of Eleazer ANDREWS, Sr. and Molly ANDREWS.
+ 6076  v  John ANDREWS, born 20 Dec 1805 in Saint George, Knox County, Maine; died 17 May 1855 in Saint George, Knox County, Maine. He married Eliza ALLEY.
+ 6077  vi  George ANDREWS, born 9 Feb 1809 in Saint George, Knox County, Maine; died in Searsmont, Waldo County, Maine. He married Mary COOK.
+ 6078  vii  Noah ANDREWS, born 20 Apr 1811 in Saint George, Knox County, Maine; died 13 May 1897 in Saint George, Knox County, Maine. He married (1) Lucinda RIVERS; (2) Acletha KEITH.
+ 6079  viii  Sally ANDREWS, born 15 Jun 1813 in Saint George, Knox County, Maine. She married Enoch COOK.
+ 6080  ix  Obed ANDREWS, born 1815 in Saint George, Knox County, Maine; died in New Orleans, New Orleans County, Louisiana. He married Aseneth BRYANT.
+ 6081  x  Rachel ANDREWS, born 1818 in Saint George, Knox County, Maine; died 26 May 1846 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married on 1 Apr 1842 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts George Washington GORTEN (see 6284), born 26 Sep 1813 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 18 Mar 1887 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts, son of Nathaniel W. GORTEN, Jr. and Martha ANDREWS. Notes: Rachel died in Essex at the age of 28. Date of marriage is that of published intent to marry.

Notes for John Andrews

Marriage date is that of published intent. John lived in North Yarmouth until 1794; moved to Bristol, Maine about 1796. He bought Fisherman's Island and half of Damariscove Island from his father-in-law and engaged in sheep raising. In 1812 he bought part of the McFarland property at the head of Boothbay Harbor, Maine and a few years later commenced bank fishing. His ship was the "Three Brothers" named for John, Jerry [Jeremiah] and Cephas Andrews. He was a leading man at Boothbay. John later moved to Noble Cove, Maine, where he had a large farm. The 1850 census for Boothbay, Lincoln County, Maine shows John Andrews age 82 with wife Martha age 77; living next door to son John and family.

He married on 7 May 1825 in Moscow, Somerset County, Maine Lucinda DANIELS, born 12 Jan 1800 in Mount Vernon, Kennebec County, Maine; died probably in Moscow, Somerset County, Maine, daughter of Reuben DANIELS and Sally PHILBRICK.

Notes for James Andrews

The farm in Essex that James Andrews owned is in a part of Essex called Rocky Hill, and owned and occupied (1942) by Mrs. Samuel Warren of Boston as a summer residence. This reference is probably to James Andrews, Sr., person (5-403) in manuscript, and the home where James lived growing up. The E. M. Andrews manuscript has two extracts from land records on file at the Somerset County Courthouse at Skowhegan, Maine referring to James Andrews.

Notes for Zebulon Andrews

Zebulon was a mariner and taught navigation; was a Quartermaster on the U. S. ship "Ohio", 74 guns, on her voyage to the Mediterranean Sea and of other ships in the War of 1812. The following from: The Philadelphia Print Shop, Ltd. website, advertising a print of the U.S. Ohio as a ship-of-the-line was launched in 1820 and spent 55 years in service. She served as the flag ship for Commodore Isaac Hull in the Mediterranean in 1838, then in the Gulf of Mexico during the Mexican War and later in the Pacific Squadron along the coast of South American and California during the gold rush. It was during this last period that she was commanded by Commodore Thomas Catesby Jones (1789-1858). Jones began his naval career during the War of 1812, and served during the Mexican-American War. In 1842, believing the war between the U.S. and Mexico had begun, he seized Monterey, California for a day, an event that would later lead to a court martial in 1850.

George E. ANDREWS, born 1831 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; died in Manchester, Essex County, Massachusetts.

Ellen Maria ANDREWS, born 1833 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married George S. WENTWORTH, born 1833. Notes: Ellen and George had no children. George served in the Civil War. The 1870 census for Essex shows Lydia Andrews age 73, born in Rockport, Massachusetts, head of house with Lydia Randlett [as written, granddaughter] age 17, servant born in Providence, Rhode Island; George Wentworth, age 38, boot maker born in Stoughton, Massachusetts; and Ellen M. Andrews [daughter and wife of George Wentworth] age 37, keeping house and born in Essex. Ellen is living with her mother and sister Mary in the 1880 census, no mention of husband George Wentworth.

Monsieur Misson ANDREWS, born 1839 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: The following from "History of the Town of Essex, Massachusetts" reference: "Monsieur M. Andrews, aged 24 years, by trade a shoemaker, was the son of Benjamin and Lydia Andrews; enlisted 31st of December, 1861, into the Thirtieth regiment, Company K. Mr. Andrews was never wounded, but suffered from sickness severely. He was attacked with typhoid fever on reaching New Orleans, which disqualified him from active service for two months, commencing about the 10th or 12th of May, 1862. His second attack of illness was about the 1st of June, 1863. His ailment was chronic diarrhea, the bane of the army under a southern sun and lying too often upon a southern soil. This attack lasted four months, and was the cause of his discharge. He was, however, more than a merely passive sufferer by the war. On the 5th of August, 1862, he was in a battle about half a mile in the rear of the State House at Baton Rouge. This occurred shortly after returning from Vicksburg, where they were, about the 1st of August. The battle near the State House, referred to, lasted about eight hours. "We had," says he verbally, "but about two thousand five hundred men; and more than one in ten were sick; in our company nearly half. The spies informed the rebels of the sickness among our soldiers, and this induced them, with five thousand effective men under Gen. J. C. Breckinridge, to attack us. We contended successfully with them for eight hours and drove them. This, however, was owing to the fact that we had artillery in which they were deficient, viz: The Fourth Massachusetts Battery, the Sixth Massachusetts Battery. Nims' Battery, and the First Maine. The fight commenced at three o'clock in the morning. We lost about seventy killed and two hundred and fifteen wounded; and the rebels left three hundred dead and seventy wounded on the field. The rebels had expected the cooperation of their river ram, Arkansas, but she had run aground six miles above, and was hours de combat. They had, however, some fourteen field pieces, but our batteries did excellent service. Gen. Thomas was killed with a rifle ball through the head. The rebels lost their Brig. Gen. Clarke, and his aid, Col. Lovell, also Capt. A. H. Todd, a brother of Mrs. Lincoln, wife of the President of the United States. We also captured thirty prisoners," Mr. Andrews re-enlisted in December, 1864, for one year, for coast defense, in Capt. Babson's company; but was discharged at the close of the war."

Lydia Abbie ANDREWS, born 1843.

2800. Anna ANDREWS (Caleb, Caleb, John, Joseph, John), born 7 Dec 1802 in Ipswich, Essex County, Notes for David Preston, Jr.

David was a mason and a farmer in Manchester and Essex. He served as selectman and a member of the School Committee. The 1850 census for Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts shows David Preston age 47, mason with wife Anna age 47 and children: Anna E. age 23 and Sarah B. age 14. The 1860 census for Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts shows David and Anna age 57 and Sarah B. age 24.

An email from Edward Jenkins 21 Jan 2007: David Preston became involved when the Spring Street Cemetery was being established. Being a mason, he built a brick tomb which is located on Spring Street. Sarah Belinda Preston was the first one entombed there (1860), and later her other (Anna Andrews Preston, David himself, Rev. John Jenkins, later his wife Anna Preston Jenkins. David Preston was a mason by trade and moved from Manchester to Essex soon after his marriage because of the work he could obtain installing brickwork for the fireplaces on the fishing vessels being built in Essex. He invested in woodlots and during Civil War sold many of the select trees for masts, bowsprits, etc, and soon became fairly prosperous. When first arriving in Essex, David and his family rented rooms in the Addison Cogswell House on Southern Avenue. About 1836, David bought land on Eastern Avenue (across from the Baptist Church), and built a nice home there. His wife, Anna, being a fine cook, they sometimes rented rooms in their home and provided meals for renters. David served as a Selectman, and served as head of the school committee for South Essex. He was a Deacon at the Baptist Church. He acquired tracts of land south of his home as available and eventually owned about 30 acres in this section.

The following is written by Edward Jenkins: "In his research, my father, Melvin P. Jenkins, he felt reasonably certain that our Preston ancestors go back to Roger Preston, born in London in 1614, landed in Salem in 1635, but later came to Ipswich, Mass. He ran into some difficulty in tracing this line until coming to David Preston, born November 7, 1771 in Beverly, who married Sarah Poland, born April 16, 1781, in Hamilton. Sarah Poland was the daughter of Joseph Poland, Jr. (b. October 23, 1733, Hamilton) and Sarah Whipple (who may have been previously married), who had been born in 1757. Joseph Poland was the son of Joseph Poland, who had married Elizabeth Burnham in Chebacco (Ipswich) January 17,1731/32.

David Preston, Jr., (my great great grandfather) was born in Beverly Farms, Mass., May 30, 1803. As a young man (we're told) he went to sea; or, at least made a voyage or two, and (as was apparently the practice of that time), had his initials (D. P.) tattooed on his chest! Soon afterwards he learned the trade as a Mason.

David married Anna Andrews in Beverly Farms, Mass., on November 14, 1826 (Anna, daughter of Caleb Andrews and Molly Burnham), was born December 21, 1802, in Essex. Their first child, Anna Elizabeth, was born in Manchester, Mass., and shortly after the family moved to Essex; a son was born and died as infant on May 30, 1830. The family was then living in a part of the Addison Cogswell House on the Manchester Road, which was in vicinity of Anna Andrew's birthplace.

David Preston had come to Essex attracted by the brickwork required on some of the fishing vessels then being built at Essex. He also found employment in building chimneys and other masonry work (cellars, etc.), in Essex. He invested in wood lots, improved his finances through selling selected trees from these lots, suitable for masts, etc. then reselling the land for wood lots.

David Preston was soon able to build a large home at Eastern Avenue and Grove Streets -adding about 30 acres of land extending (generally) to the South and including Indian Rock (later, about 1960 or so, Indian Rock Lane would be established).

His daughters, Anna and Sarah, received the best education available to young ladies of that period at time when education for women was not considered of great significance. Both attended the David Choate Academy and were quite active in the social affairs of the young people of their period.

Sarah Belinda, who never married, and died of consumption when but 24 years of age (a common affliction of the period), wrote a diary covering the latter 2 or 3 years of her life, and while many of the entries deal with simple facts such as the weather, she also carefully noted the numerous social events which took place in that period, including various notable speakers who appeared at churches of the town -some having historical significance (Ralph Waldo Emerson, for example) as well as naming a number of the young people of her age who attended social events -singing groups, etc.”.

Children of Anna ANDREWS and David PRESTON, Jr. were as follows:

He married on 7 Dec 1827 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts Sarah Belinda Preston. He died 13 Jul 1884 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; buried in Spring Street Cemetery, Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. She married John Jenkins.

Sarah Belinda Preston 2576, born 12 May 1836 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 30 May 1892 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; buried in Spring Street Cemetery, Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts. Notes: Correspondence from Edward Jenkins: "Timothy Andrews, b. 1802. He, or probably his son, Timothy, is often mentioned in a diary written by Sarah Belinda Preston (daughter of David Preston), as he and his wife, were going together and were in a group who sang at various houses in Essex about 1850-55. Timothy also had a brother mentioned in these diary entries, I think he was "interested" in Sarah for a while, and my grandfather once referred to him as the "famous Spar Maker". In fact 2 or 3 of the Andrews from Caleb's family also were frequently there. (My son has the diary for safe-keeping) Sarah Belinda died about age 23 of Consumption." An email from Edward Jenkins 13 July 2005: I have the actual song book used by Sarah Belinda Preston and her "singing group" prior to Civil War. "Family Circle Glee Book" : "Containing Songs, Glees, Choruses &c .... full accompaniments for the piano, Scrapbine (whatever that is), and Melodeon" (Dad told me the last was a sort of small organ and that David Preston has bought one so Sarah Belinda could use it. Sarah B.'s diary included 2 or 3 mentions of a man named Brown who used to come to Essex and provide entertainment - songs, stories, etc. - and how once he actually came to their home and played her melodeon!). In Sarah's diary (as I mentioned), Timothy Andrews was always among those of singing group and Dad told me Timothy's daughter became quite a famous (in area) singer and that "there was never an Andrews who couldn't 'carry a tune' and many of them seemed to have a special ability to quickly learn any musical instrument." Email from Edward Jenkins 12 Aug 2005: "... the diary written by Sarah Belinda Preston was written in the last 2 or 3 years she lived (died of consumption). While (as one would expect) many entries were simply about the weather, temperature, winds, storms, etc., I think she (and probably her sister Anna, my g. grandmother, were quite involved socially in Essex, and as Sarah was (also) very interested in singing, she recounted several of singing session - including names of those present (some of her Mother's family - Andrews - attended, and Timothy Andrews was always there (also his future wife). This diary is in the safe keeping of my son, Robert, who lives in Baldwinsville, N. Y. ... My Dad spent a lot of time going over it page by page and commenting about many of the entries with helpful notes as to who the people were and their importance, etc. One mentioned frequently is the Rev. Prince (think you will know who I mean as he was not only a minister of stature but served in Legislature for time. Dad said he used to visit a Story daughter who lived near his family (then living in same house as had David Preston earlier). Rev. Prince occasionally stopped by with his big wheel bike (quite unusual at that time and especially intriguing to Dad who was only a small boy at the time - this was about 1891 or 1892, I believe...)"
Notes for Caleb Andrews, Jr.

Caleb and Sally's marriage intentions, 3 Nov 1827, page 28 Essex, Massachusetts Vital Records, marriages. Caleb's birth record, page 17, Ipswich, Massachusetts Vital Records. The Hammatt reference has two birth dates: 27 Aug or 4 Sept 1804. Caleb was a farmer and shipbuilder in Essex, a Baptist. The marriage intentions from Essex: "November 3rd. Mr. Caleb Andrews, Junior and Miss Sally Brown both of Essex entered their intention of marriage and were published in the Town of Essex as the law dictates. November 19, 1827. A certificate thereof was granted. Jonathan Strong, Town Clerk". Marriages Reported in "The Boston Recorder and Telegraph", 1827: Andrews, Caleb, Jr. Sally Brown of Essex. Death certificate from Essex, Massachusetts: Caleb Andrews died 3 June 1866 in Essex, Massachusetts; white male; married; age 61 years 9 months; occupation, carpenter; father, Caleb Andrews; mother, Molly; cause of death, jaundice; buried Spring Street Cemetery, Essex. The 1850 census for Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts shows Caleb Andrews age 45 shipwright, value of estate $750, born in Massachusetts; Sally age 42 born in Massachusetts; Henry age 21, shipwright born in Massachusetts; Elisa, age 15 born in Massachusetts.

The following is from "The Old Cellars of Essex" by Harold Jenkins: "Pursuing our route, crossing the creek on a rustic bridge built by that sturdy old farmer, Nathan Andrews, we come to the old Caleb Andrews House. This is the oldest house now standing intact in Essex. Instead of having 2 cellars, it has 3, one on each end of the house and one in the center. Henry Andrews, who lived here when the deer were in the woods would insist on killing them in closed season, but the officers, not knowing of the third cellar, failed to find any meat. It is known as the "deer cellar" to this day."

Notes for Sally Brown

Sally's date of birth from family records. Death certificate from Essex, Massachusetts: Sally Andrews, date of death 13 July 1884; age 77 years, place of birth, Manchester, Massachusetts; father listed as James Story and mother as Sarah. [This is incorrect, her father was James Brown and her mother was Sarah Story]. Cause of death, old age; buried at Spring Street Cemetery, Essex, Massachusetts. "Descendants of Lieut. John Andrews", states that Caleb married Sally Brown, daughter of James Brown and Sarah Story. He was a farmer and ship carpenter, a Baptist. The 1870 census for Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts shows Sally Andrews age 62, born in Manchester, Massachusetts, alone keeping house [two doors from Addison Cogswell]. There is a Sally Andrews age 72, widow as housekeeper for Addison Cogswell on the 1880 census for Essex.

Children of Caleb ANDREWS, Jr. and Sally BROWN were as follows:

+ 6393 i Henry ANDREWS, born 19 Sep 1828 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 7 Feb 1924 in Woodville, Middlesex County, Massachusetts; buried in Spring Street Cemetery, Essex, Massachusetts. He married Emily Elizabeth BURNHAM.

+ 6394 ii Sallie Maria ANDREWS, born 23 Feb 1830 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 22 May 1916 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; buried in Spring Street Cemetery, Essex, Massachusetts. She married Francis MEARNS.

6395 iii Elizabeth ANDREWS, born 27 Jan 1835 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 13 Mar 1920 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; buried in Spring Street Cemetery, Essex, Massachusetts. She married on 10 Dec 1856 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Daniel POLAND, Jr. (see 6476), born 22 Apr 1830 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 11 Dec 1904 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; buried in Spring Street Cemetery, Essex, Massachusetts, son of Daniel P. POLAND, Sr. and Susan BURNHAM.

6437  iv  William Allen ANDREWS, born 13 May 1845 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 1862 in Battle of White Oak Swamp. Notes: The following from "History of the Town of Essex, Massachusetts" reference: "William A. Andrews, aged 15 years, was born in Essex, shoemaker, son of William Allen A. and Esther B. Andrews. He enlisted December 2, 1861, in Company H, Capt. Devereaux, Nineteenth Regiment Massachusetts Volunteers, infantry. He was in the battles of the Peninsula, and was wounded on the 30th of June, 1862, in the battle of White Oak Swamp, and has not been heard from up to this time (February, 1864); is supposed to have died of his wound." The following is additional information regarding the service of this unit: "This sketch of John A. Butman may also be considered as applying to the following named soldiers, who enlisted at the same time, except wherein it is strictly personal, viz: William A. Andrews, Charles E. Andrews, Ruben Andrews, Ancill K. Butman, Charles F. Morse, Thomas A. Morse, John B. Burnham and William Howe Burnham... enlisted at Essex, November 27, 1861, and was mustered and sworn" in, December 10th, following. The above named soldiers left Salem on the same day, December 10th for Muddy Bank, say thirty-five miles above Washington city, and remained there until the 11th of March, 1862. On that day, they were ordered to strike their tents and move down the Potomac some sixteen miles to Edward's Ferry; halted there for refreshments the same afternoon, and immediately went on board a canal boat and proceeded up the river till midnight. "On the next morning we were towed to Harper's Ferry. Leaving the boat at that place we crossed the river on a pontoon bridge, and marched in a southerly direction about two miles into Virginia, and thence on to Winchester. At Berryville, we found the road lined with Union soldiers, shouting victory; being now returning from the battle of Winchester. We learned that all the dwellings between us and Winchester, were filled with the dead and dying. We were now ordered into line and marched by the very field where John Brown was hanged. We were soon after halted and remained two nights in 'a grove near Gen. Banks' headquarters, and thence proceeded to Bolivar, a small town where most of the houses had been evacuated. Our regiment was divided into squads, large or small, according to the size of the house we were to empty. The roads were very muddy and the weather very rainy. Some twenty men were detailed to procure a supply of straw for the men to sleep upon. In about one week more we were ordered to the Soldiers' Retreat at Washington.

Notes for Seth Burnham

The following is from "The Old Cellars of Essex" by Harold Jenkins: "The last call we will make is at the house of John E. Lufkin and we take a look at what remains of the famous mansion of Mr. Seth Burnham. Mr. Burnham was a great mechanic. He made all the pumps, for both vessels and wells, and all the coffins that were then used, both in this town and in West Gloucester. He also made carpenter tools - a dafo of his making being in the possession of George Cogswell, which though rude in construction, will do its work as well as the best. He also built boats, and in his spare moments, built his mansion. For instance, he would think how nice a piazza would look one on side or the other of the house; after getting a piazza on, he would say, 'Well, it won't cost much more to make this into a room' and, accordingly would do so, until at one time it was said he had thirty-five dark bedrooms in his house.

The old gentleman's family grew up and left home. Not having the need for so many rooms, he began to sell off portions: several shoemaker shops, etc.

Mr. Seth Burnham raised a large family; 3 boys [sons from second wife Rebecca Andrews] still living are David and Obed plus Andrew Burnham of Chelsea, who is the government inspector of steamboat hulls, and whose name can be seen on the certificate of any steam vessel."

Children of Rebecca Andrews and Seth Burnham were as follows:

+ 6455  i  David Burnham, born 22 Aug 1815 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts.  He married Hepzibah C. Butman.

+ 6456  ii  Obed Burnham, born 10 Mar 1817 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts.  He married Margaret Lee.

6457  iii  Mary Burnham, born 1820.  She married on 29 Nov 1837 William B. Pearl.

2818. Rebecca Andrews (Jonathan 4, Jonathan 3, John 2, Joseph 1), born 1786 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died Feb 1827 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts.  She married on 3 Jun 1813 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts Seth Burnham, born 10 Mar 1772 in Ipswich, Essex County, Massachusetts; died 13 May 1858 in Essex, Essex County, Massachusetts, son of William Burnham and Tabitha Goldsmith.
